FROM THE PREFACE TO THE FIRST EDITION (1946)

FOR many years past a need has existed for a work which would enable conventual and other choirs to sing the Psalmody of the Eucharist in the English tongue with the traditional Chant still current in Western Christendom. Hitherto only the Introits and a few of the Graduals, Alleluyas and Tracts have been available in such a form. The present volume is intended to cover the rest of the field, so that every Sunday and Holy Day may have its proper Introit, Gradual, Alleluya (or Tract), Offertory and Communion without any omission or need for substitution.

It is assumed that those who use the Plainchant Gradual will already possess the late Dr. Palmer's Offices or Introits and his Selection of Grails, Alleluyas and Tracts in the revised editions published at the S. Mary's Press, Wantage. The adaptations contained in these two collections combine so much profound scholarship with so remarkable a degree of musical sensitivity that it is fitting for them to stand alone, just as they were left by the hand of the master at the time of his death nearly thirty years ago. The present volume gives all the necessary references to them demanded by the requirements of the Liturgy, but Dr. Palmer's collections themselves remain intact, unsullied by the additions of any later or lesser hand.

The late Dr. Frere, in his descriptive chapter on Gregorian Plainsong in the 1929 edition of the Oxford History of Music, bids his readers 'take up a copy of the Graduale, or the Antiphonale, or the very convenient Liber Usualis . . . and know a little what to expect'. Such advice, so sound and so practical, may well be addressed to those who wish to study that great corpus of one-dimensional music upon a portion of which the present work is based. No performing edition of the music of the Eucharistic Psalmody can afford to ignore the evidence of the current official edition of the Latin Graduale, which is no mere reproduction of a local or partial tradition, but a cento resulting from an extended study and comparison of a host of manuscripts gathered from many places. Thus the musical text of the Graduale possesses a measure of authority which cannot lightly be disregarded.

Yet a note of warning needs to be sounded. However grateful we may be for the typical edition of the Chant of the Latin rite, we must avoid the short cut to certainty so alluringly held out by the fundamentalist approach to a document. For it must be admitted that the official Latin Graduale sometimes adopts a reading which can hardly be reconciled with the weight of evidence. Even an established principle appears occasionally to be disregarded. It cannot be doubted, for instance, that the concluding jubilus of an Alleluya-verse is, designedly, a replica of the concluding jubilus of the Alleluya melody itself. Yet the Graduale does not lack instances of Alleluya-verses which have suffered at the hands of an 'improver'. So while the Plainchant Gradual can make no claim to have carried the search for a true text any appreciable distance, it certainly has attempted to avoid some of the ambiguities which persist in the Latin Graduale. In this the Editor has been greatly assisted by Mr. E.G.P. Wyatt, whose wide knowledge and long experience have been generously given to this part of the work. Meanwhile the task of producing an unimpeachable critical text of the Plainsong melodies, with some inevitable marginal variants, remains for a future generation to accomplish.

The imposition of an uniform liturgical text and chant upon the greater part of Western Christendom belongs not so much to the age of Gregory the Great as to the period, some two hundred years later, when Charlemagne wielded power and Alcuin was his adviser. This Carolingian uniformity was achieved at the price of admitting to canonicity importations of non-Gregorian origin. Thus the Gallican Popule meus (Good Friday) is to be found in this volume, while the melodies of Hosanna filio David (Palm Sunday) and of Crucem tuam (Good Friday) are thought to be of Greek origin. Among the pre-Gregorian music which has survived are two ancient Agape chants, Maneant in vobis and Ubi caritas (Maundy Thursday). Such Old Roman remains as these latter may well owe their preservation, however, to S. Gregory himself.

In order that the texts of the English Hymnal may be provided for, the texts of the mediaeval Salisbury use are included, as well as those of the existing Roman use as reformed in 1570. The Salisbury Sequences contained in the Appendix to the complete edition of the Plainchant Gradual are due, in their present dress, to the skill of an experienced liturgical musician who desires to remain anonymous.[1]

PREFACE TO THE SECOND EDITION

As the copyright of Dr. Palmer's work now belongs to S. Mary's Press, the contents of A Book of Introits and of A Selection of Grails, Alleluyas and Tracts are included in this new edition and the work of Francis Burgess has been revised.

It has been decided to include only the Roman use as given in the 1956 edition of the Liber Usualis or in any revisions of a later date.

A very limited use has been made of the rhythmic signs by the kind permission of the monks of the Abbaye Saint-Pierre, Solesmes, and of La Maison Desclée. A dot has been used to indicate a doubled note whenever this is not obvious to the singers, as it is before a half, whole or double bar; but when two notes are doubled before a bar, these have been dotted.

DECEMBER, 1962. S. MARY'S PRESS.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

The first four verses of the Pange lingua, as given in this book, are the translation of the late Dr. Dearmer and are the copyright of the English Hymnal Committee. We are very grateful to the members of that Committee for graciously permitting us to use this translation.

FROM DR. PALMER'S DIRECTIONS CONCERNING GRAILS, ALLELUYAS & TRACTS

THE GRAIL is intoned . . . by two boys from a lectern, the Quire . . . continuing as far as the ℣. The boys chant the ℣., after which the Quire repeat the first part. But if it is thought desirable, this repetition may be dispensed with, in which case the Quire will join in the last few words of the ℣., as indicated by the asterisk.

The ALLELUYA is intoned by two Clerks from the same lectern as that used for the Grail. The Quire repeat Alleluya, and continue with the neuma. The Clerks chant the ℣., the Quire joining in the final words, as shown by the asterisk. The Alleluya is once more intoned by the Clerks, the Quire continuing with the neuma only.[1]

From Low Sunday to the Feast of Pentecost inclusive the Grail is discontinued, and two Alleluyas with their ℣℣. are sung. When this happens, the first Alleluya is not repeated after its ℣., but the Clerks proceed at once to the second Alleluya, the Quire continuing with the neuma only. After the second ℣. the Alleluya is repeated as at other times. But when a Sequence follows, the final neuma is omitted.

The TRACT is normally sung by four Clerks, standing at the Quire-step, and intoning it all together. The latter part of the first verse, and all the succeeding ℣℣. are sung alternately by two and two, all joining in the last few words of the last ℣., as shown by the asterisk. But on Ash Wednesday, Palm Sunday and Good Friday, it is sung by the whole Quire, verse by verse, from side to side.[2]

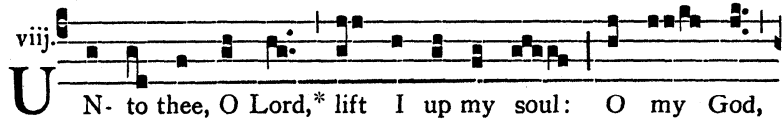

[1] In some chapels the whole Quire joins in this intonation.

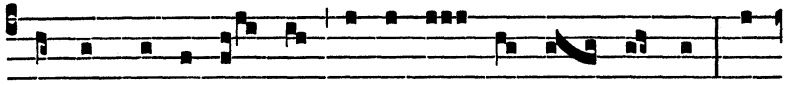

[2] In some chapels it is customary that the Tract should always be sung in this way, i.e. by the whole Quire, verse by verse, from side to side.

5 God is gone up with a mer-ry noise : and the Lord with the sound of the trump.

6 O sing praises, sing praises unto our God : O sing praises, sing praises un-to our King. Repeat Antiphon.

7 For God is the King of all the earth : sing ye praises with un-der-standing.

8 God reigneth over the hea-then : God sitteth up-on his holy seat. Repeat Antiphon.

9 The princes of the people are joined unto the people of the God of A-bra-ham : for God, which is very high exalted, | doth defend the earth, as it were with a shield. Repeat Antiphon.

Glory be to the Father, and to the Son : and to the Holy Ghost.

As it was in the beginning, is now and ever shall be : world with-out end. Amen. Repeat Antiphon.

AT THE PROCESSION

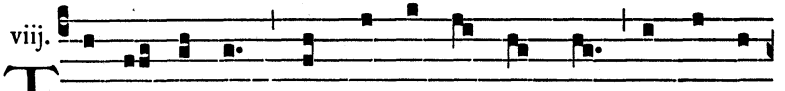

℣. Let us pro-ceed in peace. ℟. In the Name of Christ. A-men.

¶ As the procession begins, all or some of the following antiphons may be sung:

ANTIPHON Occurrunt turbae

viij.

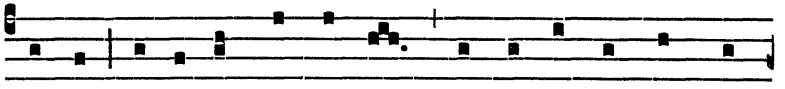

THe mul- ti-tudes * with flow-ers and with palms go forth to meet the Re-dee-mer: and ren-der wor-thy ho-mage to the tri-umphant con-que-ror: the Gen-tiles with their lips pro-claim the Son of God: and in the praise of Christ their voi-ces thun-der through the skies, Ho-san-na.

ANTIPHON Cum angelis

vij.

WIth the an-gels and the chil-dren * may we be found faithful, cry-ing un- to the van-qui-sher of death, Ho-san- na in the high-est.

ANTIPHON Turba multa

ANTIPHON Coeperunt

¶ In the course of the procession the following hymn is sung:

HYMN Gloria, laus et honor

i.

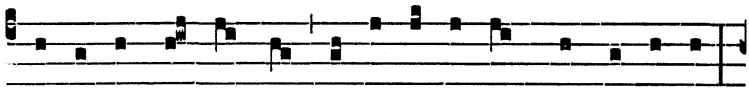

GLo- ry and laud and ho-nour be to thee, Christ, King and Re- dee-mer: Chil-dren of old in thy praise swee-test Ho-sannas did sing. Repeat Glory and laud.

1. Is- ra-el's King art thou, O glo- ri- ous off-spring of Da-vid:

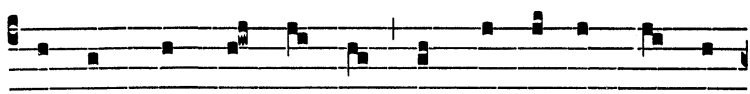

Thou that co-mest a Mo-narch, blest in the Name of the Lord.
Repeat Glory and laud.

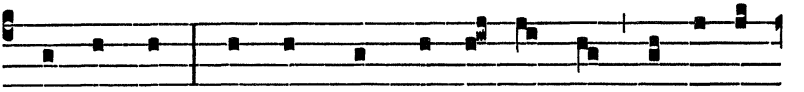

2. Hea-ven's bright com- pa- ny thy prai-ses for e- ver are singing: Man and na-ture make an-swer, chan-ting thy glo-ry be-low.

Repeat Glory and laud.

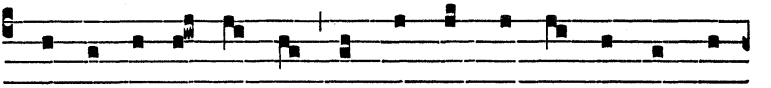

3. He-brew crowds now greet thee with palms in their hands for thy wel-come: We with hymns and glad an-thems now to thy pre-sence draw nigh. Repeat Glory and laud.

4. Thee be-fore thy Pas-sion they gree-ted with prai-ses most joyous: To our King who reigns on high raise we our ju- bi-lant hymn. Repeat Glory and laud.

5. Thou re- cei-vedst their praise, ac-cept the de- vo-tion we offer: Who in good-ness de- ligh-test, O kind and mer- ci- ful King.

Repeat Glory and laud.

¶ Then the following may be sung:

ANTIPHON Omnes collaudant

viij. I

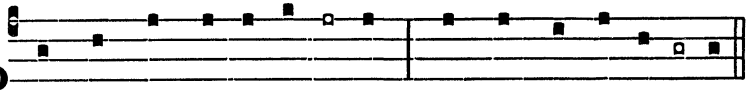

ALL men * praise thy Name, and say, Bles-sed is he that cometh in the Name of the Lord: Ho-san- na in the high-est.

PSALM CXLVII. Lauda Jerusalem

PRaise the Lord, O Je-ru- sa-lem: praise thy God, O Sy- on.

13 For he hath made fast the bars of thy gates : and hath blessed thy child-ren within thee.

14 He maketh peace in thy bor-ders : and filleth thee with the flour of wheat.

15 He sendeth forth his commandment upon earth : and his word runneth ve-ry swiftly.

16 He giveth snow like wool : and scattereth the hoar-frost like ashes.

17 He casteth forth his ice like mor-sels : who is able to abide his frost?

18 He sendeth out his word, and mel-teth them : he bloweth with his wind, and the waters flow.

19 He sheweth his word unto Ja-cob : his statutes and ordinances un-to Israel.

20 He hath not dealt so with any na-tion : neither have the heathen know-ledge of his laws.

Glory be to the Father, and to the Son : and to the Holy Ghost.

As it was in the beginning, is now, and ever shall be : world with-out end. Amen. Repeat Antiphon.

ANTIPHON Fulgentibus

ANTIPHON Ave, Rex noster

HYMN Crux fidelis

(Verse 10 is never to be omitted.)

1 Sing, my tongue, the glorious battle,
Sing the ending of the fray,
Now above the Cross, the trophy,
Sound the loud triumphant lay:
Tell how Christ, the world's redeemer,
As a victim won the day.
℣. Faithful Cross, . . . peer may be.

2 God in pity saw man fallen,
Sham'd and sunk in misery,
When he fell on death by tasting
Fruit of the forbidden tree:
Then another tree was chosen [free.
Which the world from death should ℣. Sweetest wood . . . hung on thee.

3 Thus the scheme of our salvation
Was of old in order laid;
That the manifold deceiver's
Art by art might be outweigh'd:
And the lure the foe put forward
Into means of healing made.
℣. Faithful Cross, . . . peer may be.

4 Therefore when th' appointed fulness
Of the holy time was come,
He was sent who maketh all things
Forth from God's eternal home:
Thus he came to earth incarnate,
Offspring of a virgin's womb.
℣. Sweetest wood . . . hung on thee.

5 Lo! he lies, an infant weeping,
Where the narrow manger stands;
While the Mother-maid his members
Wraps in mean and lowly bands:
And the swaddling clothes are winding Round God's helpless feet & hands.
℣. Faithful Cross, . . . peer may be.

6 Thirty years among us dwelling,
His appointed time fulfill'd,
Born for this, he meets his Passion,
For that this he freely will'd:
On the Cross the Lamb is lifted
Where his life-blood shall be spill'd.
℣. Sweetest wood . . . hung on thee.

7 He endur'd the nails, the spitting,
Vinegar, and spear, and reed;
From that holy Body broken
Blood and water both proceed:
Earth, and stars, and sky, and ocean
By that flood from stain are freed.
℣. Faithful Cross, . . . peer may be.

8 Bend thy boughs, O tree of glory!
Thy relaxing sinews bend;
For awhile the ancient rigour
That thy birth bestow'd, suspend:
And the King of heav'nly beauty
On thy bosom gently tend.
℣. Sweetest wood . . . hung on thee.

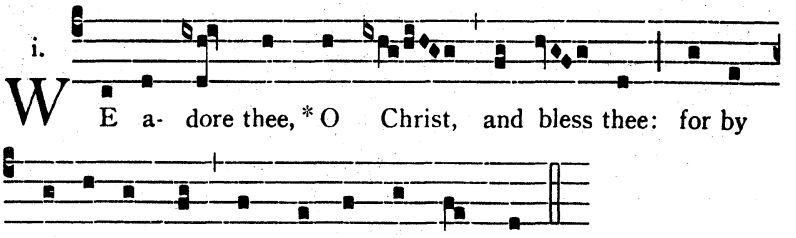

9 Thou alone wast counted worthy
This world's ransom to uphold;
For a shipwreck'd race preparing Harbour, like the ark of old:
With the sacred Blood anointed
From the smitten Lamb that roll'd.
℣. Faithful Cross, . . . peer may be.

10 To the Trinity be glory
Everlasting, as is meet;
Equal to the Father, equal To the Son and Paraclete:
Trinal Unity, whose praises
All created things repeat. Amen.
℣. Sweetest wood . . . hung on thee.

PSALM XXII. Deus, Deus meus

com-plaint.

(The † shows where the flex is used.)

2 O my God, I cry in the day-time, but thou hea-rest not : and in the night-season also I take no rest.

3 And thou conti-nu-est holy : O thou worship of Is-ra-el.

4 Our fathers ho-ped in thee : they trusted in thee, and thou didst deli-ver them.

5 They called upon thee, and were holpen : they put their trust in thee, and were not confoun-ded.

6 But as for me, I am a worm, and no man : a very scorn of men, and the outcast of the peo-ple.

7 All they that see me laugh me to scorn : they shoot out their lips, and shake their heads, say-ing.

8 He trusted in God, that he would deliver him : let him deliver him, if he will have him.

9 But thou art he that took me out of my mo-ther's womb : thou wast my hope, when I hanged yet upon my mo-ther's breasts.

10 I have been left un-to thee ever since I was born : thou art my God even from my mo-ther's womb.

11 O go not from me, for trouble is hard at hand : and there is none to help me.

12 Many oxen are come about me : fat bulls of Basan close me in on ev-'ry side.

13 They gape upon me with their mouths : as it were a ramping and a roaring li-on.

14 I am poured out like water,† and all my bones are out of joint : my heart also in the midst of my body is even like mel-ting wax.

15 My strength is dried up like a potsherd,† and my tongue cleaveth to my gums : and thou shalt bring me into the dust of death.

16 For many dogs are come about me : and the council of the wicked layeth siege against me.

17 They pierced my hands and my feet;† I may tell all my bones : they stand staring and looking upon me.

18 They part my gar-ments among them : and cast lots upon my ves-ture.

19 But be not thou far from me, O Lord : thou art my succour, haste thee to help me.

20 Deliver my soul from the sword : my darling from the power of the dog.

21 Save me from the li-on's mouth : thou hast heard me also from among the horns of the u-ni-corns.

22 I will declare thy Name un-to my brethren : in the midst of the congregation will I praise thee.

23 O praise the Lord, ye that fear him : magnify him, all ye of the seed of Jacob, | and fear him, all ye seed of Is-ra-el.

24 For he hath not despised, nor abhorred, the low estate of the poor : he hath not hid his face from him, | but when he called unto him he heard him.

25 My praise is of thee in the great con-gregation : my vows will I perform in the sight of them that fear him.

26 The poor shall eat, and be sa-tis-fi-ed : they that seek after the Lord shall praise him; your heart shall live for e-ver.

27 All the ends of the world shall remember themselves, and be turned un-to the Lord : and all the kindreds of the nations shall worship before him.

28 For the kingdom is the Lord's : and he is the Governor among the peo-ple.

29 All such as be fat up-on earth : have eaten, and wor-ship-ped.

30 All they that go down into the dust shall kneel before him : and no man hath quickened his own soul.

31 My seed shall serve him : they shall be counted unto the Lord for a genera-tion.

32 They shall come, and the heavens shall de-clare his righteousness : unto a people that shall be born, whom the Lord hath made.

¶ When the censing and prayers at the Altar are finished, the Celebrant intones the Gloria in Excelsis:

iv.

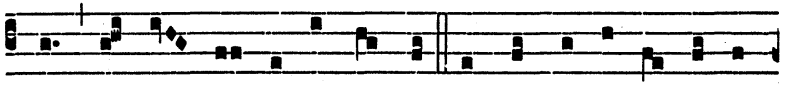

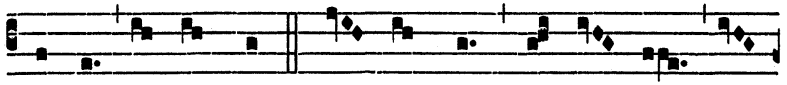

G Lo- ry be to God on high. And in earth peace, goodwill to- wards men. We praise thee. We bless thee. We wor-ship thee. We glo- ri- fy thee. We give thanks to thee for thy great glo- ry. O Lord God, heav'n-ly

King, God the Fa-ther al-migh-ty. O Lord the on- ly- be- gotten Son Je- su Christ. O Lord God, Lamb of God, Son of the Fa- ther. That ta-kest a-way the sins of the world, have mer-cy up- on us. Thou that ta-kest a-way the sins of the world, re- ceive our pray- er. Thou that sit-test at the right hand of God the Fa- ther, have mer-cy up- on us. For thou only art ho- ly. Thou on- ly art the Lord. Thou on- ly, O Jesu Christ, with the Ho- ly Ghost, art most high in the glo- ry of God the Fa-ther. A- men.

¶ After the Collect and Epistle, the Celebrant sings Alleluya thrice, a little higher in pitch each time, and the Choir repeats it each time in the same manner:

viij. A L- le- lu- ya.

¶ Immediately after the third repetition the Choir proceeds:

℣. O Give thanks un- to the Lord, for he is gra- cious: be- cause his mer- cy en- du-

The Alleluya and its verse may be sung more simply thus:

viij. Al-le-lu- ya. iij. ℣. O give thanks un-to the Lord, for he is gra-cious:

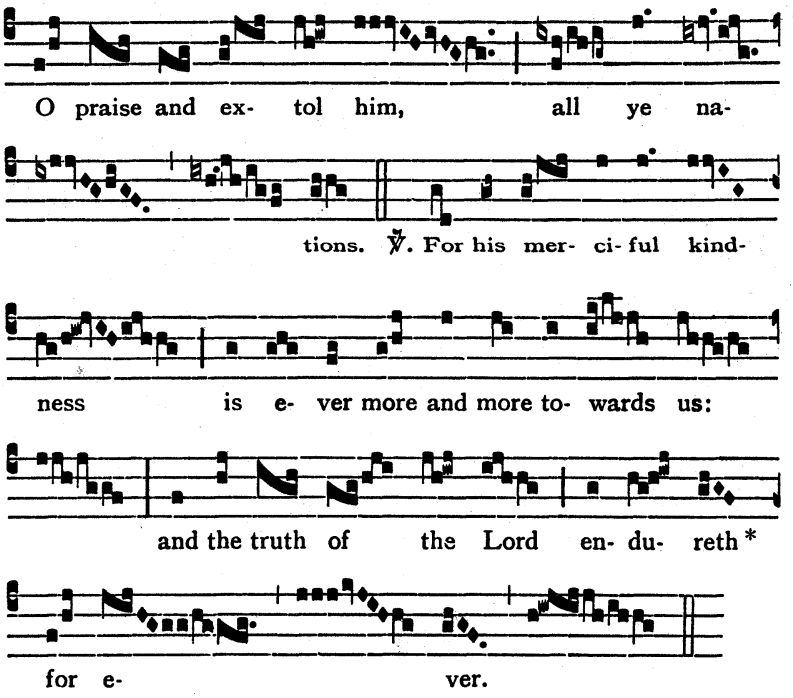

be-cause his mer-cy * en- du- reth for e- ver.

¶ Then, without any repetition of Alleluya, is sung:

TRACT Laudate . . . omnes gentes

viij. O Praise * the Lord, all ye hea- then:

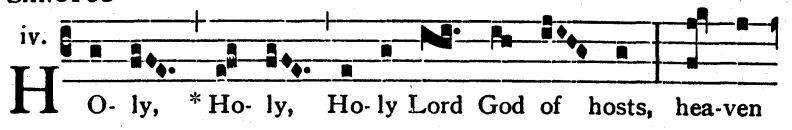

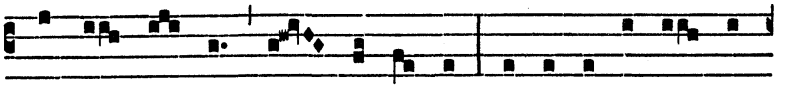

The Tract may be sung more simply thus:

¶ The holy Gospel follows. There is neither Creed nor Offertory, but the organ is played. The Sursum Corda, Preface & Sanctus follow.

PREFACE TO PARTS III & IV

THE present compilation is the finishing of the work done for the English Liturgy by the late Dr. G. H. Palmer. His principal monument is A Book of Introits and Grails, Alleluyas and Tracts which have been gratefully used by Communities and a few parish churches for over forty years. When the English Missal for the Laity was published by the Reverend H. L. Drew about twenty years ago it seemed obvious that the remaining Propers of the Mass should be available to be sung as the Introits and Graduals were, and Francis Burgess made the next contribution, in the Communions (done in modern notation). Before long, however, he embarked on a more thorough plan: he not only adapted all the rest of the Proper of the Season and had this printed (in square notation), but had also gone a fair way with the Proper of Saints—a work which was stopped by his much regretted death in 1948.

Too proud to call myself a fool, I can at any rate claim that I did not rush in to bring to an end a work which more than one angel, fearing to tread, — and whom I could name — would have accomplished with real distinction; and the outcome is, I fear, exceedingly far removed in craftsmanship from Dr. Palmer's assured treatment of the mediaeval manuscripts.

I have also to own that the Sequences promised in Francis Burgess' preface to the Proper of the Season are not forthcoming. Choirs needing the complete music of the Sarum Rite are few, and a small number of Sarum Sequences can be obtained separately from S. Mary's Press, Wantage, to the Sister-in-charge of which (before I end) I want to express my cordial thanks for her untiring help and patience.

R. L. SHIELDS.

FEBRUARY, 1952.

PREFACE TO THE NEW EDITION OF PARTS III & IV

AS the copyright of Dr. Palmer's work now belongs to S. Mary's Press, the contents of A Book of Introits and of A Selection of Grails, Alleluyas and Tracts are included in this new edition of The Plainchant Graduał, and the work of Dr. R.L. Shields has been revised.

It has been decided to include only the Roman Use except in a very few instances in which the Sarum alternative is given.

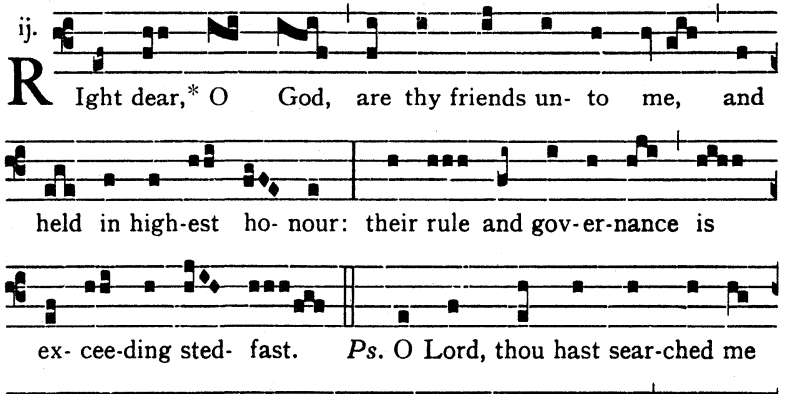

The number of Votive Masses has been reduced.

ij.

BY the Cross her sta-tion kee-ping, stood the mourn-ful Mother wee-ping, where he hung, her dy-ing Son. Through her soul of joy be-rea-ved, torn with an-guish, deep-ly grie-ved, lo! the pier-cing sword hath run. O, how sad and sore dis-tres-sed then was she, that Mo-ther bles-sed of the sole-be-got-ten One! Torn with grief and de- so- la- tion, Mo-ther meek, the bit- ter passion, saw she of her glo-rious Son. Who, on Christ's dear Mother ga-zing, bow'd with sor-row so a- ma-zing, born of woman, would not weep? Who, on Christ's dear Mo-ther thin-king, with her Son in sor-row sin-king, would not share her sad-ness deep? For his peo-ple's sins chas-ti- sed, she her Je- sus saw des-pi-sed, saw him by the scour-ges rent. Saw her own sweet offspring ta-ken, and in death by all for-sa-ken, while his spi-rit forth he sent. Mo-ther, fount of love o'er-flow-ing, ah, that I, thy sor-row know-ing, in thy grief may mourn with thee. That my heart, fresh ar-dour gai-ning, love of Christ my God at- taining, un- to him may plea-sing be. Ho- ly Mo-ther, be there written ev-'ry wound of Je-sus smit-ten, in my heart, and there re-main. As thy Son through tri-bu- la-tion deign'd to pur-chase my sal-va-tion, let me share with thee the pain. Let me weep with thee be- side him for the sins which cru-ci- fi'd him, while my life re-mains in me. Take be- neath the Cross my station, share with thee thy de- so- la-tion, hum-bly this I ask of thee. Vir-gin, vir-gins all ex-cel-ling, spurn me not, my pray'r repel-ling: make me weep and mourn with thee. So Christ's death with-in me bea-ring, let me, in his pas-sion sha-ring, keep his wounds in me-mo-ry. Let thy Son's wounds pe- ne-trate me, let the Cross i- ne- bri-ate me, and his own most pre-cious blood.

Lest in flames I burn and pe-rish on the judg-ment day, O cherish and de- fend me, Vir- gin good. Christ, when-e'er the world shall leave me, through thy Mo-ther then re-ceive me to the palm of vic- to- ry. When the bonds of flesh are ri-ven, glo- ry to my soul be gi-ven in thy Pa- ra-dise with thee. A- men.
