RITUS SERVANDUS IN CELEBRATIONE MISSÆ

I—DE PRÆPARATIONE CELEBRANTIS

1 Sacerdos Missam celebraturus orationi aliquantum vacet, precibus inferius positis ad libitum adhibitis. Deinde veste talari indutus, accedit ad locum in sacristia vel alibi præparatum, ubi paramenta, aliaque ad celebrationem necessaria habentur, accipit missale, perquirat Missam, et signacula ordinat ad ea quæ dicturus est. Postea lavat manus, dicens orationem inferius positam. Deinde præparat calicem, super eius os ponit purificatorium, et super illud patenam cum hostia, quam leviter extergit, si opus est, a fragmentis, et eam tegit parva palla lineæ, tum velo serico; super velo ponit bursam coloris paramentorum intus habentem corporale plicatum.

2 Quibus ita dispositis, accedit ad paramenta, et induit se, dicens ad singula singulas orationes inferius positas. Ac primum accipiens amictum circa extremitates et chordulas, illum ponit super caput, et mox declinat ad collum, et eo vestium collaria circumtegens, ducit chordulas sub brachiis, et circumducens per dorsum, ante pectus reducit, et ligat. Tum alba induitur, quam corpori adaptat, et cingulo, per ministrum a tergo sibi porrecto, se cingit. Accipit deinde manipulum, et imponit brachio sinistro. Postea accipiens stolam, imponit medium eius collo, ac transversando eam ante pectus in modum crucis, ducit partem a sinistro humero pendentem, ad dexteram, et partem a dextero humero pendentem, ad sinistram. Sicque utramque partem stolæ extremitatibus cinguli hinc inde ipsi cingulo coniungit. Postremo celebrans accipit planetam et, convenienter, caput tegit.

3 Si celebrans est Episcopus, vel Abbas benedictus habens usum pontificalium, non ducit stolam ante pectus in modum crucis, sed sinit hinc inde utrasque extremitates pendere; et antequam accipiat stolam, accipit parvam crucem pectoralem, quam osculatur, et collo impositam sinit ante pectus chordulis pendere. Manipulum quoque non accipit ante stolam, nisi in Missis defunctorum, sed accipit ad altare, postquam dixit Indulgentiam.

4 Si est Episcopus vel alius habens usum pontificalium, et solemniter celebrat, accipit paramenta et alia gerit, ut in Cæremoniali. Attamen pro omnibus Missis potest paramenta accipere in sacristia. Episcopus potest etiam, pro necessitate, Missam in cantu more presbyteri celebrare.

II—DE ACCESSU CELEBRANTIS AD ALTARE

5 Celebrans, omnibus paramentis indutus, accipit manu sinistra calicem, ut supra præparatum, quem portat elevatum ante pectus, bursam manu dextera super calicem tenens, et facta reverentia Cruci, vel imagini illi, quæ in sacristia est, accedit ad altare, ministro cum missali et aliis ad celebrandum necessariis (nisi ante fuerint præparata) præcedente. Si vero contigerit eum transire ante altare maius, faciat ad illud reverentiam. Si ante SS. mum Sacramentum, genuflectat. Si ante altare ubi celebratur Missa, in qua elevatur Sacramentum, similiter genuflectat, et detecto capite illud adoret, nec ante surgat quam celebrans deposuerit calicem super corporale.

6 Cum pervenerit ad altare, caput detegit, biretum ministro porrigit, et altari, seu Cruci desuper positæ, profunde se inclinat. Si autem in eo est sanctissimum Sacramentum, genuflectit. Tunc ascendit ad medium altaris, ubi deponit calicem, extrahit corporale de bursa, quod extendit in medio altaris, et super illud calicem velo coopertum collocat, bursam autem ad latus sinistrum.

7 Valde commendatur ut hostiæ pro fidelium Communione in ipsa Missa consecrentur. Si pauci sunt communicandi, hostiæ poni possunt super patenam, secus super corporale vel in pyxide, quæ, suo operculo cooperta, iuxta calicem ponitur.

8 Collòcato calice in altari, si Missam privatim celebrat, accedit ad latus dexterum, et missale super cussino vel legili aperit. Deinde rediens ad medium altaris, facta primum Cruci reverentia, descendit ante infimum gradum altaris, ut ibi faciat confessionem.

9 Si Missa concurrente populo celebratur, calix super mensa prope altare parari potest, aut super ipsum altare collocari ante initium Missæ. Hoc in casu, celebrans, facta debita reverentia, statim incipit preces ad gradus altaris faciendas.

10 In Missa solemnium calix et alia necessaria præparentur super mensa cooperta linteo, antequam celebrans veniat ad altare. Ipse autem procedit cum diacono et subdiacono, qui simul cum eo tenent manus iunctas; acolythi vero ante eos deferunt candelabra cum candelis accensis, quæ deinde collocantur prope altare vel super mensa: et cum pervenerit ante infimum gradum altaris, ibi medius inter diaconum a dexteris, et subdiaconum a sinistris, antequam ascendat ad altare, facit cum ipsis confessionem.

III—DE INITIO MISSÆ

11 Celebrans, cum primum descenderit ante infimum gradum altaris, convertit se ad ipsum altare, ubi stans in medio, iunctis manibus, facta prius profunda reverentia, vel, si in eo sit tabernaculum sanctissimi Sacramenti, facta genuflexione, erectus incipit Missam.

12 Si celebraturus sit coram Summo Pontifice, sistit se ante infimum gradum altaris ad latus sinistrum ante ipsum Pontificem, ubi genuflexus exspectat: accepta benedictione, erigit se, et stans aliquantulum versus ad altare, incipit Missam. Si autem sit coram Cardinali, Legato Sedis Apostolicæ, aut Patriarcha, Archiepiscopo et Episcopo in ecclesiis eorum iurisdictionis, stans ante infimum gradum a latere sinistro ut supra, exspectat: dato signo, facit profundam reverentiam Præfato, et versus ad altare incipit Missam.

13 Si autem solemniter celebrat coram Summo Pontifice aut alio ex Præfatis prædictis in ecclesiis eorum iurisdictionis, stans a sinistris Præfati, facit cum eo confessionem, et alia servat, ut in Cæremoniali ordinatur.

14 Stans igitur celebrans ante infimum gradum altaris, ut supra, signans se signo crucis, congrua voce dicit: In nómine Patris, et Filii, et Spíritus Sancti. Amen.

17 Si est coram Pontifice, Cardinali, Legato Sedis Apostolicæ, vel Patriarcha, Archiepiscopo

et Episcopo in ecclesiis eorum iurisdictionis, ubi dicit: vobis, fratres, dicat: tibi, pater; similiter in fine ubi dicit: vos, fratres, dicat: te, pater; quod dicens Summo Pontifici genuflectit, aliis Præfatis se inclinat.

18 Cum minister vel circumstantes (etiamsi ibi fuerit Summus Pontifex) respondent Confíteor, dicunt tibi, pater, et te, pater, aliquantulum conversi ad celebrantem.

19 Facta a ministro vel a circumstantibus confessione, celebrans stans respondet: Misereátur vestri, etc. Deinde signans se, dicit: Indulgéntiam, etc.; et si est Episcopus, vel Abbas, ut supra, accipit manipulum. Et stans inclinatus iunctis manibus prosequitur: Deus, tu convérsus, et quæ sequuntur ut in Ordine Missæ, et cum dicit: Orémus, extendit et iungit manus.

21 Dum secreto dicit: Aufer a nobis, etc., celebrans iunctis manibus ascendit ad medium altaris, et ibi inclinatus, manibusque super eo positus, dicit: Orámus te, Dómine, etc., et cum dicit: Quorum reliquiæ hic sunt, osculatur altare, manibus extensis æqualiter hinc inde super eo postis.

22 Omnes preces ad gradus altaris dicendæ, necnon orationes Aufer a nobis et Orámus, non autem osculum altaris, omittendæ sunt quoties alia actio liturgica immediate præcessit. His in casibus, celebrans, facta altari debita reverentia, illud ascendit nihil dicens, et disposito calice, si necesse est, altare osculatur, item nihil dicens.

IV—DE ANTIPHONA AD INTROITUM, KÝRIE, ELÉISON ET GLÓRIA IN EXCÉLSIS

23 In Missis cantatis et in Missis lectis cum populo celebratis, post osculatum altare aut ipsius incensationem, celebrans ad sedem accedit, nisi, iuxta cuiusque ecclesiæ dispositionem, aptius videatur ut ad altare maneat usque ad orationem inclusive. Antiphona ad introitum, si a schola vel a populo cantatur vel recitatur, a celebrante privatim non dicitur; secus celebrans eam legit iunctis manibus, et, cum dicit: Glória Patri, caput inclinat. Sequitur Kýrie, quod, si a populo vel a schola cantatur vel recitatur, celebrans privatim non dicit; potest tamen illud una cum populo vel schola cantare vel recitare.

24 Dicto ultimo Kýrie, eléison, celebrans inchoat, si dicendum est, Glória in excélsis Deo, quod, si a populo vel a schola cantatur vel recitatur, privatim non dicit; potest tamen illud una cum populo vel schola cantare vel recitare.

25 In Missis autem quæ privatim celebrantur,

Ritus servandus in celebratione Missæ

osculato altari, celebrans accedit ad latus dexterum, ibique stans versus altare legit antiphonam ad introitum, ut supra. Antiphona repetita, iunctis manibus, vadit ad medium altaris, ubi stans versus ad illud dicit ter Kýrie, eléison, ter Christe eléison et iterum ter Kýrie, eléison alternatim cum ministro, ac postea, si dicendum est, Glória in excelsis Deo, ut supra. Etiam in Missis cum populo celebratis, si celebrans ad altare manet usque ad orationem inclusive, antiphonam ad introitum, si eam legere debet, legit ad latus dexterum, Kýrie vero et Glória dicit in medio altaris.

26 In Missa solemnī sacerdos facta confessione ascendit cum ministris ad medium altaris: ubi dicto Orámus te, Dómine, et osculato altari, ponit incensum in thuribulo, ministrante diacono naviculam et dicente: Benedicite, pater reverénde, et thuriferario ministrante thuribulum. Celebrans incensum ponit in thuribulo, dicens interim: Ab illo benedicáris, etc., et deposito cochleari producens manu dextera signum crucis super thus in thuribulo, illud benedicit. Postea diaconus dimissa navicula accipit thuribulum, et dat celebranti, qui facta Cruci reverentia, eam ter incensat, nihil dicens: et, facta iterum Cruci reverentia, incensat altare, ter ducens thuribulum æquali distantia, a medio eius usque ad latus dexterum: ubi, demissa manu, thurificat illius postremam partem inferiorem, mox superiorem, bis ducto thuribulo: et conversus ad altare, elevans manum incensat eius planitiem, seu mensam in parte anteriori, ter ducens thuribulum usque ad medium: ubi facta Cruci reverentia, procedendo thurificat aliud latus altaris triplici ductu usque ad latus sinistrum: et pariter incensata inferiori et superiori parte ipsius lateris sinistri duplici ductu, adhuc stans ibidem, elevat thuribulum, et ter incensat superiorem tabulæ partem versus medium altaris, ut fecit in latere dextero: deinde, manu aliquantulum demissa, incensat anteriorem eius partem, seu frontem, ter ducens thuribulum, dum procedit a latere sinistro usque ad medium altaris, et facta Cruci reverentia, incensat similiter triplici ductu reliquam partem anteriorem usque ad latus dexterum: ubi reddito thuribulo ipsi diacono, ab eo ipse solus incensatur. Diaconus et subdiaconus hinc inde assistunt celebranti cum incensat, et cum transeunt ante Crucem, semper genuflectunt.

27 Si in altari fuerint reliquiæ, seu imagines Sanctorum, incensata Cruce, et facta ei reverentia, antequam discedat a medio altaris, primum incensat eas quæ a sinistris altaris sunt, bis ducens thuribulum, et iterum facta Cruci reverentia, similiter incensat bis alias, quæ sunt a dexteris altaris, deinde prosequitur incensationem altaris ut supra, ter ducens thuribulum in unoquoque latere, etiamsi in eo essent plures reliquiæ, vel imagines, seu etiam plura, vel pauciora candelabra.

28 Si in altari fuerit tabernaculum sanctissimi Sacramenti, accepto thuribulo, antequam incipiat incensationem, genuflectit, quod item facit quotiescumque transit ante medium altaris.

29 Si altare commode circumiri potest, celebrans, præmissa, ut supra, Crucis et reliquiarum seu imaginum incensatione, thurificat ter super mensam ad latus dexterum, deinde, circumiens, et manu aliquantulum demissa, bis latus ipsum, mox sexies alteram faciem altaris, bis latus sinistrum, deinde ter super mensam a latere sinistro usque ad medium altaris, denique, manu aliquantulum demissa, ter partem anteriorem a latere sinistro usque ad medium altaris et, facta Cruci reverentia, incensat similiter ter reliquam partem anteriorem usque ad latus dexterum.

30 In Missis cantatis, si incensationes fiant, celebrans se gerit ut supra pro Missa solemnī dictum est; in fine a ministrante incensatur.

31 Incensatione peracta, celebrans cum ministris vadit ad sedem, ibique, Kýrie decantato, inchoat, si dicendum est, Glória in excelsis Deo, quod privatim non dicit, sed potest una cum populo vel schola cantare.

V—DE ORATIONE

32 Dicto hymno Glória in excelsis, vel, si non est dicendus, eo omisso, celebrans versus ad populum, extendens et iungens manus, cantat vel clara voce dicit: Dóminus vobíscum, vel si sit Episcopus: Pax vobis (quod dicitur tantum hoc loco, quando dictus est hymnus Glória in excelsis). Omnes respondent Et cum spíritu tuo. Deinde celebrans, manus extendens et iungens, dicit: Orémus, et, facta pro opportunitate aliqua pausa, manus extendit et orationem cantat vel dicit. Ad verba Per Dóminum, manus iungit, easque usque ad finem iunctas tenet. Si oratio concludatur Qui tecum vel Qui vivis, manus iungit cum dicit in unitate. In fine, omnes respondent: Amen.

33 Cum in oratione, vel alibi in Missa, pronuntiatur nomen Iesu vel Mariæ, itemque cum exprimitur nomen Sancti vel Beati de quo dicitur Missa aut fit commemoratio, vel Summi Pontificis, celebrans caput inclinat. Si plures orationes sunt dicendæ, idem in eis, in voce, extensione manuum, et capitis inclinatione, quod supra dictum est, observatur.

34 In Missis quæ privatim celebrantur, et quando celebrans manet ad altare usque ad orationem, altare osculatur antequam dicat: Dóminus vobíscum. Deinde vertit se ad ministrantem vel ad populum, eum salutatur, ut supra, et accedit ad latus dexterum, ibique dicit orationem versus altare. Si vero versus populum celebrat, non vertit humeros ad altare, cum dicturus est Dóminus vobíscum, Oráte, fratres, Ite, missa est, vel daturus benedictionem; sed osculato altari

in medio, ibi, expansis et iunctis manibus, ut supra, salutatur populum, et dat benedictionem.

35 Quoties in Missa dicenda occurrunt verba Flectamus genua—Levate, celebrans, extendens ac iungens manus, dicit: Orémus, ac deinde: Flectamus genua; et illico utrumque genu flectit ac per aliquod temporis spatium in silentio orat; deinde surgit, dicit: Levate, et manibus extensis, dicit orationem. Lectiones quæ Epistolam præcedunt eodem modo leguntur, ut infra pro Epistola dicitur.

VI—DE EPISTOLA, GRADUALI ET ALIIS USQUE AD OFFERTORIUM

37 In Missis quæ privatim celebrantur, dictis orationibus, celebrans, positus super librum vel altare manibus, vel (ut placuerit) librum tenens, legit Epistolam intellegibili voce, et respondetur a ministro: Deo gratias, et similiter, stans eodem modo, prosequitur graduale, Alleluia, et tractum, ac sequentiam, si dicenda sunt. Quibus dictis, minister vel ipse celebrans portat librum missalis ad partem sinistram altaris, et dum transit ante medium altaris, celebrans caput Crucis inclinatur. Missale sic locatur ut posterior pars libri respiciat ipsum latus altaris, et non ad partem eius contra se directam.

38 Delato libro ad partem sinistram altaris, celebrans, stans in medio iunctis manibus, levatisque oculis et statim demissis, tum profunde inclinatur, dicit secreto: Munda cor meum, et Iube, Domine, benedicere. Dominus sit in corde meo, ut in Ordinario. Quibus dictis, vadit ad librum missalis, ubi stans versus illum, iunctis manibus, dicit intellegibili voce: Dominus vobiscum. R. Et cum spiritu tuo. Deinde pollice dexteræ manus signo crucis signat primo librum super principio Evangelii, quod est lecturus, postea seipsum in fronte, ore et pectore, dicens: Sequentia, vel Initium sancti Evangelii, etc. R. Gloria tibi, Domine. Tum iunctis iterum manibus, stans, ut supra, prosequitur Evangelium usque ad finem. Quo finito, minister, stans ad infimum gradum altaris, respondet: Laus tibi, Christe, et sacerdos, elevans parumper librum, osculatur principium Evangelii, dicens: Per evangelica dicta, etc., præterquam in Missis defunctorum.

39 Dicto Evangelio, stans in medio altaris, incipit (si dicendum est) Credo, quod prosequitur manibus iunctis. Cum dicit: Et incarnatus est, usque ad et homo factus est inclusive, se inclinatur.

40 Symbolo expleto, vel, si non est dicendum, post Evangelium, celebrans altare osculatur et, iunctis manibus, vertit se et, extendens manus, dicit: Dominus vobiscum. Manibus iterum iunctis, revertitur ad medium altaris, ubi, extendens ac iungens manus, dicit: Orémus.

42 Cantato graduale, si Missa non est defunctorum, celebrans, sedens, incensum imponit et benedicunt. Deinde diaconus librum Evangeliorum ad altare defert et in medio deponit; tum genuflexus ante altare, manibus iunctis, dicit: Munda cor meum, etc. Postea surgit, accipit librum de altari, accedit ad celebrantem et, inclinatur, petit benedictionem, dicens: Iube, domne, benedicere. Celebrans, stans, respondet: Dominus sit in corde tuo, etc. Accepta benedictione, diaconus, præcedentibusthuriferario et duobus acolythis cum candelabris accensis, vadit cum subdiacono a sinistris ad ambonem vel ad cancellos, ibique, subdiacono a sinistris stante et, si legere desit, librum tenente, acolythis hinc inde stantibus, cantat vel dicit: Dominus vobiscum, iunctis manibus. Cum dicit: Sequentia, etc., pollice dexteræ manus signat librum in principio Evangelii quod est cantaturus vel lecturus, deinde seipsum in fronte, ore et pectore; et dum omnes respondent: Gloria tibi Domine, incensat ter librum, postea prosequitur Evangelium manibus iunctis.

43 Celebrans, stans, Evangelium auscultat ad sedem, et signat se cum aliis ad verba Sequentia sancti Evangelii, etc. Finito autem Evangelio, osculatur librum a subdiacono sibi delatum, dicens: Per evangelica dicta, etc. Si vero Missa celebratur coram Summo Pontifice aut alio Prælate supra memorato, liber ipsis defertur osculandum, et celebrans illum non osculatur nec dicit: Per evangelica dicta, etc. Post Evangelium celebrans aut Prælati qui adest non incensatur. Homilia, symbolum et oratio fidelium habentur ut infra dicitur.

44 In Missa cantata aut lecta cum populi participatione, convenit ut Lectiones et Epistola cantentur aut legantur a lectore seu ministrante idoneo in ambone vel ad cancellos, celebrante, ut supra, sedente et auscultante. Cantus post ipsas occurrentes, nisi a schola vel a populo canantur vel legantur, a lectore seu ministrante in eodem loco proferuntur; ipse tamen, in fine, a celebrante non benedicunt. Item Evangelium cantare aut legere potest diaconus vel alius sacerdos, modo supra indicato, alba et stola indutus.

45 Si vero non adest diaconus vel alius sacerdos, Evangelium profertur a celebrante. Dum cantatur vel legitur Allelúia cum suo versu, vel circa finem aliorum cantuum post Epistolam, celebrans accedit ad infimum gradum altaris, ibique profunde inclinatus, dicit: Munda cor meum, Iube, Dómine et Dóminus sit in corde meo; deinde pergit ad ambonem vel ad cancellos ad Evangelium cantandum vel legendum. In fine librum osculatur, dicens: Per evangélica dicta, etc., nisi adsit Prælatus, ut supra.

46 Deficiente vero lectore seu ministrante idoneo, ipse celebrans legit vel cantat etiam Lectiones et Epistolam in ambone vel ad cancellos et, nisi a schola vel a populo canantur aut legantur, addit etiam cantus post ipsas occurrentes. Stans deinde in eodem loco, dicit: Munda cor meum versus ad altare; et ad populum iterum conversus cantat vel legit Evangelium.

47 Si tamen non habetur ambo, aut magis opportunum videtur, celebrans potest omnes lectiones etiam ex altari proferre versus ad populum.

48 In Missa cantata quæ non sit defunctorum, si adhibetur incensum, celebrans illud imponit et benedicit antequam dicat Munda cor meum. Initio Evangelii liber ter incensatur; in fine vero incensatio celebrantis omittitur.

49 Dum cantantur vel leguntur Epistola et Evangelium numquam genuflectitur, præterquam in historia Passionis Domini. In cantibus autem inter lectiones occurrentibus genuflectitur tantum ad versum Veni, Sancte Spíritus in festo Pentecostes. In symbolo vero ad verba Et incarnátus est fit semper inclinatio; genuflectitur autem in festo Nativitatis Domini et Annuntiationis B.M.V.

50 Post Evangelium, celebrans, ad sedem aut ad altare, vel in ambone aut ad cancellos, homiliam, si facienda est, habet; eaque finita, ad sedem vel ad altare, inchoat, si dicendum est, Credo in unum Deum, quod, si a populo vel a schola cantatur vel recitatur, privatim non dicit; potest tamen illud una cum populo vel schola cantare vel recitare.

51 Deinde, iuxta cuiusque loci consuetudinem, fit oratio communis seu fidelium, quam celebrans aut ad sedem aut ex altari aut in ambone vel ad cancellos moderatur. Symbolo itaque expleto, celebrans versus ad populum dicit:  $\Psi$ . Dóminus vobíscum.  $\Re$ . Et cum spírítu tuo. Deinde subiungit: Orémus, et fit oratio fidelium. Si celebrans est ad altare, illud osculatur antequam dicat Dóminus vobíscum; secus cum ad altare accedit, oratione fidelium completa. Si vero oratio fidelium non est facienda, celebrans altare osculatur; deinde, versus ad populum, dicit:  $\Psi$ . Dóminus vobíscum.  $\Re$ . Et cum spírítu tuo. Postea subiungit: Orémus. Et sequitur statim antiphona ad offertorium.

VII—DE ANTIPHONA AD OFFERTORIUM ET ALIIS USQUE AD CANONEM

52 Ab offertorio usque ad finem Missæ omnia fiunt ad altare. Proinde quæ in medio altaris dicenda sunt, celebrans dicit ibidem, stans versus ad altare, nisi aliter ordinetur.

53 Calix et hostiæ pro celebrante et fidelibus, si super mensam parata sunt, et missale ad altare deferuntur dum cantatur vel recitatur antiphona ad offertorium cum suo psalmo, quæ, si a schola vel a populo cantatur vel recitatur, non legitur a celebrante. Tum celebrans discooperit calicem et manu dextera amovet parvam pallam desuper hostiam, accipit patenam cum hostia, et ambabus manibus eam elevatam tenens, oculis elevatis et statim demissis, dicit: Súscipe, sancte Pater, etc.

55 Deinde accipit calicem, eum purificatorio extergit, et sinistra tenens illius nodum, accipit ampullam vini de manu ministri et infundit vinum in calicem. Deinde, eodem modo tenens calicem, producit signum crucis super ampullam aquæ, et dicit: Deus, qui humanæ substantiæ, et infundens parum aquæ in calicem prosequitur: Da nobis per huius aquæ et vini mysterium, etc. In Missis autem defunctorum non facit signum crucis super aquam, sed eam infundit absque benedictione, dicens orationem ut supra.

56 Infusa aqua in calice et finita oratione prædicta, accipit manu dextera calicem discooperit; et stans ante medium altaris, ipsum ambabus manibus elevatum tenens, videlicet cum sinistra pedem, cum dextera autem nodum infra cuppam, oculis elevatis, offert, dicens: Offérimus tibi, Dómine, etc. Qua oratione dicta, facit signum crucis cum calice super corporale, et ipsum in medio post hostiam collocat, et palla cooperit. Deinde, iunctis manibus super altare positis, aliquantulum inclinatus dicit secreto: In spírítu humilitátis, etc. Postea erectus, elevatis oculis et statim demissis, manusque expandens, easque, in altum porrectas, statim iungens, dicit: Veni, sanctificátor, etc. Cum dicit: et bédedic, signat manu dextera communiter super hostiam et calicem, sinistra posita super altare.

57 Tum, iunctis manibus, accedit ad latus dexterum altaris, ubi stans, ministro aquam fundente, lavat manus, dicens psalmum: Lavabo inter innocentes, cum Glória Patri, etc.; qui versus Glória Patri prætermittitur in Missis defunctorum, et in Missis de Tempore a dominica I Passionis usque ad feriam V in Cena Domini inclusive.

58 Celebrans, lotis manibus, eas tergit, et, illis iunctis, revertitur ad medium altaris, ubi stans, oculosque elevans, et statim demittens, manibus iunctis super altare aliquantulum inclinatus, dicit secreto orationem: Suscipe, sancta Trinitas, etc. Qua dicta, osculatur altare; tum, iunctis manibus, vertit se ad populum, et versus eum extendens et iungens manus, congrua voce dicit: Oráte, fratres, ut meum ac vestrum sacrificium, etc., perficit circulum, revertens, iunctis manibus, ad medium altaris. Et responso a ministro, vel a circumstantibus: Suscipiat Dóminus sacrificium de manibus tuis, etc., manibus extensis, ut fit ad orationem, stans in medio altaris versus librum, celebrans cantat vel clara voce dicit absolute sine Orémus et sine alia interpositione orationem vel orationes super oblata. Cum dicit: Per Dóminum, iungit manus: cum dicit Iesum Christum, caput inclinat: quod facit in prima oratione, et in ultima, si plures sint dicendæ.

59 In Missa solemni, antiphona ad offertorium inchoata, diaconus accedit ad altare in latus dexterum; subdiaconus vero calicem cum patena et hostia, coopertum palla et velo, una cum corporali in sua bursa incluso, de credentia defert ad altare, comitante acolytho ampullas vini et aquæ deferente. Diaconus corporale in medio altaris expandit, deinde calicem detegit et dat patenam cum hostia celebranti; subdiaconus extergit calicem purificatorio; diaconus, accepta ampulla vini de manu subdiaconi, infundit vinum in calicem; subdiaconus interim ampullam aquæ ostendens celebranti, dicit: Benedícite, pater reverénde; qui, facto versus eam signo crucis, dicit orationem: Deus, qui humanæ, etc.; interim subdiaconus infundit paululum aquæ in calicem, ac deinde transit ad sinistram celebrantis; diaconus vero calicem celebranti dat, et pedem calicis tangens, seu brachium dexterum celebrantis sustentans, cum eo dicit: Offérimus tibi, Dómine, etc., quem postea positum in altari, ut supra, palla cooperit.

60 Dicto Veni, sanctificátor, ut supra, celebrans, ministrante diacono naviculam, et dicente: Benedícite, pater reverénde, ponit incensum in thuribulo, dicens: Per intercessiónem, etc., ut in Ordine Missæ. Deinde accepto thuribulo per manum diaconi, nullam tunc faciens Cruci reverentiam incensat oblata, ter ducens thuribulum super calicem et hostiam simul in modum crucis, et ter circum calicem et hostiam, scilicet bis a dextera ad sinistram, et semel a sinistra ad dexteram (diacono interim pedem calicis tenente manu dextera), interim dicens: Incensum istud a te benedictum ascéndat ad te, Dómine: et descéndat super nos misericórdia tua. Deinde facta reverentia, incensat Crucem et altare, ut dictum est supra, assistentibus diacono et subdiacono, interim dicens: Dirigátur, Dómine, orátio mea, etc.; et cum incensatur Crux, diaconus amovet calicem e medio, et, incensata Cruce, reponit in loco suo. Cum reddi thuribulum diacono, dicit: Accéndat in nobis, etc. Et incensatur ab eo: deinde diaconus incensat triplici ductu, per modum unius, utramque chori partem; Ordinarios autem et Episcopos, si qui sunt, singulos incensat; postremo subdiaconum thurificat. Ipse vero diaconus incensatur a thuriferario, et thuriferarius postea incensat populum. Celebrans, postquam incensatus fuerit, lavat manus, ministrantibus acolythis ampullam aquæ, cum pellicula et manutergio. Deinde acolythus Missale super altare collocat. In Missa cantata, si incensationes fiant, celebrans se gerit ut in Missa solemni, et in fine incensatur a ministrante, qui postea incensat clerum quoque et populum.

VIII—DE CANONE MISSÆ A PRÆFATIONE USQUE AD CONSECRATIONEM

61 Orationibus super oblata expletis, celebrans dicit: Dóminus vobiscum, manibus super altare positus. Cum dicit: Sursum corda, manus aliquantulum elevat hinc inde ante pectus extensas et iungit cum dicit: Grátias agámus Dómino Deo nostro. Responso: Dignum et iustum est, extensis ut prius manibus, prosequitur præfationem; qua finita, iunctis manibus, una cum ministris, clero et populo, cantat vel dicit Sanctus-Benedíctus.

62 Postea celebrans, stans ante medium altaris versus ad illud, extendit et aliquantulum elevat manus, oculisque elevatis et sine mora demissis, ac manibus iunctis et super altare positus, profunde inclinatus prosequitur Canonem, secreto dicens: Te ígitur, etc., ut in Ordine Missæ. Cum dicit: Uti accépta hábeas et benedícas, etc., prius osculatur altare, deinde erigit se, et stat iunctis manibus. Cum dicit: hæc ☩ dona, hæc ☩ múnera, hæc sancta ☩ sacrificia, dextera manu signat ter communiter super hostiam et calicem. Deinde, extensis manibus prosequitur: In primis quæ tibi offérimus, etc.

63 Ubi dicit: una cum fámulo tuo Papa nostro N., exprimit nomen Papæ: Sede autem vacante verba prædicta omittuntur. Ubi dicitur: et Antístite nostro N., specificatur nomen Episcopi Ordinarii diœcesis in qua Sacrum facit, et non alterius Superioris, etiamsi celebrans sit exemptus, vel sub alterius Episcopi iurisdictione. Si vero Episcopus Ordinarius illius loci, in quo Missa celebratur, sit vita functus, prædicta verba omittuntur, quæ etiam omittuntur ab iis qui Romæ celebrant. Si celebrans est Episcopus, Archiepiscopus vel Patriarcha, omissis prædictis verbis, eorum loco dicit: et me indigno servo tuo. Summus autem Pontifex cum celebrat, omissis verbis: una cum famulo tuo Papa nostro N. et Antistite nostro N., dicit: una cum me famulo tuo indigno, quem gregi tuo præesse voluisti. Et continuant omnes, ut sequitur: et omnibus orthodoxis, etc.

64 Cum dicit: Meménto, Dómine, iungens manus stat paulisper in quiete, faciens commemorationem vivorum Christi fidelium ad suam voluntatem, quorum nomina, si vult, secreto commemorat: non tamen necesse est ea exprimere, sed mente tantum eorum memoriam habeat. Potest etiam celebrans, si pro pluribus orare intendit, ne circumstantibus sit morosus, ante Missam in animo proponere sibi omnes illos, tam vivos quam defunctos, pro quibus in ipsa Missa orare intendit, et hoc loco generaliter unico contextu ipsorum vivorum commemorationem agere.

65 Commemoratione vivorum facta, extensis, ut prius, manibus, continuat: Et omnium circumstantium, etc. Similiter stans prosequitur: Communicantes. Cum dicit: Iesu Christi, caput inclinat: in conclusione, quando dicit: Per eundem, iungit manus. Cum dicit: Hanc igitur oblationem, expandit manus simul super oblata, ita ut palmæ sint apertæ versus ac supra calicem et hostiam, quas sic tenet usque ad illa verba: Per Christum Dóminum nostrum. Tunc enim iungit manus, et sic prosequitur: Quam oblationem tu, Deus, in omnibus, quæsumus: et cum dicit: bene ✠ dictam, adscrip ✠ tam, ra ✠ tam, communiter signat ter super hostiam et calicem simul: deinde cum dicit: ut nobis Cor ✠ pus, separatim signat semel super hostiam tantum; et cum dicit: et San ✠ guis, semel super calicem tantum: deinde iungens manus, prosequitur: fiat dilectissimi Filii tui Dómini nostri Iesu Christi, et inclinans caput, extergit, si opus fuerit, pollices et indices super corporale, et dicit secreto, ut prius: Qui pridie quam pateretur: et accipiens pollice et indice dexteræ manus hostiam, et eam cum illis ac indice et pollice sinistræ manus tenens, stans erectus ante medium altaris, dicit: accepit panem in sanctas ac venerabiles manus suas, elevansque oculos et statim demittens, dicit: et elevatis oculis in cælum ad te Deum Patrem suum omnipotentem, caputque aliquantulum inclinans, dicit: tibi grátias agens, et tenens hostiam inter pollicem et indicem sinistræ manus, dextera producit signum crucis super eam, dicens bene ✠ dixit, fregit, deditque discipulis suis, dicens: Accipite, et manducate ex hoc omnes. Si adest pyxis cum aliis hostiis consecrandis, antequam accipiat hostiam, eam discooperit manu dextera.

68 Celebrans, adorato Sacramento, surgit, et discooperit calicem, in quem, si opus est, extergit digitos, quod semper faciat si aliquod fragmentum digitis adhæreat; et stans erectus dicit: Simili modo postquam cenatum est, et ambabus manibus accipiens calicem iuxta nodum infra cuppam, et aliquantulum illum elevans, ac statim deponens, dicit: accipiens et hunc præclarum Cálicem in sanctas ac venerabiles manus suas, etc. Cum dicit: item tibi grátias agens, caput inclinat; cum dicit: benedixit, sinistra calicem infra cuppam tenens, dextera signat super eum; et prosequens: deditque discipulis suis, etc., et ambabus manibus tenens calicem, videlicet sinistra pedem, dextera nodum infra cuppam, cubitis super altare postis, profert attente et continue, ut supra, verba consecrationis Sanguinis: Hic est enim Calix, etc. Quibus dictis, reponit calicem super corporale, dicens: Hæc quotiescúmque feceritis, etc., et genuflexus Sanguinem reverenter adorat. Tum se erigit, et accipiens calicem discooperit ambabus manibus, ut prius, elevat eum et ostendit populo adorandum: mox ipsum reverenter reponit super corporale in locum pristinum, et manu dextera palla cooperit, ac genuflexus Sacramentum veneratur.

70 Ad finem præfationis, accenduntur ab acolythis duo saltem cerei, qui extinguuntur

post fidelium Communionem. Cum autem celebrans dicit: Quam oblationem, etc., diaconus accedit ad eius dexteram, ibi in superiori gradu altaris genuflectit et, quando opus est, se erigens, calicem discooperit et cooperit, et cum celebrante genuflectit. Subdiaconus genuflexus in latere dextero ter incensat hostiam, cum elevatur, et similiter calicem, posito prius incenso in thuribulo per acolythum absque benedictione; quod servatur etiam a ministrante in Missis cantatis in quibus incensationes fiunt. Deposito calice, diaconus et subdiaconus redeunt post celebrantem.

IX—DE CANONE POST CONSECRATIONEM

71 Reposito calice et adorato, celebrans stans ante altare, extensis manibus, dicit secreto: Unde et memores, etc. Cum dicit: de tuis donis ac datis, iungit manus: et cum dicit: hóstiam ✠ puram, hóstiam ✠ sanctam, hóstiam ✠ immaculatam, manu sinistra posita super altare intra corporale, dextera signat ter communiter super hostiam et calicem, et semel super hostiam tantum, et semel super calicem tantum, dicens: Panem ✠ sanctum vitæ æternæ, et Cálícem ✠ salutis perpétuæ; deinde, stans ut prius extensis manibus, prosequitur: Supra quæ propítio, etc. Cum dicit: Súpplices te rogámus, etc., profunde inclinatur ante medium altaris, manibus iunctis super illo positis. Cum dicit: ex hac altaris participatione, osculatur altare, manibus super corporale positis. Cum dicit: sacrosánctum Fílii tui, iungit manus; et dextera signans semel super hostiam tantum, et semel super calicem, sinistra super corporale posita, dicit: Cor ✠ pus et Sán ✠ guinem sumpsérimus, et cum dicit: omni benedictione ✠ cælesti, seipsum signat signo crucis, et prosequitur: et grátia repleámur. Cum dicit: Per eúndem, iungit manus.

72 Cum dicit: Meménto etiam, Dómine, famulórum famularúmque tuárum, etc., extensis et iunctis manibus facit commemorationem fidelium defunctorum, de quibus sibi videtur, eodem modo ut dictum est de commemoratione vivorum. Qua commemoratione facta, stans ut prius extensis manibus, prosequitur: Ipsi, Dómine, et ómnibus in Christo, etc., et in fine ad: Per eúndem, iungit manus.

73 Cum dicit: Nobis quoque peccatóribus, vocem aliquantulum elevat et dextera manu pectus sibi percutit, sinistra posita super corporale, et prosequitur secreto: fámulis tuis, etc., stans manibus extensis, ut prius. Cum dicit: Per Christum Dóminum nostrum. Per quem hæc ómnia, Dómine, semper bona creas, iungit manus: deinde, manu dextera ter signans communiter super hostiam et calicem, dicit: sancti ✠ ficas, viví ✠ ficas, bene ✠ dícis, et præstas nobis. Postea discooperit manu dextera calicem, et genuflexus Sacramentum adorat: tum se erigit, et reverenter accipit hostiam inter pollicem et indicem dexteræ manus, sinistra autem calicem, et elevans eum parum cum hostia, quam tenet super calicem, clara voce cantat vel dicit: Per ipsum, etc., usque ad per ómnia sæcula sæculórum. Responso ab omnibus Amen, celebrans calicem et hostiam collocat super corporale, et si opus est, digitos extergit, ut supra; ac pollices et indices ut prius iungens, calicem palla cooperit, et genuflexus Sacramentum adorat.

74 In Missa solemni, cum celebrans dicit: Per quem hæc ómnia, etc., diaconus, facta Sacramento genuflexione, accedit ad dexteram celebrantis, et quando opus est discooperit calicem, et cum celebrante adorat, celebrantem adiuvat, si opus est, in calice elevando, et postea calicem cooperit, iterum genuflectit, et vadit post celebrantem, ubi stat, dum canitur oratio dominica et embolismus.

X—DE ORATIONE DOMINICA ET ALIIS USQUE AD COMMUNIONEM

75 Celebrans, cooperto calice adoratoque Sacramento, erigit se et, iungens manus, cantat vel clara voce dicit: Orémus. Sequitur oratio dominica, quam populus totam cum celebrante cantare vel dicere potest. Celebrans eam profert manibus extensis. In fine non dicitur Amen.

76 Oratione autem dominica finita, celebrans statim cantat vel clara voce dicit, manibus extensis: Libera nos, quæsumus, Dómine, etc., cum dixerit: et ab omni perturbatione securi, discooperit calicem, et genuflectit; tum erigens se submittit patenam, prius purificatorio abstersam, hostiæ; deinde accipit hostiam inter pollicem et indicem dexteræ manus, et cum illis ac pollice et indice sinistra manus eam super calicem tenens reverenter frangit per medium, dicens: Per eúndem Dóminum nostrum Iesum Christum, Fílium tuum, et mediam partem, quam inter pollicem et indicem dexteræ manus tenet, ponit super patenam; de alia media, quam sinistra manu tenet, frangit cum pollice et indice dexteræ manus particulam, prosequens: Qui tecum vivit et regnat, et eam inter ipsos dexteræ manus pollicem et indicem retinens, partem maiorem, quam sinistra tenet, adiungit mediæ super patenam positæ, interim dicens: in unitate Spíritus Sancti Deus; et particulam hostiæ, quam in dextera manu retinuit, tenens super calicem, quem sinistra per nodum infra cuppam retinet, eadem semper voce dicit: Per ómnia sæcula sæculórum. R̄. Amen, et cum ipsa particula signans ter a labio ad labium calicis, dicit: Pax ✠ Dómini sit ✠ semper vobis ✠ cum. Responso: Et cum spíritu tuo, particulam, quam dextera manu tenet, immittit in calicem dicens secreto: Hæc commíxtio, et consecrátio Córporis, etc. Deinde pollices et indices super calicem aliquantulum tergit, calicem palla cooperit, et genuflexus Sacramentum adorat, surgit, et stans iunctis manibus, inclinatus versus Sacramentum, clara voce dicit: Agnus Dei, qui tollis peccáta mundi: et dextera percutiens sibi pectus, sinistra super corporale posita, dicit: miserére nobis, et deinde non iungit manus, sed iterum percudit sibi pectus, cum dicit secundo: miserére nobis, quod et tertio facit, cum dicit: dona nobis pacem. Si Agnus Dei a populo vel a schola cantatur vel recitatur, celebrans illud privatim non dicit; potest tamen illud una cum populo vel schola cantare vel recitare, iunctis manibus et ter pectus percutiens.

77 Tunc manibus iunctis supra altare positis, inclinatus dicit secreto: Dómine Iesu Christe, etc. Qua oratione finita, si est daturus pacem, osculatur altare et instrumentum pacis ei porrectum a ministro iuxta ipsum ad dexteram genuflexo, et dicit: Pax tecum. Minister respondet: Et cum spíritu tuo. Si pax non datur, dicta præmissa oratione, statim subiungit alias orationes ut in Ordine Missæ.

78 In Missis defunctorum, non percudit pectus ad Agnus Dei, quia dicitur: Dona eis réquiem, nec dicit primam orationem: Dómine Iesu Christe, qui dixisti Apóstolis tuis, etc., non dat pacem, sed dicit alias duas sequentes orationes: Dómine Iesu Christe, Fili Dei vivi, etc., et Percéptio Córporis tui, etc.

79 Quibus orationibus dictis, genuflectens Sacramentum adorat, et se erigens dicit secreto: Panem cæléstem accípiam, etc.; quo dicto, dextera manu accipit de patena reverenter ambas partes hostiæ, et collocat inter pollicem et indicem sinistrae manus, quibus patenam inter eundem indicem et medium digitum supponit, et eadem manu sinistra tenens partes huiusmodi super patenam inter pectus et calicem, parum inclinatus, dextera tribus vicibus percudit pectus suum, interim etiam tribus vicibus dicens voce aliquantulum elevata: Dómine, non sum dignus: et secreto prosequitur: ut intres, etc. Quibus tertio dictis, ex sinistra accipit ambas partes prædictas hostiæ inter pollicem et indicem dexterae manus, et cum illa supra patenam signat se ipsum signo crucis, dicens: Corpus Dómini nostri Iesu Christi custódiat ánimam meam in vitam ætérnam. Amen: et se inclinans, cubitis super altare positis, reverenter easdem ambas partes sumit: quibus sumptis, deponit patenam super corporale, et erigens se, iunctis indicibus et pollicibus, ambas quoque manus iungit, et aliquantulum quiescit in meditatione sanctissimi Sacramenti. Deinde dicens secreto: Quid retribuam Dómino pro ómnibus quæ retribuit mihi? etc. discooperit calicem, genuflectit, surgit, accipit patenam, colligit fragmenta cum patena, si qua sunt super corporali, patenam quoque diligenter cum pollice et indice dexterae manus super calicem extergit, et ipsos digitos, ne quid fragmentorum in eis remaneat.

80 Post extensionem patenæ, iunctis pollicibus et indicibus, calicem dextera manu infra nodum cuppæ accipit, sinistra patenam, et signans se signo crucis cum calice, dicit: Sanguis Dómini nostri, etc., et manu sinistra supponens patenam calici, stans reverenter, sumit totum Sanguinem cum particula in calice posita. Tum, si fideles non sunt communicandi, ablutiones sumit, ut infra dicitur.

81 Tempore opportuno, ministrans campanulæ signo communicandos moneat. Sacerdos autem, post sumptionem Sanguinis, calicem parum ad latus sinistrum collocat, intra tamen corporale, et palla tegit. Deinde, si particulæ super corporale consecratæ sunt, facta genuflexione, eas super patenam ponit; si particulæ in eadem Missa intra pyxidem consecratæ sunt, pyxidem collocat in medio corporalis, eam discooperit et genuflectit; si vero administrandæ sunt particulæ iam antea consecratæ, aperto tabernaculo, genuflectit, pyxidem extrahit et discooperit. Postea accipit manu sinistra pyxidem seu patenam cum Sacramento, dextera vero sumit unam particulam, quam inter pollicem et indicem tenet aliquantulum elevatam super pyxidem seu patenam, et, conversus ad communicandos in medio altaris, clara voce dicit: Ecce Agnus Dei, ecce qui tollit peccáta mundi. Mox communicandi subdunt ter, pectus sibi percutiens: Dómine, non sum dignus, ut intres sub tectum meum, sed tantum dic verbo, et sanábitur ánima mea. Deinde celebrans accedit ad communicandos, et hostiam parum elevatam super pyxidem seu patenam cuique ostendit, dicens: Corpus Christi. Communicandus respondet: Amen, et a celebrante communicatur. Distributione Communionis inchoata, vel, si fideles communicandi non sunt, dum celebrans sumit Sacramentum, cantatur vel recitatur antiphona ad Communionem cum suo psalmo.

82 Fidelibus communicatis, celebrans ad altare revertitur. Deinde: si particulæ super corporale positæ erant, extergit illud cum patena, et si qua in eo fuerint fragmenta, in calicem immittit; si particulæ quæ remanserunt paucae sunt, eas sumit, vel in tabernaculo reponit, genuflectit et ostiolum claudit. Postea in calicem immittit fragmenta quæ forte inveniuntur in patina sub mento communicantium apposita. Deinde dicit secreto: Quod ore sumpsimus, Dómine, etc., et super altare porrigit calicem ministro in latere dextero, quo vinum fundente calicem purificat et ablutionem sumit: deinde vino et aqua abluit pollices et indices super calicem, quos abstergit purificatorio, interim dicens: Corpus tuum, Dómine, quod sumpsi, etc. Ablutionem sumit, et extergit os et calicem purificatorio: quo facto purificatorium extendit super calicem et desuper patenam ac super patenam parvam pallam; et, plicato corporali, quod reponit in bursam, cooperit calicem velo, et bursam desuper ponit, et, nisi ad mensam deferatur, collocat in medio altaris, ut in principio Missæ. Si in altari desit tabernaculum, et pyxis cum particulis consecratis super altare maneat usque ad finem Missæ, ea servantur quæ feria V in Cena Domini præscribuntur versus finem Missæ.

83 In Missa solemnè diaconus stat retro post celebrantem dum cantatur oratio dominica et dum celebrans cantat Lîbera nos. Cum autem dicitur: et a peccâto simus semper lîberi, facta ibidem genuflexione, vadit ad dexteram celebrantis et, quando opus est, discooperit et cooperit calicem et cum celebrante adorat. Post cantatum Agnus Dei, diaconus a dextris genuflexus expectat pacem: et cum celebrans osculatur altare, ipse se erigens simul osculatur illud extra corporale, et a celebrante dicente: Pax tecum, complexus accipit pacem sinistris genis sibi invicem appropinquantibus, et ei respondet: Et cum spiritu tuo. Postea, iterum Sacramento in altari adorato, vertit se ad subdiaconum retro post celebrantem, et similiter dat ei pacem. Subdiaconus, accepta pace a diacono et facta altari genuflexione, comitatus ab acolytho vadit ad chorum, et dat pacem primo cuiusque ordinis, dignioribus prius, deinde minus dignis; et reversus ad altare, facta genuflexione, dat pacem acolytho qui ipsum comitatus fuerit, qui et aliis acolythis circa altare dat pacem: deinde subdiaconus vadit ad dexteram celebrantis, et quando opus est, discooperit calicem, et, celebrantis Communionem expleta, iterum cooperit. Dum celebrans se communicat, diaconus et subdiaconus stant inclinati, et ante omnes alios ipsi Communionem recipiunt; dum vero populo Communionem distribuitur, celebrantem comitantur. Interim canitur antiphona ad Communionem cum suo psalmo. Fidelium Communionem finita, vel si fidelium Communionem non habetur, statim post Communionem celebrantis subdiaconus accipit ampullas vini et aquæ et infundit, quando celebrans purificat.

XI—DE ORATIONIBUS POST COMMUNIONEM

84 Ablutionibus sumptis, celebrans calicem collocat in altari vel tradit ministro, qui illum ad mensam defert. Deinde celebrans, stans in medio et hæbens apud se librum, nisi a schola vel a populo iam cantata vel recitata fuerit, iunctis manibus, legit antiphonam ad Communionem, qua lecta, osculatur altare, vertit se ad populum et dicit: Dóminus vobiscum, et reversus ad altare, stans in medio, dicit orationes post Communionem, eisdem modo, numero et ordine, ut dictæ sunt orationes initio Missæ. Quibus finitis, claudit librum, osculatur altare, vertit se ad populum, et dicit, ut supra: Dóminus vobiscum, quo dicto, stans iunctis manibus versus populum, dicit, si dicendum est: Ite, missa est, et revertitur ad altare. Si vero non est dicendum, dicto Dóminus vobiscum, revertitur ad medium altaris, ubi stans versus ad illud, iunctis manibus, dicit: Benedicámus Dómino. In Missis autem defunctorum, eodem modo stans versus altare, dicit: Requiéscant in pace.

85 In Quadragesima autem a feria IV cinerum usque ad feriam IV Hebdomadæ sanctæ, in Missa feriæ, postquam celebrans dixit orationes post Communionem cum suis solitis conclusionibus, antequam dicat: Dóminus vobiscum, stans in medio altaris ante librum dicit: Orémus. Humiliáte cápita vestra Deo, caput inclinans, et, extensis manibus, subiungit eadem voce orationem super populum ibidem positam, qua finita, osculatur altare, et vertens se ad populum dicit: Dóminus vobiscum, et alia ut supra.

86 *In Missa solemnè subdiaconus calicem abstergit, aptat cum purificatorio, patena et palla cooperit, plicat corporale, reponit in bursam, et illam ponit super calicem coopertum velo, quem defert ad mensam ut prius: postea redit ad locum suum retro post diaconum: qui cum dicit: *Ite, missa est, cum celebrante vertit se ad populum: et in Quadragesima, dicto per celebrantem Orémus, diaconus vertens se ad populum, iunctis manibus dicit ut supra: Humiliáte, etc.; quo dicto vertit se versus altare a tergo celebrantis, et celebrans dicit orationem super populum. In Missis cantatis *Ite, missa est vel Benedicámus Dómino vel Requiéscant in pace ab ipso celebrante canuntur.

XII—DE BENEDICTIONE IN FINE MISSÆ

87 *Dicto *Ite, missa est, vel Benedicámus Dómino, vel Requiéscant in pace, celebrans, ante medium altaris stans iunctis manibus super eo, inclinatus dicit secreto: Pláceat tibi, sancta Trinitas, etc. Quo dicto, ipsum osculatur: tum erigens se, adhuc stans versus illud, elevat oculos et manus, quas extendit et iungit, et clara voce dicit: Benedicat vos omnipotens Deus, et iunctis manibus, vertens se ad populum, extensa manu dextera iunctisque digitis, et manu sinistra infra pectus posita, semel benedicit populo dicens: Pater, et Fílius, et Spíritus Sanctus. R̄. Amen.

88 Si celebravit coram Summo Pontifice, Cardinali, et Legato Sedis Apostolicæ, vel Patriarcha, Archiepiscopo et Episcopo in provincia, civitate, vel diœcesi sua existente, celebrans, dicto Pláceat tibi, sancta Trinitas, etc., dicit: Benedicat vos omnipotens Deus, et convertens se ad Summum Pontificem genuflexus, ad Car-

Ritus servandus in celebratione Missæ

dinalem vero, et Legatum, vel alium ex supradictis Prælati, capite inclinato, quasi licentiam benedicendi petens, prosequitur: Pater, et Filius, ✠ et Spiritus Sanctus, benedicens adstantes a parte ubi non adest Pontifex, Cardinalis, Lega-tus aut Prælati prædicti. Si autem celebravit coram Patriarcha, Archiepiscopo et Episcopo extra eorum provinciam, civitatem, vel diæcesim constitutis, eis absque alio respectu, ut ce-teris qui intersunt, more consueto benedicit.

89 In Missis, in quibus dictum est Benedicámus Dómino vel Requiéscant in pace, celebrans non dat benedictionem, sed, dicto Pláceat tibi, sancta Trínitas, ut supra, altare osculatur, des-cendit et, facta debita reverentia, recedit.

90 *Data benedictione, vel si etiam benedictio omittenda est osculato altari, si celebravit coram
Summo Pontifice, Cardinali, et Legato Sedis Apostolicæ, vel Patriarcha, Archiepiscopo et Episcopo, convertit se ad illum coram quo ex prædictis celebravit, et facit reverentiam convenientem.*

91 Quibus omnibus absolutis, si calix est super altare, sacerdos accipit illum sinistra, dexteram ponens super bursam, ne aliquid ca-dat, descendit ante infimum gradum altaris, et, ibi in medio vertens se ad illud, se profunde inclinat (vel, si in eo est tabernaculum sanctissimi Sacramenti, genuflectit); et, facta reveren-tia, accipit biretum a ministro, ac præcedente ministro, eo modo quo venerat, redit ad sacristiam, interim dicens, si placuerit, antiphonam Trium puerórum et canticum Benedícite. Postquam paramenta deposuerit, gratiarum actio-nem per temporis spatium conveniens protrahit, preces infrascriptas persolvens, vel alias pro sua devotione.

92 In Missa solemnè celebrans, eadem voce et modo quo in Missis lectis, semel tantum benedicit populo; Episcopus autem, vel Abbas benedictus habens usum pontificalium, ter be-nedicit populo, etiam in Missis lectis.

XIII—DE HIS QUÆ OMITTUNTUR IN MISSA DEFUNCTORUM

93 In Missa defunctorum, post antiphonam ad introitum, non dicitur Glória Patri, sed post psalmum repetitur: Réquiem ætérnam; nec dicitur Glória in excélsis, nec Allelúia, nec Iube, Dómine, benedícere, nec Dóminus sit in corde meo; nec celebrans osculatur librum in fine, nec dicit: Per evangélica dicta. Non dicitur Credo, non benedicitur aqua in calicem fundenda; dicitur tamen oratio: Deus, qui humanæ substántiæ, etc. Cum lavat manus, in fine psalmi La-vábó inter innocéntes, non dicitur Glória Patri.
Ad Agnus Dei non dicitur: miserére nobis, cuius loco dicitur: dona eis réquiem; nec tertio:
dona nobis pacem, cuius loco dicitur: dona eis réquiem sempitérnam; neque percutitur pectus.

Non dicitur prima oratio ante Communionem, scilicet: Dómine Iesu Christe, qui dixísti Apóstolis tuis, etc., nec datur pax. In fine non dicitur:
Ite, missa est, nec Benedicámus Dómino, sed: Requiéscant in pace. Et non datur benedictio: sed dicto Pláceat, et osculato altari, nisi facienda sit absolutio, celebrans discedit. Cetera ut in aliis Missis.

94 *In Missa solemnè non incensatur altare ad introitum, et subdiaconus, finita Epistola, non benedicitur: diaconus non petit benedictio-nem, non tenentur luminaria ad Evangelium, non portatur incensum, non incensatur liber,
nec defertur liber Evangeliorum osculandus.
Oblata et altare incensantur ut supra: incensatur solus celebrans, et non incensantur alii. Si dis-tribuendæ sunt candelæ, distribuuntur post Epistolam, et accendantur ad Evangelium, ad elevationem Sacramenti, et post Missam, dum fit absolutio.*

XIV—DE MISSA CUM DIACONO

95 In hac Missa, quoad fieri potest, omnia serventur, quæ supra de Missa solemnè dicta sunt.

96 Deficiente lectore seu ministrante idoneo, Epistola cantatur vel legitur a diacono, qui tamen in fine benedictionem non recipit.

97 Ad offertorium, calix ad altare defertur a diacono, qui illum abstergit ac in eum vinum et aquam infundit.

98 Diaconus pacem defert clero et postea se confert ad dexteram celebrantis atque, cum opus est, discooperit calicem et ablutiones celebranti ministrat. Deinde calicem abstergit et cooperit atque ad mensam defert.

XV—DE AGENDIS, SI SACERDOS BIS VEL TER EODEM DIE CELEBRET

99 Sacerdos, qui in festo Nativitatis Domini vel in Commemoratione omnium Fidelium de-functorum, duas vel tres Missas sine intermissione, id est quin ab altari discedat, celebrat:

a) In prima et secunda Missa, si aliam sit immediate celebraturus, sumpto divino Sanguine, calicem nec purificat nec abstergit, sed eum ponit super corporale et palla tegit. Deinde iunctis manibus dicit: Quod ore sumpsimus, et postea in vase cum aqua parato digitos abluat dicens: Corpus tuum, Dómine, et abstergit. His peractis, calicem super corporale adhuc manentem, deducta palla, iterum disponit et cooperit, uti moris est, scilicet purificatorio linteo, deinde patena cum hostia consecranda, et palla, ac demum velo. Calix vero extra corporale ne statuatur.
Si per inadvertentiam ablutiones cum vino sumpserit, celebrare nihilominus potest

De defectibus in celebratione Missæ occurrentibus

secundam et tertiam Missam, etsi spatium unius horæ ante Communionem non intercesserit, si necessarium est. De cetero Missa more solito completur.

b) In secunda et tertia Missa, si aliam Missam immediate antea celebravit, ad offertorium, ablato velo a calice, hunc parumper versus latus Epistolæ collocat, intra tamen corporale; factaque hostiæ oblatione, calicem purificatorio non abstergit, sed eum intra corporale relinquens, leviter elevat, vinumque et aquam eidem infundit, ipsumque calicem, nullatenus ab intus abstersum, offert. Cetera omnia more solito peraguntur.

100 Sacerdos, qui plures Missas cum intermissione celebrat, prioribus in Missis duas ablutiones a rubricis præscriptas sumere debet. Si sequentem Missam celebraturus est et spatium unius horæ ante Communionem non intercessit, aqua tantum in ablutionibus adhibenda est; si vero per inadvertentiam vinum quoque sumpsit, sequentem Missam nihilominus, etsi spatium unius horæ ante Communionem non intercessit, celebrare potest, si necesse est.

I

1 Sacerdos celebraturus omnem adhibeat diligentiam, ne desit aliquid ex requisitis ad Sacramentum Eucharistiæ conficiendum. Potest autem defectus contingere ex parte materiæ consecrandæ, et ex parte formæ adhibendæ, et ex parte ministri conficientis. Quidquid enim horum deficit, scilicet materia debita, forma cum intentione, et Ordo sacerdotalis in conficiente, non conficitur Sacramentum. Et his existentibus, quibuscumque aliis deficientibus, veritas adest Sacramenti. Alii vero sunt defectus, qui, in Missæ celebratione occurrentes, etsi veritatem Sacramenti non impediunt, possunt tamen aut cum peccato, aut cum scandalo contingere.

II—DE DEFECTIBUS MATERIÆ

2 Defectus ex parte materiæ possunt contingere, si aliquid desit ex iis quæ ad ipsam requiruntur. Requiritur enim, ut sit panis triticeus et vinum de vite: et ut huiusmodi materia consecranda, in actu Consecrationis, sit coram sacerdote.

III—DE DEFECTU PANIS

3 Si panis non sit triticeus, vel, si triticeus, admixtus sit granis alterius generis in tanta quantitate ut non maneat panis triticeus, vel sit alioqui corruptus, non conficitur Sacramentum.

4 Si sit confectus de aqua rosacea, vel alterius distillationis, dubium est an conficiatur.

5 Si cœperit corrumpi, sed non sit corruptus; similiter si non sit azymus, secundum morem Ecclesiæ Latinæ, conficitur, sed conficiens graviter peccat.

6 Si celebrans ante Consecrationem advertit hostiam esse corruptam, aut non esse triticeam; remota illa hostia, aliam ponat, et facta oblatione, saltem mente concepta, prosequatur ab eo loco ubi desivit.

7 Si id advertit post Consecrationem, etiam post illius hostiæ sumptionem, posita alia, faciat oblationem, ut supra, et a Consecratione incipiat, scilicet ab illis verbis: Qui pridie quam pateretur; et illam priorem, si non sumpsit, sumat post sumptionem Corporis et Sanguinis, vel alicubi reverenter conservet. Si autem sumpserit, nihilominus sumat eam, quam consecravit: quia præceptum de perfectione Sacramenti, maioris est ponderis, quam quod a ieiunis sumatur.

8 Quod si hoc contingat post sumptionem Sanguinis, apponi debet rursus novus panis et vinum cum aqua; et, facta prius oblatione, ut supra, sacerdos consecret, incipiendo ab illis verbis: Qui pridie; ac statim sumat utrumque, et prosequatur Missam, ne Sacramentum remaneat imperfectum, et ut debitus servetur ordo.

9 Si hostia consecrata dispareat, vel casu aliquo, ut vento, vel ab aliquo animali accepta, et nequeat reperiri; tunc altera consecratur ab eo loco incipiendo: Qui pridie quam pateretur, facta eius prius oblatione, ut supra.

10 Casibus de quibus supra 5-7, elevatio Sacramenti omittatur, et omnia fiant vitando, quantum fieri potest, fidelium scandalum vel admirationem.

IV—DE DEFECTU VINI

11 Si vinum sit factum penitus acetum, vel penitus putridum, vel de uvis acerbis seu non maturis expressum, vel ei admixtum tantum aquæ ut vinum sit corruptum, non conficitur Sacramentum.

De defectibus in celebratione Missæ occurrentibus

12 Si vinum cœperit acescere, vel corrumpi, vel fuerit aliquantum acre, vel mustum de uvis tunc expressum, vel non fuerit admixta aqua, vel fuerit admixta aqua rosacea seu alterius distillationis, conficitur Sacramentum, sed conficiens graviter peccat.

13 Si celebrans ante Consecrationem Sanguinis, quamvis post Consecrationem Corporis, advertat aut vinum, aut aquam, aut utrumque non esse in calice; debet statim apponere vinum cum aqua, et facta oblatione, ut supra, consecrare: incipiendo ab illis verbis: Simili modo, etc.

14 Si post verba Consecrationis advertat vinum non fuisse positum, sed aquam; deposita aqua in aliquod vas, iterum vinum cum aqua ponat in calice, et consecret, resumendo a verbis prædictis: Simili modo, etc.

15 Si hoc advertat post sumptionem Corporis, vel huiusmodi aquæ, apponat aliam hostiam iterum consecrandam, et vinum cum aqua in calice, offerat utrumque, et consecret, et sumat, quamvis non sit ieiunus.

17 Si quis percipiat ante Consecrationem, vel post Consecrationem, totum vinum esse acetum, vel alias corruptum: idem servetur quod supra, ac si deprehenderet non esse positum vinum, vel solam aquam fuisse appositam in calice.

18 Si autem celebrans ante Consecrationem calicis advertat, non fuisse appositam aquam: statim ponat eam, et proferat verba Consecrationis. Si id advertat post Consecrationem calicis: nullo modo apponat, quia non est de necessitate Sacramenti.

19 Si materia quæ esset apponenda, ratione defectus vel panis vel vini, non posset ullo modo haberi: si id sit ante Consecrationem Corporis, ulterius procedi non debet: si post Consecrationem Corporis, aut etiam vini, deprehenditur defectus alterius speciei, altera iam consecrata: tunc, si nullo modo haberi possit, procedendum erit, et Missa absolvenda, ita tamen, ut prætermittantur verba et signa, quæ pertinent ad speciem deficientem. Quod si expectando aliquamdiu haberi possit: expectandum erit, ne sacrificium remaneat imperfectum.

V—DE DEFECTIBUS FORMÆ

20 Defectus ex parte formæ possunt contingere, si aliquid desit ex iis quæ ad integritatem verborum in ipsa consecratione requiruntur. Verba autem Consecrationis, quæ sunt forma huius Sacramenti, sunt hæc: Hoc est enim Corpus meum. Et: Hic est enim Calix Sanguinis mei, novi et æterni testamenti: mysterium fidei: qui pro vobis et pro multis effundetur in remissionem peccatorum. Si quis autem aliquid diminueret, vel immutaret de forma Consecrationis Corporis et Sanguinis, et in ipsa verborum immutatione verba idem non significarent, non conficeret Sacramentum. Si vero aliquid adderet vel detraheret, quod significationem non mutaret, conficeret quidem, sed gravissime peccaret.

21 Si celebrans non recordetur se dixisse ea quæ in Consecratione communiter dicuntur, non debet propterea turbari. Si tamen certo ei constet, se omisisse aliquid eorum quæ sunt de necessitate Sacramenti, id est, formam Consecrationis, seu partem: resumat ipsam formam, et cetera prosequatur per ordinem. Si vero valde probabiliter dubitet, se aliquid essentielle omisisse: iteret formam saltem sub tacita conditione. Si autem non sunt de necessitate Sacramenti, non resumat, sed procedat ulterius.

VI—DE DEFECTIBUS MINISTRI

22 Defectus ex parte ministri possunt contingere quoad ea quæ in ipso requiruntur. Hæc autem sunt: in primis intentio, deinde dispositio animæ, dispositio corporalis, dispositio vestimentorum, dispositio in ministerio ipso quoad ea quæ in ipso possunt occurrere.

VII—DE DEFECTU INTENTIONIS

23 Si quis non intendit conficere, sed delusorie aliquid agere: item si aliquæ hostiæ ex oblivione remaneant in altari, vel aliqua pars vini, vel aliqua hostia lateat, cum non intendat consecrare nisi quæ super corporale sunt: item si quis habeat coram se undecim hostias, et intendat consecrare solum decem, non determinans quas decem intendit: in his casibus non consecrat, quia requiritur intentio. Secus, si putans quidem esse decem, tamen omnes voluit consecrare quas coram se habebat: nam tunc omnes erunt consecratæ: atque ideo quilibet sacerdos talem semper intentionem habere deberet, scilicet consecrandi eas omnes quas ante se super corporale ad consecrandum positas habet.

25 Si vero relictæ sit hostia integra consecrata, eam in tabernaculo cum aliis reponat: si hoc fieri nequit, eam sumat.

26 Si intentio non sit actualis in ipsa Consecratione propter evagationem mentis, sed virtualis, cum accedens ad altare intendat facere quod facit Ecclesia, conficitur Sacramentum, etsi curare debet sacerdos, ut etiam actualem intentionem adhibeat.

De defectibus in celebratione Missæ occurrentibus

VIII—DE DEFECTIBUS DISPOSITIONIS ANIMÆ

27 Si quis in peccato mortali aut aliqua pœna ecclesiastica impeditus, celebret, conficit quidem Sacramentum, sed gravissime peccat.

IX—DE DEFECTIBUS DISPOSITIONIS CORPORIS

28 Si sacerdos ante Communionem non sit ieiunus per unam saltem horam, non potest celebrare. Aquæ tamen sumptione ieiunium non frangitur.

29 Infirmi, quamvis non decumbant, potum non alcoholicum, et veras ac proprias medicinas, sive liquidas sive solidas, ante Missæ celebrationem sine temporis limite sumere possunt.

30 Enixe invitantur sacerdotes, qui id præstare valeant, ut venerandam ac vetustam eucharistici ieiunii formam ante Missam servant.

X—DE DEFECTIBUS IN MINISTERIO IPSO OCCURRENTIBUS

31 Possunt etiam defectus occurrere in ministerio ipso, si aliquid ex requisitis ad illud desit: ut si celebretur in loco non sacro, vel legitime non deputato, vel in altari non consecrato, vel tribus mappis non cooperto; si non adsint luminaria cerea; si non sit tempus debitum celebrandi, quod est ab una hora ante auroram usque ad unam horam post meridiem communiter, nisi pro quibusdam Missis aliud tempus statutum vel permissum sit; si omittat aliquid ex vestibus sacerdotalibus; si vestes sacerdotalis et mappæ non sint benedictæ; si non adsit clericus, vel alius deserviens in Missa; si non adsit calix, cuius cuppa debet esse aurea vel argentea, intus inaurata; si patena non sit inaurata: utrumque autem ab Episcopo consecratum; si corporale non sit mundum, quod debet esse ex lino, nec serico vel auro in medio ornatum, et simul cum palla benedictum; si celebret capite cooperto sine dispensatione: si non adsit missale, licet memoriter sciret Missam, quam intendit dicere.

32 Si, sacerdote celebrante, violetur ecclesia ante Canonem, dimittatur Missa: si post Canonem, non dimittatur. Si timeatur incursus hostium, vel alluvionis, vel ruina loci ubi celebratur, ante Consecrationem dimittatur Missa; post Consecrationem vero sacerdos accelerare poterit sumptionem Sacramenti, omissis omnibus aliis.

33 Si sacerdos ante Consecrationem graviter infirmetur, vel in syncopen inciderit aut moriatur, prætermittitur Missa. Si post Consecrationem Corporis tantum, ante Consecrationem Sanguinis, vel utroque consecrato id accidit, Missa per alium sacerdotem expleatur ab eo loco ubi ille desiit, et in casu necessitatis etiam per non ieiunum. Si autem non obierit, sed fuerit infirmus, adeo tamen ut possit communicare, et non adsit alia hostia consecrata, sacerdos, qui Missam supplet, dividat hostiam, et unam partem præbeat infirmo, aliam ipse sumat. Si autem semiprolata forma Corporis obiit sacerdos, quia non est facta Consecratio, non est necesse ut Missa per alium suppleatur. Si vero obierit semiprolata forma Sanguinis, tunc alter prosequatur Missam, et super eundem calicem repetat integram formam ab eo loco: Simili modo, postquam cenatum est; vel posset super alium calicem præparatum integram formam proferre, et hostiam primi sacerdotis, et Sanguinem a se consecratum sumere, ac deinde calicem relictum semiconsecratum.

35 Si musca, vel aranea, vel aliquid aliud ceciderit in calicem ante Consecrationem, proiciat vinum in locum decentem, et aliud ponat in calice, misceat parum aquæ, offerat, ut supra, et prosequatur Missam: si post Consecrationem ceciderit musca aut aliquid eiusmodi, extrahat eam, et lavet cum vino, finita Missa comburat, et combustio ac lotio huiusmodi in sacrarium proiciatur.

36 Si aliquid venenosum ceciderit in calicem, vel quod provocaret vomitum, vinum consecratum reponendum est in alio calice aqua pleno, ita ut species vini dissolvantur; et huiusmodi aqua in sacrarium proiciatur. Aliud autem vinum cum aqua apponendum est, denuo consecrandum.

37 Si aliquid venenatum contigerit hostiam consecratam, tunc alteram consecret, et sumat eo modo quo dictum est, et illa mittatur in calicem aqua plenum, ut supra n. 36 de Sanguine dictum est.

38 Si sumendo Sanguinem, particula remanserit in calice, digito ad labium calicis eam adducat, et sumat ante purificationem, vel infundat aquam et sumat.

39 Si hostia ante Consecrationem inveniatur fracta, nisi populo evidenter appareat, talis hostia consecretur: si autem scandalum populo esse possit, alia accipiat et offeratur: quod si illius hostiæ iam erat facta oblatio, eam post ablutionem sumat. Quod si ante oblationem hostia appareat confracta, accipiat altera integra, si citra scandalum aut longam moram fieri poterit.

40 Si hostia consecrata dilabatur in calicem, propterea nihil est reiterandum; sed sacerdos

De defectibus in celebratione Missæ occurrentibus

Missam prosequatur, faciendo cæremonias et signa consueta cum residua parte hostiæ quæ non est madefacta Sanguine, si commode potest. Si vero tota fuerit madefacta, non extrahat eam, sed omnia dicat, omittendo signa, et sumat pariter Corpus et Sanguinem, signans se cum calice, et dicens: Corpus et Sanguis Dómini nostri, etc.

41 Si in hieme Sanguis congeletur in calice, involvatur calix pannis calefactis: si id non proficeret, ponatur in ferventi aqua prope altare, dummodo in calicem non intret, donec liquefiat.

42 Si aliquid de Sanguine Christi ceciderit, si aliqua tantum gutta effusa est, sufficit ut super eas parum aquæ fundatur, purificatorio postea abstergenda; secus vero corporale vel tobalea vel locus, meliore quo fieri potest modo, lavetur, et aqua postea in sacrarium mittatur.

43 At si contingat totum Sanguinem post Consecrationem effundi, si quidem aliquid vel parum remansit, illud sumatur, et de effuso reliquo Sanguine, fiat, ut dictum est. Si vero nihil omnino remansit, ponat iterum vinum et aquam, et consecret ab eo loco: Síмили modo, postquam cenátum est, etc., facta prius calicis oblatione, ut supra.

44 Si quis evomat Eucharistiam, vomitus colligatur et in aliquem decentem locum mittatur.

45 Si hostia consecrata, vel aliqua eius particula dilabatur in terram, reverenter accipiatur, et parum aquæ in locum ubi cecidit fundatur et purificatorio abstergatur. Si cadat super vestes, non est necesse ut indumentum abluatur. Si super vestes mulieris cadat, ipsa particulam accipiat et sumat.

46 Possunt etiam defectus in ministerio ipso occurrere, si sacerdos ignoret ritus et cæremonias ipsas in eo servandas, de quibus omnibus in superioribus rubricis copiose dictum est.

“The editors of the Brébeuf Hymnal have done a great service to the profession [in this] extensively researched volume worthy of careful study by liturgical musicians. [...] This detailed exploration of classic Latin hymnody and its English translations is not only a labor of love, but an original contribution to research, and I hope that the results of this research project are shared more widely for the use of musicologists and liturgical historians.”

PROPER OF THE SEASON

SEASON OF ADVENT

FIRST SUNDAY OF ADVENT

Entrance Antiphon

Ps. 24, 1-3

To you I lift up my soul; in you, O my God, I trust; let me not be put to shame; let not my enemies exult over me. No one who waits for you shall be put to shame. Ps. ibid. 4 Your ways, O Lord, make known to me; teach me your paths. ℟. Glory be to the Father and to the Son, and to the Holy Spirit. As it was in the beginning, is now, and ever shall be, world without end. Amen. To you I lift up my soul: in you, O my God, I trust; let me not be put to shame; let not my enemies exult over me. No one who waits for you shall be put to shame.

This way of repeating the Entrance Antiphon is followed throughout the year.

The Gloria is not said in Masses of the Time from this Sunday until the vigil of Christmas, inclusively.

Prayer

O Lord, stir up your might and come!* Be our protector and liberator; rescue us from the dangers that threaten us because of our sins, and lead us to our salvation: You who live and reign.

A Reading from the Epistle of blessed
Paul the Apostle to the Romans
Rom. 13, 11-14

Brethren: It is now the hour for you to wake up from sleep, because our salvation is closer than when we first accepted the faith. The night is far gone; the day is

✠ A Reading from the holy Gospel
according to Luke
Luke 21, 25-33

At that time Jesus said to his disciples: "There will be signs in the sun, the moon, and the stars. On the earth nations will be in anguish, distraught at the roaring of the sea and the waves. Men will die of fright in anticipation of what is coming over the earth; for the hosts of heaven will be shaken loose. And then men will see the Son of Man coming on a cloud with great power and glory. When these things begin to happen stand up straight and raise your heads, for your redemption is near at hand."

Then he told them a parable: "Notice the fig-tree and trees in general. When they are budding, you see them and know for yourselves that summer is near. Likewise, when you see these things happening, you know the kingdom of God is near. Let me tell you this: the present generation will not pass away until all these things happen. Heaven

Creed. The Creed is said every Sunday, even if the Office of the Sunday yields to a feast or a votive Mass of class II is celebrated. It is not said on weekdays when the Mass of the preceding Sunday is used.

Offertory Antiphon

To you I lift up my soul; in you, O my God, I trust; let me not be put to shame; let not my enemies exult over me. No one who waits for you shall be put to shame.

Prayer over the Gifts

O Lord, may these sacred rites we perform cleanse and purify us,* so that they may bring us closer to you their author. Through Jesus Christ.

Preface of the Trinity. This Preface is said as the seasonal Preface on the Sundays of Advent and on all Sundays of class II, outside the Christmas and Easter seasons. It is not said on weekdays when the Mass of these Sundays is used, but instead the Common Preface is used.

Communion Antiphon

Ps. 84, 13

The Lord will give his benefits: and our land shall yield its increase.

Prayer after Communion

O Lord, be merciful toward us assembled before your altar,* so that we may prepare ourselves for a worthy celebration of the coming feast of our redemption. Through Jesus Christ.

Throughout the year, if the Mass of the weekday is to be celebrated during the week, the Mass of the preceding Sunday is used, unless a proper Mass is assigned. Similarly, the prayers are taken from the Sunday whenever, in accordance with the rubrics, a commemoration is to be made of a weekday which does not have a proper Mass.

A commemoration of the weekdays of Advent is made in all Masses, both sung Masses and low Masses.

SECOND SUNDAY OF ADVENT

Entrance Antiphon

Isaia 30, 30

People of Sion, behold the Lord shall come to save the nations; and the Lord shall make the glory of his voice to be heard, in the joy of your heart. Ps. 79, 2 O shepherd of Israel, hearken, O guide of the flock of Joseph! Ψ. Glory be to the Father. People.

Prayer

O Lord, stir up our hearts to prepare the way of your only-begotten Son,* so that, through his coming on earth, we may serve you always with a pure intention: You who live and reign.

A Reading from the Epistle of blessed
Paul the Apostle to the Romans
Rom. 15, 4-13

Brethren: Everything that was written in times past was written for our instruction, that through the patience and encouragement afforded by the Scriptures we might have hope. May the God of patience and encouragement enable you to live in harmony with one another according to the example of Christ Jesus, so that with one heart and voice you may glorify God, the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ. So accept one another as Christ accepted you, for the glory of God. I say that Christ exercised his ministry to the circumcised to show God's fidelity in fulfilling his promises to the fathers, whereas the Gentiles glorify God for his mercy, as it is written: "Therefore will I proclaim you among the nations, and I will sing praise to your name." And again it says: "Exult, you nations, with his people"; and again: "Praise the Lord, all you nations; glorify him, all you peoples!" And again Isaia says: "The root of Jesse will appear, the one who will rise up to rule

✠ A Reading from the holy Gospel
according to Matthew
Matth. 11, 2–10

At that time, John in prison heard about Christ’s achievements and sent a message through his disciples to ask him, “Are you ‘He-who-is-to-come,’ or are we to expect someone else?” In reply, Jesus said to them, “Go back and report to John what you hear and see: the blind recovering their sight, cripples walking, lepers being cleansed, the deaf hearing, dead men being raised to life, the poor hearing the good news. And happy the man who does not falter because of me.” As the messengers were setting off, Jesus began to speak to the crowds about John, “What did you go out to see in the desert—a reed swayed by the wind? Really, what did you go out to see—someone luxuriously clad? Remember, those who dress luxuriously are to be found in royal palaces. Then why did you go out—to see a prophet? Of course it was!—in fact something more than a prophet. It is about this man that Scripture says, ‘Look, I am sending my messenger ahead of you, who will prepare your way before you.’”

Now the envoys, who were of the Pharisees' party, questioned him further, "If you are not the Messiah, nor Elia, nor the Prophet, why then are you baptizing?" John answered them, "I am only baptizing with water, but there is one among you whom you do not recognize, the one who is to come after me, and whose sandal straps I am not even worthy to unfasten." It was in Bethany that this happened, across the Jordan where John used to baptize.

They shall beat their swords into plowshares and their spears into pruning hooks;
One nation shall not raise the sword against another,
nor shall they train for war again.
O house of Jacob, come,
let us walk in the light of the Lord, our God.

Gradual Ps. 23, 7, 3 and 4 Lift up, O gates, your lintels; reach up, you ancient portals, that the king of glory may come in! ℣. Who can ascend the mountain of the Lord? or who may stand in his holy place? He whose hands are sinless, whose heart is clean.

After the first reading and gradual, The Lord be with you is said, without Let us kneel.

Prayer

Make haste to come, O Lord, we beg you!*
Grant us your heavenly aid, so that those who trust in your goodness may be consoled
by your coming: You who live and reign.

Other prayers which may occur are added.

A Reading from the Prophet Isaia Isai. 7, 10-15

In those days the Lord spoke to Achaz: "Ask for a sign from the Lord, your God; let it be deep as the nether world, or high as the sky!" But Achaz answered, "I will not ask! I will not tempt the Lord!" Then he said: "Listen, O house of David! Is it not enough for you to weary men, must you also weary my God? Therefore the Lord himself will give you this sign: the virgin shall be with child, and bear a son, and shall name him Emmanuel. He shall be living on curds and honey by the time he learns to reject the bad and choose the good."

Luc. 1, 26–38

At that time the angel Gabriel was sent from God to a town of Galilee named Nazareth, to a virgin engaged to a man named Joseph, of the house of David; and the virgin's name was Mary. The angel arrived and said to her: "Hail, full of grace; the Lord is with you. Blessed are you among women." But she was troubled by this message, and wondered what this salutation meant.

Then the angel said to her: "Do not be afraid, Mary, for you have found favor with God. And now, you shall conceive and bear a son, and you shall name him Jesus. He shall be great, and shall be called Son of the Most High; the Lord God will give him the throne of David, his father, and he will reign over the house of Jacob forever, and his reign will have no end."

But Mary said to the angel: "How can this be, because I do not know man?"

The angel answered her: "The Holy Spirit will come upon you, and the power of the Most High will overshadow you; as a result, the Holy One to be born will be called Son of God. And Elizabeth your kinswoman has also conceived a son in her old age and she who was regarded as barren is now in her sixth month, for nothing is impossible with God."

Mary said: "Behold the handmaid of the Lord; be it done to me according to your word."

In illo témpore: Missus est Angelus Gábriel a Deo in civitátem Galilææ, cui nomen Náza-reth, ad Vírginem desponsátam viro, cui nomen erat Ioseph, de domo David, et nomen Vírginis María. Et ingressus Angelus ad eam, dixit: Ave grátia plena: Dóminus tecum: benedícta tu in muliéribus. Quæ cum audísset, turbáta est in sermóne eius: et cogitábat, qualis esset ista salutátio. Et ait Angelus ei: Ne tímeas, María, invenísti enim grátiam apud Deum: ecce concípies in útero, et páries filium, et vocábis nomen eius Iesum. Híc erit magnus, et Fílius Altíssimi vocábitur, et dabit illi Dóminus Deus sedem David patris eius: et regnábit in domo Iacob in ætérnum, et regni eius non erit finis. Dixit autem María ad Angelum: Quómodo fiet istud, quóniam virum non cognó-sco? Et respóndens Angelus, dixit ei: Spíritus Sanctus supervéniet in te, et virtus Altíssimi obumbrábit tibi. Ideóque et quod nascétur ex te Sanctum, vocábitur Fílius Dei. Et ecce Elísabeth cognáta tua, et ipsa concépit filium in senectúte sua: et hic mensis sextus est illi, quæ vocátur stérilis: quia non erit impossíbile apud Deum omne verbum. Dixit autem María: Ecce ancílla Dómini, fiat mihi secúndum verbum tuum.

The spirit of the Lord shall rest upon him:
a spirit of wisdom and of understanding,
A spirit of counsel and of strength, a spirit of knowledge and of fear of the Lord,
and his delight shall be the fear of the Lord.

Not by appearance shall he judge,
nor by hearsay shall he decide,
But he shall judge the poor with justice,
and decide aright for the land's afflicted.
He shall strike the ruthless with the rod of his mouth, and with the breath of his lips he shall

Justice shall be the band around his waist,

At that time Mary set out and went with haste into the hill-country, to a town of Juda. She entered Zachary's house and greeted Elizabeth. And, when Elizabeth heard Mary's greeting, the infant stirred in her womb; and Elizabeth was filled with the Holy Spirit, and cried out in a loud voice: "Blessed are you among women, and blessed is the fruit of your womb. And who am I, that the mother of my Lord should come to me? For the moment that your salutation sounded in my ears the infant stirred in my womb with joy. Happy is she who has believed that the Lord's words to her will be fulfilled."

A Reading
from the Prophet Isaiá
Isai. 35, 1-7

Thus says the Lord:
The desert and the parched land will exult;
the steppe will rejoice and bloom.
They will bloom with abundant flowers,
and rejoice with joyful song.
The glory of Lebanon will be given to them,
the splendor of Carmel and Saron;
They will see the glory of the Lord,
the splendor of our God.
Strengthen the hands that are feeble,
make firm the knees that are weak,
Say to those whose hearts are frightened:
Be strong, fear not!
Here is your God,
he comes with vindication;
With divine recompense
he comes to save you.
Then will the eyes of the blind be opened,
the ears of the deaf be cleared;
Then will the lame leap like a stag,
then the tongue of the dumb will sing.
Streams will burst forth in the desert,
and rivers in the steppe.
The burning sands will become pools,
and the thirsty ground, springs of water;
says the Lord Almighty.

Gradual Ps. 18, 6 and 7 He has pitched his tent in the sun, and he comes forth like the groom from his bridal chamber. ℣. At one end of the heavens he comes forth, and his course is to their other end.

After the second reading and gradual: Let us pray. Let us kneel. Let us stand.

Prayer

O Lord, fill us with happiness by the coming of your only-begotten Son, for we, your unworthy servants, are saddened by the guilt of our sins: Who lives and reigns.

The Brébeuf Hymnal is “...hands down, the best Catholic hymnal ever published. [...] It is such a fantastic hymnal that it deserves to be in the pews of every Catholic church.”

— New Liturgical Movement website (10 June 2019)

“The Saint Jean de Brébeuf Hymnal will undoubtedly enrich liturgical life at the parish level by making accessible these ancient, noble, and theologically-rich Catholic hymns, translated into English in quite a beautiful way.”

— Rev'd Father John Berg (Superior General Emeritus, FSSP)

“I wish all churches would have the Saint Jean de Brébeuf Hymnal. Its hymns are so rich in Catholic Theology, and the melodies are so exquisitely beautiful... Even the words of hymns—carefully translated from Latin—capture the essence and flow of the original Latin with touching poetic beauty. There are so many hymns in this hymnal that have helped me to grow in my faith and in my understanding and awe of the Mass, of the Sacraments, and our Holy Catholic Church.”

— Corrinne May (Singaporean ‘Platinum’ Singer-Songwriter)

“The editors of the Brébeuf Hymnal have done a great service to the profession [in this] extensively researched volume worthy of careful study by liturgical musicians. [...] This detailed exploration of classic Latin hymnody and its English translations is not only a labor of love, but an original contribution to research, and I hope that the results of this research project are shared more widely for the use of musicologists and liturgical historians.”

name.

For the sake of Jacob, my servant,
of Israel my chosen one,
I have called you by your name, giving you a title, though you knew me

me.

I am the Lord, there is no other;
I form the light, and create the darkness,
I make well-being and create woe;
I, the Lord, do all these things.
Let justice descend, O heavens, like dew from above,
like gentle rain let the skies drop it down.
Let the earth open and salvation bud forth;
let justice also spring up!
I, the Lord, have created this.

A Reading
from the Prophet Daniel
Dan. 3, 47-51

In those days the angel of the Lord went down into the furnace with Azaria and his companions, drove the fiery flames out of the furnace, and made the inside of the furnace as though a dew-laden breeze were blowing through it. The flames rose forty-nine cubits above the furnace, and spread out, burning the Chaldeans nearby, the king's men who stoked it. The fire in no way touched the young men or caused them pain or harm. Then these three in the furnace with one voice sang, glorifying and blessing God:

Thanks be to God is not said.

Hymn
Dan. ibid., 52-56

“Blessed are you, O Lord, the God of our fathers,
praiseworthy and glorious forever;
And blessed is your holy and glorious name,
praiseworthy and glorious forever.
Blessed are you in the holy temple of your glory,
praiseworthy and glorious forever.
Blessed are you on the holy throne of your kingdom,
praiseworthy and glorious forever.
Blessed are you for your sceptre of divinity,
praiseworthy and glorious forever.
Blessed are you who look into the depths from your throne upon the cherubim,
praiseworthy and glorious forever.
Blessed are you who walk on the wings of

Let all your angels and saints bless you and praise you and glorify you forever.

Lectio Daniélis Prophétæ
Dan. 3, 47-51

In diébus illis: Angelus Dómini descendit cum Azaría, et sóciis eius, in fornácem: et excússit flammam ignis de fornáce, et fecit médium fornácis quasi ventum roris flantem. Flamma autem effundebátur super fornácem cúbitis quadraginta novem: et erúpit, et incéndit quos réperit iuxta fornácem de Chaldæis ministros regis, qui eam incendébant. Et non téigit eos omníno ignis, neque contristávit, nec quidquam moléstiae íntulit. Tunc hi tres quasi ex uno ore laudábant, et glorificábant, et benedicébant Deum in fornáce, dicéntes:

Hic non respondetur Deo grátias.

Dan. ibid., 52-56

Benedíctus es, Dómine Deus patrum nostrórum. Et laudábilis, et gloriósus in sǎcula.
Et benedíctum nomen glóriæ tuæ, quod est sanctum. Et laudábile, et gloriósum in sǎcula.
Benedíctus es in templo sancto glóriæ tuæ. Et laudábilis, et gloriósus in sǎcula.
Benedíctus es super thronum sanctum regni tui. Et laudábilis, et gloriósus in sǎcula.
Benedíctus es super sceptrum divinitátis tuæ. Et laudábilis, et gloriósus in sǎcula.
Benedíctus es qui sedes super Chérubim, íntuens abyssos. Et laudábilis, et gloriósus in sǎcula.
Benedíctus es qui ámbulas super pennas ventórum, et super undas maris. Et laudábilis, et gloriósus in sǎcula.
Benedícant te omnes Angeli, et Sancti tui. Et laudent te, et glorificent in sǎcula.
Benedícant te cæli, terra, mare, et ómnia quæ in eis sunt. Et laudent te, et glorificent in sǎcula.
Glória Patri, et Filio, et Spíritui Sancto. Et laudábili, et glorióso in sǎcula.

Ember Saturday of Advent

Sicut erat in principio, et nunc, et semper: et in sæcula sæculórum. Amen. Et laudábili, et glorióso in sæcula.

Benedíctus es, Dómine Deus patrum nostrórum. Et laudábilis et gloriósus in sæcula.

Hic dicitur Ǟ. Dóminus vobiscum, sine Flectámus génuá.

Léctio Epístolæ beáti Pauli
Apóstoli ad Thessalonicenses
2 Thess. 2, 1-8

Fratres: Rogámus vos per advéntum Dómini nostri Iesu Christi, et nostræ congregatiónis in ipsum: ut non cito moveámini a vestro sensu, neque terreámini, neque per spíritum, neque per sermónem, neque per epístolam tamquam per nos missam, quasi instet dies Dómini. world without end. Amen,
praiseworthy and glorious forever!

Blessed are you O Lord, the God of our fathers,
praiseworthy and glorious forever.”

After the fifth reading and hymn, The Lord be with you is said, without Let us kneel.

Prayer

O God, who protected the three young men from the flames of fire,* grant that the flames of sin may not consume us, your servants. Through Jesus Christ.

A Reading from the Epistle of blessed
Paul the Apostle to the Thessalonians
2 Thess. 2, 1-8

Brethren: On the question of the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ and our being gathered to him, we beg you not to be so easily agitated and frightened, whether by a spirit or a word or a letter alleged to be ours, as though the day of the Lord were here and now.

Let no one seduce you in any way whatever. For if the apostasy has not yet occurred and the man of sin not yet been revealed, the son of perdition, the enemy who exalts himself above every god (so-called), everything that is worshipped, to the extent of seating himself in the temple of God, masquerading as God indeed—do you not remember how, when I was still with you, I used to tell you about these things? And you know what now holds him back, till he be revealed in his own time. For the mystery of lawlessness is already at work; only there is one now holding him back, till he is removed from the scene.

And then the lawless one will be revealed, whom the Lord Jesus will destroy with the breath of his mouth and annihilate by the manifestation of his coming.

Luke 3, 1-6

In the fifteenth year of the reign of Tiberius Caesar, when Pontius Pilate was governor of Judea, Herod tetrarch of Galilee, Philip, his brother, tetrarch of the land of Iturea and Trachonitis, and Lysanias tetrarch of Abilene, during the high-priesthood of Annas and Caiaphas, the word of God was spoken to John, the son of Zachary, in the desert. And he went into the whole region of the Jordan preaching a baptism of repentance leading to remission of sins; as it is written in the book of the works of Isaia the prophet:

“A herald’s voice in the desert, ‘Make ready the way of the Lord,
make his paths straight.
Every valley shall be filled and every mountain and hill shall be levelled;
The windings shall be made straight
And the rough ways smooth,
And all mankind shall see the salvation of God.’ ”

Prayer

O Lord, stir up your might and come.* Aid us with your powerful assistance so that, through your grace and merciful forgiveness, we may attain salvation, which now is hindered by our sins: You who live and reign.

A Reading from the Epistle of blessed
Paul the Apostle to the Corinthians
1 Cor. 4, 1-5

Brethren: This is how men should regard us: as servants of Christ and stewards of the mysteries of God. The first requirement of a steward is that he prove trustworthy. With me it matters very little that you or any "Day of Man" pass judgment on me. I do not even pass judgment on myself. I have nothing on my conscience; but that does not mean that I have been acquitted. It is the Lord who passes judgment on me. Therefore stop making judgments before the time when the Lord comes. He will bring to light what is hidden in darkness and will manifest the intentions of men's hearts. Then everyone will receive his praise from God.

Gradual Ps. 144, 18 and 21 The Lord is near to all who call upon him, to all who call upon him in truth. ℣. May my mouth speak the praise of the Lord, and may all flesh bless his holy name.

Fourth Sunday of Advent

On ferial days of Advent, when the Mass of the Sunday is used during the week, neither the Alleluia nor the following verse is said, but only the gradual.

In feriis Adventus, quando per hebdomadam adhibetur Missa de dominica, non dicitur Alleluia, nec versus sequens, sed tantum graduale.

Dec. 24. Vigil of Christmas

A Reading from the Epistle of blessed
Paul the Apostle to the Romans
Rom. 1, 1-6

Brethren: Paul, a servant of Christ Jesus, called to be an apostle and set apart to proclaim the gospel of God which he promised through his prophets in times past, as it is written in the holy Scriptures, the gospel about his Son, who was descended from David according to the flesh, but was made Son of God in power according to the spirit of holiness by his resurrection from the dead, Jesus Christ our Lord. Through him we have received the favor of apostleship, in order to spread his name and bring to obedient faith all the Gentiles, among whom are you, who have been called to belong to Jesus Christ our Lord.

Gradual Exodus 16, 6 and 7 This day you shall know that the Lord will come and save us: and in the morning you shall see his glory. Ps. 79, 2-3 O shepherd of Israel, hearken, O guide of the flock of Joseph! From your throne upon the cherubim, shine forth before Ephraim, Benjamin and Manasse.

Tit. 2, 11-15

Léctio Epístolæ beáti Pauli Apóstoli ad Titum
Tit. 2, 11-15

Beloved: God's favor has appeared, bringing salvation to all men. It trains us, once we have rejected godlessness and worldly lusts, to live a life of self-control, holiness, and piety in the present age while waiting for the blessed object of our hope, the glorious appearance of our great God and Savior Christ Jesus. He gave himself up for us to redeem us from all iniquity and to cleanse for himself a people of his very own, enthusiastic for noble deeds. Speak with insistence about these things, in Christ Jesus our Lord.

Caríssime: Appáruit grátia Dei Salvatóris nostri ómnibus homínibus, erúdiens nos, ut abnegántes impietátem, et sæculária desidéria, sóbriem, et iuste, et pie vivámus in hoc sæculo, exspectántes beátam spem, et adventum glóriæ magni Dei et Salvatóris nostri Iesu Christi: qui dedit semetípsum pro nobis: ut nos redímeret ab omni iniquitáte, et mundáret sibi pópulum acceptábilem, sectatórem bonórum óperum. Hæc lóquere, et exhortáre: in Christo Iesu Dómino nostro.

Graduale Ps. 109, 3 et 1 Tecum princípium in die virtútis tuæ: in splendóribus sanctórum, ex útero ante lucíferum génui te. ℣. Dixit Dóminus Dómino meo: Sede a dextris meis: donec ponam inimícos tuos, scabéllum pedum tuórum.

✠ A Reading from the holy Gospel
according to Luke
Luke 2, 1-14

At that time Caesar Augustus published a decree ordering a census of the whole world. This first census took place while Cyrenus was governor of Syria. And all went to register, each to his own town.

Joseph also went from the town of Nazareth in Galilee to Judea to the town of David, which is called Bethlehem—because he was of the house and family of David—to register with Mary, his engaged wife, who was with child. But while they were there the time came for the child to be born, and she gave birth to her firstborn son, and wrapped him in swaddling clothes, and laid him in a crib because there was no place for them in the inn.

And there were shepherds in the locality living in the fields and keeping night watch by turns over their flock. And the angel of the Lord appeared to them and the glory of the Lord shone around them, and they were very much afraid. And the angel said to them: "Do not be afraid! I proclaim good news to you of a great joy which will be shared by the whole people: today, in the city of David, a Savior has been born to you, who is Messiah and Lord. And this will be a sign for you: you will find an infant wrapped in swaddling clothes and laid in a crib." And suddenly a multitude of the

Luke 2, 15–20

At that time the shepherds said one to another, "Let us go across to Bethlehem and see this thing which has taken place, which the Lord has made known to us." And they came in haste and found Mary and Joseph, and the infant lying in the crib. And when they had seen they made known what had been told them concerning this child. And all who heard were amazed at what was told them by the shepherds. But Mary treasured all these things, turning them over in her heart.

And the shepherds returned, glorifying and praising God for all that they had heard and seen, just as they had been told.

A Reading from the Epistle of blessed
Paul the Apostle to the Hebrews
Heb. 1, 1-12

Léctio Epístolæ beáti Pauli
Apóstoli ad Hebræos
Heb. 1, 1-12

Long ago God spoke in incomplete and varied ways to our fathers through the prophets; in these, the last days, he has spoken to us through his Son, whom he has made heir of all things, and through whom he created the ages. He is the refulgence of the Father's glory, and the very representation of his being, and he sustains all things by his powerful word. He effected purification from sins and took his seat at the right hand of the Majesty on high, so far superior to the angels as he has inherited a more excellent name than they. For to which of the angels did God ever say: "You are my son; this day I have begotten you"? And again, "I will be his father, and he will be my son"? And again, of the time when he leads his firstborn into the world, it says: "Let all the angels of God prostrate themselves before him." And concerning the angels it says: "He makes his angels winds, and his ministers flaming fire." But concerning the Son: "Your throne, O God, stands forever and ever, and the sceptre of equity is the sceptre of your kingdom. You loved justice and hated wickedness, therefore God, your God, anointed you with the oil of gladness above your fellow kings." And, "Lord, of old you established the earth, and the heavens are the work of your hands. They will perish but you remain, and all of them will grow old, like a garment; you will roll them up like a cloak and like clothing they will be changed, but you are the same and your years will have no end."

Multifáriam, multisque modis olim Deus loquens pátribus in prophétis: novíssime diébus istis locúsus est nobis in Fílio, quem constituit herédem universórum, per quem fecit et sácula: qui cum sit splendor glóriæ, et figúra substántiæ eius, portánsque ómnia verbo virtútis suæ, purgatióem peccatórum fáciens, sedet ad déxeram maiestátis in excélsis: tanto mélior Angelis efféctus, quanto différentius præ illis nomen hereditávit. Cui enim dixit aliquándo Angelórum: Fílius meus es tu, ego hódie génuí te? Et rursum: Ego ero illi in patrem, et ipse erit mihi in filium? Et cum íterum introdúcit primogénitum in orbem terræ, dicit: Et adórent eum omnes Angeli Dei. Et ad Angelos quidem dicit: Qui facit Angelos suos spíritus, et minístros suos flammam ignis. Ad Fílium autem: Thronus tuus, Deus, in sáculum sáculi: virga æquitátis, virga regni tui. Dilexisti iustítiam, et odísti iniquitátem: proptérea unxit te Deus, Deus tuus, óleo exsultatiónis præ participibus tuis. Et: Tu in principio, Dómine, terram fundásti: et ópera mánuum tuárum sunt cæli. Ipsi peribunt, tu autem permanébis, et omnes ut vestiméntum veteráscent: et velut amíctum mutábis eos, et mutabúntur: tu autem idem ipse es, et anni tui non deficiunt.

In princípío erat Verbum, et Verbum erat apud Deum, et Deus erat Verbum. Hoc erat in princípío apud Deum. Omnia per ipsum facta sunt: et sine ipso factum est nihil, quod factum est: in ipso vita erat, et vita erat lux hóminum: et lux in ténebris lucet, et ténebræ eam non comprehendérunt. Fuit homo missus a Deo, cui nomen erat Ioánnes. Hic venit in testimónium, ut testimónium perhibéret de lúmine, ut omnes créderent per illum. Non erat ille lux, sed ut testimónium perhibéret de lúmine. Erat lux vera, quæ illúminat omnem hóminem veniéntem in hunc mundum. In mundo erat, et mundus per ipsum factus est, et mundus eum non cognóvit. In própria venit, et sui eum non recepérunt. Quotquot autem recepérunt eum, dedit eis potestátem filios Dei fieri, his, qui credunt in nómine eius: qui non ex sanguínibus, neque ex voluntáte carnis, neque ex voluntáte viri, sed ex Deo nati sunt. Et Verbum caro factum est, et habitávit in nobis: et vídimus glóriam eius, glóriam quasi Unigéniti a Patre, plenum grátiae et veritátis.

Gradual Ps. 97, 3–4 and 2 All the ends of the earth have seen the salvation by our God. Sing joyfully to God, all you lands. ℣. The Lord has made his salvation known: in the sight of the nations he has revealed his justice.

He was present with God in the beginning.

Through him all things came into being,
and apart from him not a thing came to be.
That which came to be, found life in him,
and this life was the light of men.
The light shines on in the darkness,
for the darkness did not overcome it.

(Now there was sent by God a man named John who came as a witness to testify to the light, so that through him all men might believe—but only to testify to the light, for he himself was not the light.)

He was the real light that gives light to every man;
he was coming into the world.
He was in the world,
and the world was made by him;
yet the world did not recognize him.
To his own he came;
yet his own people did not accept him.
But all those who did accept him,
he empowered to become God's children—
those who believe in his name,
those who were begotten,
not by blood,

Paul the Apostle to the Galatians
Gal. 4, 1–7

Fratres: Quanto témpore heres párvulus est, nihil differt a servo, cum sit dóminus ómnium: sed sub tutóribus et actóribus est usque ad præfínitum tempus a patre: ita et nos cum essémus párvuli, sub eleméntis mundi erámus serviéntes. At ubi venit plenitúdo témporis, misit Deus Fílium suum, factum ex muliere, factum sub lege, ut eos, qui sub lege erant, redímeret, ut adoptiónem filiórum reciperémus. Quóniam autem estis fílii, misit Deus Spíritum Fílii sui in corda vestra, clamántem: Abba, Pater. Itaque iam non est servus, sed fílius: quod si filius, et heres per Deum.

Brethren: As long as a designated heir is not of age, his condition is no different from that of a slave, though he is titular master of all his possessions; for he is under the supervision of guardians and administrators until the time set by his father. In the same way we also, while still not yet of age, were like slaves subordinated to the elements of the world. But when the established time had come, God sent forth his Son, born of a woman and born under the Law—for the purpose of buying release from the Law for those who were subject to it, so that we might receive our status of adopted sons. What proves that you are sons is the fact that God has sent forth into our hearts the Spirit of his Son, which cries out “Abba!”

✠ A Reading from the holy Gospel
according to Luke
Luke 2, 33–40

At that time the father and mother of Jesus were marvelling at what was being said about him. Simeon blessed them and said to Mary his mother, “This child is destined for the fall and the rise of many in Israel and for a sign that will be contradicted—and your soul, too, will be pierced with a sword—so that the thoughts of many hearts will be revealed.”

Now there was a prophetess, Anna, daughter of Phanuel, of the tribe of Aser. She was quite old, having lived seven years with her husband after her marriage, and then as a widow until she was eighty four. She was constantly in the temple, worshipping day and night in fasting and prayer. Coming on the scene at this precise time, she gave thanks to God and talked about the child to all who were awaiting the redemption of Jerusalem. When they had fulfilled all the prescriptions of the Law of the Lord they returned to Galilee to their own town of Nazareth. The child grew in size and strength, filled with wisdom, and the favor of God was upon him.

Et erat Anna prophetissa, filia Phanuel, de tribu Aser: haec processerat in diebus multis, et vixerat cum viro suo annis septem a virginitate sua. Et haec vidua usque ad annos octoginta quatuor: quae non discedebat de templo, ieiuniis et obsecrationibus serviens nocte ac die. Et haec, ipsa hora superveniens, confitebatur Domino, et loquebatur de illo omnibus, qui exspectabant redemptionem Israel. A Reading from the Acts of the Apostles
Acts 6, 8-10; 7, 54-59

In those days, Stephen was a man filled with grace and power who worked great wonders and signs among the people. Certain members, however, of the so-called "Synagogue of Roman Freedmen" (that is, of the Jews from Cyrene, Alexandria, Cilicia, and Asia) would undertake to engage Stephen in debate; yet they were no match for the wisdom and the spirit with which he spoke. Those who listened to his words were cut to the heart; they ground their teeth in anger at him. But Stephen, filled with the Holy Spirit, looked to the sky above, and saw the glory of God and Jesus standing at God's right hand. "Look," he exclaimed, "I can see the sky opened and the Son of Man standing at God's right hand." But they yelled out, holding their hands over their ears; and as one man, they rushed at him. They dragged him out of the city and began to stone him. The witnesses piled their cloaks at the feet of a young man named Saul. As they stoned Stephen, he prayed aloud: "Lord Jesus, receive my spirit." Falling to his knees, he cried out in a loud voice, "Lord, do not hold this sin against them." And with that he died in the Lord.

Some of them you are going to kill and crucify, while others you will flog in your synagogues and hunt down from one city to another, until retribution catches up with you for all the holy blood shed upon the earth, from the blood of holy Abel to the blood of Zachary, Barachia's son, whom you murdered between the sanctuary and the altar. All of this, I assure you, will be the fate of the present generation. O Jerusalem, Jerusalem, murderess of the prophets! You stoned those sent to you! How many times I wanted to gather your children together, as a mother-bird collects her young under her wings. But you people refused. Then remember, 'You will find your Temple deserted.' For I tell you that you will not see me from now on, until you declare, 'Blessed be he who comes in the name of the Lord!'" over?”). Seeing him, Peter was prompted to ask Jesus, “But Lord, what about him?” “Suppose I should like him to remain until I come,” Jesus replied, “how does that concern you? Your concern is to follow me.” This is how the report went out among all the brothers that this disciple was not going to die. As a matter of fact, Jesus never told him that he was not going to die; all he said was: “Suppose I should like him to remain until I come?” It is this same disciple who is the witness for these things; it is he who wrote these things; and his testimony, we know, is true.

Matth. 2, 13-18

At that time the angel of the Lord suddenly appeared in a dream to Joseph with the command, "Get up, take the child and his mother, and flee to Egypt; and stay there till I tell you. Herod is going to try to destroy the child." He got up, took the child and his mother, and left that night for Egypt. And he stayed there until Herod's death, to fulfill what the Lord had said through the prophet, "Out of Egypt have I called my son." Then Herod, realizing that he had been outwitted by the magi, became furiously angry. He ordered the massacre of all the boys two years old and under in Bethlehem and its entire neighborhood, calculating by the date he had learned from the magi. Then, what was said through Jeremia the prophet was fulfilled, "A cry was heard at Rama, sobbing and loud lamentation: Rachel bewailing her children; she has refused to be comforted, because they are gone."

A Reading from the Epistle of blessed Paul the Apostle to the Hebrews
Hebr. 5, 1-6

Brethren: Every high priest is taken from among men and appointed to act on behalf of men in their relations with God, to offer gifts and sacrifices for sin. He is able to deal gently with misguided sinners because he himself is subject to weakness, and so he must offer sacrifice not only for the peoples' sins but also for his own. No one takes this dignity on his own initiative but only when called by God, as Aaron was. So even Christ did not glorify himself with the high priestly office; he received it from him who said to him, "You are my son; this day I have begotten you"; just as it says in another place, "You are a priest forever, according to the order of Melchisedec."

Your sons come from afar, and your daughters in the arms of their nurses.
Then you shall be radiant at what you see,
your heart shall throb and overflow,
For the riches of the sea shall be emptied out before you,
the wealth of nations shall be brought to you.
Caravans of camels shall fill you,
dromedaries from Madian and Epha;
All from Saba shall come

✠ A Reading from the holy Gospel according to Matthew
Matth. 2, 1-12

After Jesus' birth in Bethlehem of Judea during the reign of King Herod, magi from the east arrived one day in Jerusalem, inquiring, "Where is the one born to be king of the Jews? We observed his star at its rising, and have come to pay him homage." At this news, King Herod became greatly disturbed, and with him, all Jerusalem. Summoning all the chief priests and scribes of the people, he inquired of them where the Messiah was to be born. "In Bethlehem of Judea," they informed him. "Here is what the prophet has written: 'And you, Bethlehem, land of Juda, are by no means least among the princes of Juda, since from you will come a ruler who is to shepherd my people Israel.' " So Herod called the magi aside and found out from them the exact time of the star's appearance. Then he sent them to Bethlehem with the order, "Go and get detailed information about the child. When you have found out, bring me word that I may go and offer him homage too." After their audience with the king, they set out. And now the star, whose rising they had observed, went ahead of them until it came to a stop over the place where the child was. Seeing the star, they were overjoyed; and on entering the house, they found the child with Mary his mother. They prostrated themselves and did homage to him. Then opening their coffers, they presented him with gifts of gold, frankincense and myrrh. And then, as they had received a message in a dream not to return to Herod, they took another route back home.

Brethren: As God's chosen ones, holy and beloved, you must put on heartfelt mercy, kindness, humility, meekness, patience. Bear with one another and forgive whatever grievances you may have against each other; forgive just as the Lord has forgiven you. And over all these put on love, which binds them together and makes them perfect. Let the peace of Christ rule over your hearts; for, as members of the one body, you have been called to that peace. Be thankful. Let the word of Christ dwell in you with all its richness; instruct and admonish one another with perfect wisdom. With heartfelt gratitude sing to God psalms, hymns, and inspired songs. And whatever you do in word or in work, do everything in the name of the Lord Jesus, giving thanks to God the Father through him.

The Holy Family

Gradual Ps. 26, 4 One thing I ask of the Lord; this I seek: to dwell in the house of the Lord all the days of my life. Ps. 83, 5 Happy they who dwell in your house, O Lord! continually they praise you.

Alleluia, alleluia. Ps. Isai 45, 15 Truly you are a hidden God, the God of Israel, the savior. Alleluia.

After Septuagesima, in votive Masses the Alleluia with its following verse is omitted, and there is said:

Offertory Antiphon Luke 2, 22

The parents of Jesus took him up to Jerusalem, to present him to the Lord.

Prayer over the Gifts

O Lord, we offer you this sacrifice in atonement for our sins.* May the intercession of the virgin Mother of God and blessed Joseph, ever bestow your peace and grace upon our families. Through Jesus Christ.

No commemoration of the Sunday is made. Preface of Epiphany, by reason of the season.

Communion Antiphon Luke 2, 51

Jesus went down with them, and came to Nazareth and was subject to them.

Prayer after Communion

We are refreshed by your heavenly sacrament, O Lord Jesus.* Help us always to follow the example of your holy family, that your glorious virgin Mother and blessed Joseph may meet us at the hour of our death, and find us worthy to be welcomed by you into your eternal home: You who live and reign.

Léctio Epístolæ beáti Pauli Apóstoli ad Romános Rom. 12, 1-5

Brethren: I beg you, through God's mercy, offer your bodies as a living sacrifice that is holy and acceptable to God: your spiritual worship. Do not conform yourselves to this age, but transform yourselves by the renewal of your mind, that you may be able to discern what the will of God is—what is good, and acceptable to him, and perfect. Thus, in virtue of the favor given me, I warn each of you not to think more highly of himself than he should, but to have an opinion of himself that is modest and in keeping with the measure of faith that God has apportioned to each one. For just as each of us has one body made up of many members, and all the members do not have the same function, so too we, many as we are, are one body in Christ, and as individuals, members of one another in Christ Jesus our Lord.

Fratres: Obsecro vos per misericórdiam Dei, ut exhibeátis córpora vestra hóstiam vivéntem, sanctam, Deo placéntem, rationábile obséquium vestrum. Et nolíte conformári huic sæculo, sed reformámini in novitáte sensus vestri: ut probétis, quæ sit volúntas Dei bona, et benéplacens, et perfécta. Dico enim per grátiam, quæ data est mihi, ómnibus qui sunt inter vos: Non plus sápere, quam opórtet sápere, sed sápere ad sobrietátem: et unicuíque sicut Deus divisit mensúram fidei. Sicut enim in uno córpore multa membra habémus, ómnia autem membra non eúndem actum habent: ita multi unum corpus sumus in Christo, sínguli autem alter altérius membra: in Christo Iesu Dómino nostro.

A Reading from the Epistle of blessed Paul the Apostle to the Romans Rom. 12, 6–16

Brethren: We have gifts which differ according to the favor we received. One's gift may be prophecy; its use should be in proportion to his faith. It may be the gift of ministry; it should be used for ministering. One who is a teacher should use his gift for teaching; one with power of exhortation should exhort. He who gives alms should do so generously; one who rules should exercise his authority with care; he who performs works of mercy should do so with cheerfulness. Your love must be sincere. Detest what is evil, cling to what is good. Love one

✠ A Reading from the holy Gospel
according to John
John 2, 1–11

At that time there was a wedding at Cana in Galilee. The mother of Jesus was there, and Jesus himself and his disciples had also been invited to the celebration. When the wine ran short, Jesus' mother told him, "They have no wine." But Jesus answered her, "Woman, how does this concern of yours involve me? My hour has not yet come." His mother instructed the waiters, "Do whatever he tells you." As prescribed for Jewish ceremonial washings, there were at hand six stone water jars, each one holding fifteen to twenty-five gallons. "Fill the jars with water," Jesus ordered, and they filled them to the brim. "Now," he said to them, "draw some out and take it to the headwaiter." And they did so. But as soon as the headwaiter tasted the water made wine (now he had no idea where it came from; only the waiters knew since they had drawn the water), he called the bridegroom, and pointed out to him, "Everyone serves choice wine first; then, when the guests have been drinking a while, the inferior wine. But you have kept the choice wine till now." What Jesus did at Cana in Galilee marked the beginning of his signs; thus he revealed his glory, and his disciples believed in him.

Si fieri potest, quod ex vobis est, cum ómnibus homínibus pacem habéntes: Non vosmetípsos defendéntes, caríssimi, sed date locum iræ. Scriptum est enim: Mihi vindícta: ego retribuam, dicit Dóminus. Sed si esurierit inimícus tuus, ciba illum: si sitiit, potum da illi: hoc enim fáciens, carbónes ignis cóngeres super caput eius. Noli vinci a malo, sed vince in bono malum.

Brethren: Do not be wise in your own estimation. Never repay injury with injury. See that your conduct is honorable in the eyes of all. If possible, so far as it lies with you, live peaceably with everyone. Do not avenge yourselves, beloved, but leave that to God's wrath, for it is written: "Vengeance belongs to me; I will repay," says the Lord. But, "If your enemy be hungry, give him food to eat; if he be thirsty, give him to drink; for by doing this you will heap live coals on his head." Do not be conquered by evil, but conquer evil with good.

✠ A Reading from the holy Gospel
according to Matthew
Matth. 8, 1-13

At that time, when Jesus came down from the mountain, great crowds followed him. And suddenly a leper advanced, did him homage, and said to him, "Lord, if you will to do so, you can make me clean." He stretched out his hand, touched him and said, "I will to do so. Be clean." Immediately he was clean of leprosy. Then Jesus said to him, "See that you tell no one. Simply go and show yourself to the priest, and offer the gift Moses prescribed. That will be a proof for them." After he had entered Capharnaum, a centurion approached him with this urgent request, "Lord, my boy is at home in bed paralyzed, suffering terribly." He said to him, "I will come and cure him." "Lord," replied the centurion, "I am not worthy to have you enter my house. Just give an order, and my boy will get better. I myself know how authority works. I have soldiers under me, and if I give one man the order, 'On your way,' off he goes; or another the order, 'Come here,' he comes. If I tell my slave, 'Do this,' he does it." Jesus was surprised to hear this and he remarked to his followers, "I assure you, I have never found an Israelite with faith as great as this. Mark my words! Many from east and west will come and find a place at the banquet in the kingdom of heaven with Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, while the natural heirs of the kingdom will be driven outside into the darkness, where they will wail and gnash their teeth." To the centurion Jesus said, "Go home. It shall be done in answer to your faith." The boy got better that very moment.

Col. 3, 12–17

Brethren: As God's chosen ones, holy and beloved, you must put on heartfelt mercy, kindness, humility, meekness, patience. Bear with one another and forgive whatever grievances you may have against each other; forgive just as the Lord has forgiven you. And over all these put on love, which binds them together and makes them perfect. Let the peace of Christ rule over your hearts; for, as members of the one body, you have been called to that peace. Be thankful. Let the word of Christ dwell in you with all its richness; instruct and admonish one another with perfect wisdom. With heartfelt gratitude sing to God psalms, hymns, and inspired songs. And whatever you do in word or in work, do everything in the name of the Lord Jesus, giving thanks to God the Father through him.

Brethren: We keep thanking God always for all of you, constantly remembering you in our prayers, mindful as we are before our God and Father of the work of your faith, the labor of your love, and the constancy of your hope fixed on our Lord Jesus Christ. We know, too, brothers beloved of God, how you have been chosen: our preaching of the gospel proved to be for you not a matter of words only but also of power and the Holy Spirit and complete conviction. You know as well as we do what manner of men we proved to be for your sakes while we were in your midst. For your own part, you became imitators of us and, indeed, of the Lord, receiving the word in the face of great trial with the joy that comes from the Holy Spirit. Thus you became a model for all the believers of both Macedonia and Achaia. For the word of the Lord has resounded from your midst;

Fratres: Grátias ágimus Deo semper pro ómnibus vobis, memóriam vestri faciéntes in oratióibus nostris sine intermissióne mémores óperis fidei vestræ, et labóris, et caritátis, et sustinéntiæ spei Dómini nostri Iesu Christi, ante Deum et Patrem nostrum: sciéntes fratres, dilécti a Deo, electiõnem vestram: quia Evangélium nostrum non fuit ad vos in sermóne tantum, sed et in virtúte, et in Spíritu Sancto, et in plenitúdine multa, sicut scitis quales fuérimus in vobis propter vos. Et vos imitatores nostri facti estis, et Dómini, excipiéntes verbum in tribulatióne multa, cum gáudio Spíritus Sancti: ita ut facti sitis forma ómnibus credéntibus in Macedónia, et in Acháia. A vobis enim diffamátus est sermo Dómini, non solum in Macedónia, et in Acháia, sed et in omni loco fides vestra, quæ est ad Deum, profécta est, ita ut non sit nobis necesse quidquam loqui. not only in Macedonia and Achaia but throughout every region has come report of tell all about us: what kind of admittance

At that time Jesus proposed another parable to the crowds: “The kingdom of heaven is like a mustard seed which someone took and sowed in his field. It is the smallest of all seeds, yet, when fully grown, it is the largest of plants. It grows into a tree so that the birds of the sky come, and build their nests in its branches.” He told them another parable: “The kingdom of heaven is like yeast which a woman took and kneaded into three measures of flour. Eventually the whole mass of dough began to rise.” All these lessons Jesus taught the crowds in the form of parables. It was only by way of the parable that he spoke to them, to fulfill what had been said through the prophet, “I will open my mouth in parables, I will announce what has lain hidden since creation.”

Omnis autem qui in agóne conténdit, ab ómnibus se ábstinet: et illi quidem ut corruptíbilem corónam accípiant; nos autem incorrúptam. Ego ígitur sic curro, non quasi in incértum: sic pugno, non quasi áërem vérberans: sed castígo corpus meum, et in servitútem rédigo: ne forte cum áliis prædicáverim, ipse réprobus effíciar. Nolo enim vos ignoráre, fratres, quóniam patres nostri omnes sub nube fuérunt, et omnes mare transiérunt, et omnes in Móyse baptizáti sunt in nube, et in mari: et omnes eándem escam spirítalem manducáverunt, et omnes eúndem potum spirítalem bibérunt: (bibébant autem de spirítali, consequénte eos, petra: petra autem erat Christus:) sed non in plúribus eórum beneplácitum est Deo.

Brethren: Don't you know that while all the runners in the stadium take part in the race, only one wins the prize? Run to win! Every athlete denies himself many things. And they do this to win a perishable crown, but we an imperishable one. So I do not run like a man who doesn't see the goal. I do not fight like a boxer who punches the air. No, I beat my body and make it my slave, so that after having preached to others, I myself may not be disqualified. Brothers, I want you to remember this: Our fathers were all under the cloud and all passed through the sea; and by the cloud and the sea all were baptized into Moses. And all ate the same spiritual food; and all drank the same spiritual drink (for they drank from the spiritual rock that was following them, and the rock was Christ)—and yet with most of them God was not pleased.

At that time Jesus told his disciples this parable: "The kingdom of heaven is like the owner of an estate who went out at dawn to hire workmen for his vineyard. After reaching an agreement with the workmen for the usual daily wage, he sent them out to his vineyard. He came out about mid-morning, and he saw other men standing about the market place without work; so he said to them, 'You go along to my vineyard also; and I'll pay you whatever is fair.' So they went. He again came out around noon, and in the mid-afternoon, and did the same. Finally going out in the late afternoon, he found still others standing around, and he said to them, 'Why have you been standing here idle all day?' 'Nobody has hired us,' they explained. So he said to them, 'You go along to the vineyard too.' When evening came the owner of the vineyard said to his foreman, 'Call the workmen, and give them their pay. But begin with the last group and end with the first.' Now when those hired late in the afternoon came, they received a full day's pay. So when the first group came along, they expected to receive more. Yet they received the same daily wage. On receiving it, they complained against the owner. 'This last group did only an hour's work, but you have made them equal to us, who have carried the heavy part of the day's

To my shame I must confess that we have been too weak to do such things. But what anyone else dares to claim—I am talking foolishly now—I, too, will dare. Are they Hebrews? So am I! Are they Israelites? So am I! Are they offspring of Abraham? So am I! Are they ministers of Christ? Now I am really talking like a fool—I am more! with many more labors, with many more imprisonments, with far worse beatings, frequently in danger of death. Five times at the hands of the Jews I received forty lashes less one; three times I was beaten with rods; once I was stoned; three times I was shipwrecked;

Quis infirmatur, et ego non infirmor? quis scandalizatur, et ego non uror? Si gloriari oportet: quæ infirmitatis meæ sunt, gloriabor. Deus et Pater Domini nostri Iesu Christi, qui est benedictus in sæcula, scit quod non mentior. Si gloriari oportet (non expedit quidem), veniam autem ad visiones, et revelationes Domini. Scio hominem in Christo ante annos quatuordecim, sive in corpore nescio, sive extra corpus nescio, Deus scit, raptum huiusmodi usque ad tertium cælum. Et scio huiusmodi hominem, sive in corpore, sive extra corpus nescio, Deus scit: quoniam raptus est in paradysum: et audivit arcana verba, quæ non licet homini loqui. Pro huiusmodi gloriabor: pro me autem nihil gloriabor, nisi in infirmitatibus meis. Nam, et si volūero gloriari, non ero insipiens: veritatem enim dicam: parco autem, ne quis me existimet supra id quod videt in me, aut aliquid audit ex me. Et ne magnitudo revelationum extollat me, datus est mihi stimulus carnis meæ, angelus sathanæ, qui me colaphizet. Propter quod ter Dominum rogavi, ut discēderet a me: et dixit mihi: Sufficit tibi grātia mea: nam virtus in infirmitate perficitur. Libenter igitur gloriabor in infirmitatibus meis, ut inhābitet in me virtus Christi.

I passed a day and a night in the sea. I was continually on journeys with danger from floods, with danger from robbers; in danger from my own people and from the Gentiles; with danger in the city, in the desert and on the sea; in danger from false brothers; with labor and hardship, with many sleepless nights; in hunger and thirst and frequent fastings, in cold and nakedness; and, leaving other sufferings unmentioned, there is that daily tension pressing down on me, my anxiety for all the churches. Who is weak, and I am not affected by it? Who is scandalized, and I am not inflamed with indignation? If I must boast, I will boast about my weaknesses. The God and Father of the Lord Jesus knows—may he be blessed forever!—that I am not lying. In Damascus the ethnarch of King Aretas was keeping a close watch on the city in order to arrest me, but I was lowered in a basket through a window in the wall and I escaped his hands. I must go on boasting, useless though it is. I shall speak of visions and revelations of the Lord. I know a man in Christ, who, fourteen years ago—whether he was in his body, or outside his body, I don't know, but God does—was snatched up even to the third heaven; and I know that this man—whether he was in his body or outside it, I don't know, God knows—was snatched up even into Paradise and heard words which can't be uttered, which no man is permitted to speak. About this man I will boast, but I will not boast about myself, unless it be about my weaknesses. If I should boast, I would not really be foolish, because I would be telling the truth. But I refrain, lest anyone should think more of me than what he sees in me or hears from me. Now with respect to the extraordinary revelations, in order that I might not become conceited I was given a thorn for the flesh, an angel of Satan to beat me, to keep me from becoming proud. Three times I begged the Lord

Some fell among thorns, and the thorns grew up with it, and stifled it. And some fell on good soil, grew up, and yielded grain a hundred for one." As he said this he exclaimed: "Let everyone heed what he has heard."

perceive and hearing may not understand.' This is the meaning of the parable. 'The seed' is the word of God. 'Those on the footpath' are those who hear, but the devil comes and takes the word out of their hearts lest they should believe and be saved. 'Those on the rocky ground' are they who, when they hear it, receive the word with joy. These have no root; they believe for awhile, but they fall away in time of temptation. 'The seed fallen among thorns' are those who hear but their progress is stifled by the cares and riches and pleasures of life, and they do not mature. 'The seed in good ground' are they who hear the word with nobility and goodness of heart, and retain it, and bear fruit in perseverance.'

A Reading from the Epistle of blessed Paul the Apostle to the Corinthians 1 Cor. 13, 1–13

Brethren: If I should speak with the tongues of men and of angels, but not have love, I am a noisy gong and a clanging cymbal. And if I were a prophet and knew all mysteries and had all knowledge, and if I should have faith so great that I could move mountains, but not have love, I am nothing. And if I were to give away everything I have to feed the poor, and if I were to hand over my body to be burned, but not have love, I would gain nothing. Love is patient; love is kind. Love is not jealous; it does not put on airs; it is not snobbish. Love does nothing rude; it is not self-seeking; it is not prone to anger; it does not brood over injuries. Love is not happy over iniquity, but rejoices along with the truth. Love covers over everything, believes everything, hopes for everything, puts up with everything. Love never fails. Prophecies will pass away, tongues will be silent and knowledge will pass away. We

When I was a child, I used to talk like a child, think like a child, reason like a child. But when I became a man, I put aside childish ways. We see now in a mirror, in a confused sort of way; but then we shall see face to face. Now I have only partial knowledge; then I shall know even as I am known. them, and they did not understand what he said. As he drew near Jericho a blind man sat at the side of the road begging. Hearing a crowd go by he asked, "What is that?" They replied that Jesus of Nazareth was passing by. Then he shouted out, "Jesus, son of David, have pity on me." Those in the lead sternly ordered him to be silent, but he cried out all the more, "Son of David, have pity on me."

Jesus halted and ordered him to be brought to him. When he drew near, Jesus asked him: "What do you want me to do for you?" "Lord," he answered, "that I may see." Jesus said to him: "Receive back your sight, your faith has saved you." At that very instant he got back his sight and he followed him glorifying God. And all the people witnessed it and gave praise to God.

ASH WEDNESDAY

BLESSING OF ASHES

Before Mass ashes from olive branches or of the branches of other trees, which were blessed in the preceding year, are blessed in this way:

The priest vests in a violet cope, or is vested without the chasuble, and goes together with the ministers, similarly vested, to bless the ashes, which are placed in a vessel upon the altar. First the choir chants the antiphon Exaudi nos.

Ps. 68, 17

Hear us, O Lord, for bounteous is your kindness; in your great mercy turn toward us, O Lord. Ps. ibid., 2 Save me, O God, for the waters threaten my life. ℣. Glory be to the Father. Hear us, O Lord, for bounteous is your kindness; in your great mercy turn toward us, O Lord.

After the antiphon the priest stands at the epistle side with his hands joined (he keeps his hands joined during the prayers of all blessings). Without turning to the people, he says:

℣. The Lord be with you.
℟. And with your spirit.

A single prayer may be chosen from among the following prayers.

Prayer

Let us pray.

Almighty and eternal God, forgive the penitent sinner and be merciful to those who implore your help. Send your holy angel from heaven to bless ✠ and sanctify ✠ these ashes, so that they may bring spiritual health to all who humbly call upon your holy name and confess their conscious faults; to those who are sorry for their sins and earnestly implore your divine goodness and your gracious mercy. We call upon your holy name and accept these ashes in the hope of receiving forgiveness of our sins; keep us all safe and sound in body and soul. Through Christ our Lord. R. Amen.

Let us pray.

O God, you desire the repentance of the sinner and not his death. Take into consideration our frail human nature. Be merciful and bless ✠ these ashes that are about to be placed on our heads as a sign of our humility and of your pardon for our sins. We know that we are dust, and that we shall return to dust again because of our sinfulness. Mercifully forgive us and grant us the rewards you promised to sincere penitents. Through Christ our Lord. R. Amen.

Let us pray.

O God, you are merciful to the humble, and forgiving to the penitent. Graciously hear our prayers and in your mercy bless your servants who are about to be sprinkled with these ashes. Fill them with sorrow for their sins; hear the petitions which they justly make of you; and let the benefits which you may grant them remain with them forever unchanged. Through Christ our Lord. R. Amen.

Let us pray.

Almighty and eternal God, you pardoned the Ninivites when they did penance in sackcloth and ashes. May we imitate their penitence so that, like them, we may obtain your forgiveness. Through Christ our Lord. R. Amen.

Afterwards the celebrant places incense in the thurible. He then sprinkles the ashes three times with holy water, saying the antiphon Sprinkle me, without chant and without the psalm. Then he incenses the ashes three times.

IMPOSITION OF ASHES

Deinde dignior sacerdos ex clero accedens ad altare, imponit cineres celebranti non genuflexo. Si vero non adsit alius sacerdos, ipsemet celebrans, ad altare conversus, sibi ipsi cineres imponit in capite, nihil dicens, et antiphona cantatur statim a choro.

Antiphona

Ioël 2, 13

Immutémur hábitu, in cínere et cilício: ieiunémus, et plorémus ante Dóminum: quia multum miséricors est dimíttre peccáta nostra Deus noster.

Alia antiph. ibid., 17 et Esth. 13, 17 Inter vestibulum et altáre plorábunt sacerdotés minístri Dómini, et dicent: Parce, Dómine, parce pópulo tuo: et ne claudas ora canéntium te, Dómine.

Sequitur responsorium:

Esther 13; Ioël 2 Emendémus in mélius, quæ ignoránter peccávimus: ne súbito præoccupáti die mortis, quærámus spátium pæniténtiæ, et inveníre non possímus.* Atténde, Dómine, et miserére: quia peccávimus tibi. Ps. 78, 9 Adiuva nos, Deus salutáris noster: et propter honórem nóminis tui, Dómine, líbera nos. Atténde, Dómine. Ps. Glória Patri, et Filio, et Spíritui Sancto. Atténde, Dómine.

Sacerdos vero, dum cantantur antiphonæ et responsorium, detecto capite, primo imponit cineres digniori sacerdoti, a quo ipse accepit, deinde ministris paratis, genibus flexis coram altari, dicens:

Genes. 3, 19 Meménto, homo, quia pulvis es, et in púlverem revertéris.

Postea veniunt alii, primo clerus per ordinem, deinde populus: et genibus flexis ante altare, singulatim recipiunt cineres a sacerdote, ut dictum est de ministris. Completa cinerum impositione, sacerdos dicit:

Ps. Dóminus vobíscum.

R. Et cum spíritu tuo.

The senior priest goes to the altar and imposes ashes on the celebrant, who does not kneel. If no other priest is present, the celebrant himself turns to the altar and imposes the ashes on his own head, saying nothing. The antiphon is immediately chanted by the choir.

Antiphon

Joel 2, 13

Let us change our garments for ashes and sackcloth: let us fast and lament before the Lord: for plenteous in mercy is our God to forgive our sins.

Another antiphon ibid., 2, 17 and Esther 13, 17 Between the porch and the altar, let the priests, the ministers of the Lord, weep, and say, "Spare, O Lord, your people; and close not the mouths of those who sing to you, O Lord."

The responsory follows:

Esther 13; Joel 2 Let us amend for the better in those things in which we have sinned through ignorance, lest suddenly overtaken by the day of death, we seek time for repentance and are not able to find it. Attend, O Lord, and have mercy; for we have sinned against you. Ps. 78, 9 Help us, O God, our savior; and because of the glory of your name, O Lord, deliver us. Attend, O Lord, etc. Ps. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, and to the Holy Spirit. Attend, O Lord.

While the antiphons and responsory are sung, the priest, with his head uncovered, first imposes ashes upon the senior priest from whom he has received the ashes, then upon the ministers in vestments, who kneel before the altar. The priest says:

Gen. 3, 19 Remember, man, that you are dust, and unto dust you shall return.

Afterwards the others come to the altar, first the clergy in order, then the people. Kneeling before the altar, they receive the ashes from the priest one by one, as described above for the ministers. When the imposition of ashes has been completed, the priest says:

Ps. The Lord be with you.

R. And with your spirit.

Ash Wednesday

Let us pray.

O God, grant us the grace to begin the spiritual warfare of Christians with holy fasting, so that we may be made strong by self-denial in our battle against the spirit of evil. Through Christ our Lord. R. Amen.

If the solemn blessing of ashes takes place late in the morning, it is permitted to bless the ashes in a simplified form early in the morning, before Mass, without chant, according to the rite described above. The same form may likewise be used where sacred ministers or cantors are not available. The blessing of ashes, which has been performed once in the morning before the principal Mass, may be repeated before the evening Mass, with permission of the local ordinary, in churches where the evening Mass is generally celebrated with a large gathering of the faithful.

THE MASS

In the Mass which follows the blessing of ashes, the prayers to be said at the foot of the altar are omitted, as well as the prayers Aufer a nobis and Orámus te, Dómine. When the priest comes to the altar, he immediately goes up to it and kisses it in the center.

Entrance Antiphon

Wis. 11, 24, 25 and 27

You have mercy on all, O Lord, and hate none of the things which you have made, overlooking the sins of men for the sake of repentance, and sparing them: because you are the Lord our God. Ps. 56, 2 Have pity on me, O God; have pity on me, for in you I take refuge. V. Glory be to the Father. You have.

Prayer

O Lord, may the faithful begin the solemn season of fast with fitting piety,* and may they continue through to its end with unwavering devotion. Through Jesus Christ.

Rend your hearts, not your garments, and return to the Lord, your God.
For gracious and merciful is he,
slow to anger, rich in kindness,
and relenting in punishment.
Perhaps he will again relent

Offerings and libations for the Lord, your God.
Blow the trumpet in Sion!
proclaim a fast,
call an assembly;
Gather the people,
notify the congregation;
Assemble the elders,
gather the children
and the infants at the breast;
Let the bridegroom quit his room,
and the bride her chamber.
Between the porch and the altar let the priests, the ministers of the Lord, weep,
And say, "Spare, O Lord, your people,
and make not your heritage a reproach,
with the nations ruling over them!
Why should they say among the peoples,
'Where is their God?'"

Then the Lord was stirred to concern for his land and took pity on his people. The Lord answered and said to his people:

See, I will send you
grain, and wine, and oil, and you shall be filled with them;
No more will I make you a reproach among the nations,
says the Lord Almighty.

Gradual Ps. 56, 2 and 4 Have pity on me, O God, have pity on me, for in you I take refuge. V. He has sent from heaven and saved me; he has made those a reproach who trample upon me.

Ps. 78, 8–9* O Lord, remember not against us the iniquities of the past; may your compassion quickly come to us, for we are brought very low. ℟. Help us, O God, our savior, because of the glory of your name, O Lord; deliver us and pardon our sins for your name's sake.

✠ A Reading from the holy Gospel
according to Matthew
Matth. 6, 16–21

At that time Jesus said to his disciples: "When you fast, don't go around looking dismal like hypocrites. They disfigure themselves that others may see they are fasting. I assure you, they have received their reward. As for you, when you fast, groom your hair and wash your face. In that way, no one can see you are fasting but your Father who is invisible; and your Father who sees what is invisible will repay you. Don't keep storing up earthly treasures. Moths or rust can make them vanish; thieves can break in and steal them. But make it your practice to store up heavenly treasure which neither moths nor rust can make vanish, and which thieves cannot break in to steal. Remember, where your treasure lies, there also lies your heart's desire."

Offertory Antiphon
Ps. 29, 2–3

I will extol you, O Lord, for you drew me clear and did not let my enemies rejoice over me. O Lord, I cried out to you and you healed me.

Prayer over the Gifts

O Lord, make us truly fit to offer these gifts* with which we celebrate the origin of this blessed sacrament. Through Jesus Christ.

In illo témpore: Dixit Iesus discí-pulis suis: Cum ieiunátis, nolíte fieri sicut hypócritæ, tristes. Exté-rinant enim fácies suas, ut appá-reant homínibus ieiunántes. Amen dico vobis, quia recepérunt mercédem suam. Tu autem, cum ieiúnas, unge caput tuum, et fácíem tuam lava, ne videáris homínibus ieiúnans, sed Patri tuo, qui est in abscóndito: et Pater tuus, qui videt in abscóndito, reddet tibi. Nolíte thesaurízare vobis thesáuros in terra: ubi ærúgo, et tínea demolítur: et ubi fures effó-diunt, et furántur. Thesaurízate au-tem vobis thesáuros in cælo: ubi neque ærúgo, neque tínea demolítur; et ubi fures non effódiunt, nec furántur. Ubi enim est thesáurus tuus, ibi est et cor tuum.

Exaltábo te, Dómine, quóniam suscepísti me, nec delectásti inimícos meos super me: Dómine, clamávi ad te, et sanásti me.

Prayer

O God, sin offends you but penance can turn away your anger.* Hear the prayers of your suppliant people and do not punish us in anger, even though our sins justly deserve it. Through Jesus Christ.

A Reading from the Prophet Isaia Isaia 38, 1–6

In those days, when Ezechia was mortally ill, the prophet Isaia, son of Amos, came and said to him: “Thus says the Lord: Put your house in order, for you are about to die; you shall not recover.” Then Ezechia turned his face to the wall and prayed to the Lord: “O Lord, remember how faithfully and wholeheartedly I conducted myself in your presence, doing what was pleasing to you!” And Ezechia wept bitterly.

Then the word of the Lord came to Isaia: “Go, tell Ezechia: Thus says the Lord, the God of your father David: I have heard your prayer and seen your tears. I will add fifteen years to your life. I will rescue you and this city from the hand of the king of Assyria; I will be a shield to this city,” says the Lord Almighty.

Gradual Ps. 54, 23, 17, 18 and 19 Cast your care upon the Lord, and he will support you. ℣. When I called upon the Lord, he heard my voice from those who war against me.

Léctio Isaíæ Prophétæ Isai. 38, 1–6

In diébus illis: Ægrotávit Ezechías usque ad mortem: et introívit ad eum Isaías filius Amos prophéta, et dixit ei: Hæc dicit Dóminus: Dispóne dómui tuæ, quia moriéris tu, et non vives. Et convértit Ezechías fáciem suam ad parietem, et orávit ad Dóminum, et dixit: Obsecro, Dómine, meménto, quæso, quómodo ambuláverim coram te in veritate, et in corde perfécto, et quod bonum est in óculis tuis fécerim. Et flevit Ezechias fletu magno. Et factum est verbum Dómini ad Isaíam, dicens: Vade, et dic Ezechíæ: Hæc dicit Dóminus Deus David patris tui: Audívi oratióem tuam, et vidi lácrimas tuas: ecce ego adíiciam super dies tuos quíndecim annos: et de manu regis Assyriórum éruam te, et civitátem istam, et prótegam eam, ait Dóminus omnipotens.

Graduale Ps. 54, 23, 17, 18 et 19 Iacta cogitatum tuum in Dómino, et ipse te enútriet. ℣. Dum clamárem ad Dóminum, exaudívit vocem meam ab his, qui appropínquant mihi.

Dómine, puer meus iacet in domo paralyticus, et male torquétur. Et ait illi Iesus: Ego véniam, et curábo eum. Et respóndens centúrio, ait: Dómine, non sum dignus, ut intres sub tectum meum: sed tantum dic verbo, et sanábitur puer meus. Nam et ego homo sum sub potestáte constitútus, habens sub me mílites, et dico huic: Vade, et vadit; et álii: Veni, et venit; et servo meo: Fac hoc, et facit. Audiens autem Iesus, mirátus est, et sequéntibus se dixit: Amen dico vobis, non invéni tantam fidem in Israél. Dico autem vobis, quod multi ab Oriénte et Occidénte vénient, et recúmbent cum Abraham, et Isaac, et Iacob in regno cælórum: filii autem regni eiiciéntur in ténebras exterióres: ibi erit fletus, et stridor déntium. Et dixit Iesus centurióni: Vade, et sicut credidísti, fiat tibi. Et sanátus est puer in illa hora.

at home in bed paralyzed, suffering terribly." He said to him, "I will come and cure him." "Lord," replied the centurion, "I am not worthy to have you enter my house. Just give an order, and my boy will get better. I myself know how authority works. I have soldiers under me, and if I give one man the order, 'On your way,' off he goes; or another the order, 'Come here,' he comes. If I tell my slave, 'Do this,' he does it." Jesus was surprised to hear this and he remarked to his followers, "I assure you, I have never found an Israelite with faith as great as this. Mark my words! Many from east and west will come and find a place at the banquet in the kingdom of heaven with Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, while the natural heirs of the kingdom will be driven outside into the darkness, where they will wail and gnash their teeth." To the centurion Jesus said, "Go home. It shall be done in answer to your faith." The boy got better that very moment.

Offertory Antiphon

Ad te, Dómine, levávi ánimam meam: Deus meus, in te confído, non erubéscam: neque irrideant me inimíci mei: étenim univérsi, qui te expéctant, non confundéntur.

To you, O Lord, I lift up my soul: in you, O my God, I trust; let me not be put to shame, let not my enemies exult over me. No one who waits for you shall be put to shame.

Prayer over the Gifts

Sacrificiis praséntibus, Dómine, quæsumus, inténde placátus: ut et devotióni nostræ proficiant, et salúti. Per Dóminum nostrum.

Look with favor upon these offerings, O Lord,* that they may be an aid to our devotion and to our salvation. Through Jesus Christ.

Præfatio de Quadragesima.

Preface of Lent

Communion Antiphon

Ps. 50, 21

Acceptábis sacrificium iustítiae, oblatiões, et holocáusta, super altáre tuum, Dómine.

You shall be pleased with due sacrifices, burnt offerings and holocausts on your altar, O Lord.

Friday after Ash Wednesday

Prayer after Communion

O almighty God, we have received the heavenly blessings of your sacrament,* and we humbly beg that it may bring us your grace and salvation. Through Jesus Christ.

Caeléstis doni benedictióne percépta: súpplices te, Deus omnípotens, deprecámur; ut hoc idem nobis et sacraménti causa sit, et salútis. Per Dóminum.

Prayer over the People

Let us pray.
Bow down your heads to the Lord.
Spare, O spare your people, Lord!* Take pity upon those who have been punished by your just judgments. Through Jesus Christ.

Orémus.
Humiliáte cápita vestra Deo.
Parce, Dómine, parce pópulo tuo: ut dignis flagellatióibus castigátus, in tua miseratióne respíret. Per Dóminum.

and not abandoned the law of their God;
They ask me to declare what is due them,
pleased to gain access to God.
“Why do we fast, and you do not see it?”

Léctio Isaíæ Prophétæ Isai. 58, 1-9

Nonne hoc est magis ieiúnium quod elégi? dissólve colligatiões impietátis, solve fascículos depriméntes: dimítte eos, qui confrácti sunt, líberos, et omne onus dirúmpe. afflict ourselves, and you take no note of it?"

Lo, on your fast day you carry out your own pursuits, and drive all your laborers.

Yes, your fast ends in quarreling and fighting, striking with wicked fist.

Would that today you might fast so as to make your voice heard on high!

Is this the manner of fasting I wish,
of keeping a day of penance:

That a man bow his head like a reed,
and lie in sackcloth and ashes?

Do you call this a fast,
a day acceptable to the Lord?

This, rather, is the fasting I wish:
releasing those bound unjustly, untying
the thongs of the yoke;

Setting free the oppressed,
breaking every yoke;

Sharing your bread with the hungry,
sheltering the oppressed and the homeless;
Clothing the naked when you see them,
and not turning your back on your own.

Then your light shall break forth like the dawn,

and your wound shall quickly be healed;
Your vindication shall go before you,
and the glory of the Lord shall be your rear guard.

Then you shall call, and the Lord will answer,

you shall cry for help, and he will say:
Here I am!

For I the Lord your God am merciful.

✠ A Reading from the holy Gospel
according to Matthew
Matth. 5, 43-48; 6, 1-4

✠ Sequéntia sancti Evangélii
secúndum Matthæum
Matth. 5, 43-48; 6, 1-4

At that time Jesus said to his disciples: "You have heard the commandment, 'You shall love your neighbor, but you shall hate your enemy.' But now I command you, love your enemies; pray for those who persecute you that you may be true sons of your heavenly Father. For he makes the sun rise on the bad and the good alike; he makes the rain fall on the just and the unjust. If you love those who love you, what merit is yours? Even tax collectors do that! If you greet only your brothers, what is so extraordinary about your conduct? Even pagans do that! In a word, you must be perfect, as your heavenly Father is perfect. Be constantly on your guard against practising virtue for people to see. Otherwise you get no reward in the eyes of your heavenly Father. Thus, for instance, when you give alms, don't have a trumpet blown for you in synagogues or streets the way hypocrites do to win public acclaim. I assure you, they have received their reward. As for you, when you give alms, your left hand must not even suspect what your right is doing. In that way, your almsgiving remains unseen, and your Father who sees what is unseen will repay you."

In illo témpore: Dixit Iesus discipulis suis: Audístis quia dictum est: Diliges próximum tuum: et ódio habébis inimicum tuum. Ego autem dico vobis: Dilígite inimícos vestros, benefácite his qui odérunt vos, et oráte pro persecuéntibus et calumniántibus vos: ut sitis, filii Patris vestri, qui in cælis est: qui solem suum oriri facit super bonos et malos, et pluit super iustos et iniústos. Si enim dilígitis eos qui vos dilígunt, quam mercédem habébitis? nonne et publicáni hoc faciunt? Et si salutavéritis fratres vestros tantum, quid ámplius fácitis? nonne et éthnici hoc faciunt? Estóte ergo vos perfécti, sicut et Pater vester cæléstis perféctus est. Atténdite ne iustítiam vestram faciátis coram homínibus, ut videámini ab eis: alióquin mercédem non habébitis apud Patrem vestrum, qui in cælis est. Cum ergo facis eleemósynam, noli tuba cánere ante te, sicut hypócritæ faciunt in synagógis, et in vicis, ut honorificéntur ab homínibus. Amen dico vobis, recepérunt mercédem suam. Te autem faciénte eleemósynam, nésciat sinistra tua, quid fáciat dextera tua, ut sit eleemósyna tua in abscondito, et Pater tuus, qui videt in abscondito, reddet tibi.

A Reading from the Prophet Isaia
Isaia 58, 9–14

Thus says the Lord God:
If you remove from your midst oppression,
false accusation and malicious speech;
If you bestow your bread on the hungry,
and satisfy the afflicted;
Then light shall rise for you in the darkness, and the gloom shall become for you like midday;
Then the Lord will guide you always and give you plenty even on the parched land.
He will renew your strength,
and you shall be like a watered garden,
like a spring whose water never fails.
The ancient ruins shall be rebuilt for your sake,
and the foundations from ages past you shall raise up;
“Repairer of the breach,” they shall call you,
“Restorer of ruined homesteads.”
If you hold back your foot on the Sabbath from following your own pursuits on my holy day;
If you call the Sabbath a delight,
and the Lord’s holy day honorable;
If you honor it by not following your ways, seeking your own interests, or speaking with malice—
Then you shall delight in the Lord, and I will make you ride on the heights of the earth;
I will nourish you with the heritage of Jacob,
your father,
for the mouth of the Lord has spoken.

Gradual Ps. 26, 4 One thing I ask the Lord;
this I seek: to dwell in the house of the Lord.
V. That I may gaze on the loveliness of the Lord and be protected by his holy temple.

Cum effúderis esuriénti ánimam tuam, et ánimam afflíctam repléveris, oriétur in ténebris lux tua, et ténebræ tuæ erunt sicut merídiæ. Et réquiem tibi dabit Dóminus semper, et implébit splendóribus ánimam tuam, et ossa tua liberábit, et eris quasi hortus irríguus, et sicut fons aquárum, cuius non defícient aquæ. Et ædificabúntur in te desérta sæculórum: fundaménta generatiónis et generatiónis suscitábis: et vocáberis ædificátor sépium, avértens sémitas in quiétem. Si avérteris a sábbato pedem tuum, fácere voluntátem tuam in die sancto meo, et vocáveris sábbatum delicátum, et sanctum Dómini gloriósum, et glori ficáveris eum, dum non facis vias tuas, et non invenitur volúntas tua, ut loquáris sermónem: tunc delectáberis super Dómino: et sustóllam te super altitúdines terræ, et cibábo te hereditáte Iacob patris tui. At illi, ut vidérunt eum ambulántem supra mare, putavérunt phantásma esse, et exclamavérunt. Omnes enim vidérunt eum, et conturbáti sunt. Et statim locútus est cum eis, et dixit eis: Confidite, ego sum, nolíte timére. Et ascendit ad illos in navim, et cessávit ventus. Et plus magis intra se stupébant: non enim intellexérunt de pánibus: erat enim cor eórum obcæcátum. Et cum transfretássent, venérunt in terram Genésareth, et applicuérunt. Cumque egressi essent de navi, continuo cognovérunt eum: et percurrétes univérsam regiónem illam, cœpérunt in grabátis eos, qui se male habébant, circumfêrre ubi audiébant eum esse. Et quocúmque introíbat, in vicos, vel in villas, aut civitátes, in platéis ponébant infirmos, et deprecabántur eum, ut vel fímbriam vestiménti eius tángerent: et quotquot tangébant eum, salvi fiébant.

✠ A Reading from the holy Gospel
according to Mark
Mark 6, 47-56

At that time, as evening drew on, the boat was far out on the sea, but Jesus was alone on the land. Then seeing his disciples being tossed about as they tried to row, for the wind was against them, about three in the morning he came walking toward them upon the sea. And he was going to pass them by. When they saw him walking upon the sea, they thought it was a ghost, and they began to shout. They had all seen him and were terrified. He hastened to reassure them. "Take courage: it is I. Don't be afraid." He got into the boat with them, and the wind died down. They were utterly and completely astonished. They had not, of course, understood about the loaves; on the contrary, their minds were completely blinded. After making the crossing, they reached shore at Genesareth, and they tied up there. And as they were disembarking from the boat, people immediately recognized him. They hurried about the whole countryside, and began to bring in the sick on mattresses, to the place where they heard he was. Wherever he went, in villages, in towns, in hamlets, they laid the sick in the market places, and begged him to let them touch just the tassel on his cloak; and all who touched it got well.

Offertory Antiphon
Ps. 118, 154 and 125

O Lord, for the sake of your promise give me life, that I may know your decrees.

Prayer over the Gifts

O Lord, accept this sacrifice, which you have instituted in order that man may be at peace with God.* May it cleanse us from sin so that our love may also be acceptable to you. Through Jesus Christ.

Preface of Lent

First Sunday in Lent

Communion Antiphon

Ps. 2, 11-12

Serve the Lord with fear, and rejoice before him with trembling; embrace discipline, lest you perish from the just way.

Prayer after Communion

We are nourished by the bread of heavenly life, O Lord.* May this sacrifice that is hidden under the veil of mystery in this life help us through all eternity. Through Jesus.

Prayer over the People

Let us pray.

Bow down your heads to the Lord.

O Lord, may the faithful be strengthened by the reception of your sacramental gifts.* And having received them, may they hunger after them still; and through hungering, may they come constantly to be nourished by them. Through Jesus Christ.

FIRST SUNDAY IN LENT

Entrance Antiphon

Ps. 90, 15 and 16

He shall call upon me, and I will answer him; I will deliver him and glorify him; with length of days I will gratify him. Ps. ibid., 1 You who dwell in the shelter of the Most High, shall abide in the shadow of the Almighty. ℟. Glory be to the Father. He shall.

Prayer

O God, each year you purify the Church through the lenten observance.* May the good works of your Church obtain for us the grace we ask for through our self-denial. Through Jesus Christ.

On the contrary, in everything we strive to show ourselves as ministers of God, with great fortitude in trials, distress, difficulties, in beatings, imprisonments, riots; with hard work, sleepless nights and fastings; with innocence, knowledge, patience and kindness; with a holy spirit, with sincere love; with the message of truth and the power of God; wielding the weapons of justice with right hand and left; whether honored or dishonored; whether spoken of well or ill. We are called imposters, and yet we are truthful; nobodies, and we are well known; dead, and here we are alive; punished, and we have not yet been put to death; sorrowful, and we are always rejoicing; poor, and we are enriching many; we are said to have nothing, and yet we possess everything.

✠ A Reading from the holy Gospel
according to Matthew
Matth. 4, 1-11

At that time, Jesus was led into the desert by the Spirit to be tempted by the devil. He fasted forty days and forty nights, and afterwards he was hungry. Then the tempter approached and said to him, "If you are God's Son, command these stones to turn into bread." But he replied, "Scripture has it, 'Not on bread alone is man to live, but on every command that issues from the mouth of God.'" Next the devil took him to the holy city. He set him upon the highest point in the Temple area, saying, "If you are God's Son, throw yourself down. Scripture has it, 'He will bid his angels look after you; with their hands they will support you, that you may never even stumble over a stone.'" Jesus answered him, "Scripture also has it, 'You shall not make trial of the Lord your God.'" Again, the devil took him along to a lofty mountain peak, and displayed before him all the kingdoms of the world in their magnificence, promising, "All this will I bestow upon you, if you will prostrate yourself in homage before me." Then Jesus said to him, "Away with you, Satan! Scripture has it, 'You shall do homage to the Lord your God: him alone shall you adore.'" At that the devil left him, and all at once angels came and waited on him.

A Reading
from the Prophet Ezechiel
Ezech. 34, 11–16

Thus says the Lord God: I myself will look after and tend my sheep. As a shepherd tends his flock when he finds himself among his scattered sheep, so will I tend my sheep. I will rescue them from every place where they were scattered when it was cloudy and dark. I will lead them out from among the peoples and gather them from the foreign lands; I will bring them back to their own country and pasture them upon the mountains of Israel in the land's ravines and all its inhabited places. In good pastures will I pasture them, and on the mountain heights of Israel shall be their grazing ground. There they shall lie down on good grazing ground, and in rich pastures shall they be pastured on the mountains of Israel. I myself will pasture my sheep; I myself will give them rest, says the Lord God. The lost I will seek out, the strayed I will bring back, the injured I will bind up, the sick I will heal; but the sleek and the strong I will preserve, shepherding them until the judgment, says the Lord Almighty.

Gradual Ps. 83, 10 and 9 Behold, O God, our protector, and look upon your servants. Ps. 78, 8–9 O Lord God of hosts, hear the prayers of your servants.

Tract Ps. 102, 10 O Lord, deal not with us according to our sins, nor requite us according to our crimes. Ps. 78, 8–9 O Lord, remember not against us the iniquities of the past; may your compassion quickly come to us, for we are brought very low. Ps. 78, 8–9 Help us, O God, our savior, because of the glory of your name, O Lord; deliver us and pardon our sins for your name's sake.

Léctio Ezechiélis Prophétæ
Ezech. 34, 11–16

Hæc dicit Dóminus Deus: Ecce ego ipse requíram oves meas, et visitábo eas. Sicut vísitat pastor gregem suum in die, quando fúerit in médio óvium suárum dissipatárum: sic visitábo oves meas, et liberábo eas de ómnibus locis, in quibus dispérsæ fúerant in die nubis et caliginis. Et edúcam eas de pópulis, et congregábo eas de terris, et indúcam eas in terram suam: et pascam eas in móntibus Israël, in rivis, et in cunctis sédibus terræ. In páscuis ubérrimis pascam eas, et in móntibus excélsis Israël erunt páscua eárum: ibi requiéscent in herbis viréntibus, et in páscuis pinguibus pascéntur super montes Israël. Ego pascam oves meas, et ego eas accubáre fáciam, dicit Dóminus Deus. Quod perierat, requíram; et quod abiéctum erat, reducam; et quod confráctum fúerat, alligábo; et quod infírmum fúerat, consolidábo; et quod pingue et forte, custódiám: et pascam illas in iudício, dicit Dóminus omnípotens.

✠ A Reading
from the holy Gospel
according to Matthew
Matth. 25, 31–46

At that time Jesus said to his disciples: “When the Son of Man comes in his glory, escorted by all the angels, then he will take his seat upon his royal throne, and all the nations will be assembled in his presence. He will separate them into two groups, just as the shepherd separates the sheep from the goats. The sheep he will place on his right hand, the goats on his left. Then the king will say to those on his right, ‘Come,’ you who have my Father’s blessing! Inherit the kingdom prepared for you from the creation of the world. For I was hungry, and you gave me food; I was thirsty, and you gave me a drink; I was away from home, and you made me welcome; naked, and you gave me clothing; I was ill, and you came to comfort me; I was in jail, and you came to visit me.’ Then the saints will reply to him, ‘Lord, when did we feed you when we saw you hungry, or give you a drink when you were thirsty? When did we make you welcome when we saw you away from home, or give you clothing when you were naked? When did we come to visit you when we saw you were ill or in jail?’ Then the king will answer them, ‘I assure you, as often as you did it for one of these brothers of mine, insignificant though they be, you did it for me.’ Then he will also speak to those on his left, ‘Go away from me, accursed as you are, into that eternal fire prepared for the devil and his angels. I was hungry, and you gave me no food; I was thirsty, and you gave me nothing to drink; I was away from home, and you gave me no welcome; naked, and you gave me no clothing; ill and in jail, and you did not come to comfort me.’ Then they, in their turn, will reply, ‘Lord when did we see you hungry or thirsty or away from Derelinquat ímpius viam suam, et vir iníquus cogitatiónes suas, et revertátur ad Dóminum: et miserébitur eius, et ad Deum nostrum: quóniam multus est ad ignoscéndum. Non enim cogitatiónes meæ, cogitatiónes vestræ: neque viæ vestræ, viæ meæ, dicit Dóminus. Quia sicut exaltántur cæli a terra, sic exaltáta sunt viæ meæ a viis vestris, et cogitatiónes meæ a cogitatióne vestris. Et quómodo descéndit imber, et nix de cælo, et illuc ultra non revértitur, sed inébriat terram, et infúndit eam, et germináre eam facit, et dat semen serénti, et panem comedénti: sic erit verbum meum, quod egrediétur de ore meo: non revertétur ad me vácuum, sed fáciat quæcúmque vólui, et prosperábitur in his, ad quæ misi illud: ait Dóminus omnípotens.

A Reading from the Prophet Isaia

Isaia 55, 6-11

In those days the Prophet Isaia said:
Seek the Lord while he may be found,
call him while he is near.
Let the scoundrel forsake his way,
and the wicked man his thoughts;
Let him turn to the Lord for mercy;
to our God, who is generous in forgiving.
For my thoughts are not your thoughts,
nor are your ways my ways, says the Lord.
As high as the heavens are above the earth, so high are my ways above your ways and my thoughts above your thoughts.
For just as from the heavens
the rain and snow come down
And do not return there till they have watered the earth making it fertile and fruitful, Giving seed to him who sows and bread to him who eats,
So shall my word be that goes forth from my mouth;
It shall not return to me void,
but shall do my will,
achieving the end for which I sent it,
says the Lord Almighty.

Matth. 21, 10–17

✠ Sequéntia sancti Evangéllii secúndum Matthæum
Matth. 21, 10–17

At that time as Jesus entered Jerusalem, the whole city was stirred to its depths, demanding, "Who is this?" And the crowd kept answering, "This is the prophet Jesus from Nazareth in Galilee." And Jesus entered the Temple precincts and drove out all those engaged there in buying and selling. He overturned the money-changers' tables and the stalls of the dove-sellers. Then he said to them, "Scripture has it, 'My house shall be called a house of prayer'; but you are turning it into a bandits' den." Now the blind and the lame came to him in the Temple precincts, and he cured them. But the chief priests and the scribes became indignant when they observed the wonders he worked and how the children were shouting out in the Temple precincts, "Hosanna to the Son of David!" "Do you hear what they are saying?" they asked him. But Jesus said to them, "Of course I do.— Did you never read this: 'Upon the lips of infants and babies, you have composed a hymn of praise!'" With that he left them and went out of the city to Bethany, where he spent the night.

In illo témpore: Cum intráset Iesus Ierosólymam, commóta est univérsa cívitas, dicens: Quis est hic? Pópuli autem dicébant: Hic est Iesus Prophéta a Náza-reth Galilææ. Et intrávit Iesus in templum Dei, et ei-ciébat omnes vendétes, et emétes in templo; et mensas nummulariórú-m, et cáthedras vendéntium colúmbas evértit: et dicit eis: Scriptum est: Domus mea domus oratiónis vocá-bitur: vos autem fecístis illam spelún-cam latrónum. Et accessérunt ad eum cæci et claudi in templo: et sanávit eos. Vidéntes autem príncipes sacerdotum et scribæ mirabília, quæ fecit, et púeros clamántes in templo, et dicétes: Hosánna filio David: indignáti sunt, et dixérunt ei: Audis quid isti dicunt? Iesus autem dixit eis: Utique. Numquam legístis: Quia ex ore infántium et lacténtium per-fecísti laudem? Et relíctis illis, ábiit foras extra civitátem in Bethániam: ibique mansit.

A Reading from the Book of Exodus Exodus 24, 12–18

In those days the Lord said to Moses: “Come up to me on the mountain and, while you are there, I will give you the stone tablets on which I have written the commandments intended for the instruction of the Israelites.” So Moses set out with Josue, his aide, and went up to the mountain of God. The elders, however, had been told by him, “Wait here for us until we return to you. Aaron and Hur are staying with you. If anyone has a complaint, let him refer the matter to them.” After Moses had gone up, a cloud covered the mountain. The glory of the Lord settled upon Mount Sinai. The cloud covered it for six days, and on the seventh day he called to Moses from the midst of the cloud. To the Israelites the glory of the Lord was seen as a consuming fire on the mountaintop. But Moses passed into the midst of the cloud as he went up on the mountain; and there he stayed for forty days and forty nights.

He lay down and fell asleep under the broom tree, but then an angel touched him and ordered him to get up and eat. He looked and there at his head was a hearth cake and a jug of water. After he ate and drank, he lay down again, but the angel of the Lord came back a second time, touched him, and ordered him, "Get up and eat, for the journey is too long for you!" He got up, ate and drank; then strengthened by that food, he walked forty days and forty nights to the mountain of God, Horeb.

At that time some of the scribes and Pharisees spoke up, "Master, we want to see you work some sign." Jesus answered, "An evil, faithless age is eager for a sign! And no sign will be accorded it, except the sign of Jona the prophet! (Just as Jona spent three days and three nights in the whale's belly, the Son of Man will likewise spend three days and three nights buried in the ground.) the queen of the south will rise along with the present generation, and will condemn it. She came from the furthest corner of the world to listen to the wisdom of Solomon, but you have more than Solomon here. Whenever the unclean spirit departs from a man, it roams over arid wastelands seeking a place of rest, but without finding one. Then it says, 'I will go back to that abode of mine which I left.' It returns to find it unoccupied, though swept and tidied. So off it goes and brings back with it seven other spirits more evil than itself. They move in and settle there. Thus the final condition of that man becomes worse than the first. That is how it will be with the present evil generation." He was still speaking to the crowds when suddenly his mother and brothers appeared outside desiring to speak with him. Someone said to him, "Look, your mother and your brothers are waiting outside, asking to speak to you." In reply he said to the one who told him, "Who is my mother? Who are my brothers?" And pointing with his hand to his disciples, he said, "There are my mother and my brothers. Whoever does the will of my heavenly Father, that person is brother and sister and mother to me."

“Fathers have eaten green grapes,
thus their children’s teeth

As I live, says the Lord God: I swear that there shall no longer be anyone among you who will repeat this proverb in Israel. For all lives are mine; the life of the father is like the life of the son, both are mine; only the one who sins shall die.

If a man is virtuous—if he does what is right and just, if he does not eat on the mountains, nor raise his eyes to the idols of the house of Israel; if he does not defile his neighbor’s wife, nor have relations with a woman in her menstrual period; if he oppresses no one, gives back the pledge received for a debt, commits no robbery; if he gives food to the hungry and clothes the naked; if he does not lend at interest nor exact usury; if he holds off from evil-doing, judges fairly between a man and his opponent; if he lives by my statutes and is careful to observe my ordinances, that man is virtuous—he shall surely live, says the Lord Almighty.

Thus says the Lord God: Only the one who sins shall die. The son shall not be charged with the guilt of his father, nor shall the father be charged with the guilt of his son. The virtuous man's virtue shall be his own, as the wicked man's wickedness shall be his.

But if the wicked man turns away from all the sins he committed, if he keeps all my statutes, and does what is right and just, he shall surely live, he shall not die. None of the crimes he committed shall be remembered against him; he shall live because of the virtue he has practiced. Do I indeed derive any pleasure from the death of the wicked? says the Lord God. Do I not rather rejoice when he turns from his evil way that he may live?

And if the virtuous man turns from the path of virtue to do evil, the same kind of abominable things that the wicked man does, can he do this and still live? None of his virtuous deeds shall be remembered, because he has broken faith and committed sin; because of this, he shall die. You say, "The Lord's way is not fair!" ✠ Sequentia sancti Evangelii secundum Ioannem
Ioann. 5, 1-15

In illo tempore: Erat dies festus Iudaeorum, et ascendit Iesus Ierosolymam. Est autem Ierosolymis Probatica piscina, quae cognominatur hebraice Bethsaida, quinque porticus habens. In his iacebat multitudo magna languentium, caecorum, claudorum, aridorum expectantium aquae motum. Angelus autem Domini descendebat secundum tempus in piscinam, et movebatur aqua. Et qui prior descendisset in piscinam post motionem aquae, sanus fiebat a quacumque detinebatur infirmitate. Erat autem quidam homo ibi, triginta et octo annos habens in infirmitate sua. Hunc cum vidisset Iesus iacentem, et cognovisset quia iam multum tempus haberet, dicit ei: Vis sanus fieri? Respondit ei languidus: Doa virtuous man turns away from virtue to commit iniquity, and dies, it is because of the iniquity he committed that he must die. But if a wicked man, turning from the wickedness he has committed, does what is right and just, he shall preserve his life; since he has turned away from all the sins which he committed, he shall surely live, he shall not die, says the Lord Almighty.

Gradual Ps. 85, 2 and 6 Save your servant, O my God, who trusts in you. ℣. Harken, O Lord, to my prayer.

Tract Ps. 102, 10 O Lord, deal not with us according to our sins, nor requite us according to our crimes. ℣. Ps. 78, 8-9 O Lord, remember not against us the iniquities of the past; may your compassion quickly come to us, for we are brought very low. ℣. Help us, O God, our savior, because of the glory of your name, O Lord; deliver us and pardon our sins for your name's sake.

✠ A Reading from the holy Gospel
according to John
John 5, 1-15

At that time, on the occasion of a Jewish feast, Jesus went up to Jerusalem. Now in Jerusalem, by the Sheep Pool, there is a place with the Hebrew name Bethesda. Its five porticoes were crowded with sick people lying there, blind, lame and disabled. One man was there who had been sick thirty-eight years. Jesus knew that he had been sick a long time; so when he saw him lying there, he said to him, "Do you want to be healed?" "Sir," the sick man answered, "I haven't anybody to plunge me into the pool once the water is stirred up. By the time I get there, somebody else has gone in ahead of me." Jesus said to him, "Stand up, pick up your mat, and walk." Immediately the man was healed; so he picked up his mat and began to walk. Now that day was a Sabbath; therefore the Jews kept telling the man who had been cured, "It's the Sabbath, and you are not allowed to carry that mat." He replied, "It was the man who healed me who told me, 'Pick up your mat and walk.'" "This person who told you to pick it up and walk," they asked, "who was he?" But the man who had been restored to health had no idea who it was, for, thanks to the crowd in that place, Jesus had slipped away. Later on Jesus found him in the Temple precincts and said to him, "Remember now, you have been healed. No more sinning, for fear that something worse happen to you." The man went off and informed the Jews that Jesus was the one who had healed him.

LONG FORM OF MASS

This form is to be used in the conventual Mass and in the Mass during which orders are conferred. In other Masses the shorter form given below may be used.

On Ember Saturday, the Mass during which orders are conferred is to be the Mass of the Saturday, even if a feast of class I or II occurs. In this Mass, the ritual prayer for the conferral of orders is added under one conclusion with the prayer which follows The Lord be with you; all commemorations are omitted, except privileged commemorations.

Entrance Antiphon

Ps. 87, 3

Let my prayer come before you; incline your ear to my call for help, O Lord. *Ps.

before the Lord, your God, 'I have purged my house of the sacred portion and I have given it to the Levite, the alien, the orphan and the widow, just as you have commanded me. In this I have not broken or forgotten any of your commandments. I have hearkened to the voice of the Lord, my God, doing just as you have commanded me. Look down, then, from heaven, your holy abode, and bless your people Israel and the soil you have given us in the land flowing with milk and honey which you promised on oath to our fathers.'

"This day the Lord, your God, commands you to observe these statutes and decrees. Be careful, then, to observe them with all your heart and with all your soul. Today you are making this agreement with the Lord: he is to be your God and you are to walk in his ways and observe his statutes, commandments and decrees, and to hearken to his voice. And today the Lord is making this agreement with you: you are to be a people peculiarly his own, as he promised you; and provided you keep all his commandments, he will then raise you high in praise and renown and glory above all other nations he has made, and you will be a people sacred to the Lord, your God, as he promised."

Gradual Ps. 78, 9 and 10 Pardon our sins, O Lord; why should the nations say, "Where is their God?" ℣. Help us, O God, our savior; because of the glory of your name, O Lord, deliver us.

After the first reading and gradual: Let us pray. Let us kneel. Let us stand.

Prayer

Look with kindness upon us, O God our protector. Remove the burden of sin that oppresses us, so that we may serve you with untroubled minds. Through Jesus Christ.

frugum tuarum, loqueris in conspectu Domini Dei tui: Abstuli quod sanctificatum est de domo mea, et dedi illud levitae, et advena, et pupillo, ac viduae, sicut iussisti mihi: non praeterivi mandata tua, nec sum oblitus imperii tui. Obedivi voci Domini Dei mei, et feci omnia sicut praecipisti mihi. Respice de sanctuario tuo, et de excelsis caelorum habitaculo, et benedic populo tuo Israel, et terrae, quam dedisti nobis, sicut iurasti patribus nostris, terrae lacte et melle mananti. Hodie Dominus Deus tuus praecipit tibi, ut facias mandata haec atque iudicia: et custodias, et impleas ex toto corde tuo, et ex tota anima tua. Dominum elegisti hodie, ut sit tibi Deus, et ambules in viis eius, et custodias caeremonias illius, et mandata atque iudicia, et obedias eius imperio. Et Dominus elegit te hodie, ut sis ei populus peculiaris, sicut locutus est tibi, et custodias omnia praecipita illius, et faciat te excelsiorem cunctis gentibus, quas creavit in laudem, et nomen, et gloriam suam: ut sis populus sanctus Domini Dei tui, sicut locutus est.

Graduale Ps. 78, 9 et 10 Propitius esto, Domine, peccatis nostris: ne quando dicant gentes: Ubi est Deus eorum? ℣. Adiuva nos, Deus salutaris noster: et propter honorem nominis tui, Domine, libera nos.

Paul the Apostle to the Thessalonians
1 Thess. 5, 14–23

Brethren: We exhort you, admonish those who are out of line, cheer up the faint of heart, support the weak, have patience towards all. See that no one returns evil to anyone, but always seek good for one another and for all men.

Rejoice always, pray without ceasing, re-turn thanks in every case, for such is God's will for you in Christ Jesus.

Do not stifle the Spirit: do not despise prophecies, but test all things, keeping what is good. Keep away from every ap-pearance of evil.

May the God of peace himself make you complete in holiness, and may you be preserved whole and entire, spirit, sense, and body, irreproachable at the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ.

Tract Ps. 116, 1–2 Praise the Lord, all you nations; glorify him, all you peoples! ℟. For steadfast is his kindness toward us, and the fidelity of the Lord endures forever.

✠ A Reading from the holy Gospel
according to Matthew
Matth. 17, 1–9

At that time Jesus took, Peter, James, and his brother John and led them up a high mountain by themselves. Then he was transfigured before their eyes: his face became as dazzling as the sun, his clothes as radiant as light. And suddenly Moses and Elia appeared to them, conversing with him. Then Peter spoke up and said to Jesus, "Lord, it is good that we are here. With your permission, I will set up three tents here: one for you, one for Moses, and one for Elia." He was still speaking when suddenly a bright cloud overshadowed them. And now a voice came out of the cloud, "This is my beloved Son, in whom I

But Jesus came to them, and laying his hand upon them said, “Get up and don’t be afraid.” When they looked up, they saw only Jesus, no one else. As they were coming down the mountain, Jesus gave them this command, “Don’t tell anyone of the vision until the Son of Man is raised from the dead.”

world to which I do not belong. That is why I told you that you would die in your sins. Unless you come to believe that I am what I am, you will surely die in your sins.” “Well then, who are you?” they asked him. Jesus said to them, “What I have been telling you from the beginning. Many are the things that I could say about you and condemn; but the only things I say in this world are what I have heard from him, the One who sent me, who is truthful.” They did not understand that he was talking to them about the Father. So Jesus continued, “When you lift up the Son of Man, then you will realize that I am what I am, and that I do nothing on my own. No, I say only those things that the Father taught me. And the One who sent me is with me. He has not left me alone since I always do what pleases him.”

Prayer

O Lord, fulfill in us the benefits of the holy lenten fast.* Teach us our duties and assist us with your grace to perform them. Through Jesus Christ.

A Reading from the Book of Kings 3 Kings 17, 8–16

In those days the Lord said to Elia, the Thesbite, “Get up and go to Sarepta of the Sidonians and stay there; I have designated a widow there to provide for you.” He got up and went to Sarepta. When he arrived at the entrance of the city, there was a widow gathering sticks; he called out to her: “Bring me a little jar of water to drink.” She left to get it, and he called out after her: “Bring me also a bit of bread.” “As the Lord, your God, lives,” she answered, “I have nothing baked; there is only a handful of flour in my jar and a little oil in my jug. Even now I am collecting a couple of sticks, to go in and prepare something for me and my son to eat before we die.” “Do not be

✠ A Reading from the holy Gospel
according to Matthew
Matth. 23, 1-12

At that time Jesus told the crowds and his disciples, “The scribes and the Pharisees have succeeded Moses as teachers. Therefore perform everything, observe everything they tell you, but do not follow their example. They do not practice what they preach. They tie up bundles that are burdensome and hard to carry, and lay them on men’s shoulders, while they themselves refuse to lift a finger to move them. All their works are performed to attract people’s attention: they widen their phylacteries and wear huge tassels; they are fond of the place of honor at banquets and of the front seats in synagogues, of marks of respect in public and of being called ‘Rabbi’ by other men. Now, as for you, avoid being called ‘Rabbi’; only one among you is the master, the rest of you are fellow-pupils.

Tuesday after the second Sunday in Lent

And do not call anyone on earth your father; only one is your father, the One in heaven. Avoid being called teachers; only one is your teacher, the Messiah. So the one who is the superior among you must be the servant of the rest. Whoever exalts himself will be humbled, and whoever humbles himself will be exalted.”

Nec vocemini magistri: quia Magister vester unus est, Christus. Qui maior est vestrum, erit minister vester. Qui autem se exaltaverit, humiliabitur: et qui se humiliaverit, exaltabitur.

At that time, as Jesus was starting to go up to Jerusalem, he took the Twelve aside on the road and said to them, "Now we are going up to Jerusalem, and the Son of Man will be handed over to the chief priests and scribes, and they will condemn him to death and hand him over to the pagans to be mocked, and flogged, and crucified. And he will be raised up on the third day."

Then the mother of Zebedee's sons came up to him, accompanied by her sons, to do him homage and to ask a favor of him. He said to her, "What do you want?" She said to him, "Promise that these two sons of mine will sit, one at your right, the other at your left, in your kingdom." In reply, Jesus said, "You do not realize what you are asking. Can you drink the cup which I am going to drink?" "We can," they said. He told them, "From my cup you shall indeed drink. But, as for sitting at my right or my left, that favor is not mine to grant; it is for those for whom it has been reserved by my Father." But the other ten, on hearing this, became indignant at the two brothers. Then Jesus called them together and said, "You know how those who rule the pagans lord it over them; their great men make their authority felt. Among you, it must not be that way. A Reading from the Prophet Jeremia
Jer. 17, 5–10

Léctio Ieremíæ Prophétæ
Jer. 17, 5–10

Thus says the Lord God:
Cursed is the man who trusts in human beings,
who seeks his strength in flesh,
whose heart turns away from the Lord.
He is like a barren bush in the desert that enjoys no change of season,
But stands in a lava waste,
a salt and empty earth.
Blessed is the man who trusts in the Lord,
whose hope is the Lord.
He is like a tree planted beside the waters that stretches out its roots to the stream:
It fears not the heat when it comes,
its leaves stay green;
In the year of drought it shows no distress,
but still bears fruit.
More tortuous than all else is the human heart,
beyond remedy; who can understand it?
I, the Lord, alone probe the mind and test the heart,
To reward everyone according to his ways,
according to the merit of his deeds:
says the Lord Almighty.

Hæc dicit Dóminus Deus: Maledíctus homo, qui confidit in hómine, et ponit carnem brácciuť suuť, et a Dómino recédit cor eius. Erit enim quasi myrícæ in desérto, et non vidébit cum vénerit bonuť: sed habitábit in siccítate in desérto, in terra salsúginis, et inhabitábili. Benedíctus vir, qui confidit in Dómino, et erit Dóminus fidúcia eius. Et erit quasi lignuť quod transplantátur super aquas, quod ad humórem mittit radíces suas: et non tímébit cum vénerit æstus. Et erit fóliuť eius víride, et in témpore siccítatis non erit sollicituť, nec aliquándo désinet fácere fructuť. Pravuť est cor ómnium, et inscrutábile: quis cognóscet illud? Ego Dóminus scrutans cor, et probans renes: qui do unicuťque iuxta viam suam, et iuxta fructuť adinventiÓnuť suárum: dicit Dóminus omnípotens.

At that time Jesus said to the Pharisees: "There was a rich man who was clothed in purple and linen and had a splendid banquet every day. And a beggar named Lazarus, covered with sores, lay at his gate. He longed to eat the scraps that fell from the rich man's table. And the dogs even came and licked his sores. Then the beggar died and was carried by the angels to repose on Abraham's bosom. The rich man also died and was buried. From the abode of the dead where he was in torments, he raised his eyes and saw Abraham far away and Lazarus reposing on his bosom. And he called out, saying: 'Father Abraham, have pity on me and send Lazarus to dip the tip of his finger in water to refresh my tongue, for I am tortured in these flames.' 'My child,' replied Abraham, 'remember that you received your good things in your lifetime and by the same token Lazarus received what was bad. Now he has found consolation here, but you have found torments. And that is not all: between you and us there is fixed a great abyss, so that those who might wish to cross from here to you cannot do so, and no one can cross from your side to us either.'

"'Father, I ask you then,' the rich man said, 'to send him to my father's house (for I have five brothers), to be a warning to them so that they may not arrive, too, in this place of torture.'

Offertory Antiphon

Exodus 32, 11, 12, 13 and 14

Moses prayed in the sight of the Lord his God, and said, “Why, O Lord, are you angry with your people? Let the anger of your soul be appeased; remember Abraham, Isaac and Jacob, to whom you swore that you would give the land flowing with milk and honey.” So the Lord relented in the punishment he had threatened to inflict on his people.

Gen. 37, 6-22

In those days Joseph said to his brothers: "Listen to this dream I had. We were binding sheaves in the field; my sheaf rose up and remained standing, while your sheaves gathered round and bowed down to my sheaf." His brothers answered, "Are you to be our king? Are you to rule over us?" And because of his dreams and words they hated him the more.

He had another dream which he also told to his brothers. "I had another dream," he said. "The sun, the moon and eleven stars were worshiping me." When he told that to his father and his brothers, his father reproved him. "What is this dream that you have had?" he said. "Can it be that I and your mother and your brothers will come to bow to the ground before you?" So his brothers envied him, while his father pondered the matter.

When his brothers had gone to pasture their father's flocks at Sichem, Israel said to Joseph, "Your brothers are pasturing the flocks at Sichem; get ready, I will send you to them." Joseph answered, "I am ready." "Go then," said Israel, "and see if all is well with your brothers and with the flocks; and bring back a report to me.” So he sent him from the valley of Hebron, and he came to Sichem. A man found Joseph wandering about in the fields and asked him, “What are you looking for?” “I am looking for my brothers,” he answered. “Tell me, please, where they are pasturing.” The man said, “They have moved on from here because I heard them say, ‘Let us go to Dothain.’” So Joseph went after his brothers and found them in Dothain. They saw him in the distance, and before he drew near them, they plotted to kill him. They said to one another, “Here comes that dreamer! Let us therefore kill him and throw him into a cistern; we can say that a wild beast devoured him. Let us see then what becomes of his dreams.”

But when Ruben heard of it, he tried to rescue him from them saying, “We must not kill him.” Then he continued, “Do not shed blood. Throw him into the cistern there in the desert, but do not lay a hand on him.” His purpose was to rescue him from them and restore him to his father.

tum parabolam hanc: Homo erat paterfamilias, qui plantavit vineam, et sepem circumdedit ei, et fodit in ea torcular, et edificavit turrim, et locavit eam agricolis, et peregre profectus est. Cum autem tempus fructuum appropinquasset, misit servos suos ad agricolas, ut acciperent fructus eius. Et agricolae, apprehensis servis eius, alium ceciderunt, alium occiderunt, alium vero lapidaverunt. Iterum misit alios servos plures prioribus, et fecerunt illis similiter. Novissime autem misit ad eos filium suum, dicens: Verebuntur filium meum. Agricolae autem videntes filium, dixerunt intra se: Hic est heres, venite occidamus eum, et habebimus hereditatem eius. Et apprehensum eum eiecerunt extra vineam, et occiderunt. Cum ergo venerit dominus vineae, quid faciet agricolis illis? Aiunt illi: Malos male perdet: et vineam suam locabit aliis agricolis, qui reddant ei fructum temporibus suis. Dicit illis Iesus: Numquam legistis in Scripturis: Lapidem, quem reprobaverunt edificantes, hic factus est in caput anguli? A Domino factum est istud, et est mirabile in oculis nostris. Ideo dico vobis, quia auferetur a vobis regnum Dei, et dabitur genti facienti fructus eius. Et qui ceciderit super lapidem istum, confringetur: super quem vero ceciderit, conteret eum. Et cum audissent principes sacerdotum et pharisaei parabolas eius, cognoverunt quod de ipsis diceret. Et quaerentes eum tenere, timuerunt turbas: quoniam sicut prophetam eum habebant.

“There was a property owner who planted a vineyard, put a hedge around it, dug out a vat and erected a tower. Then he leased it to tenant farmers and went off on a journey. When vintage time arrived, he dispatched his slaves to the tenants to obtain his share of the grapes. But the tenants seized the slaves, beating one, killing another, stoning a third. A second time he sent even more slaves than before, but they treated them the same way. So finally he sent his son to them, thinking, ‘They will respect my son.’ But when they saw the son, the tenants said to themselves, ‘Here’s the heir. Come on, let’s kill him and get his inheritance.’ Then they seized him, dragged him outside the vineyard, and killed him. So, when the owner of the vineyard comes, what will he do to those tenants?” They told him, “He will bring those evil men to an evil end, and he will lease his vineyard to other tenants who will supply him with grapes at vintage time.” Jesus said to them, “Did you never read in the Scriptures, ‘That stone which the builders rejected has become the cornerstone. This was the Lord’s doing—and it is wonderful in our eyes’? Consequently, I tell you that God’s dominion will be taken away from you and given to a people that will make it fruitful. The man who falls upon that stone will be smashed to bits, while it will crush any man on whom it falls.” When the chief priests and the Pharisees heard his parables, they realized that he was speaking about them. Yet, though they were seeking to arrest him, they had reason to fear the crowds since they regarded him as a prophet.

Gen. 27, 6–39

In those days Rebecca said to her son Jacob, "I heard your father tell your brother Esau, 'Bring me some game; prepare some savory food for me to eat, and then I will bless you in the sight of the Lord before I die.' Now my son, do what I tell you. Go to the flock and bring me two choice kids that I may make of them savory food for your father, such as he likes. Then bring it to your father to eat, that he may bless you before he dies." Jacob said to his mother Rebecca, "But Esau my brother is a hairy man, while I am smooth. If my father touches me, it will seem to him that I am mocking him. Thus I shall bring a curse on myself instead of a blessing." His mother replied, "Let the curse fall on me, my son! Do but listen to me; go, get them for me."

He went, selected them, and brought them to his mother, who prepared savory food such as his father liked. Then Rebecca took the best clothes of her elder son Esau, which she had in the house, and put them on her younger son Jacob. She put the skins of the kids on his hands and over the smooth parts of his neck. Then she gave her son Jacob the savory food and bread she had prepared. He went to his father and said, "Father!" He answered, "Here I am. Who are you, my son?" And Jacob said to his father, "I am Esau, your first-born. I have done as you told me; sit up, please! Eat again of my game, that you may bless me." Isaac replied, "How did you find it so quickly, my son?" He answered, "The Lord your God let me come upon it." Then Isaac said to Jacob, "Come close that I may touch you, my son, to know whether you are really my son Esau or not." Jacob went close to his father; Isaac touched him and said, "The voice is the voice of Jacob, but the hands are the hands of Esau." (He did not recognize him because his hands were hairy like those of his brother Esau, so he blessed him.)

Isaac said, "Are you really my son Esau?" Jacob answered, "Yes, I am." Isaac continued, "Set your game near me, my son, that I may eat it, and bless you." He set it before him and he ate of it, and he brought him some wine, which he drank. Then his father Isaac said to him, "Come close and kiss me, my son." He came close and kissed him. When he smelled the fragrance of his garments, he blessed him and said:

"The fragrance of my son is like the fragrance of a field which the Lord has blessed!
God give you dew from heaven,
and fruitfulness of the earth,
abundance of grain and wine.

Let nations serve you,
peoples bow down to you.
Be master of your brothers;
may your mother's sons bow down to you.
Cursed be those who curse you,
blessed be those who bless you."

Isaac had pronounced the blessing and Jacob had just left his father's presence, when his brother Esau returned from hunting. He also prepared savory food and brought it to his father, saying, "Sit up, father, and eat of your son's game, that you may bless me." His father Isaac said to him, "Who are you?" He answered, "I am Esau, your first-born son." Isaac was greatly disturbed, and asked, "Who was it, then, that hunted game and brought it to me? Before you came I ate heartily and then blessed him; and he shall be blessed." On hearing his father's words, Esau uttered a very loud and bitter cry, and said to him, "Father, bless me too." But he answered, "Your brother came deceitfully and received your blessing." Then he said, "Must he, true to his name Jacob, supplant me now a second time? He took my birthright and now he has taken my blessing." He Dixítque illi Isaac: Quis enim es tu? Qui respóndit: Ego sum fílius tuus primogénitus Esau. Luke 15, 11-32

At that time Jesus proposed this parable to the Pharisees and scribes: "A certain man had two sons. And the younger of them said to his father: 'Father, give me the share of the estate that is coming to me.' The father divided up the property. Some days later the younger son got together all his belongings and went off to a faraway country, and there squandered his money, living extravagantly. After he had spent everything, a great famine broke out in that country, and he began to be in dire need. So he went and fastened on to one of the propertied people of the place, who sent him to his farm to take care of the pigs. And he longed to fill his belly with the husks that the pigs ate, but no one gave him anything. Coming to his senses, he said, 'How many hired hands at my father's have more than enough to eat, while I am here starving with hunger! I will set out and go to my father, and say to him: 'Father, I have sinned against heaven and against you; I no longer deserve to be called your son. Regard me as one of your hired servants.' So he set off for his father's house. While he was still a long distance away, his father saw him and was moved to the heart. He ran out to him, threw his arms round his neck, and kissed him. The son said to him: 'Father, I have sinned against heaven and against you. I no longer deserve to be called your son.' But the father said to his servants: 'Quick! Bring out the best robe and put it on him; put a ring on his finger and shoes on his feet. Take the fatted calf and kill it, and let us eat and celebrate. For this son of mine was dead and has come back to life, he was lost and has been found.' And the celebration began. Meantime his elder son was out on the land. On his way back, as he neared the house, he heard the music and dancing. He called one of the servants and asked him what this meant. The servant answered: 'Your brother is home, and your father has killed the fatted calf, because he has got him back in good health.'

"But he was angry and would not go in. His father came out and began to plead with him. He answered his father: 'Look! For how many years have I slaved for you, never transgressing one of your orders, and you have never given me even a kid goat to celebrate with my friends. But when this son of yours returns, after having devoured your property with loose women, you kill the fatted calf for him.' 'My son,' replied the father, 'you are with me all the time, and everything of mine is yours. But we had to celebrate and rejoice, for this brother of yours was dead and has come back to life, he was lost and has been found.'"

Give light to my eyes that I may not sleep in death lest my enemy say, "I have overcome him."

longe esset, vidit illum pater ipsius, et misericórdia motus est, et accurrens cécidit super collum eius, et osculátus est eum. Dixítque ei fílius: Pater, peccávi in cælum, et coram te, iam non sum dignus vocári fílius tuus. Dixit autem pater ad servos suos: Cito proférte stolam primam, et indúite illum, et date ánnulum in manum eius, et calceaménta in pedes eius: et addúcite vítulum saginátum, et occídite, et manducémus, et epulémur, quia hic fílius meus mórtuus erat, et revíxit: perierat, et invéntus est. Et cœpérunt epulári. Erat autem fílius eius sénior in agro: et cum veníret, et appropinquáret dómui, audívit symphóniam, et chorum: et vocávit unum de servis, et interrogávit, quid hæc essent. Isque dixit illi: Frater tuus venit, et occídit pater tuus vítulum saginátum, quia sal-vum illum recépit. Indignátus est autem, et nolébat introíre. Pater ergo illíus egréssus, cœpit rogáre illum. At ille respóndens, dixit patri suo: Ecce tot annis sérvio tibi, et numquam mandátum tuum præterívi, et numquam dedísti mihi hædum, ut cum amícis meis epulárer: sed postquam fílius tuus hic, qui devorávit substántiam suam cum meretrícibus, venit, occidísti illi vítulum saginátum. At ipse dixit illi: Fili, tu semper mecum es, et ómnia mea tua sunt: epulári autem, et gaudére oportébat, quia frater tuus hic mórtuus erat, et revíxit: perierat, et invéntus est.

Illúmina óculos meos, ne umquam obdórmiam in morte: ne quando dicat inimícus meus: Præválui advérsus eum.

Prayer

O almighty God, fulfill the petitions of the humble;* and stretch forth the right hand of your power to defend us. Through Jesus Christ.

A Reading from the Epistle of blessed Paul the Apostle to the Ephesians
Ephes. 5, 1-9

Brethren: Be imitators of God as very dear children, and follow the way of love, as Christ also loved you and gave himself for us, an offering to God, a sacrifice of pleasing fragrance. As for fornication or any kind of uncleanness or lust, let it not be mentioned among you; such is the rule for the saints. Nor should there be any obscenity, or silly and suggestive talk; all that is out of place. Instead, give thanks. And make no mistake about this: no fornicator, no unclean or lustful person, who is really an idolator, has any inheritance in the kingdom of Christ and of God. Do not let anyone deceive you by worthless arguments; these are the sins that bring down God's wrath upon the disobedient; so have nothing to do with them. It is true that you were once darkness; but now you are light in the Lord. Live, then, as children of light; for light produces every kind of goodness and justice and truth.

Gradual Ps. 9, 20 and 4 Rise, O Lord, let not man prevail; let the nations be judged in your presence. ℣. Because my enemies are turned back, overthrown and destroyed before you.

Tract Ps. 122, 1-3 To you I lift up my eyes, who are enthroned in heaven. ℣. Behold, as the eyes of servants are on the hands of their masters. ℣. As the eyes of a maid are on the hands of her mistress, so are our eyes on the Lord our God, till he have pity on us. ℣. Have pity on us, O Lord, have pity on us.

Quæsumus, omnipotens Deus, vota humiliam respice: atque ad defensionem nostram, dexteram tuæ maiestatis extende. Per Dóminum.

Lectio Epistolæ beati Pauli
Apóstoli ad Ephésios
Ephes. 5, 1-9

Fratres: Estóte imitatóres Dei, sicut filii caríssimi: et ambuláte in dilectióne, sicut et Christus diléxit nos, et trádidit semetípsum pro nobis oblatiónem, et hóstiam Deo in odórem suavitátis. Fornicátio autem, et omnis immundítia, aut avarítia, nec nominétur in vobis, sicut decet sanctos: aut turpítudo, aut stultilóquium, aut scurrílitas, quæ ad rem non pértinet: sed magis gratiárum áctio. Hoc enim scitóte intellegéntes, quod omnis fornicátor, aut immúndus, aut avárus, quod est idolórum sérvitus, non habet hereditátem in regno Christi, et Dei. Nemo vos sedúcat inánibus verbis: propter hæc enim venit ira Dei in filios diffidéntiæ. Nolíte ergo effici partícipes eórum. Erátis enim aliquándó ténebræ: nunc autem lux in Dómino. Ut filii lucis ambuláte: fructus enim lucis est in omni bonitáte, et iustítia, et veritáte.

Graduale Ps. 9, 20 et 4 Exsúrge, Dómine, non præváleat homo: iudicéntur gentes in conspéctu tuo. ℣. In converténdo inimícum meum retrórsus, infirmabúntur, et períbunt a fácie tua.

Tractus Ps. 122, 1-3 Ad te levávi óculos meos, qui hábitas in cælis. ℣. Ecce sicut óculi servórum in má-nibus dominórum suórum. ℣. Et sicut óculi ancíllæ in má-nibus dómínæ suæ, ita óculi nostri ad Dóminum Deum nostrum, donec misereátur nostri. ℣. Miserére nobis, Dómine, miserére nobis.

✠ A Reading from the holy Gospel
according to Luke
Luke 11, 14–28

At that time Jesus was casting out a devil which was dumb; and when the devil was cast out the dumb man spoke. And the crowds were amazed. But some of them said: "It is by Beelzebul, the prince of devils, that he casts out devils." Others, to test him, were demanding of him a sign from heaven. But he, knowing their thoughts, said to them: "Every kingdom divided against itself is laid waste, and a house divided against itself falls. And if Satan is divided against himself how will his kingdom stand? Seeing that you say that it is by Beelzebul that I cast out devils. If it is by Beelzebul that I cast out devils, by whom do your people cast them out? Therefore they themselves will be your judges. But if it is by the finger of God that I cast out devils, then the kingdom of God has come upon you. When the strong man, fully armed, guards his courtyard, his things are undisturbed. But when someone stronger than himself comes and overpowers him, he carries off all his armor, on which he was relying, and divides the spoils. He who is not with me is against me, and he who does not gather with me scatters. When an unclean spirit has gone out of a man it wanders through parched regions seeking a resting-place; and, failing to find one, it says: "I will return to my former habitation." So it returns and finds the house swept and decorated. Then it goes off and takes with it seven other spirits worse than itself, and they enter in and dwell there. And the man's last state is worse than the first."

While he was saying this a woman from the crowd raised her voice and said: "Happy the womb that bore you and the breasts that fed you." "Rather," he replied, "happy are they who hear the word of God and keep it."

A Reading from the Book of Kings 4 Kings 5, 1-15

In those days Naaman, the commander of the army of the king of Aram, was highly esteemed and respected by his master, for through him the Lord had brought victory to Aram. But valiant as he was, the man was a leper. Now the Arameans had captured from the land of Israel in a raid a little girl, who became the servant of Naaman's wife. "If only my master would present himself to the prophet in Samaria," she remarked to her mistress, "he would cure him of his leprosy." Naaman went and told his lord just what the slavegirl from the land of Israel had said. "Go," said the king of Aram, "I will send along a letter to the king of Israel." So Naaman set out, taking along ten silver talents, six thousand gold pieces, and ten festal garments. To the king of Israel he brought the letter, which read, "With this letter I am sending my servant Naaman to you, that you may cure him of his leprosy."

When he read the letter, the king of Israel tore his garments and exclaimed, "Am I a god with power over life and death, that this man should send someone to me to be cured of leprosy? Take note, see how he is only looking for a chance to quarrel with me!" When the man of God, Eliseus, heard that the king of Israel had torn his garments, he sent word to the king, "Why have you torn your garments? Let him come to me and find out that there is a prophet in Israel."

Naaman came with his horses and chariot

and stopped at the door of Eliseus' house. The prophet sent him the message: "Go and wash seven times in the Jordan, and your flesh will heal and you will be clean." But Naaman became indignant and left, saying, "I thought that he would surely come out and stand there to invoke the Lord his God, and would move his hand over the spot and thus cure the leprosy. Are not the rivers of Damascus, the Abana and the Pharphar, better than all the waters of Israel? Could I not wash in them and be cleansed?" So he turned about and left in anger.

But his servants came up and reasoned with him. "My father," they said, "if the prophet had told you to do something extraordinary, you would have done it, would you not? All the more now, since he said to you, 'Wash and be clean.'" So Naaman went down and plunged into the Jordan seven times, at the word of the man of God. His flesh became again the flesh of a little child, and he was clean.

He returned with his whole retinue to the man of God. On his arrival he stood before him and said, "Now I know that there is no God in all the earth, except in Israel."

Numquid non meliores sunt Abana et Pharphar, fluvii Damasci, omnibus aquis Israel, ut laver in eis, et munder? Cum ergo vertisset se, et abiret indignans, accesserunt ad eum servi sui, et locuti sunt ei: Pater, et si rem grandem dixisset tibi propheta, certe facere debueras: quanto magis quia nunc dixit tibi: Lavare, et mundaberis? Descendit, et lavit in Iordane septies, iuxta sermonem viri Dei, et restituta est caro eius, sicut caro pueri parvuli, et mundatus est. Reversusque ad virum Dei cum universo comitatu suo, venit, et stetit coram eo, et ait: Vero scio, quod non sit alius Deus in universa terra, nisi tantum in Israel.

Graduale Ps. 55, 9 et 2 Deus, vitam meam annuntiavi tibi: posuisti lacrimas meas in conspectu tuo. ℣. Miserere mei, Domine, quoniam conculcavit me homo: tota die bellans tribulavit me.

✠ A Reading from the holy Gospel
according to Luke
Luke 4, 23–30

At that time Jesus said to the Pharisees: “You will doubtless quote me the saying: ‘Doctor, cure yourself.’ ‘Do here in your own country the things we have heard you did in Capharnaum.’”

“But to tell you the truth,” he added, “No prophet gains acceptance in his own country. I tell you there were certainly many widows in Israel in the days of Elia, when heaven remained closed for three years and six months, and a great famine spread over the whole countryside, but it was to none of these that Elia was sent, but to a widow woman in Sarepta in Sidon. Besides, there were many lepers in Israel in the time of Eliseus, the prophet, and not one of them was cleansed except Naaman the Syrian.” At these words the whole audience in the synagogue were filled with indignation. They rose up, expelled him from the town, and led him to the brow of the hill on which their town was built, intending to hurl him over the top. But he went straight through their midst and walked away.

Then enter and close the door on yourself and your children; pour the oil into all the vessels, and as each is filled, set it aside.” She left him and closed the door on herself and her children. As they handed her the vessels, she would pour in oil. When all the vessels were filled, she said to her son, “Bring me another vessel.” “There is none left,” he answered her. And then the oil stopped. She went and told the man of God, and he said, “Go and sell the oil to pay your debts. With what remains, you and your children can live.”

At that time Jesus said to his disciples: “If your brother wrongs you, go and point out his fault, but keep it between the two of you. If he listens to you, you have won back your brother. But if he does not listen, take one or two others along with you so that every case may be settled by the testimony of two or three witnesses. Then, if he refuses to listen to them, refer it to the Church. If he refuses to listen even to the Church, then treat him as you would a pagan or a tax collector. I assure you, whatever you declare unlawful upon earth will be held unlawful in heaven; and whatever you declare lawful upon earth will be held lawful in heaven. A Reading from the Book of Exodus
Exodus 20, 12-24

Thus says the Lord God: "Honor your father and your mother, that you may have a long life in the land which the Lord, your God, is giving you.

"You shall not kill.

"You shall not commit adultery.

"You shall not steal.

"You shall not bear false witness against your neighbor.

"You shall not covet your neighbor's house. You shall not covet your neighbor's wife, nor his male or female slave, nor his ox or ass, nor anything else that belongs to him."

When the people witnessed the thunder and lightning, the trumpet blast and the mountain smoking, they all feared and trembled. So they took up a position much farther away and said to Moses, "You speak to us, and we will listen; but let not God speak to us, or we shall die." Moses answered the people, "Do not be afraid, for God has come to you only to test you and put his fear upon you, lest you should sin."

Still the people remained at a distance, while Moses approached the cloud where God was.

The Lord told Moses, “Thus shall you speak to the Israelites: You have seen for yourselves that I have spoken to you from heaven. Do not make anything to rank with me; neither gods of silver nor gods of gold shall you make for yourselves.

“An altar of earth you shall make for me, and upon it you shall sacrifice your holocausts and peace offerings, your sheep and your oxen in whatever place I choose for the remembrance of my name.”

Hypocritae, bene prophetavit de vobis Isaias, dicens: Pópulus hic labiis me honorat: cor autem eorum longe est a me. Sine causa autem colunt me, docentes doctrinas et mandata hominum. Et convocatis ad se turbis, dixit eis: Audite, et intelligite. Non quod intrat in os, coinquinat hominem: sed quod procedit ex ore, hoc coinquinat hominem. Tunc accedentes discipuli eius, dixerunt ei: Scis quia pharisaei, audito verbo hoc, scandalizati sunt? At ille respondens, ait: Omnis plantatio, quam non plantavit Pater meus caelestis, eradicabitur. Sinite illos: caeci sunt, et duces caecorum. Caecus autem si caeco ducatum praestet, ambo in foveam cadunt. Respondens autem Petrus, dixit ei: Edissere nobis parabola istam. At ille dixit: Adhuc et vos sine intellectu estis? Non intelligitis, quia omne quod in os intrat, in ventrem vadit, et in secessum emittitur? Quae autem procedunt de ore, de corde exeunt, et ea coinquinant hominem: de corde enim exeunt cogitationes malae, homicidia, adulteria, fornicationes, furta, falsa testimonia, blasphemiae. again, ‘Whoever curses father or mother shall be put to death.’ Yet you declare, ‘Whoever says to his father or his mother, “Any support you might have had from me is dedicated to God,” need not honor his father or his mother.’ So, for the sake of your tradition, you have nullified God’s word. You hypocrites, how accurately did Isaias prophesy about you, when he said, ‘This people pays me lip service, but their heart is far from me. Empty is the reverence they do me, imparting as doctrines mere human precepts.’ He summoned the crowd and said to them, “Listen, and try to understand. It is not what goes into his mouth that makes a man unclean; it is what comes out of his mouth, that is what makes him unclean.” Then his disciples came up to him and said, “Do you realize that the Pharisees were scandalized when they heard your pronouncement?” “Every plant which my heavenly Father has not planted shall be rooted up,” he replied. “Let them go their own way. They are nothing but blind guides of the blind. And if one blind man guides another, they are both going to fall into a hole.” Then Peter said to him, “Explain the proverb to us.” “Are you too still incapable of understanding?” he asked. “Don’t you see that everything that enters into the mouth passes into the stomach and is discharged into the sewer? But what comes out of the mouth comes from the mind—that is what makes a man unclean. From the mind come evil designs: murder, adultery, fornication, stealing, false witness, blasphemy. These are the things that make a man unclean. But as for eating with unwashed hands—that makes no man unclean.”

In those days the following message came to Jeremia from the Lord: Stand at the gate of the house of the Lord, and there proclaim this message: Hear the word of the Lord, all you of Juda who enter these gates to worship the Lord! Thus says the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel: Reform your ways and your deeds, so that I may remain with you in this place. Put not your trust in the deceitful words: "This is the temple of the Lord! The temple of the Lord! The temple of the Lord!" Only if you thoroughly reform your ways and your deeds; if each of you deals justly with his neighbor; if you no longer oppress the resident alien, the orphan, and the widow; if you no longer shed innocent blood in this place, or follow strange gods to your own harm, will I remain with you in this place, in the land which I gave your fathers long ago and forever, says the Lord Almighty.

In those days the Israelites held a council against Moses and Aaron, and they con- tended with Moses, exclaiming, "Give us water to drink!" But Moses and Aaron went away from the assembly to the entrance of the Meeting Tent, where they fell prostrate. They cried out to the Lord, "O Lord, God, hear the cry of this people and open up your treasure to them, the fountain of living water, that they may be satisfied and stop their murmuring." Then the glory of the Lord appeared to them, and the Lord said to Moses, "Take the staff and assemble the community, you and your brother Aaron, and in their presence order the rock to yield its waters. From the rock you shall bring forth water for the community and their livestock to drink." So Moses took the staff from its place before the Lord, as he was ordered. He and Aaron assembled the community in front of the rock, where he said to them, "Listen to me, you rebels! Are we to bring water for you out of this rock?"

Then, raising his hand, Moses struck the rock twice with his staff, and water gushed out in abundance for the community and their livestock to drink. Dicit ei mulier: Domine, neque in quo haurias habes, et puteus altus est: unde ergo habes aquam vivam? Numquid tu maior es patre nostro Iacob, qui dedit nobis puteum, et ipse ex eo bibit, et filii eius, et pecora eius? Respondit Iesus, et dixit ei: Omnis, qui bibit ex aqua hac, sitiet iterum: qui autem biberit ex aqua, quam ego dabo ei, non sitiet in aeternum: sed aqua, quam ego dabo ei, fiet in eo fons aquae salientis in vitam aeternam. Dicit ad eum mulier: Domine, da mihi hanc aquam, ut non sitiam, neque veniam huc haurire. Dicit ei Iesus: Vade, voca virum tuum, et veni huc. Respondit mulier, et dixit: Non habeo virum. Dicit ei Iesus: Bene dixisti, quia non habeo virum: quinque enim viros habuisti, et nunc, quem habes, non est tuus vir: hoc vere dixisti. Dicit ei mulier: Domine, video, quia propheta es tu. Patres nostri in monte hoc adoraverunt, et vos dicitis, quia Ierosolymis est locus, ubi adorare oportet. Dicit ei Iesus: Mulier, crede mihi, quia venit hora, quando neque in monte hoc, neque in Ierosolymis adorabitis Patrem. Vos adoratis quod nescitis: nos adoramus quod scimus, quia salus ex Iudaeis est. Sed venit hora, et nunc est, quando veri adoratores adorabunt Patrem in spiritu et veritate. Nam et Pater tales quaerit, qui adorent eum. Spiritus est Deus: et eos, qui adorant eum, in spiritu et veritate oportet adorare. Dicit ei mulier: Scio, quia Messias venit (qui dicitur Christus). Cum ergo venerit ille, nobis annuntiabit omnia. Dicit ei Iesus: Ego sum, qui loquor tecum. Et continuo venerunt discipuli eius: et mirabantur, quia cum muliere loquebatur. Nemo tamen dixit: Quid quaeris, aut quid loqueris cum ea? common with Samaritans.) Jesus replied: "If you only recognized God's gift and who it is that says to you, 'Give me a drink,' you would have asked him instead, and he would have given you living water." "Sir," she addressed him, "you haven't even a bucket, and this well is deep. Where, then, are you going to get this flowing water? Surely you don't pretend to be greater than our ancestor Jacob who gave us this well and drank from it with his sons and his flocks?" Jesus replied: "Everyone who drinks this water will be thirsty again. But whoever drinks the water I shall give him shall never be thirsty; rather, the water I shall give will become a fountain of water within him leaping up for eternal life." The woman said to him, "Give me this water, sir, so that I won't get thirsty and have to come here to draw water." He told her, "Go, call your husband, and come back here." "I have no husband," the woman replied. Jesus told her, "Right you are in claiming to have no husband. In fact, you have had five husbands, and the man you have now is not your husband. There you've told the truth!" "Sir," the woman answered him, "I can see that you are a prophet. Our ancestors worshiped on this mountain, but you people claim that the place where men ought to worship God is in Jerusalem." Jesus told her, "Believe me, woman, an hour is coming when you will worship the Father neither on this mountain, nor in Jerusalem. You people worship what you do not understand, while we understand what we worship; after all, salvation is from the Jews. Yet an hour is coming and is now here when the real worshipers will worship the Father in Spirit and truth. And indeed, it is just such worshipers that the Father seeks. God is Spirit, and those who worship him must worship in Spirit and truth." The woman said to him, "I know there is a Messiah coming. (This term means "Anoint-ed.”) Whenever he comes, he will announce all things to us.” Jesus declared to her, “I who speak to you—I am he.” Now just then his disciples came along, and they were surprised that he was speaking with a woman. However, no one asked, “What do you want?” or “Why are you talking with her?” And so, leaving her water jar, the woman went off into the town and told the people, “Come and see someone who has told me everything that I have ever done! Might this not be the Messiah?” They set out from the town to meet him. Meanwhile the disciples were urging him, “Rabbi, eat something.” But he told them, “I have food to eat that you know nothing about.” At that the disciples said to one another, “You don’t suppose that someone has brought him something to eat?” Jesus explained to them, “Doing the will of him who sent me and accomplishing his work—that is my food. Do you not have a saying: ‘Four more months and the harvest will be here’? Why, I tell you, open your eyes and look at the fields; they are ripe for harvest! The reaper is already collecting his wages and gathering fruit for eternal life so that both sower and reaper can rejoice together. For here we have the saying verified: ‘One man sows; another reaps.’ What I sent you to reap has not come from your labors. Others have done the hard work and you have come in for the fruit.” Now many Samaritans from the town believed in him on the woman’s word; “He told me everything that I have ever done,” she testified. Consequently, when these Samaritans came to him, they begged him to stay with them. So he stayed there two days, and because of his word many more came to faith. As they told the woman, “No longer is our faith based on what you said. For we have heard for ourselves, and we know that this is really the Savior of the world.”

Dicebant ergo discipuli ad invicem: Numquid aliquis attulit ei manducare? Dicit eis Iesus: Meus cibus est, ut faciam voluntatem eius, qui misit me, ut perficiam opus eius. Nonne vos dicitis, quod adhuc quatuor menses sunt, et messis venit? Ecce dico vobis: Levate oculos vestros, et videte regiones, quia albæ sunt iam ad messem. Et qui metit, mercedem accipit, et congregat fructum in vitam æternam: ut, et qui seminatur, simul gaudeat, et qui metit. In hoc enim est verbum verum: quia alius est qui seminatur, et alius est qui metit. Ego misi vos metere quod vos non laborastis: alii laboraverunt, et vos in labores eorum introistis. Ex civitate autem illa multi crediderunt in eum Samaritanorum, propter verbum mulieris testimonium perhibentis: Quia dixit mihi omnia quaecumque feci. Cum venissent ergo ad illum Samaritani, rogaverunt eum, ut ibi maneret. Et mansit ibi duos dies. Et multo plures crediderunt in eum propter sermonem eius. Et mulieri dicebant: Quia iam non propter tuam loquelam credimus: ipsi enim audivimus, et scimus, quia hic est vere Salvator mundi.

A Reading from the Prophet Daniel Dan. 13, 1-9, 15-17, 19-30, 33-62

In those days in Babylon there lived a man named Joakim, who married a very beautiful and God-fearing woman, Susanna, the daughter of Helcia; her pious parents had trained their daughter according to the law of Moses. Joakim was very rich; he had a garden near his house, and the Jews had recourse to him often because he was the most respected of them all.

That year, two elders of the people were appointed judges, of whom the Lord said, "Wickedness has come out of Babylon from the elders who were to govern the people as judges." These men, to whom all brought their cases, frequented the house of Joakim. When the people left at noon, Susanna used to enter her husband's garden for a walk. When the old men saw her enter every day for her walk, they began to lust for her. They suppressed their consciences; they would not allow their eyes to look to heaven, and did not keep in mind just judgments.

One day, while they were waiting for the right moment, she entered the garden as usual, with two maids only. She decided to bathe, for the weather was warm. Nobody else was there except the two elders, who had hidden themselves and were watching her. "Bring me oil and soap," she said to the maids, "and shut the garden doors while I bathe."

As soon as the maids had left, the two

Léctio Daniélis Prophætæ Dan. 13, 1-9, 15-17, 19-30 et 33-62

In diébus illis: Erat vir hábitans in Babylóne, et nomen eius Ióakim: et accépit uxórem nómine Susánnam, filiam Helciæ, pulchram nimis, et timéntem Deum: paréntes enim illíus, cum essent iusti, erudiérunt filiam suam secúndum legem Móysi. Erat autem Ióakim dives valde, et erat ei pomárium vicínium dómui suæ: et ad ipsum confluébant Iudæi, eo quod esset honorabílior ómnium. Et constitúti sunt de pópulo duo senes iúdice in illo anno: de quibus locúsus est Dóminus: Quia egréssa est iniquitas de Babylóne a senióribus iudícibus, qui videbántur régere pópulum. Isti frequentábant domum Ióakim, et veniébant ad eos omnes, qui habébant iudícia. Cum autem pópulus revertísset per merídiem, ingrediebátur Susánna, et deambulábat in pomário viri sui. Et vidébant eam senes cotídie ingrediéntem, et deambulántem: et exarsérunt in concupiscéntiam eius: et evertérunt sensum suum, et declinavérunt óculos suos, ut non vidérent cælum, neque recordaréntur iudiciórum iustórum. Factum est autem, cum observárent diem aptum, ingrèssa est aliquándo sicut heri et nudiustértius, cum duábus solis puéllis, voluítque lavári in pomário: æstus quippe erat, et non erat ibi quisquam, præter duos senes absconditos, et contemplántes eam. Dixit ergo puéllis: Afférte mihi óleum et smígmata. et óstia pomárii cláudite, ut laver. Cum autem egréssæ essent puéllæ, surre-xérunt duo senes, et accurrérunt ad eam, et dixerunt: Ecce óstia pomárii clausa sunt, et nemo nos videt, et nos in concupiscéntia tui sumus: quam ob rem assentíre nobis, et commiscére nobíscum. Quod si nolúeris, dicémus contra te testimónium, quod fúerit tecum iúvenis, et ob hanc causam emíseris puéllas a te. Ingémuit Susánna, et ait: Angústia sunt mihi úndique: si enim hoc égero, mors mihi est: si autem non égero, non effúgiam manus vestras. Sed mélius est mihi absque ópere incidere in manus vestras, quam peccáre in conspéctu Dómini. Et exclamávit voce magna Susánna: exclamavérunt autem et senes advérsus eam. Et cucúrrit unus ad óstia pomárii et apéruit. Cum ergo audíssent clamórem fámuli domus in pomário, irruérunt per postícum, ut vidérent quidnam esset. Postquam autem senes locúti sunt, erubuérunt servi veheménter: quia numquam dictus fúerat sermo huiuscémodi de Susánna. Et facta est dies crástina. Cumque veníisset pópulus ad Ióakim virum eius, venérunt et duo senióres pleni iníqua cogitatióne advérsus Susánnam, ut interficerent eam. Et dixerunt coram pópulo: Míttite ad Susánnam fíliam Helcíæ, uxórem Ióakim. Et statim misérunt. Et venit cum paréntibus, et fíliis, et univérsis cognátis suis. Flebant ígitur sui, et omnes qui nóverant eam. Consurgéntes autem duo senióres in médio pópuli, posuérunt manus suas super caput eius. Quæ flens suspéxit ad cælum: erat enim cor eius fidúciam habens in Dómino. Et dixerunt senióres: Cum deambularémus in pomário soli, ingrèssa est hæc cum duábus puéllis: et clausit óstia pomárii, et dimísit a se puéllas. Venítque ad eam adoléscent, qui erat absconditus, et concúbuit cum ea. Porro nos, cum essémus in ángulo pomárii, vidéntes iniquitátem cucúrrimus ad eos, et vídimus eos páriter commiscéri. old men got up and hurried to her. "Look," they said, "the garden doors are shut, and no one can see us; give in to our desire, and lie with us. If you refuse, we will testify against you that you dismissed your maids because a young man was here with you." "I am completely trapped," Susanna groaned. "If I yield, it will be my death; if I refuse, I cannot escape your power. Yet it is better for me to fall into your power without guilt than to sin before the Lord." Then Susanna shrieked, and the old men also shouted at her, as one of them ran to open the garden doors. When the people in the house heard the cries from the garden, they rushed in by the side gate to see what had happened to her. At the accusations by the old men, the servants felt very much ashamed, for never had any such thing been said about Susanna.

When the people came to her husband Joakim the next day, the two wicked elders also came, fully determined to put Susanna to death. Before all the people they ordered: "Send for Susanna, the daughter of Helcia, the wife of Joakim." When she was sent for, she came with her parents, children and all her relatives. All her relatives and the onlookers were weeping.

In the midst of the people the two elders rose up and laid their hands on her head, Through her tears she looked up to heaven. for she trusted in the Lord wholeheartedly. The elders made this accusation: "As we were walking in the garden alone, this woman entered with two girls and shut the doors of the garden, dismissing the girls. A young man, who was hidden there, came and lay with her. When we, in a corner of the garden, saw this crime, we ran toward them. We saw them lying together, but the man we could not hold, because he was stronger than we; he opened the doors and ran off. Then we seized this one and asked who the young man was, but she refused to tell us.

Saturday after the third Sunday in Lent

We testify to this.” The assembly believed them, since they were elders and judges of the people, and they condemned her to death.

But Susanna cried aloud: “O eternal God, you know what is hidden and are aware of all things before they come to be: you know that they have testified falsely against me. Here I am about to die, though I have done none of the things with which these wicked men have charged me.”

The Lord heard her prayer. As she was being led to execution, God stirred up the holy spirit of a young boy named Daniel, and he cried aloud: “I will have no part in the death of this woman.” All the people turned and asked him, “What is this you are saying?” He stood in their midst and continued, “Are you such fools, O Israelites! To condemn a woman of Israel without examination and without clear evidence? Return to court, for they have testified falsely against her.”

Then all the people returned in haste. To Daniel the elders said, “Come, sit with us and inform us, since God has given you the prestige of old age.” But he replied, “Separate these two far from one another, that I may examine them.”

After they were separated one from the other, he called one of them and said: “How you have grown evil with age! Now have your past sins come to term: passing unjust sentences, condemning the innocent, and freeing the guilty, although the Lord says, ‘The innocent and the just you shall not put to death.’ Now, then, if you were a witness, tell me under what tree you saw them together.” “Under a mastic tree,” he answered. “Your fine lie has cost you your head,” said Daniel; “for the angel of God shall receive the sentence from him and split you in two.” Putting him to one side, he ordered the other one to be brought. “Offspring of Chanaan, not of Juda,” nam esset adolescens, et noluit indicare nobis: huius rei testes sumus. Credidit eis multitudo quasi senibus, et iudicibus populi, et condemnaverunt eam ad mortem. Exclamavit autem voce magna Susanna, et dixit: Deus aeternae, qui absconditorum es cognitor, qui nosti omnia antequam fiant, tu scis quoniam falsum testimonium tulerunt contra me: et ecce morior, cum nihil horum fecerim, quae isti malitiose composuerunt adversum me. Exaudivit autem Dominus vocem eius. Cumque duceretur ad mortem, suscitavit Dominus spiritum sanctum pueri iunioris, cuius nomen Daniel. Et exclamavit voce magna: Mundus ego sum a sanguine huius. Et conversus omnis populus ad eum, dixit: Quis est iste sermo, quem tu locutus es? Qui cum staret in medio eorum, ait: Sic fatui, filii Israel, non iudicantes, neque quod verum est cognoscetes, condemnastis filiam Israel? Revertimini ad iudicium, quia falsum testimonium locuti sunt adversus eam. Reversus est ergo populus cum festinatione. Et dixit ad eos Daniel: Separate illos ab invicem procul, et diiudicabo eos. Cum ergo divisi essent alter ab altero, vocavit unum de eis, et dixit ad eum: Inverte te diem malorum, nunc venerunt peccata tua, quae operaberis prius: iudicans iudicia iniusta, innocentes opprimens, et dimittens noxios, dicente Domino: Innocentem et iustum non interficies. Nunc ergo si vidisti eam, dic sub qua arbore videris eos colloquentes sibi. Qui ait: Sub schino. Dixit autem Daniel: Recte mentitus es in caput tuum. Ecce enim Angelus Dei, accepta sententia ab eo, scindet te medium. Et, amoto eo, iussit venire alium, et dixit ei: Semen Chanaan, et non Iuda, species decipit te, et concupiscentia subvertit cor tuum: sic faciebatis filiabus Israel, et illae timentes loquebantur vobis: sed filia Iuda non sustinuit iniquitatem vestram. Nunc ergo dic mihi, sub qua arbore comprehenderis eos loquentes sibi: Qui ait: Sub prino. Dixit autem ei Daniel: Recte mentitus es et tu in caput tuum: manet enim Angelus Dómini, gládium habens, ut secet te médium, et interficiat vos. Exclamávit itaque omnis cœtus voce magna, et benedixerunt Deum, qui salvat sperántes in se. Et consurrexerunt advérsus duos senióres (convícerat enim eos Dániel ex ore suo falsum dixisse testimóniam), fecerúntque eis sicut male égerant advérsus próximum: et interfecerunt eos, et salvátus est sanguis innóxius in die illa.

Daniel said to him, “beauty has seduced you, lust has subverted your conscience. This is how you acted with the daughters of Israel, and in their fear they yielded to you; but a daughter of Juda did not tolerate your wickedness. Now, then, tell me under what tree you surprised them together.” “Under an oak,” he said. “Your fine lie has cost you also your head,” said Daniel; “for the angel of God waits with a sword to cut you in two so as to make an end of you both.”

The whole assembly cried aloud, blessing God who saves those that hope in him. They rose up against the two elders, for by their own words Daniel had convicted them of perjury. According to the Law of Moses, they inflicted on them the penalty they had plotted to impose on their neighbor: they put them to death. Thus was innocent blood spared that day.

A Reading from the Epistle of blessed
Paul the Apostle to the Ephesians
Ephes. 6, 10–17

Brethren: Draw your strength from the Lord and from his mighty power. Put on the armor of God, that you may be able to stand firm against the wiles of the devil. For our battle is not against flesh and blood, but against the Principalities and the Powers, against the rulers of this world of darkness, against the evil spirits in regions above. You must take up the armor of God, if you are to resist on the evil day, to do your whole duty, and to hold your ground. So stand fast with the truth as the belt that girds you, and with justice as your breastplate, and with zeal for the gospel of peace on your feet. In all circumstances take up faith as your shield; it will enable you to extinguish all the fiery darts of the evil one. Take also the helmet of salvation and the sword of the Spirit, which is the word of God.

✠ A Reading from the holy Gospel
according to John
John 8, 1–11

At that time Jesus went out to the Mount of Olives. But at daybreak he again made his appearance in the Temple precincts; and when all the people started coming to him, he sat down and began teaching them. Then the scribes and Pharisees led forward a woman who had been caught in adultery and made her stand there in front of everyone. “Teacher,” they said to him, “this woman has been caught in the very act of adultery. Now, in the Law, Moses ordered that such women be stoned. But you—what do you have to say about it?” (They posed this question to trap him so that they could have something to charge him with.) But Jesus simply bent down and started drawing on the ground with his finger. When they persisted in their questioning, he straightened up and said to them, “Let the first of you to throw a stone at her be the man who has no sin.” And he bent down again and started to write on the ground. But the entire audience went away one by one, starting with the elders; and he was left alone with the woman still in front of him. So Jesus, straightening up, said to her, “Woman, where are they all? Hasn’t anybody condemned you?” “No one, sir,” she answered. Jesus said, “Nor will I condemn you. You may go. From now on, stop sinning.”

A Reading from the Epistle of blessed
Paul the Apostle to the Galatians
Gal. 4, 22–31

Léctio Epístolæ beáti Pauli
Gal. 4, 22–31

Brethren: It is written that Abraham had two sons, one from the slave-girl the other from his free-born wife. The son of the slave-girl had been born according to the flesh, but the son of the free woman was the fruit of the promise. All this is an allegory. The two women stand for the two covenants, one of which was from Mt. Sinai (a mountain in Arabia), bringing forth children into slavery; this is Agar, and corresponds to the Jerusalem of our time, which also is in slavery along with her children. But the Jerusalem on high is free-born, and it is she who is our mother! That is why the Scripture says, “Raise a glad cry, you barren one who did not bear; break forth in jubilant song, you who were not in labor. For more numerous are the children of the deserted wife than the children of her who has a husband.” Now you, my brothers, are children of the promise, in the manner of Isaac. But just as in those days the son born according to the flesh persecuted the one born according to the spirit, it is the very same now. But what does Scripture say? “Cast out the slave-girl with her son; for the son of the slave-girl shall not be heir with the son of the freeborn woman.” Therefore, my brothers, we are children not of a slave-girl but of a mother who is free; by the freedom wherewith Christ has made us free.

Gradual Ps. 121, 1 and 7 I rejoiced because they said to me, “We will go up to the house of the Lord.” ℟. May peace be within your walls, prosperity in your buildings.

Sed qui de ancílla, secúndum carnem natus est: qui autem de líbera, per repromissiónem: quæ sunt per allegoríam dicta. Hæc enim sunt duo testaménta. Unum quidem in monte Sina, in servitútem génerans: quæ est Agar: Sina enim mons est in Arábia, qui coniúctus est ei, quæ nunc est Ierúsalem, et servit cum fíliis suis. Illa autem, quæ sursum est Ierúsalem, líbera est, quæ est mater nostra. Scríptum est enim: Lætáre, stérilis, quæ non paris: erúmpe, et clama, quæ non párturis: quia multi fílii desértæ, magis quam eius, quæ habet virum. Nos autem, fratres, secúndum Isaac promissiónis fílii sumus. Sed quómodo tunc is, qui secúndum carnem natus fúerat, persequébatur eum, qui secúndum spírítum: ita et nunc. Sed quid dicit Scríptúra? ✠ A Reading from the holy Gospel
John 6, 1-15

At that time Jesus crossed the Sea of Galilee to the shore of Tiberias, but a vast crowd kept following him because they saw the signs he was performing on the sick. So Jesus went up the mountain and sat down there with his disciples. The Jewish feast of Passover was near. When Jesus looked up and caught sight of a vast crowd coming toward him, he said to Philip, "Where shall we ever buy bread for them to eat?" (Of course, he was aware of what he was going to do, but he asked this to test him.) Philip replied, "With two-hundred days' wages we could not buy loaves enough to let each of them have a morsel." One of his disciples, Andrew, Simon Peter's brother, remarked to him, "There is a lad here who has five barley loaves and a couple of dried fish, but what good is that for so many?" Jesus said, "Get these people to take their places on the ground." Now the men numbered about five thousand, but there was plenty of grass there for them to find a place. Jesus then took the loaves of bread, gave thanks, and passed them around to those reclining there; and he did the same with the dried fish—just as much as they wanted. When they had enough, he told his disciples, "Collect the fragments that are left over so that nothing will perish." And so they collected twelve baskets full of fragments left over by those who had fed upon the five barley loaves. Now when the people saw the sign he had performed, they began to say, "This is undoubtedly the Prophet

A Reading from the Book of Kings 3 Kings 3, 16–28

In those days two harlots came to King Solomon and stood before him. One woman said, "By your leave, my lord, this woman and I live in the same house, and I gave birth in the house while she was present. On the third day after I gave birth, this woman also gave birth. We were together in the house, and there was no one else there except we two alone. This woman's child died during the night, because she lay upon it. She got up later that night and took my child from my side, as your handmaid was sleeping. Then she laid it in her bosom, after she had laid her dead child in my bosom. I rose in the morning to nurse my child, and I found it dead. But when I examined it, that morning, I found it was not the child whom I had borne!" The other woman answered, "It is not so! The living one is my child, the dead one is yours." But the first kept saying, "No! The dead one is your child, the living one is mine." Thus they argued before the king.

Then the king said, "One woman claims, 'This, the living one is my child, and the dead one is yours.' The other answers, 'No! The dead one is your child, the living one is mine.'" The king continued, "Get me a sword." When they brought the sword before him, he said, "Cut in two the living child, and give half to one and half to the other." The woman whose child was alive said to the king, "Please, my lord, give her the living child—please do not kill it!" For she was moved by love for her child. The other, however, said, "It shall be neither mine nor yours. Divide it!" The king then answered, "Give her the living child—you must not kill it—for she is its mother."

When all Israel heard the judgment the king had given, they were in awe of him, because they saw that the king had in him the wisdom of God for giving judgment.

At that time, since the Jewish Passover was near, Jesus went up to Jerusalem. In the Temple precincts he came upon some engaged in selling oxen, sheep and doves, and others seated, changing money. So he made a whip out of cords and drove all of them out of the Temple with their sheep and oxen, and knocked over the money-changers' tables, spilling their coins. He told those who were selling doves, "Take them out of here! Stop turning my Father's house into a market!" His disciples were reminded of the words of Scripture: "Zeal for your house will consume me." At this the Jews responded "What sign can you show us, authorizing you to do these things?" "Destroy this sanctuary," was Jesus' answer, "and in three days I will raise it up." Then the Jews retorted, “The building of this sanctuary has taken forty-six years, and you are going to ‘raise it up in three days?’” Actually, he was talking about the sanctuary of his body. It was when Jesus had been raised from the dead that his disciples recalled that he had said this; thus they believed the Scripture and the word he had spoken. While he was in Jerusalem during the Passover festival, many believed in his name, for they could see the signs he was performing. For his part, Jesus would not trust himself to them because he knew them all. He needed no one to give him testimony about human nature, for he was aware of what was in man’s heart.

The Jews were surprised at this, saying, “How did this fellow get his education when he had no teacher?” So Jesus answered them: “My doctrine is not my own but comes from him who sent me. If anyone chooses to do his will, he will know about this doctrine—whether it comes from God, or whether I am speaking on my own. Whoever speaks on his own seeks his own glory. But whoever seeks the glory of the one who sent him—he is truthful and there is no dishonesty in his heart. Has not Moses given you the Law? Yet not one of you keeps the Law. Why are you looking for a chance to kill me?” “You’re mad,” the crowd retorted. “Who wants to kill you?” Jesus gave them this answer: “I have per-

Moses has given you circumcision (really, it did not originate with Moses but with the Patriarchs), so even on a Sabbath you circumcise a man. If a man can receive circumcision on a Sabbath to prevent a violation of the Mosaic Law, are you angry at me because I made a whole man well on a Sabbath? Do not judge by appearances, but give an honest judgment.” This led some of the people of Jerusalem to remark, “Isn’t this the fellow they want to kill? But here he is, speaking in public, and they don’t say a word to him. Maybe even the authorities have realized that this is truly the Messiah? Yet we know where this man comes from; and when the Messiah comes, no one is to know where he comes from.” At that, Jesus, who was teaching in the Temple area, cried out, “So you know me and you know where I come from? Yet I have not come on my own. No, there is truly One who sent me, and him you do not know. I know him, because it is from him that I come, and he sent me.” Then they tried to arrest him, but no one laid a finger on him because his hour had not yet come. In fact, many in the crowd came to believe in him.

Offertory Antiphon

Ps. 39, 2, 3 and 4

I have waited, waited for the Lord, and he stooped toward me and heard my cry. And he put a new song into my mouth, a hymn to our God.

Prayer over the Gifts

May this offering cleanse us from our sins, O Lord,* and may it sanctify your servants in body and soul for the celebration of this sacrifice. Through Jesus Christ.

Preface of Lent

capit homo in sabbato, ut non solvatur lex Móysi: mihi indignámini, quia totum hóminem sanum feci in sabbato? Nolite iudicáre secúndum fáciem, sed iustum iudícium iudicáte. Dicébant ergo quidam ex Ierosólymis: Nonne hic est, quem quærunt interfícere? Et ecce palam lóquitur, et nihil ei dicunt. Numquid vere cognóverunt príncipes, quia hic est Christus? Sed hunc scimus, unde sit: Christus autem, cum vénerit, nemo scit unde sit. Clamábat ergo Iesus in templo docens, et dicens: Et me scitis, et unde sim, scitis, et a méipso non veni, sed est verus, qui misit me, quem vos nescítis. Ego scio eum, quia ab ipso sum, et ipse me misit. Quærébant ergo eum apprehéndere: et nemo misit in illum manus, quia nondum vénerat hora eius. De turba autem multi credidérunt in eum.

Exspéctans expectávi Dóminum, et respéxit me: et exaudivit deprecatióem meam: et immisit in os meum cánticum novum, hymnum Deo nostro.

Hæc hóstia. Dómine, quæsumus, emúndet nostra delícta: et ad sacrificium celebrándum, subditórum tibi córpora, mentésque sanctíficet. Per Dóminum.

Wednesday after the fourth Sunday in Lent

A Reading from the Prophet Ezechiel
Ezech. 36, 23–28

Thus says the Lord God: I will prove the holiness of my great name, profaned among the nations, in whose midst you have profaned it. Thus the nations shall know that I am the Lord, says the Lord God, when in their sight I prove my holiness through you. For I will take you away from among the nations, gather you from all the foreign lands, and bring you back to your own land. I will sprinkle clean water upon you to cleanse you from all your impurities, and from all your idols I will cleanse you. I will give you a new heart and place a new spirit within you, taking from your bodies your stony hearts and giving you natural hearts. I will put my spirit within you and make you live by my statutes, careful to observe my decrees. You shall live in the land I gave your fathers; you shall be my people, and I will be your God, says the Lord Almighty.

Gradual Ps. 33, 12 and 6 Come, children, hear me; I will teach you the fear of the Lord. ℣. Look to him that you may be radiant with joy, and your faces may not blush with shame.

After the first reading and gradual, The Lord be with you is said, without Let us kneel.

Prayer

O almighty God, grant that we may be happy in chastising our bodies through fasting.* May we bring our passions under control, and thus more easily attain the rewards of heaven. Through Jesus Christ.

✠ A Reading from the holy Gospel
according to John
John 9, 1-38

At that time, as Jesus walked along, he saw a man who had been blind from birth. His disciples asked him, "Rabbi, who committed the sin that caused him to be born blind, he or his parents?" "Neither," answered Jesus. "It was no sin on this man's part, nor on his parents' part. Rather, it was to let God's works be revealed in him. We must work the works of him who sent me while it is day. Night is coming when no one can work. As long as I am in the world, I am the light of the world."

Wednesday after the fourth Sunday in Lent

With that he spat on the ground, made mud with his saliva, and smeared the man's eyes with the mud. Then he told him, "Go, wash in the pool of Siloam" (this name means 'one who has been sent'). And so he went off and washed, and came back able to see. At this the man's neighbors and the people who had been accustomed to see him begging began to ask, "Isn't this the the fellow who used to sit and beg?" Some were claiming that it was he; others maintained that it was not—just someone who looked like him. He himself said, "I am the man." So they said to him, "How were your eyes opened?" He answered, "That man they call Jesus made mud and smeared it on my eyes, telling me to go to Siloam and wash. When I did go and wash, I got my sight." "Where is he?" they asked. "I have no idea," he replied. They took the man who had been born blind to the Pharisees. (Note that it was on a Sabbath day that Jesus had made the mud and opened his eyes.) Once more, the Pharisees, in their turn, began to inquire how he had got his sight. He told them, "He put mud on my eyes; and I washed and now I can see." This caused some of the Pharisees to assert, "This man is not from God because he does not keep the Sabbath." Others objected, "How can a man perform such signs and still be a sinner?" And they were sharply divided. Then they addressed the blind man again, "Since it was your eyes he opened, what have you to say about him?" And he replied, "He is a prophet."

Now the Jews refused to believe that this man had been born blind and had subsequently gained his sight until they summoned his parents. "Is this your son?" they asked. "Do you affirm that he was born blind? Well, how can he see now?" The parents gave this answer: "We know that this is our son and that he was born blind. But we do not know how he can see et dixit ei: Vade, lava in natatória Siloë (quod interpretatur Missus). Abiit ergo, et lavit, et venit videns. Itaque vicini, et qui viderant eum prius, quia mendicus erat, dicebant: Nonne hic est, qui sedebat, et mendicabat? Alii dicebant: Quia hic est. Alii autem: Nequáquam, sed similis est ei. Ille vero dicebat: Quia ego sum. Dicebant ergo ei: Quómodo apérti sunt tibi óculi? Respondit: Ille homo, qui dicitur Iesus, lutum fecit, et unxit óculos meos, et dixit mihi: Vade ad natatória Siloë, et lava. Et ábii, lavi, et vídeo. Et dixerunt ei: Ubi est ille? Ait: Nescio. Adducunt eum ad pharisæos, qui cæcus fúerat. Erat autem sábbatum, quando lutum fecit Iesus, et apéruit óculos eius. Iterum ergo interrogábant eum pharisæi, quómodo vidisset. Ille autem dixit eis: Lutum mihi pósuit super óculos, et lavi, et vídeo. Dicebant ergo ex pharisæis quidam: Non est hic homo a Deo, qui sábbatum non custódit. Alii autem dicebant: Quómodo potest homo peccátor hæc signa fácere? Et schisma erat inter eos. Dicunt ergo cæco iterum: Tu quid dicis de illo, qui apéruit óculos tuos? Ille autem dixit: Quia prophéta est. Non credidérunt ergo Iudæi de illo, quia cæcus fúisset, et vidisset, donec vocavérunt paréntes eius, qui viderat: et interrogavérunt eos, dicentes: Hic est filius vester, quem vos dicitis, quia cæcus natus est? Quómodo ergo nunc videt? Respondérunt eis paréntes eius, et dixerunt: Scimus, quia hic est filius noster, et quia cæcus natus est: quómodo autem nunc vídeat, nescimus: aut quis eius apéruit óculos, nos nescimus: ipsum interrogáte, ætátem habet, ipse de se loquátur. Hæc dixerunt paréntes eius, quóniam tímebant Iudæos: iam enim conspiráverant Iudæi, ut si quis eum confiterétur esse Christum, extra synagógam fieret. Proptérea paréntes eius dixerunt: Quia ætátem habet, ipsum interrogáte. Vocavérunt ergo rursum hóminem, qui fúerat cæcus, et dixerunt ei: Da glóriam Deo. Nos scimus quia hic homo peccátor est.

Dixit ergo eis ille: Si peccator est, nescio: unum scio, quia caecus cum essem, modo video. Dixerunt ergo illi: Quid fecit tibi? quomodo aperuit tibi oculos? Respondit eis: Dixi vobis iam, et audistis: quid iterum vultis audire? Numquid et vos vultis discipuli eius fieri? Maledixerunt ergo ei, et dixerunt: Tu discipulus illius sis: nos autem Moysi discipuli sumus. Nos scimus quia Moysi locutus est Deus: hunc autem nescimus unde sit. Respondit ille homo, et dixit eis: In hoc enim mirabile est, quia vos nescitis unde sit, et aperuit meos oculos: scimus autem quia peccatores Deus non audit: sed, si quis Dei cultor est, et voluntatem eius facit, hunc exaudit. A saeculo non est auditum, quia quis aperuit oculos caeci nati. Nisi esset hic a Deo, non poterat facere quidquam. Responderunt, et dixerunt ei: In peccatis natus es totus, et tu doces nos? Et eiecerunt eum foras. Audivit Iesus quia eiecerunt eum foras, et cum invenisset eum, dixit ei: Tu credis in Filium Dei? Respondit ille, et dixit: Quis est, Domine, ut credam in eum? Et dixit ei Iesus: Et vidisti eum, et qui loquitur tecum, ipse est. At ille ait: Credo, Domine. Et prociens adoravit eum.

now, nor do we know who opened his eyes. Ask him. He's old enough; he'll speak for himself." (His parents replied in this way because they were afraid of the Jews, for the Jews had already agreed that anybody who acknowledged Jesus as the Messiah would be put out of the Synagogue. That was why his parents said, "He is old enough. Ask him.") And so, for the second time, they summoned the man who had been born blind and said to him, "Give glory to God. We know that this man is a sinner." "Whether he's a sinner or not, I don't know," he answered. "One thing I do know: I was blind before, now I can see." They persisted, "Just what did he do to you? How did he open your eyes?" "I've told you once and you didn't pay attention," he answered them. "Why do you want to hear it all over again? Don't tell me that you too want to become his disciples?" They sneered at him, saying, "You are the one who is that fellow's disciple; we are disciples of Moses. We know that God has spoken to Moses; but we don't even know where this fellow comes from." The man answered them, "Now, that's a surprise! Here you don't even know where he comes from; yet he opened my eyes. We know that God pays no attention to sinners, but he does listen to someone who is devout and obeys his will. It is absolutely unheard of that anyone ever opened the eyes of a man born blind. If this man were not from God, he could have done nothing." "What!" they exclaimed. "You were born steeped in sin, and now you are lecturing us?" Then they threw him out. When Jesus heard about his expulsion, he found him and said, "Do you believe in the Son of Man?" He answered, "Who is he, sir, that I may believe in him?" "You have seen him," Jesus replied. "Actually, it is he who is speaking with you." "I do believe, Lord," he said and did him homage.

A Reading from the Book of Kings 4 Kings 4, 25–38

In those days the Sunamite woman set out and came to the man of God on Mount Carmel. When he spied her at a distance, the man of God said to his servant Giezi, “Look, there is the Sunamitess. Hurry to meet her and ask if all is well with her, with her husband and her boy.” She said that all was well but when she reached the man of God on the mountain, she clasped his feet. Giezi came near to push her away, but the man of God said, “Let her alone: she is in bitter anguish; the Lord hid it from me and did not inform me.” “Did I ask my lord for a son?” she cried out, “Did I not beg you not to deceive me?” “Gird your loins,” Eliseus said to Giezi, “take my staff with you and be off; if you meet anyone, do not greet him, and if anyone greets you, do not answer. Lay my staff upon the boy.” But the boy’s mother cried out, “As the Lord lives and as you yourself live, I will not release you.” So he got up and followed her.

Meanwhile, Giezi had gone on ahead and had laid the staff upon the boy, but there was no sound or sign of life. So he returned to meet Eliseus and informed him that the boy had not awakened. When Eliseus came into the house, he found the boy lying dead upon the bed. He entered and closed the door upon the two of them, and after praying to the Lord he lay upon the child on the bed, placing his mouth upon the child’s mouth, his eyes upon the eyes, and his hands upon the hands. As Eliseus stretched himself over the child, the body became warm. He arose and paced up and down in the house once, and went over and stretched himself upon the boy, who now sneezed seven times and opened his eyes. Then Eliseus summoned Giezi: "Call the Sunamitess." She came at Giezi's call, and Eliseus said to her, "Take your son." She entered and fell at his feet, bowing to the floor. Then she took her son and left. Eliseus returned to Galgal.

And the Lord, seeing her, was moved with pity for her and said to her: "Do not lament." Then he stepped forward and touched the stretcher and the bearers halted. And he said: "Young man, I bid you rise up." The dead man sat up and began to speak. Then Jesus gave him back to his mother. Fear seized them all and they began to praise God. "A great prophet," they said, "has risen among us," and "God has visited his people."

A Reading from the Book of Kings
3 Kings 17, 17–24

In those days the son of the mistress of the house fell sick, and his sickness grew more severe until he stopped breathing. So she said to Elia, “Why have you done this to me, O man of God? Have you come to me to call attention to my guilt and to kill my son?” “Give me your son,” Elia said to her. Taking him from her lap he carried him to the upper room where he was staying and laid him on the bed. He called out to the Lord: “O Lord, my God, will you afflict even the widow with whom I am staying, by killing her son?” Then he stretched himself out upon the child three times and called out to the Lord: “O Lord, my God, let the life breath return to the body of this child!” The Lord heard the prayer of Elia, and the life breath returned to the child’s body and he revived. Taking the child, Elia brought him down into the house from the upper room and gave him to his mother. “See!” Elia said to her, “your son is alive.” “Now indeed I know that you are a man of God,” the woman replied to Elia; “the word of the Lord comes truly from your mouth.”

✠ A Reading from the holy Gospel
according to John
John 11, 1-45

At that time there was a man named Lazarus who was sick. He was from Bethany, the village of Mary and her sister Martha. (This Mary whose brother Lazarus was sick was the one who anointed the Lord with perfume and dried his feet with her hair.) So the sisters sent to inform Jesus, "Lord, the one whom you love is sick." But upon hearing this, he said, "This sickness is not to end in death; rather it is for God's glory, that the Son of God may be glorified through it." (Jesus really loved Martha and her sister and Lazarus.) And so when he heard that he was sick, he stayed on where he was two days longer. Then, at last, he said to his disciples, "Let us go back to Judea." "Rabbi," the disciples said to him, "the Jews were just now trying to stone you, and you are going back up there again?" Jesus answered, "Are there not twelve hours of daylight? If a man goes walking by day, he does not stumble because he can see the light of this world. But if he goes walking at night, he will stumble because he has no light in him." He made this remark and then, later, he told them, "Our beloved Lazarus has fallen asleep, but I go to wake him up." At this the disciples said, "If he has fallen asleep, Lord, his life will be saved." Jesus had really been talking about his death, but they thought he was talking about sleep in the sense of slumber. So finally Jesus told them plainly, "Lazarus is dead. And I am happy for your sake that I wasn't there so that you may come to have faith. In any event, let us go to him." Then Thomas (this name means "Twin") said to his fellow disciples, "Let us go too that we may die with him." When Jesus arrived, he found that Lazarus had already been four days in the tomb. Now Bethany was not far from Jerusalem, just under two miles; and many of the Jews had come out to console Martha and Mary because of their brother. When Martha heard that Jesus was coming, she went to meet him, while Mary sat quietly at home. Martha said to Jesus, "Lord, if you had been here, my brother would never have died. Even now, I am sure that whatever you ask of God, God will give you." "Your brother will rise again," Jesus told her. "I know he will rise again," Martha replied, "in the resurrection on the last day." Jesus told her, "I am the resurrection and the life: he who believes in me, even if he dies, will come to life. And everyone who is alive and believes in me shall never die at all.—Do you believe this?" "Yes, Lord," she replied. "I have learned to believe that you are the Messiah, the Son of God, he who is to come into the world." Now when she had said this, she went off and called her sister Mary. "The Teacher is here and calls for you," she whispered. As soon as Mary heard this, she got up quickly and started toward him. (Actually, Jesus had not yet come into the village but was still at the spot where Martha had met him.) The Jews who were in the house with Mary, consoling her, saw her get up quickly and go out; and so they followed her, thinking that she was going to the tomb to weep there. When Mary came to the place where Jesus was, and saw him, she fell at his feet and said to him, "Lord, if you had been here, my brother would never have died." Now when Jesus saw her weeping, and the Jews who accompanied her also weeping, he shuddered with the emotions that flared up within him. "Where have you laid him?" he asked. "Lord, come and see," they told him. Jesus began to cry, and this caused the Jews to remark, "See how much he loved him!" But some of them said, "He opened the eyes of that blind man. Couldn't he also have done something to stop this man

Dixit ei Iesus: Ego sum resurrectio, et vita: qui credit in me, etiam si mortuus fuerit, vivet: et omnis, qui vivit, et credit in me, non morietur in aeternum. Credis hoc? Ait illi: Utique, Domine, ego credidi, quia tu es Christus Filius Dei vivi, qui in hunc mundum venisti. Et cum haec dixisset, abiit, et vocavit Mariam sororem suam silentio, dicens: Magister adest, et vocat te. Illa ut audivit, surgit cito, et venit ad eum: nondum enim venerat Iesus in caestellum: sed erat adhuc in illo loco, ubi occurrerat ei Martha. Iudaei ergo, qui erant cum ea in domo et consolabantur eam, cum vidissent Mariam, quia cito surrexit, et exiit, secuti sunt eam, dicentes: Quia vadit ad monumentum, ut ploret ibi. Maria ergo, cum venisset ubi erat Iesus, videns eum, cecidit ad pedes eius, et dicit ei: Domine, si fuisses hic, non esset mortuus frater meus. Iesus ergo, ut vidit eam plorantem, et Iudaeos, qui venerant cum ea, plorantes, in fremuit spiritu, et turbavit seipsum, et dixit: Ubi posuistis eum? Dicunt ei: Domine, veni, et vide. Et lacrimatus est Iesus. Dixerunt ergo Iudaei: Ecce quomodo amabat eum. Quidam autem ex ipsis dixerunt: Non poterat hic, qui aperuit oculos caeci nati, facere ut hic non moreretur? Iesus ergo rursus fremens in semetipso, venit ad monumentum. Erat autem spelunca, et lapis superpositus erat ei. Ait Iesus: Tollite lapidem. Dicit ei Martha soror eius, qui mortuus fuerat: Domine, iam foetet, quatríduanus est enim. Dicit ei Iesus: Nonne dixi tibi, quoniam si crederis, videbis gloriam Dei? Tulerunt ergo lapidem: Iesus autem, elevatis sursum oculis, dixit: Pater, gratias ago tibi, quoniam audisti me. Ego autem sciebam, quia semper me audis, sed propter populum, qui circumstat, dixi: ut credant, quia tu me misisti. Haec cum dixisset, voce from dying?" At this, with his emotions again flaring up, Jesus came to the tomb. It was a cave with a stone laid across it. "Take away the stone," Jesus said. Martha, the dead man's sister, said to him, "Lord, it is four days; by now there must be a stench." Jesus replied, "Didn't I assure you that if you believe, you will see the glory of God?" So they took away the stone. Then Jesus looked upward and said, "Father, I thank you because you heard me. Of course, I know that you always hear me, but I spoke because of the crowd standing around that they may come to believe that you sent me." Having said this, he shouted in a loud voice, "Lazarus, come out!" The dead man came out, bound hand and foot with linen strips and his face wrapped in a cloth. "Untie him," Jesus told them, "and let him go." This caused many of the Jews who had come to visit Mary and had seen what he did to put their faith in him.

swered, "Even if I am my own witness, my testimony can be verified because I know where I came from and where I am going. But you know neither where I came from nor where I am going. You pass judgment according to human standards, but I pass judgment on no one. Yet even if I do judge, that judgment of mine is valid because I am not alone: I have at my side the One who sent me, the Father. Why, in your own Law it is stated that evidence given by two persons is verified. I am one who gives evidence on my behalf, and the Father who sent me gives evidence for me." Then they asked him, "Where is this 'father' of yours?" Jesus replied, "You do not recognize me or my Father. If you recognized me, you would recognize my Father too." He spoke these words, teaching at the Temple treasury. Still, nobody arrested him because his hour had not yet come.

Let us pray.

Bow down your heads to the Lord.
O God, it is your will to show mercy rather than anger to those who trust in you.* May we have proper sorrow for our sins so that we may receive the comfort of your forgiveness. Through Jesus Christ.

*After Mass the crosses and images in the church are covered.
The crosses remain covered until the completion of the veneration of the cross by the celebrant on Good Friday; the images remain covered until the intonation of the Gloria in the Mass of the Easter vigil.*

FIRST SUNDAY OF PASSION TIME

From this Sunday up until Thursday of the Lord's Supper, in seasonal Masses the Glory be to the Father is omitted at the antiphon to the Introit and after the psalm Lavábo.

Entrance Antiphon

Ps. 42, 1-2

Do me justice, O God, and fight my fight against a faithless people; from the deceitful and impious man rescue me. For you are my God and my strength. Ps. ibid., 3 Send forth your light and your fidelity; they shall lead me on and bring me to your holy mountain, to your dwelling-place. Do me justice.

Prayer

O almighty God, look with mercy upon your family.* Guide and guard us in body and soul by your bounteous grace and protection. Through Jesus Christ.

First Sunday of Passion Time

he entered once for all into the sanctuary, passing through the greater and more perfect tent not made by hands, that is, not belonging to this creation. He entered not with the blood of goats and calves but with his own blood, and achieved eternal redemption. For if the blood of goats and bulls and the sprinkling of a heifer's ashes can make holy those who are defiled so that their flesh is made clean, how much more will the blood of Christ, who through the eternal spirit offered himself up unblemished to God, cleanse our consciences from dead works to worship the living God? This is why he is mediator of a new covenant: that since his death has taken place for deliverance from transgressions committed under the first covenant, those who have been called may receive the eternal inheritance: in Christ Jesus our Lord.

At that time Jesus said to the crowds of the Jews: "Can any one of you convict me of sin? If I am telling the truth, why do you not believe me? The man who belongs to God hears the words of God. The reason why you do not hear is that you do not belong to God." The Jews answered, "Aren't we right, after all, in saying that you are a Samaritan, and are mad?" Jesus replied, "I am not mad, but I do honor my Father, while you fail to honor me. I do not seek glory for myself; there is One who does seek it and he passes judgment. I solemnly assure you, if a man keeps my word, he will never see death." "Now we are sure you are mad," the Jews retorted. "Abraham died; so did the prophets. Yet, you claim, 'A man will never experience death if he keeps my word.' Surely, you don't pretend to be greater than our father Abraham who is dead?—Or the prophets who are dead? Just who do you pretend to be?" Jesus answered, "If I glorify myself, my glory amounts to nothing. The One who glorifies me is the Father whom you claim as your God, even though you do not know him. But I do know him; and if I say I do not know him, I shall be just like you—a liar! Yes, I do know him and I keep his word. Your father Abraham rejoiced at the prospect of seeing my day. When he saw it, he was glad." This caused the Jews to object, "You're not even fifty years old. How can Abraham have seen you?" Jesus answered them, "I solemnly assure you, before Abraham even existed, I am." Then they picked up rocks to throw at Jesus, but he hid himself and slipped out of the Temple precincts.

Jona began his journey through the city, and had gone but a single day's walk announcing, "Forty days more and Ninive shall be destroyed," when the people of Ninive believed God; they proclaimed a fast and all of them, great and small, put on sackcloth.

When the news reached the king of Ninive, he rose from his throne, laid aside his robe, covered himself with sackcloth, and sat in the ashes. Then he had this proclaimed throughout Ninive, by decree of the king and his nobles: "Neither man nor beast, neither cattle nor sheep, shall taste anything; they shall not eat, nor shall they drink water. Man and beast shall be covered with sackcloth and call loudly to God; every man shall turn from his evil way and from the violence he has in hand. Who knows, God may relent and forgive, and withhold his blazing wrath, so that we shall not perish." When God saw by their actions how they turned from their evil way, the Lord our God had mercy on his people.

Pharisees sent Temple police to arrest Jesus. Accordingly, Jesus said, “I am to be with you only a little while longer; then I am going away to him who sent me. You will look for me and not find me, and where I am, you cannot come.” That caused the Jews to exclaim to one another, “Where does this fellow intend to go that we won’t find him? Surely he isn’t going off to the Diaspora among the Greeks to teach the Greeks? What is this business he is talking about: ‘You will look for me and not find me,’ and ‘Where I am, you cannot come.’?” On the last and greatest day of the festival Jesus stood up and cried out, “If anyone thirst, let him come to me; and let him who believes in me drink. As the Scripture says, ‘From within him shall flow rivers of living water.’” (In fact, he was speaking here about the Spirit which those who came to believe in him were to receive.)

A Reading from the Prophet Daniel Dan. 14, 29–42

In those days the Babylonians went to the king and demanded: “Hand Daniel over to us, because he has destroyed Bel and killed the dragon; otherwise we will kill you and your family.” When he saw himself threatened with violence, the king was forced to hand Daniel over to them. They threw Daniel into a lions’ den, where he remained six days. In the den were seven lions, and two carcasses and two sheep had been given to them daily. But now they were given nothing, so that they would devour Daniel.

In Judea there was a prophet, Habacuc;
he mixed some bread in a bowl with the stew he had boiled, and was going to bring it to the reapers in the field, when an angel of the Lord told him, “Take the lunch you have to Daniel in the lions’ den at Babylon.”

Tuesday—First week of the Passion

But Habacuc answered, “Babylon, sir, I have never seen, and I do not know the den!” The angel of the Lord seized him by the crown of his head and carried him by the hair; with the speed of the wind, he set him down in Babylon above the den. “Daniel, Daniel,” cried Habacuc, “take the lunch God has sent you.” “You have remembered me, O God,” said Daniel; “you have not forsaken those who love you.” While Daniel began to eat, the angel of the Lord at once brought Habacuc back to his own place.

On the seventh day the king came to mourn for Daniel. As he came to the den and looked in, there was Daniel, sitting there! The king cried aloud, “You are great, O Lord, the God of Daniel, and there is no other besides you!” Daniel he took out, but those who had tried to destroy him he threw into the den, and they were devoured in a moment before his eyes. Then the king said: “Let all the inhabitants of the whole earth fear the God of Daniel: for he is the Savior who works signs and wonders on the earth. He has delivered Daniel out of the lions’ den.”

Porro Angelus Domini restituit Habacuc confestim in loco suo. Venit ergo rex die septimo, ut lugeret Daniélem: et venit ad lacum, et introspexit, et ecce Daniel sedens in medio leonum. Et exclamavit voce magna rex, dicens: Magnus es, Domine Deus Daniélis. Et extraxit eum de lacu leonum. Porro illos, qui perditionis eius causa fuerant, intromisit in lacum, et devorati sunt in momento coram eo. Tunc rex ait: Paveant omnes habitantes in universa terra Deum Daniélis: quia ipse est salvator, faciens signa, et mirabilia in terra: qui liberavit Daniélem de lacu leonum.

So Jesus answered them: “It is not yet time for me, but the time is always right for you. The world cannot possibly hate you, but it does hate me because of the evidence I bring against it, that what it does is evil. Go up to the festival yourselves. I am not going up to this festival, because my time has not yet arrived.” After this conversation he stayed on in Galilee. However, once his brothers had gone up to the festival, then he too went up, but, as it were, in secret, not for all to see. Of course, the Jews were looking for him during the festival, asking, “Where is he?” But among the crowds there was much guarded debate about him. Some maintained, “He is good,” while others kept saying, “Not at all, he is only deceiving the crowd.” However, no one would talk openly about him for fear of the Jews.

lem. Jesus was walking in the Temple precincts in Solomon's Portico, when the Jews gathered around him and said, "How long are you going to keep us in suspense? If you are really the Messiah, tell us so in plain words." Jesus answered them, "I did tell you; yet you do not believe. The works that I am doing in my Father's name give testimony for me, but you refuse to believe because you are not my sheep. My sheep hear my voice, and I know them, and they follow me. I give them eternal life and they shall never perish. No one will snatch them from my hand. My Father who has given them to me is greater than all, and no one can snatch anything from the Father's hand. The Father and I are one." When the Jews got rocks to stone him, Jesus challenged them, saying, "Many splendid works have I shown you from the Father. For just which of these works do you want to stone me?" "It is not for any 'splendid work' that we are stoning you," the Jews retorted, "but for blaspheming, because you who are only a man make yourself God." Jesus answered, "Is it not written in your Law, 'I have said, 'You are gods' "? If it calls those men gods to whom God's word was addressed—and the Scripture cannot lose its force—do you claim that I blasphemed when, as the one whom the Father consecrated and sent into the world, I said, 'I am God's Son'? If I do not perform my Father's works, put no faith in me. But if I do perform them, even though you still put no faith in me, put your faith in these works so that you may come to know and understand that the Father is in me and I am in the Father."

Et ambulabat Iesus in templo, in pórticu Salomónis. Circumdederunt ergo eum Iudæi, et dicébant ei: Quoúsque ánimam nostram tollis? Si tu es Christus, dic nobis palam. Respóndit eis Iesus: Loquor vobis, et non créditis: Opera, quæ ego fácio in nómine Patris mei, hæc testimónium pérhibent de me: sed vos non créditis, quia non estis ex óvibus meis. Oves meæ vocem meam áudiunt: et ego cognóscó eas, et sequúntur me: et ego vitam ætérnam do eis: et non períbunt in ætérnum, et non rápiet eas quisquam de manu mea. Pater meus, quod dedit mihi, máius ómnibus est: et nemo potest rápere de manu Patris mei. Ego et Pater unum sumus. Sustulérunt ergo lápidés Iudæi, ut lapidárent eum. Respóndit eis Iesus: Multa bona ópera osténdi vobis ex Patre meo, propter quod eórum opus me lapidátis? Respóndérunt ei Iudæi: De bono ópere non lapidámus te, sed de blasphemía: et quia tu, homo cum sis, facis téipsum Deum. Respóndit eis Iesus: Nonne scriptum est in lege vestra: quia Ego dixi, díi estis? Si illos dixit deos, ad quos sermo Dei factus est, et non potest solvi Scriptúra: quem Pater sanctificávit, et misit in mundum, vos dícitis: Quia blasphemás: quia dixi, Fílius Dei sum? Si non fácio ópera Patris mei, nolíte crédere mihi. Si autem fácio, et si mihi non vultis crédere, opéribus créдите, ut cognoscátis, et credátis, quia Pater in me est, et ego in Patre.

✠ A Reading from the holy Gospel
according to Luke
Luke 7, 36–50

At that time a Pharisee invited Jesus to dine with him. He went to the Pharisee's home and took his place at table. A woman, a well-known sinner in town, learned that he was dining in the home of the Pharisee. She brought with her a vial of perfume and placed herself behind him at his feet, weeping. With her tears she wet his feet, and wiped them with her hair, then kissed them and perfumed them with the ointment. His host, the Pharisee, when he saw this, said to himself: ‘If this man were a prophet, he would know who and what sort of woman this is that touches him, that she is a sinner.’ Jesus in answer said to him: “Simon, I have something to say to you.” “Master,” said he, “say it.”

“Two men owed money to a certain moneylender; one owed five hundred days' wages, the other, fifty. Since neither was able to repay he canceled both debts. Now which of them will love him more?” Simon answered: “He, I presume, for whom he canceled more.” Jesus said to him: “You are correct.”

Thursday—First week of the Passion

And turning to the woman, he said to Simon: "You see this woman? I came to your home; you gave me no water for my feet, but she has wet my feet with her tears and wiped them with her hair. You gave me no kiss; but she has not ceased kissing my feet since I entered. You did not anoint my head with oil; but she has anointed my feet with perfume. Therefore, I tell you, her many sins are forgiven because of her great love. But he to whom little is forgiven, loves little." He said to her: "Your sins are forgiven." His fellow-guests began to say among themselves: "Who is this who even forgives sins?" But he said to the woman: "Your faith has saved you; go in peace."

If we let him go on like this, everybody will believe in him, and the Romans will come and take away our holy place and our nation." Then one of their number who was high priest that year, a certain Caiaphas, addressed them, "You people have no sense at all! Don't you realize that it is more to your advantage to have one man die for the people than to have the whole nation destroyed?" (It was not on his own that he said this, but as high priest that year he prophesied that Jesus

In illo témpore: Collegérunt pontífices et pharisæi concílium advérsus Iesum, et dicébant: Quid fácimus, quia hic homo multa signa facit? Si dimíttimus eum sic, omnes credent in eum: et vénient Románi, et tol- lent nostrum locum, et gentem. Unus autem ex ipsis, Cáiphás nó- mine, cum esset póntifex anni illíus, dixit eis: Vos nescítis quidquam, nec cogitátis quia expedit vobis, ut unus moriátur homo pro pópulo, et non tota gens péreat. Hoc autem a semetípso non dixit: sed cum esset póntifex anni illíus, prophetávit, quod Iesus moritúrus erat pro gente, et non tantum pro gente, sed ut filios Dei, qui erant dispérsi, cong- regáret in unum. Ab illo ergo die cogitavérunt, ut interficerent eum.

Friday—First week of the Passion

Iesus ergo iam non in palam ambulabat apud Iudaeos: sed abiit in regionem iuxta desertum, in civitatem, quae dicitur Ephrem, et ibi morabatur cum discipulis suis.

was to die for the nation—and not for the nation alone, but to gather into one even the dispersed children of God.) So from that day on they planned to kill him. For this reason Jesus no longer moved about openly among the Jews, but withdrew to a town called Ephraim in the region near the desert, where he stayed with his disciples.

Saturday—First week of the Passion

SATURDAY AFTER THE FIRST SUNDAY OF PASSION TIME

Entrance Antiphon
Ps. 30, 10, 16 and 18

Have pity on me, O Lord, for I am in distress; rescue me from the clutches of my enemies and my persecutors. O Lord, let me not be put to shame, for I call upon you. Ps. ibid., 2 In you, O Lord, I take refuge; let me never be put to shame. In your justice rescue me. Have pity.

Prayer

O Lord, may your people who are already dedicated to you, grow stronger in loving devotion to your service. * May they grow in appreciation of this sacred rite and, by becoming more pleasing to you, receive from you even greater gifts. Through Jesus Christ.

A Reading from Jeremia the Prophet
Jer. 18, 18–23

In those days the wicked Jews said, “Come, let us contrive a plot against the just man. It will not mean the loss of instruction from the priests, nor of counsel from the wise, nor of messages from the prophets. And so, let us destroy him by his own tongue; let us carefully note his every word.” Heed me, O Lord, and listen to what my adversaries say.

Must good be repaid with evil that they should dig a pit to take my life?

Remember that I stood before you
to speak in their behalf,

to turn away your wrath from them.
So now, deliver their children to famine,
do away with them by the sword.

Let their wives be made childless and widows;

let their men die of pestilence, their young men be slain by the sword in battle.

✠ A Reading from the holy Gospel
according to John
John 12, 10–36

At that time the chief priests planned to kill Lazarus too, because on his account many of the Jews were leaving and believing in Jesus. The next day the great crowd that had come for the feast, having heard that Jesus was to enter Jerusalem, got palm fronds and came out to meet him. They kept on shouting: "Hosanna! Blessed be he who comes in the name of the Lord! Blessed be the king of Israel!" But Jesus found a young donkey and sat on it. As the Scripture has it: "Do not be afraid, O daughter of Sion: see, your king comes to you seated on a donkey's colt." At first, the disciples did not understand these things; but when Jesus had been glorified, then they recalled that it was just these things which had been written about him that they did to him. And so the crowd which was present when he called Lazarus out of the tomb and raised him from the dead kept testifying to it. This was also why the crowd came out to meet him: because they had heard that he performed this sign. At that the Pharisees remarked to one another, "You see, you are getting nowhere. Look, the world has run off after him." Now among those who had come up to worship at the feast there were some Greeks. So these came to Philip, who was from Bethsaida in Galilee, and made a request of him. "Sir," they said, "we would like to see Jesus." Philip went and told Andrew; then both Philip and Andrew came and told Jesus. Jesus answered them: "The hour has come for the Son of Man to be glorified. I solemnly assure you, unless the grain of wheat falls into the earth and dies, it remains just a grain of wheat. But if it dies, it bears much fruit. The man who loves himself destroys himself; while the man who hates himself in this world, preserves himself for eternal life. If anyone is to be my servant, he must follow me; and where I am, my servant will also be. The Father will honor anyone who serves me. Now my soul is troubled. Yet, what should I say? 'Father, save me from this hour'? No, this is just the reason why I came to this hour. 'Father, glorify your name!'" Then a voice came from the sky: "I did glorify it and I will glorify it again." When the crowd that was there heard it, they said that it was thunder; but others maintained, "It was an angel speaking to him." Jesus answered, "That voice came not for my sake, but for yours. Now is the judgment of this world. Now will the prince of this world be cast out. And when I am lifted up from the earth, I will draw all men to myself. (This statement of his indicated what sort of death he was going to die.) To this the crowd objected, "We have heard from the Law that the Messiah is to remain forever. How can you claim that the Son of Man must be lifted up? Just who is this 'Son of Man'?" So Jesus told them, "The light is among you only a little while longer. Walk Venit Philippus, et dicit Andréæ: Andréas rursus et Philippus dixerunt Iesu. Iesus autem respóndit eis, dicens: Venit hora, ut clarificétur Fílius hóminis. Amen, amen dico vobis, nisi granum fruménti cadens in terram, mórtuum fúerit, ipsum solum manet: si autem mórtuum fúerit, multum fructum affert. Qui amat ánimam suam, perdet eam: et qui odit ánimam suam in hoc mundo, in vitam ætérnam custódit eam. Si quis mihi minístrat, me sequátur: et ubi sum ego, illic et miníster meus erit. Si quis mihi ministráverit, honorificábit eum Pater meus. Nunc ánima mea turbáta est. Et quid dicam? Pater, salvífica me ex hac hora. Sed proptérea veni in horam hanc. Pater, clarífica nomen tuum. Respóndit Iesus, et dixit: Non propter me hæc vox venit, sed propter vos. Nunc iudícium est mundi, nunc princeps huius mundi eiciétur foras. Et ego si exaltátus fúero a terra, ómnia traham ad meípsum. (Hoc autem dicebat, significans qua morte esset moritúrus.) Respóndit ei turba: Nos audívimus ex lege, quia Christus manet in ætérnum, et quómodo tu dicis: Opórtet exaltári Fílium hóminis? Quis est iste Fílius hóminis? Dixit ergo eis Iesus: Adhuc módicum lumen in vobis est. Ambuláte dum lucem habétis, ut non vos ténebræ comprehéndant: et qui ámbulat in ténebris, nescit quo vadat. Dum lucem habétis, créдите in lucem: ut fílii lucis sitis. Hæc locútus est Iesus: et ábiit, et abscondit se ab eis.

Palm Sunday

SECOND SUNDAY OF PASSION TIME OR PALM SUNDAY

I classis

SOLEMN PROCESSION OF PALMS IN HONOR OF CHRIST THE KING

The rubrics which are printed in regular (Roman) type refer to the simple celebration, namely, when the sacred rites are celebrated by a priest without sacred ministers.

BLESSING OF BRANCHES

1. The blessing of the branches of palm, olive, or other trees, takes place at the appropriate hour; in choir it takes place after Terce. The sprinkling with holy water (Asperges) is omitted.

2. The color of the vestments is red.

3. The celebrant vests in amice, alb, cincture, stole, and cope. The sacred ministers vest in amice, alb, and cincture; the subdeacon in tunic, the deacon in stole and dalmatic.

3a. The celebrant vests in amice, alb, cincture, stole, and cope, or he vests without the chasuble.

4. Unless the faithful are already holding the branches in their hands, the branches shall be prepared upon a table, which is covered with a white cloth and placed in a convenient place within the presbyterium, so that it may be seen by the people.

5. When all is ready, the celebrant, with the sacred ministers or servers, makes the required reverence to the altar and stands behind the table, facing the people.

Meanwhile the antiphon is chanted.

Antiphon

Matth. 21, 9

Hosanna to the Son of David! Blessed is he who comes in the name of the Lord. O king of Israel: Hosanna in the highest.

6. After the antiphon the celebrant, with his hands joined, blesses the branches, chanting without inflection:

✠. The Lord be with you.

To this all respond:

✠. And with your spirit.

7. In the following prayer the celebrant says, according to the kind of branches used, These branches of palm, or these branches of olive, or these branches of (other) trees, or these branches of palm and olive, or these branches of palm and other trees, etc.

1. Hora competenti, in choro post Tertiam, ommissa aspersione aquæ, proceditur ad benedicendum ramos palmarum seu olivarum, sive aliarum arborum.

2. Color paramentorum est rubeus.

3. Celebrans induitur amictu, alba, cingulo, stola et pluviali; ministri sacri amictu, alba, cingulo, subdiaconus insuper tunicella, diaconus stola et dalmatica.

3a. Celebrans induitur amictu, alba, cingulo, stola et pluviali, vel manet sine casula.

4. Rami, nisi ab ipsis fidelibus iam in manibus teneantur, parentur super abacum, tobalea alba coopertum, et positum in opportuniore loco presbyterii, ita tamen, ut maneat in conspectu populi.

5. Omnibus rite dispositis, celebrans, cum ministris sacris, seu ministrantibus, facta altari debita reverentia, sistit retro abacum, versus populum.

Antiphona

Matth. 21, 9

Hosanna filio David: benedictus qui venit in nomine Domini. Rex Israël: Hosanna in excelsis.

6. Deinde celebrans, manibus iunctis, benedicit ramos, dicens, in tono orationis ferialis:

✠. Dominus vobiscum.

Cui omnes respondent:

✠. Et cum spiritu tuo.

7. In sequenti oratione celebrans dicat, prout qualitati ramorum congruit, hos palmárum ramos, vel hos olivárum ramos, vel hos árborum ramos, vel hos palmárum et olivárum ramos, aut hos palmárum (olivárum) et aliárum árborum ramos.

Palm Sunday

Orémus.

Béne ✠ dic, quæsumus, Dómine, hos palmárum (seu olivárum aut aliarum arborum) ramos: et præsta; ut, quod pópulus tuus in tui veneratióne hodiérno die corporáliter agit, hoc spirituáliter summa devotióne perficiat, de hoste victóriam reportádo et opus misericórdiæ summópere diligéndo. Per Christum Dóminum nostrum.

Omnes: R. Amen.

8. Tunc celebrans primum ter aspergit ramos, super abacum positos, postea, ad cancellos, ramos fidelium ubi ipsi, ut dictum est, ramos iam in manibus portant, nisi placuerit horum aspersionem facere transeundo per aulam ecclesiæ.

9. Deinde celebrans ponit incensum in thuribulum, more solito, et primum ter adolet ramos benedictos, super abacum positos, postea, ad cancellos, vel transeundo per aulam ecclesiæ, incensat ramos fidelium.

Ministri sacri, vel ministrantes celebrantem comitantur, tam in aspersione, quam in incensatione ramorum, fimbriam pluvialis tenentes.

10. Completa benedictione, fit ramorum distributio, secundum locorum consuetudinem.

11. Itaque, celebrans, stans in suppedaneo altaris, versus populum, adiuvantibus ministris sacris, vel ministrantibus, dat ramos benedictos primum omnibus clericis per ordinem, deinde ministrantibus, denique, ad cancellos, fidelibus.

12. Et cum inceperit distribuere, cantantur sequentes antiphonæ et psalmi, hoc modo:

Antiphona 1 Púeri Hebræórum, portántes ramos olivárum, obviavérunt Dómino, clamántes et dicéntes: “Hosánna in excélsis.”

Psalmus 23, 1–2 et 7–10

Dómini est terra et quæ replent eam,
* orbis terrárum et qui hábitant in eo.

Let us pray.

O Lord, bless ✠ these branches of palm (or olive, or of any other tree). Grant that the sincere devotion of your people may bring them victory over their enemy and a burning love for the works of mercy, and thus spiritually complete the ceremony which they outwardly perform this day in your honor. Through Christ our Lord.

All: R. Amen.

8. Then the celebrant sprinkles the branches three times, first those on the table, afterwards the branches which the faithful already hold in their hands (as described above). He sprinkles the branches either at the entrance of the sanctuary area, or, if he prefers, while walking through the body of the church.

9. Next the celebrant places incense in the thurible in the usual way and incenses the blessed branches three times. First he incenses those on the table, then the branches of the faithful, either while he stands at the entrance to the sanctuary area or while he walks through the body of the church.

The sacred ministers or servers accompany the celebrant during the sprinkling and the incensation of the branches, holding the edge of his cope.

DISTRIBUTION OF THE BRANCHES

10. After the blessing, the distribution of the branches takes place in accordance with local custom.

11. The celebrant stands on the platform of the altar, facing toward the people, assisted by the sacred ministers or servers. First he gives the blessed branches to all the clergy in order, next to the servers, and finally, at the edge of the sanctuary area, to the faithful.

12. When the celebrant begins to distribute the branches, the antiphons and psalms are chanted.

Antiphon 1 The children of the Hebrews, bearing olive branches, went to meet the Lord, crying aloud and saying, “Hosanna in the highest.”

Psalm 23, 1–2 and 7–10

The Lord’s are the earth and its fullness;*
the world and those who dwell in it.

If these psalms are not sufficient, let them be repeated till the end of the distribution. If the distribution, on the other hand, is completed first, the psalm is closed with the Glory be to the Father, and the antiphon is repeated.

THE READING OF THE GOSPEL

13. After the distribution of the branches has been completed and the table removed, the celebrant, saying nothing, washes his hands. Then he goes up to the altar, kisses it in the center, and places incense in the thurible in the usual way. The deacon brings the Book of the Gospels to the altar and places it there. Everything is done as at Mass when the gospel is to be chanted.

13a. The celebrant performs the rite as is usual when a priest celebrates a sung Mass alone.

14. ✠ A Reading from the holy Gospel according to Matthew Matth. 21, 1-9

At that time, as they drew near Jerusalem and entered Bethphage on the Mount of Olives, Jesus sent off two disciples, telling them, "Go into the village straight ahead of you, and you will immediately find a donkey tethered and her colt with her. Untie her, and lead them back to me. And if anyone says anything to you, say, 'The Lord needs them.' Then he will let them go at once." This happened to fulfill what was said through the prophet, "Tell the daughter of Sion, 'See, your king comes to you in all 13a. Celebrans omnia peragat, ut alias de more, quando sacerdos solus Missam celebrat in cantu.

14. ✠ Sequéntia sancti Evangéllii secúndum Matthæum Matth. 21, 1-9

In illo témpore: Cum appropinquásset Iesus Ierosólymis, et venisset Béthphage ad montem Olivéti: tunc misit duos discípulos suos, dicens eis: "Ite in castéllum, quod contra vos est, et statim inveniétis ásinam alligátam, et pullum cum ea: sólvite, et addúcite mihi: et si quis vobis áliquid dixerit, dícite, quia Dóminus his opus habet, et conféstim dimíttet eos." Hoc autem totum factum est, ut adimplerétur quod dictum est per prophétam, dicéntem: Dícite filíæ Sion: Ecce rex tuus venit tibi mansuétus, sedens super ásinam et pullum, filium subiugális. Eúntes autem discípuli, fecérunt sicut præcépit illis Iesus. Et adduxérunt ásinam, et pullum: et imposuérunt super eos vestiménta sua, et eum désuper sedére fecérunt. Plúrima autem turba straverunt vestiménta sua in via: álii autem cædebant ramos de arbóribus, et sternébant in via: turbæ autem, quæ præcedébant, et quæ sequebántur, clamábant, dicéntes: "Hosánna filio David: benedíctus qui venit in nómine Dómini."

15. Evangelio finito, subdiaconus defert librum osculandum celebranti, qui non incensatur a diacono.

16. His peractis, celebrans ponit incensum in thuribulum, more solito. Deinde diaconus, vertens se ad populum, dicit:

Let us go forth in peace. R̄. In the name of Christ. A - men.

∩. Procedámus in pace.

Respondent omnes:

R̄. In nómine Christi. Amen.

Et incipit processio. Præcedit thuriferarius cum thuribulo fumigante, deinde alter subdiaconus paratus, vel acolythus, aut unus ex ministrantibus, deferens crucem non velatam, medius inter duos acolythos, vel ministrantes cum candelabris accensis; sequitur clerus per ordinem, ultimo celebrans cum diacono et subdiacono, post eos fideles, ramos benedictos manibus gestantes.

17. Processio dirigatur, si fieri potest, extra ecclesiam, per aliquam viam longiorem. Sicubi vero habeatur altera ecclesia, in qua ramorum benedictio commode peragi possit, nihil impedit, quominus benedictio eorum ibi fiat, et deinde processio pergat ad ecclesiam principalem.

18. Incipiente processione, cantari possunt antiphonæ sequentes, omnes, vel aliquæ, pro opportunitate.

Antiphona I Occurrunt turbæ cum flóribus et palmis Redemptóri óbviam: et victóri triumphánti digna dant obséquia: Filium Dei ore gentes prædicant: et in laudem Christi voces tonant per núbila: "Hosánna."

gentleness, astride a donkey and a colt, the foal of a draft-animal.'” So the disciples went and did just as Jesus had ordered them to do: they brought the donkey and the colt, and laid their cloaks on them. Then he sat on them. The huge crowd spread their cloaks on the road, while some of them began to cut branches from the trees and spread them on the road. The groups preceding him, as well as those following, kept crying out, “Hosanna to the Son of David! Blessed be he who comes in the name of the Lord!”

15. After the Gospel the subdeacon takes the book to the celebrant who kisses it. The celebrant is not incensed by the deacon.

PROCESSION WITH THE BLESSED BRANCHES

16. After this the celebrant places incense in the thurible in the usual way. Then the deacon, turning to the people, says:

Let us go forth in peace.

R̄. In the name of Christ. Amen.

The procession then begins: the thurifer carries the thurible with burning incense, then the second vested subdeacon or an acolyte or one of the servers carries the cross, which is not veiled, between two acolytes, or servers, with lighted candles. The clergy follow in order, with the celebrant in last place together with the deacon and the subdeacon, followed by the faithful who carry the blessed branches in their hands.

17. If possible, the procession should be directed outside the church by some longer route. Where there is a second church, in which the blessing of the branches can be held conveniently, the blessing may take place there and then the procession goes to the principal church.

18. When the procession begins, some or all of the following antiphons can be sung, according to the time available.

Antiphon I With flowers and palms the multitudes run to meet the redeemer, and they give becoming honors to the triumphant victor; the nations utter the praises of the Son of God, and their voices thunder through the clouds in praise of Christ:

“Hosanna.”

Antiphon 2 With the angels and the children, let us be found faithful, acclaiming him who triumphs over death: “Hosanna in the highest.”

Antiphon 3 The great crowd gathered for the feastday acclaimed the Lord: “Blessed is he who comes in the name of the Lord: Hosanna in the highest.”

Antiphon 4 Luke 19, 37 and 38 The whole company of those descending began to rejoice and to praise God with a loud voice for all the miracles that they had seen, saying, “Blessed is he who comes as king, in the name of the Lord! Peace on earth, and glory in the highest!”

19. As the procession goes on, the following hymn is sung, with the people, if possible, taking up the refrain, as noted below.

Hymn to Christ The King

Chorus All glory, laud, and honor
To thee, Redeemer, King!
To whom the lips of children
Made sweet hosannas ring.

All All glory, laud, and honor
To thee, Redeemer, King!
To whom the lips of children
Made sweet hosannas ring.

Chorus Thou art the King of Israel,
Thou David’s royal Son,
Who in the Lord’s Name comest,
The King and Blessed One.

All All glory, laud, and honor
To thee, Redeemer, King!
To whom the lips of children
Made sweet hosannas ring.

Chorus The company of angels
Are praising thee on high;
And mortal men, and all things
Created, make reply.

All All glory, laud, and honor
To thee, Redeemer, King!

Antiphona 2 Cum ángelis et púeris fidélis inveniámur, triumphatóri mormagna, super ómnibus quas viderant virtútibus, dicéntes: “Benedíctus qui venit Rex in nómine Dómini; pax in terra, et glória in excélsis.”

19. Progrediente processione, cantatur sequens hymnus, populo, si fieri potest, duos primos versus continuo repente, ut infra notatur.

Hymnus ad Christum Regem

Chorus Glória, laus et honor tibi sit, Rex Christe Redémptor,
Cui pueríle decus prompsit Ho-

Chorus Hi placuere tibi, pláceat devótio nostra:
Rex bone, Rex clemens, cui bona cuncta placent.

Omnes Glória, laus et honor tibi sit,
Rex Christe Redemptor,
Cui puerile decus prompsit Hosanna pium.

Antiphona 5 Omnes collaudant nomen tuum, et dicunt: "Benedictus qui venit in nómine Dómini: Hosanna in excélsis."

Psalmus 147

Lauda, Ierúsalem, Dóminum, *
lauda Deum tuum, Sion,

Quod firmávit seras portárum tuárum, * benedíxit fíliis tuis in te.

Compósuit fines tuos in pace, *
medúlla trítici sátiat te.

Emíttit elóquium suum in terram, *
velóciter currit verbum eius.

Dat nivem sicut lanam, * pruínam sicut cínerem spargit.

Próicit gláciem suam ut frústula panis; * coram frígore eius aquæ rigéscunt.

Emíttit verbum suum et liquéfacit eas; * flare iubet ventum suum et fluunt aquæ.

To whom the lips of children
Made sweet hosannas ring.

Chorus: The people of the Hebrews
With palms before thee went:

Our praise and prayers and anthems
Before thee we present.

All All glory, laud, and honor
To thee, Redeemer, King!

To whom the lips of children
Made sweet hosannas ring.

Chorus To thee before thy passion
They sang their hymns of praise:

To thee, now high exalted,
Our melody we raise.

All All glory, laud, and honor
To thee, Redeemer, King!

To whom the lips of children
Made sweet hosannas ring.

Chorus Thou didst accept their praises;
Accept the prayers we bring,

Who in all good delightest,
Thou good and gracious King.

All All glory, laud, and honor
To thee, Redeemer, King!

To whom the lips of children
Made sweet hosannas ring.

Antiphon 5 All join together in praising your name, and saying: "Blessed is he who comes in the name of the Lord: hosanna in the highest."

Psalm 147

Glorify the Lord, O Jerusalem; * praise your God, O Sion.

For he has strengthened the bars of your gates; * he has blessed your children within you.

He has granted peace in your borders; *
with the best of wheat he fills you.

He sends forth his command to the earth; * swiftly runs his word!

He spreads snow like wool; * frost he strews like ashes.

He scatters his hail like crumbs; * before his cold the waters freeze.

As it was in the beginning, is now, and ever shall be,* world without end. Amen.

The antiphon is repeated

Antiphon All join together in praising your name, and saying: "Blessed is he who comes in the name of the Lord: hosanna in the highest."

Antiphon 6 Like splendid palm branches we are strewn in the Lord's path: let us all go to meet him with hymns and canticles, glorifying him and saying: "Blessed is the Lord."

Antiphon 7 Hail, our king, the Son of David, redeemer of the world, whom the prophets foretold as the savior to come to the house of Israel. For you the Father sent into the world as the saving victim whom all the saints awaited from the beginning of the world even unto the present: "Hosanna to the Son of David. Blessed is he who comes in the name of the Lord. Hosanna in the highest."

20. The faithful may sing the hymn Christus vincit, or some other hymn in honor of Christ the King.

21. When the procession enters the church, the final antiphon is begun as the celebrant passes through the church door.

Antiphon 8 When the Lord entered the holy city, the children of the Hebrews, foretelling the resurrection of life,

Carrying palm branches, cried out, "Hosanna in the highest."

When the populace had heard that Jesus was coming to Jerusalem, they went out to meet him.

22. When the celebrant comes to the altar he makes the required reverence and goes up to the altar with the sacred ministers. Standing between them and facing the people, the celebrant chants the prayer to complete the procession, using the ferial tone, with his hands joined. A cleric holds the book.

22a. The servers assist at the book and everything is done as described above.

℣. The Lord be with you.
All: ℞. And with your spirit.

Let us pray.

O Lord Jesus Christ, our king and our redeemer, in your honor we carry these branches and sing these solemn praises. Let your blessing, we pray you, descend on any place to which these branches are carried, and may your right hand shield from all wickedness and deception of the devil those whom you have redeemed: You who live and reign.

All: ℞. Amen.

23. After the prayer, the celebrant and ministers make the required reverence to the altar. They then remove the red vestments and put on violet vestments for the Mass.

24. The branches are not held during the chanting or reading of the Lord's Passion during Mass.

MASS

1. The color of the vestments is violet.

2. When the blessing and procession of the branches has taken place before Mass, the celebrant, together with the sacred ministers, or the servers, goes to the altar. All the prayers to be said at the foot of the altar are omitted, as well as the prayers "Aufer a nobis," and "Orámus te, Domine." The celebrant goes up to the altar immediately, kisses it in the center, and incenses it in the usual way.

3. Entrance Antiphon

Ps. 21, 20 and 22

O Lord, be not far from me; O my help, hasten to aid me. Save me from the lion's mouth; from the horns of the wild bulls, my wretched life. Ps. ibid., 2 My God, my God, look upon me, why have you forsaken me? Far from my salvation are the words of my sins. O Lord.

4. Prayer

O almighty and eternal God, it was your will that our Savior should become man and suffer upon the cross as a model of humility for all mankind.* Grant that we may follow the example of his patience and share in his resurrection. Through Jesus Christ.

5. A Reading from the Epistle of blessed Paul the Apostle to the Philippians Philipp. 2, 5–11

Brethren: Your attitude must be Christ's attitude: he was of divine condition, yet he did not greedily cling to equality of status with God, but emptied himself, taking the condition of a slave through being born in the likeness of men. He was known as a man, human in form, and in that state he humbled himself, obediently accepting even death—yes, death on a cross! Because of this, God in turn exalted him above all else, and bestowed on him that name which is above every other name, whose dignity requires that at the mention of Jesus' name every knee must bend throughout the heavens and on earth and under the earth and every tongue proclaim to the glory of God the Father: "Jesus Christ is Lord!"

6. Gradual Ps. 72, 24 and 1–3 You have hold of my right hand; with your counsel you guide me; in the end you will receive me in glory. ℣. How good God is to Israel, to those who are clean of heart! But, as for me, I almost lost my balance; my feet all but slipped, because I was envious of sinners when I saw them prosper though they were wicked.

7. Tract Ps. 21, 2–9, 18, 19, 22, 24 and 32 My God, my God, look upon me: why have you forsaken me? ℣. Far from my salvation, are the words of my sins. ℣. O my God, I cry out by day and you answer not; by night, and there is no relief. ℣. But you are enthroned in the holy place, O glory of

5. Lécitio Epistolæ beáti Pauli Apóstoli ad Philippénes Philipp. 2, 5–11

Fratres: Hoc enim sentíte in vobis, quod et in Christo Iesu: qui cum in forma Dei esset, non rapínam arbitrátus est esse se aequálem Deo: sed semetípsum exinanívit, formam servi accípiens, in similitúdinem hóminum factus, et hábitu invéntus ut homo. "He relied on the Lord; let him deliver him, let him rescue him, if he loves him." V. But they look on and gloat over me; they divide my garments among them, and for my vesture they cast lots. V. Save me from the lion's mouth; from the horns of the wild bulls, my wretched life. V. You who fear the Lord, praise him: all you descendants of Jacob, give glory to him. V. There shall be declared to the Lord a generation to come: and the heavens shall show forth his justice. V. To a people that shall be born, which the Lord has made.

8. After the reading of the epistle, unadorned lecterns are set up on the Gospel side of the sanctuary, and there follows the singing or reading of the history of the Lord's passion, in this way:

It is sung or read by ministers of at least the rank of deacon, who, accompanied by two acolytes, or servers, without candles and without incense, come before the altar, and kneeling there upon the lowest step, bow deeply, and, in a low voice, as is customary, recite the "Munda cor meum," and ask the celebrant's blessing, saying "Iube, domne, benedicere." The celebrant, turned toward them, replies in a louder voice:

Dominus sit in cordibus vestris, et in labiis vestris, ut digne et competenter annuntiatis evangelium suum: in nomine Patris et Filii, ✠ et Spiritus Sancti and they reply: Amen.

Then they make a reverence together with the acolytes or servers and go to the lecterns. They do not say The Lord be with you and they do not make a sign of the cross on the book or on themselves when they begin to sing or read.

8a. Having said the Munda cor meum, Iube, Domine, and the Dominus sit in corde meo in the usual way, the priest sings or reads aloud the history of the Lord's passion, but he does not say The Lord be with you and he does not make the sign of the cross on the book or on himself when he begins to read or sing.

The Passion of our Lord Jesus Christ according to Matthew

Matth. 26, 36-75; 27, 1-60

At that time Jesus went with his disciples to a place called Gethsemani. ✠ “Sit down here,” he said to his disciples, “while I go over there and pray.” C. But he took along Peter and Zebedee’s two sons, and he began to experience sorrow and distress. Then he said to them, ✠ “My heart is near breaking with sorrow. Remain here, and stay awake with me.” C. He advanced a little and fell prostrate in prayer: ✠ “O my Father, if it is possible, let this cup pass me by. Still, let it be as you will, not as I will.” C. When he returned to his disciples, he found them asleep. He said to Peter, ✠ “So you could not stay awake with me for even an hour? Stay awake, and pray that you may not be subject to the trial. The spirit may be eager, but human nature is weak.” C. Going back yet a second time, he began to pray, ✠ “O my Father, if this cannot pass me by without my drinking it, may your will be done!” C. Once again, he found them asleep on his return, for they could not keep their eyes open. Again he left them and withdrew, and began to pray a third time, saying the same words once more. Finally he returned to his disciples and said to them, ✠ “Still asleep? Still enjoying your rest? See, the hour is upon us, in which the Son of Man is handed over into the power of evil men. Get up! Let us be on our way. Look, my betrayer is here.”

In illo témpore: Venit Iesus cum discipulis suis in villam, quæ dicitur Gethsémani, et dixit discipulis suis: ✠ Sedéte hic, donec vadam illuc, et orem. C. Et assumpto Petro, et duóbus fíliis Zebedæi, cœpit contristári, et mæstus esse. Tunc ait illis: ✠ Tristis est ánima mea usque ad mortem: sustinéte hic, et vigiláte mecum. C. Et progréssus pusillum, prócidit in fáciem suam, orans, et dicens: ✠ Pater mi, si possíbile est, tránseat a me calix iste. Verúm-tamen non sicut ego volo, sed sicut tu. C. Et venit ad discipulos suos, et invénit eos dormiéntes: et dicit Petro: ✠ Sic non potuístis una hora vigiláre mecum? Vigiláte, et oráte, ut non intréti in tentatiónem. Spíritus quidem promptus est, caro autem infírma. C. Iterum secúndo ábiit, et orávit, dicens: ✠ Pater mi, si non potest hic calix transíre, nisi bibam illum, fiat volúntas tua. C. Et venit íterum, et invénit eos dormiéntes: erant enim óculi eórum graváti. Et relictis illis, íterum ábiit, et orávit tertio, eúndem sermónem dicens. Tunc venit ad discipulos suos, et dicit illis: ✠ Dormíte iam, et requiésците: ecce appropinquávit hora, et Fílius hóminis tradétur in manus peccatórum. Súr-gite, eámus: ecce appropinquávit qui me tradet.

C. Adhuc eo loquente, ecce Iudas unus de duódecim venit, et cum eo turba multa cum gládiis, et fústibus, missi a principibus sacerdotum, et senióribus pópuli. Qui autem tradidit eum, dedit illis si-

Dixítque illi Iesus: ✠ Amíce, ad quid venísti? C. Tunc accessérunt, et manus iniecérunt in Iesum, et tenuérunt eum. Et ecce unus ex his, qui erant cum Iesu, exténdens manum, exémit gládium suum, et percútiens servum princípis sacerdotum, amputávit aurículam eius. Tunc ait illi Iesus: ✠ Convérte gládium tuum in locum suum. Omnes enim, qui accéperint gládium, gládio períbunt. An putas, quia non possum rogáre Patrem meum, et exhibébit mihi modo plus quam duódecim legiónes Angelórum? Quómodo ergo implebúntur Scriptúrae, quia sic opórtet fieri?

C. In illa hora dixit Iesus turbis: ✠ Tamquam ad latrónem existis cum gládiis, et fústibus comprehendere me: cotídie apud vos sedébam docens in templo, et non me tenuístis. C. Hoc autem totum factum est, ut adimpleréntur Scriptúrae prophetárum. Tunc discípuli omnes, relicto eo, fugérunt.

At illi tenétes Iesum, duxérunt ad Cáipham princípem sacerdotum, ubi scribæ, et senióres convénerant. Petrus autem sequebátur eum a longe, usque in átrium princípis sacerdotum. Et ingressus intro, sedébat cum minístris, ut vidéret finem. Príncipes autem sacerdotum, et omne concílium, quærébant falsum testimónium contra Iesum, ut eum morti tráderent: et non invenérunt, cum multi falsi testes accessíssent. Novíssime autem venérunt duo falsi testes, et dixérunt: S. Hic dixit: Possum destrúere templum Dei, et post tríduum reédificáre illud. C. Et surgens princeps sacerdotum, ait illi: S. Nihil respóndes ad ea, quæ isti advésum te testificántur? C. Iesus autem tacébat. Et princeps sacerdotum ait illi: S. Adiúro te per Deum vivum, ut dicas nobis, si tu es Christus Fílius Dei. C. Dicit illi Iesus: ✠ Tu dixísti. Verúm tamen dico vobis, ámodo vidébitis Fílium hóminis sedéntem

Judas, one of the Twelve, arrived, accompanied by a great crowd with swords and clubs, sent by the chief priests and elders of the people. Now his betrayer had arranged to give them a signal, saying, S. "The man I shall kiss is the one; arrest him." C. And immediately he went over to Jesus, and said, S. "Good evening, Rabbi," C. and kissed him. But Jesus said to him, ✠ "Do what you are here for, my friend!" C. At that moment, they stepped forward, laid hands on Jesus and arrested him. But suddenly, one of those accompanying Jesus put his hand to his sword, drew it, and slashed at the high priest's slave, cutting off his ear. Then Jesus said to him, ✠ "Put your sword back where it belongs! Those who use the sword are all destroyed by the sword. Or do you think that I cannot appeal to my Father to put more than twelve legions of angels at my immediate service? But then how could the Scriptures be fulfilled which state that it must happen this way?"

C. In that same hour, Jesus said to the crowds, ✠ "You have come out to seize me, armed with swords and clubs, as if against a bandit. Daily I sat teaching in the Temple precincts, yet you never arrested me. C. Still, this has all happened in order that the writings of the prophets might be fulfilled." Then all the disciples deserted him, and fled.

Those who had arrested Jesus led him off to Caiaphas the high priest, where the scribes and elders were convened. Peter was following him at a distance as far as the high priest's palace. Going inside, he sat down with the Temple police to see the outcome. The chief priests with the whole Sanhedrin were busy trying to obtain false testimony against Jesus, so that they might put him to death. However, they discovered none, although many false witnesses took the stand, until two men finally came forward. They stated, S. "This man has declared, 'I can destroy God's sanctuary and rebuild it in three days.' ” C. The high priest rose to his feet, and addressed him, S. “Have you no answer to what these men testify against you?” C. But Jesus remained silent. So the high priest said to him, S. “I order you to tell us under oath before the living God whether you are the Messiah, the Son of God.” C. Jesus answered, ✠ “As you say. Still I tell you that very soon you will see the Son of Man seated at the right hand of the Power and coming on the clouds of heaven.” C. At this the high priest tore his robes; S. “He has blasphemed!” he declared, “What further need do we have of witnesses? Remember, you have now heard the blasphemy. What is your opinion?” C. They replied, S. “He deserves death!”

C. Then they began to spit in his face and to hit him, and others slapped him saying, S. “Play the prophet for us, O Messiah! Who is it that struck you?” C. Now Peter was sitting in the courtyard, when one of the servant girls came over to him and said, S. “You too were with Jesus the Galilean.” C. But he denied it in front of everybody, S. “I don’t know what you are talking about!” C. When he went out to the gate, another girl saw him, and said to those nearby, S. “This man was with Jesus the Nazorean.” C. Again he denied it with an oath, “I don’t know the fellow!” A little later, the bystanders came over to Peter and said, S. “Obviously you are also one of them! Why, even your accent gives you away!” C. Then he began to curse and swear, “I don’t even know the fellow!” Just then a cock crowed and Peter remembered the prediction Jesus had made, “Before the cock crows, you will three times disown me.” He went outside and wept bitterly.

At daybreak all the chief priests and the elders of the people hatched a plot against Jesus to put him to death. So they bound him and led him away, and handed him a dextris virtútis Dei, et venientem in núbibus cæli. C. Tunc princeps sacerdotum scidit vestiménta sua, dicens: S. Blasphemávit: quid adhuc egémus téstibus? Ecce nunc audístis blasphemiam: quid vobis vidétur? C. At illi respondéntes dixerunt: S. Reus est mortis.

C. Tunc exspuérun't in fáciem eius, et cólaphis eum cecidérunt, álii autem palmas in fáciem eius dedérunt, dicéntes: S. Prophetíza nobis, Christe, quis est qui te percússit? C. Petrus vero sedébat foris in átrio: et accéssit ad eum una ancilla, dicens: S. Et tu cum Iesu Galiléo eras. C. At ille negávit coram ómnibus dicens: S. Nescio quid dicis. C. Exeúnte autem illo iánuam, vidit eum ália ancilla, et ait his, qui erant ibi: S. Et hic erat cum Iesu Nazaréno. C. Et íterum negávit cum iuraménto: Quia non novi hóminem. Et post pusíllum accessérunt qui stabant, et dixerunt Petro: S. Vere et tu ex illis es: nam et loquéla tua maniféstum te facit. C. Tunc cœpit detestári, et iuráre quia non novísset hóminem. Et contínuo gallus cantávit. Et recordátus est Petrus verbi Iesu, quod díxerat: Priúsquam gallus cantet, ter me negábis. Et egréssus foras, flevit amáre.

Mane autem facto, consílium iniérunt omnes príncipes sacerdotum, et senióres pópuli advérsus Iesum, ut eum morti tráderent. Et vincum adduxérunt eum, et tradidérunt Póntio Piláto práesidi. Tunc videns Iudas, qui eum trádedit, quod damnátus esset: pæniténtia ductus, rétulit trigínta argénteos princípibus sacerdotum, et senióribus, dicens: S. Peccávi, tradens sánguinem iustum. C. At illi dixerunt: S. Quid ad nos? Tu videris. C. Et proiécit argénteis in templo, recéssit: et ábiens, láqueo se suspéndit. Príncipes autem sacerdotum, accéptis argénteis, dixerunt: S. Non licet eos mittere in córbonam: quia prétium sánguinis est. C. Consílio autem ínito, emérunt ex illis agrum fíguli, in sepultúram peregrinórum. Iesus autem stetit ante præsides, et interrogávit eum præsides, dicens: S. Tu es Rex Iudæórum? C. Dicit illi Iesus: ✠ Tu dicis. C. Et cum accusarétur a princípibus sacerdotum, et senióribus, nihil respóndit. Tunc dicit illi Pilátus: S. Non audis quanta advérsus te dicunt testimónia? C. Et non respóndit ei ad ullum verbum, ita ut mirarétur præsides vehementer. Per diem autem solénnem consuéverat præsides pópulo dimittere unum vinctum, quem voluissent. Habébat autem tunc vinctum insígnem, qui dicebátur Barábbas. Congregátis ergo illis, dixit Pilátus: S. Quem vultis dimittam vobis: Barábbam, an Iesum, qui dicitur Christus? C. Sciébat enim quod per invidiam tradidissent eum. Sedente autem illo pro tribunáli, misit ad eum uxor eius, dicens: S. Nihil tibi et iusto illi: multa enim passa sum hódie per visum propter eum. C. Príncipes autem sacerdotum, et senióres persuasérunt pópulis, ut péterent Barábbam, Iesum vero pérderent. Respóndens autem præsides ait illis: S. Quem vultis vobis de duóbus dimitti? C. At illi dixerunt: S. Barábbam. C. Dicit illis Pilátus: S. Quid igitur fáciam de Iesu, qui dicitur Christus? C. Dicunt omnes: S. Crucifigátur. C. Ait illis præsides: S. Quid enim mali fecit? C. At illi magis clamábant, dicentes: S. Crucifigátur. C. Videns autem Pilátus quia nihil proficeret, sed magis tumultus fferet: accépta aqua, lavit manus coram pópulo, dicens: S. Innocens ego sum a sanguine iusti huius: vos vidéritis. C. Et respóndens univérsus pópulus dixit: S. Sanguis eius super nos, et super filios nostros. C. Tunc dimísit illis Barábbam: Iesum autem flagelláover to the governor, Pilate. Then Judas, who had handed him over, saw that he had been condemned and began to regret his action. He took the thirty pieces of silver back to the chief priests and elders, saying, S. "I did wrong to hand over an innocent man!" C. But they retorted, S. "What's that to us? That's your responsibility!" C. So he flung the money into the sanctuary, and left. He went off and hanged himself. But the chief priests picked up the silver with the remark, S. "It is not right to deposit this in the Temple treasury since it is blood money." C. So after consultation they used it to buy the Potter's Field as a cemetery for foreigners. That is why that field, even today, is called Blood Field. Then what was said through Jeremia the prophet was fulfilled, "They took the thirty pieces of silver, the value of a man with a price on his head, a price set by the Israelites, and they paid it out for the Potter's Field, just as the Lord had commanded me."

Now Jesus was arraigned before the governor, who questioned him, S. "Are you the king of the Jews?" ✠ "As you say," C. Jesus answered. Yet when he was accused by the chief priests and elders, he made no reply. Then Pilate said to him, S. "Surely you hear how many charges they are bringing against you?" C. Still, he did not answer him on a single count, much to the governor's surprise. Now on the occasion of a festival, the governor was accustomed to release one prisoner whom the crowd would designate. At that time, they had a notorious prisoner whose name was Barabbas. So, since they were already assembled, Pilate said to them, S. "Which one do you wish me to release for you, Barabbas or Jesus, the so-called Messiah?" C. He knew, of course, that it was out of jealousy that they had handed him over. While he was still presiding on the bench, his wife sent him a message, S. "Do not interfere with that holy man. I had a dream about him today which has greatly upset me.” C. Meanwhile, the chief priests and elders convinced the crowds that they should ask for Barabbas, and have Jesus put to death. So when the governor asked them, S. “Which one do you wish me to release for you?” C. They said, S. “Barabbas.” C. Pilate said to them, S. “Then what am I to do with Jesus, the so-called Messiah?” S. “Have him crucified!” C. they all cried. C. But he said, S. “Why, what crime has he committed?” C. They only shouted the louder, S. “Have him crucified!” C. Pilate finally realized that he was making no impression but that instead a riot was starting. Calling for water, he washed his hands in front of the crowd and declared, S. “I am innocent of this holy man’s blood. It is your responsibility.” C. Then the whole people said in reply, S. “Let his blood be on us and on our children!” C. At that, he released Barabbas to them. But after scourging Jesus, he handed him over to be crucified.

Then the governor’s soldiers took Jesus in charge to the Pretorium and collected the whole cohort around him. They stripped off his clothes and wrapped a scarlet military cloak about him. Weaving a crown out of thorns, they fixed it on his head and stuck a reed in his right hand. They began to mock him by genuflecting before him and saying, S. “All hail, King of the Jews!”, C. and they spat at him. They snatched the reed and kept striking him on the head. Then, when they had finished mocking him, they stripped him of the cloak, dressed him in his own clothes, and led him off to crucifixion.

Now as they were marching out, they met a Cyrenian called Simon. This man they pressed into service to carry the cross. Upon arriving at a place called Golgotha (a name which means Skull-Place), they gave him a drink of wine flavored with gall. But on tasting it, he refused to drink it. When they tum tradidit eis, ut crucifigeretur.

Tunc milites praesidis suscipientes Iesum in praetorium, congregaverunt ad eum universam cohortem: et exuentes eum, chlamydem coccineam circumdederunt ei: et plectentes coronam de spinis, posuerunt super caput eius, et arundinem in dextera eius. Et genu flexo ante eum, illudabant ei, dicentes: S. Ave, Rex Iudaeorum. C. Et exspuentes in eum, acceperunt arundinem, et percutiebant caput eius. Et postquam illuserunt ei, exuerunt eum chlamyde et induerunt eum vestimentis eius, et duxerunt eum ut crucifigerent.

Exeuntes autem, inveniunt hominem Cyrenaeum, nomine Simonem: hunc angariaverunt, ut tolleret crucem eius. Et venerunt in locum qui dicitur Golgotha, quod est Calvariae locus. Et dederunt ei vinum bibere cum felle mixtum. Et cum gustasset, noluit bibere. Postquam autem crucifixerunt eum, diviserunt vestimenta eius, sortem mittentes: ut impleretur, quod dictum est per prophetam, dicentem: Diviserunt sibi vestimenta mea, et super vestem meam miserunt sortem. Et sedentes, servabant eum. Et imposuerunt super caput eius causam ipsius scriptam: Hic est Iesus Rex Iudaeorum.

Tunc crucifixi sunt cum eo duo latrones: unus a dextris, et unus a sinistris. Praetereuntes autem blasphemabant eum, moventes capita sua, et dicentes: S. Vah, qui destruis templum Dei, et in triduo illud reaedificas: salva te ipsum. Si Filius Dei es, descende de cruce. C. Similiter et principes sacerdotum illudentes cum scribis et senioribus dicebant: S. Alios salvos fecit, seipsum non potest salvum facere: si Rex Israel est, descendat nunc de cruce, et credimus ei: confidit in Deo: liberet nunc, si vult eum: dixit enim: Quia Filius Dei sum. C. Idipsum autem et latrones, qui crucifixi erant cum eo, imprecabant ei.

had crucified him, they divided up his garments by rolling dice; then they sat down there and kept watch over him. Above his head they had put a written notice of his offense, "This is Jesus, the king of the Jews."

Next, two bandits were crucified with him, one at the right and one at the left. People going by kept insulting him, wagging their heads and saying, S. "So you were going to destroy the sanctuary and rebuild it in three days! Now save yourself! Come down off that cross, if you are God's Son!" C. The chief priests, the scribes and the elders also joined in: S. "Other men he saved," they jeered, "himself he cannot save! And he is 'king of Israel'! Let him come down off that cross, and we'll put our faith in him. He relied on God; let him deliver him now, if he wants him. After all, he claimed, 'I am God's Son.'" C. In the same way, the bandits, who had been crucified with him, also kept taunting him.

From noon on, darkness fell upon the whole land, lasting until mid-afternoon. Then toward mid-afternoon, Jesus cried in a loud voice, ✠Eli, Eli, lema sabachthani? C. that is, ✠ "My God, my God, why have you forsaken me?" C. So some of the bystanders who heard it remarked, S. "The fellow is invoking Elia!" C. And immediately, one of their number ran off and got a sponge. He soaked it in sour wine; and, sticking it on a reed, he tried to make him drink. But the rest said, S. "Leave him alone. Let's see whether Elia comes to save him." C. Again Jesus cried out in a loud voice, and gave up his spirit. (Here kneel and pause momentarily.)

And suddenly the curtain in the sanctuary was torn in two from top to bottom. The earth quaked, boulders split, tombs opened; and many bodies of saints who had fallen asleep were raised. After his resurrection, they came forth from their tombs, and entered the holy city, and appeared to many people. Now the centurion and his men, who were keeping watch over Jesus, were terror-stricken at the sight of the earthquake and these happenings, and they declared, S. "It is clear this was God's Son!" C. There were present many women looking on from a distance. They had followed Jesus from Galilee to attend to his needs. Among them were Mary Magdalene, and Mary, the mother of James and Joseph, and the mother of Zebedee's sons.

When it grew dark, a wealthy man from Arimathea arrived, whose name was Joseph. He too was one of Jesus' disciples and had gone to Pilate to request the body of Jesus. Pilate then issued an order for its release. So taking the body, Joseph wrapped it in fresh linen, and laid it in his own new tomb which had been cut out of rock. Then he rolled a huge stone across the entrance of the tomb and went away.

way in the face of my pursuers; say to my soul, "I am your salvation." Judge.

2. Prayer

O almighty God, may the merits of the passion of your only-begotten Son give us new strength,* for our own weakness brings nothing but failure in the face of so many afflictions: Who lives and reigns.

3. A Reading from the Prophet Isaiah Isaia 50, 5-10

In those days Isaiah said:
The Lord God opens my ear that I may hear;
And I have not rebelled,
have not turned back.
I gave my back to those who beat me,
my cheeks to those who plucked my beard;
My face I did not shield
from buffets and spitting.
The Lord God is my help,
therefore I am not disgraced;
I have set my face like flint,
knowing that I shall not be put to shame.
He is near who upholds my right;
if anyone wishes to oppose me,
let us appear together.
Who disputes my right?
Let him confront me.
See, the Lord God is my help;
who will prove me wrong?
Lo, they will all wear out like cloth,
the moth will eat them up.
Who among you fears the Lord,
heeds his servant's voice,
And walks in darkness
without any light,
Trusting in the name of the Lord and relying on his God?

4. Gradual Ps. 34, 23 and 3 Awake, O Lord, and be vigilant in my defense, my God and my Lord. ℣. Brandish the lance, and block the way in the face of my pursuers.

Ante sex dies Paschæ venit Iesus Bethániam, ubi Lázarus fúerat mórtuus, quem suscitávit Iesus. Fecerunt autem ei cenam ibi: et Martha ministrábat, Lázarus vero unus erat ex discumbéntibus cum eo. María ergo accépit libram unguénti nardi pístici pretiósí, et unxit pedes Iesu, et extérsit pedes eius capíllis suis: et domus impléta est ex odóre un-guénti. Dixit ergo unus ex discípulis eius, Iudas Iscariótes, qui erat eum traditúrus: “Quare hoc unguéntum non véniit trecéntis denáriis, et datum est egénis?” Dixit autém hoc, non quia de egénis pertinébat ad eum, sed quia fur erat, et lóculos habens, ea, quæ mittebántur, portábat. Dixit ergo Iesus: “Sínite illam, ut in diem sepultúræ meæ servet illud. Páuperes enim semper habétis vo-bíscum: me autem non semper habétis.” Cognóvit ergo turba multa ex Iudáeis, quia illic est: et venérunt, non propter Iesum tantum, sed ut Lázarus vidérent, quem suscitávit a mórtuis.

6. ✠ A Reading from the holy Gospel
according to John
John 12, 1–9

Six days before Passover Jesus came to Bethany, the village of Lazarus whom Jesus had raised from the dead. There they gave him a banquet, at which Martha served and Lazarus was one of those at table with him. Mary brought in a pound of perfume made from precious aromatic nard and anointed Jesus’ feet, and then dried his feet with her hair, while the fragrance of the perfume filled the house. Judas Iscariot, one of his disciples (the one who was going to hand him over), protested, “Why wasn’t this perfume sold? It is worth three hundred silver pieces and the money might have been given to the poor.” (It was not because he was concerned for the poor that he said this, but because he was a thief; and since he held the common purse, he could help himself to what was put in it.) To this Jesus replied, “Leave her alone. The purpose was that she might keep it for the day of my embalming. You will always have the poor around you; but you will not always have me.” Now the great crowd of the Jews found out that he was there and came out, not only because of Jesus, but also to see Lazarus whom he had raised from the dead.

He advanced a little and fell to the ground, praying that, if it were possible, this hour might pass him by. And he kept saying, ✠ “Abba (O Father), for you everything is possible. Take this cup away from me. But, it must be what you will, not what I will.” C. When he returned, he found them asleep. He said to Peter, ✠ “Simon, you are asleep? So you could not stay awake for even an hour? Stay awake, and pray that you may not be subjected to the trial. The spirit may be eager, but human nature is weak.” C. Going back again, he began to pray in the same words. Once again, he found them asleep on his return, for they could not keep their eyes open. They did not know what to say to him. And he returned the third time and said to them, ✠ “Still asleep? Still enjoying your rest? Enough of this! The hour has arrived: See, the Son of Man is being handed over into the power of evil men. Get up! Let us be on our way. Look, my betrayer is here.” C. Just then, while he was still speaking, Judas, one of the Twelve, made his appearance, accompanied by a crowd with swords and clubs, sent from the chief priests, the scribes, and the elders. Now his betrayer had arranged to give them a signal, saying, S. “The man I shall kiss is the one; arrest him and with every precaution lead him away.” C. And immediately he went over to him; S. “Rabbi,” C. he said, and kissed him. Then they laid hands on him and arrested him. But one of the bystanders, drawing his sword, struck the high priest’s slave and cut off his earlobe. Then addressing them, Jesus said, ✠ “You have come out to seize me, armed with swords and clubs, as if against a bandit. Et cum processisset páululum, prócidit super terram: et orábat, ut si fieri posset, transíret ab eo hora: et dixit: ✠ Abba, Pater, ómnia tibi possibília sunt, transfer cálicem hunc a me: sed non quod ego volo, sed quod tu. C. Et venit, et invénit eos dormiéntes. Et ait Petro: ✠ Simon, dormis? non potuísti una hora vigiláre? Vigiláte, et oráte, ut non intrétis in tentatiónem. Spíritus quidem promptus est, caro vero infirma. C. Et iterum ábiens orávit, eúndem sermónem dicens. Et revérsus, dénuo invénit eos dormiéntes (erant enim óculi eórum graváti) et ignorábant quid respondérent ei. Et venit tertio, et ait illis: ✠ Dormíte iam, et requiescite. Súfficit: venit hora: ecce Fílius hóminis tradétur in manus peccatórum. Súrgite, eámus: ecce qui me tradet, prope est. C. Et, adhuc eo loquénte, venit Iudas Iscariótes, unus de duódecim, et cum eo turba multa cum gládiis, et lignis, a summis sacerdotibus, et scribis, et senióribus. Déderat autem tráditor eius signum eis, dicens: S. Quemcúmque osculátus fuero, ipse est, tenéte eum, et dúcite caute. C. Et cum venisset, statim accédens ad eum, ait: S. Ave, Rabbi. C. Et osculátus est eum. At illi manus iniecérunt in eum, et tenuérunt eum. Unus autem quidam de circumstántibus, edúcens gládium, percússit servum summi sacerdotis: et amputávit illi aurículam. Et respóndens Iesus, ait illis: ✠ Tamquam ad latrónem exístis cum gládiis, et lignis comprehéndere me? cotídie eram apud vos in templo docens, et non me tenuístis. Sed ut impleántur Scriptúrae. C. Tunc discípuli eius relinquéntes eum, omnes fugérunt. Adoléscens autem quidam sequebátur eum amíctus síndone super nudo: et tenuérunt eum. At ille, reiécta síndone, nudus profúgit ab eis.

Et adduxérunt Iesum ad sum-mum sacerdotem: et convenérunt omnes sacerdotes, et scribæ, et seniores. Petrus autem a longe secutus est eum usque intro in atrium summi sacerdotis: et sedebat cum ministris ad ignem, et calefaciebat se. Summi vero sacerdotes, et omne concilium, quærebant adversus Iesum testimonium, ut eum morti traderent, nec inveniabant. Multi enim testimonium falsum dicebant adversus eum: et convenientia testimonia non erant. Et quidam surgentes, falsum testimonium ferebant adversus eum, dicentes: S. Quoniam nos audivimus eum dicentem: Ego dissolvam templum hoc manufactum, et per triduum aliud non manufactum ædificabo. C. Et non erat conveniens testimonium illorum. Et exurgens summus sacerdos in medium, interrogavit Iesum, dicens: S. Non respondes quidquam ad ea, quæ tibi obiiciuntur ab his? C. Ille autem tacebat, et nihil respondit. Rursum summus sacerdos interrogabat eum, et dixit ei: S. Tu es Christus Filius Dei benedicti? C. Iesus autem dixit illi: ✠ Ego sum: et videbitis Filium hominis sedentem a dextris virtutis Dei, et venientem cum nubibus cæli. C. Summus autem sacerdos scindens vestimenta sua, ait: S. Quid adhuc desideramus testes? Audistis blasphemiam: quid vobis videtur? C. Qui omnes condemnaverunt eum esse reum mortis.

Et cœperunt quidam conspuere eum, et velare faciem eius, et colaphis eum cedere, et dicere ei: S. Prophetiza. C. Et ministri alapis eum cædebant.

Et cum esset Petrus in atrio deorsum, venit una ex ancillis summi sacerdotis: et cum vidisset Petrum calefacientem se, aspiciens illum, ait: S. Et tu cum Iesu Nazaréno eras. C. At ille negavit, dicens: S. Neque scio, neque novi quid dicas. C. Et exiit foras ante atrium, et gallus cantavit. Rursus autem cum vidisset illum ancilla, cœpit dicere circumstantibus: Quia hic ex illis est. At ille iterum negavit. Et post pusillum rursus qui astabant, dicebant now—in order that the Scriptures might be fulfilled. . . .” C. Then all of them deserted him and fled. There was a young man following him, with only a sheet wrapped around him. As they seized him, he dropped the sheet and ran away naked.

So they led Jesus off to the high priest. Then all the chief priests, the elders, and the scribes assembled. Peter followed him at a distance right into the high priest’s palace, where he found a seat with the Temple police and was warming himself at the blazing fire. The chief priests with the whole Sanhedrin were busy trying to obtain testimony against Jesus in order to put him to death, but they were unable to discover any. Many testified falsely against him, but their testimony did not agree. Some, for instance, took the stand and testified falsely, alleging, S. “We heard him declare, ‘I will destroy this sanctuary made by human hands,’ and ‘In three days, I will construct another, not made by human hands.’” C. Even so, their testimony did not agree. The high priest rose to his feet before the court and began to interrogate Jesus, S. “Have you no answer to what these men testify against you?” C. But Jesus remained silent, making no reply. Once again the high priest interrogated him, S. “Are you the Messiah, the Son of the Blessed One?” C. Then Jesus answered, ✠ “I am; and you will see the Son of Man seated at the right hand of the Power and coming with the clouds of heaven.” C. Then the high priest rose, tore his robes, and declared, S. “What further need do we have of witnesses? You have heard the blasphemy. What is your opinion?” C. All of them found him guilty and deserving of death.

And some of them began to spit on him; they blindfolded him and hit him, saying, S. “Play the prophet!”, C. while the Temple police slapped him.

And while Peter was down in the court-

Tuesday of Holy Week

yard, one of the servant girls of the high priest came along. When she noticed Peter warming himself, she looked at him and said, S. “You too were with Jesus of Nazareth.” C. But he denied it, S. “I don’t know what you are talking about! I don’t understand!” C. Then he went out into the gateway. And a cock crowed. The servant girl, keeping an eye on him, started again to tell the bystanders, “This man is one of them.” Again he denied it. A little later, the bystanders said to Peter again, S. “Obviously you are one of them! Why, after all, you are a Galilean!” C. So he began to curse and swear, “I don’t even know that fellow you are talking about!” Just then, a cock crowed for the second time; and Peter recalled the prediction Jesus had made to him, “Before the cock can crow twice, you will three times disown me.” He broke down, and began to weep.

As soon as it was daybreak, the chief priests with the elders and scribes (that is, the whole Sanhedrin) reached a decision. They bound Jesus, and led him away, and handed him over to Pilate. Pilate questioned him, S. “Are you the king of the Jews?” ✠ “As you say,” S. he replied. The chief priests, however, brought many accusations against him. Pilate again questioned him, S. “Surely you have some answer? Look how many accusations they are leveling against you.” C. But Jesus made no further answer, much to Pilate’s surprise.

Now on the occasion of a festival, he would release for them one prisoner—the man they would ask for. There was a prisoner named Barabbas jailed along with the revolutionaries who had committed murder in the uprising. When the crowd came up to press their demand that he honor the custom, Pilate rejoined, S. “Do you wish me to release for you the king of the Jews?” C. He was aware, of course, that it was out of jealousy that the chief priests had handed

Petro: S. Vere ex illis es: nam et Galilæus es. C. Ille autem cœpit anathematizare, et iurare: Quia nescio hominem istum, quem dicitis. Et statim gallus iterum cantavit. Et recordatus est Petrus verbi, quod dixerat ei Iesus: Priusquam gallus cantet bis, ter me negabis. Et cœpit flere.

Et confestim mane consilium facientes summi sacerdotes, cum senioribus, et scribis, et universo concilio, vincientes Iesum duxerunt, et tradiderunt Pilato. Et interrogavit eum Pilatus: S. Tu es Rex Iudæorum? C. At ille respondens, ait illi: ✠ Tu dicis. C. Et accusabant eum summi sacerdotes in multis. Pilatus autem rursum interrogavit eum, dicens: S. Non respondes quidquam? vide in quantis te accusant. C. Iesus autem amplius nihil respondit, ita ut miraretur Pilatus.

Per diem autem festum solébat dimittere illis unum ex vinctis, quemcúmque petissent. Erat autem qui dicebatur Barábbas, qui cum seditiósus erat vinctus, qui in seditiône fécerat homicídium. Et cum ascendisset turba, cœpit rogare, sicut semper faciébat illis. Pilatus autem respóndit eis, et dixit: S. Vultis dimittam vobis Regem Iudæorum? C. Sciebat enim quod per invidiam tradidissent eum summi sacerdotes. Pontífices autem concitaverunt turbam, ut magis Barábbam dimitteret eis. Pilatus autem iterum respóndens, ait illis: S. Quid ergo vultis fáciam Regi Iudæorum? C. At illi iterum clamaverunt: S. Crucifige eum. C. Pilatus vero dicebat illis: S. Quid enim mali fecit? C. At illi magis clamabant: S. Crucifige eum. C. Pilatus autem volens pópulo satisfacere, dimisit illis Barábbam, et tradidit Iesum flagéllis cæsum, ut crucifigeretur.

Mílites autem duxerunt eum in átrium prætórii, et cónvocant totam cohórtem, et induunt eum púrpura, et impónunt ei plecténtes spineam coronam. Et cœperunt salutare him over. Meanwhile, the chief priests incited the crowd to have him release Barabbas instead. Pilate again asked them, S. "Then what am I to do with the man you call the king of the Jews?" C. They shouted back, S. "Crucify him!" C. But Pilate protested, S. "Why, what crime has he committed?" C. They only shouted the louder, S. "Crucify him!" C. So Pilate, desiring to satisfy the crowd, released Barabbas to them; and after scourging Jesus, he handed him over to be crucified.

Now the soldiers led him away into the hall known as the Pretorium; and they called together the whole cohort. They dressed him up in royal purple, and weaving a crown of thorns, they put it on him. They began to salute him, "All hail! King of the Jews!" They kept striking him on the head with a reed and spitting at him. Genuflecting before him, they pretended to pay him homage. Then, when they had finished mocking him, they stripped him of the purple, dressed him in his own clothes, and led him out to crucify him. To carry the cross, they pressed into service a passer-by, Simon the Cyrenian, who was coming in from the farm, the father of Alexander and Rufus.

When they brought Jesus to the place of Golgotha (which means Skull-Place), they tried to give him wine drugged with myrrh, but he did not take it. They crucified him, and divided up his garments by rolling dice for them to see what each should take. It was about nine in the morning when they crucified him. And the inscription proclaiming his offense read, "The King of the Jews." With him they crucified two bandits, one at his right, and one at his left. People going by kept insulting him, wagging their heads, and saying, S. "Ha! So you were going to destroy the sanctuary and rebuild it in three days. Now save yourself by coming down off that cross!" C. The chief priests and the scribes also joined in: S. "Other men he saved," C. they jeered to one another, S. "himself he cannot save! Let the 'Messiah,' the 'king of Israel,' come down off that cross, that we may see and put our faith in him!" C. And the men who had been crucified with him kept taunting him. And when noon came, darkness fell upon the whole land, lasting until mid-afternoon. Then in mid-afternoon, Jesus cried in a loud voice, ✠ Eloi, Eloi, lama sabachthani? C. which means, ✠ "My God, my God, why have you forsaken me?" So some of the bystanders who heard it remarked, S. "Listen! He is invoking Elia!" C. Somebody ran off, soaked a sponge in sour wine, and sticking it on a reed, tried to make him drink. S. "Now let's see," he said, "whether Elia comes to take him down." C. But Jesus, uttering a loud cry, expired. (Here kneel and pause momentarily.)

And the curtain in the sanctuary was torn in two from top to bottom. Now the centurion who stood guard over him, on seeing that he died in this way, declared, S. "It is clear this man was God's son!" C. There were also women present, looking on from a distance. Among them were Mary Magdalene, and Mary the mother of James the younger and Joseph, and Salome. These women had followed Jesus when he was in Galilee, and had attended to his needs; and there were many others who had come up with him to Jerusalem.

And now as it grew dark, since it was Preparation Day (that is, the eve of the Sabbath), Joseph from Arimathea, a distinguished member of the Sanhedrin, arrived. He too was looking forward to the kingdom of God. He was bold enough to seek an audience with Pilate and request the body of Jesus. Pilate was surprised that he should be dead so soon, and summoning the centurion, inquired whether Jesus had already died. Learning from the centurion

Et velum templi scissum est in duo, a summo usque deorsum. Videns autem centurio, qui ex adverso stabat, quia sic clamans exspirasset, ait: S. Vere hic homo Filius Dei erat. C. Erant autem et mulieres de longe aspicientes: inter quas erat Maria Magdalene, et Maria Iacobi minoris, et Ioseph mater, et Salome: et cum esset in Galilea, sequebantur eum, et ministrabant ei, et aliae multae, quae simul cum eo ascenderant Ierosolymam.

Et cum iam sero esset factum (quia erat Parascève, quod est ante sabbatum) venit Ioseph ab Arimathaea, nobilis decurio, qui et ipse erat exspectans regnum Dei, et audacter introivit ad Pilatum, et petiit corpus Iesu. Pilatus autem mirabatur si iam obiisset. Et accersito centurione, interrogavit eum si iam mortuus esset. Et cum cognovisset a centurione, donavit corpus Ioseph. Ioseph autem mercatus sindonem, et deprensens eum involvit sindone, et posuit eum in monumento, quod erat excisum de petra, et advolvit lapidem ad ostium monumenti.

6. Offertory Antiphon

Ps. 139, 5

Custódi me, Dómine, de manu peccatóris: et ab homínibus iníquis éripe me.

Save me, O Lord, from the hands of the wicked; preserve me from violent men.

7. Prayer over the Gifts

Sacrificia nos, quæsumus, Dómine, propénsius ista restáurent: quæ medicinálibus sunt institúta ieiúniis. Per Dóminum.

O Lord, may this sacrifice revive us more quickly * because of our salutary fast which we offer with it. Through Jesus Christ.

8. Preface of the Holy Cross

9. Communion Antiphon

Ps. 68, 13–14

Advérsum me exercebántur, qui sedébant in porta: et in me psallébant, qui bibébant vinum: ego vero oratiónem meam ad te, Dómine: tempus benepláciti, Deus, in multítudine misericórdiæ tuæ.

They who sit at the gate gossip about me; and the drunkards make me the butt of their songs. But I pray to you, O Lord; for the time of your favor, O God, in your great kindness answer me.

10. Prayer after Communion

Sanctificatióibus tuis, omnipotens Deus: et vítia nostra curéntur, et remédia nobis sempitérna provéniant. Per Dóminum.

O almighty God, may the grace of this sacrament cure our sinfulness,* and be an everlasting remedy for our weakness. Through Jesus Christ.

11. Prayer over the People

11. Orémus.

Humiliáte cápita vestra Deo. Tua nos misericórdia, Deus, et ab omni subreptiáne vetustátis expúrget, et capáces sanctæ novitátis effíciat. Per Dóminum nostrum Iesum Christum Fílium tuum: Qui tecum vivit et regnat in unitáte Spíritus Sancti Deus: per ómnia sæcula sæculórum.

Let us pray.

Bow down your heads to the Lord. O God, by your mercy cleanse us of the deceitfulness of our old selves* and enable us to increase in new holiness. Through Jesus Christ your Son, our Lord, who lives and reigns with you in the unity of the Holy Spirit,* God, forever and ever. R. Amen.

WEDNESDAY OF HOLY WEEK

1. Entrance Antiphon Philipp. 2, 10, 8 and 11

At the name of Jesus every knee should bend, of those in heaven, on earth and under the earth, for the Lord became obedient unto death, even to death on a cross. Therefore our Lord Jesus Christ is in the glory of God the Father. Ps. 101, 2 O Lord, hear my prayer, and let my cry come to you. At the name.

2. After the Kyrie: Let us pray. Let us kneel. Let us stand.

3. Prayer

O almighty God, deliver us, who are continually afflicted by sin by our own excesses, through the passion of your only-begotten Son: Who lives and reigns with you in the unity of the Holy Spirit,* God, forever and ever. R. Amen.

4. A Reading from the Prophet Isaiā Isaiā 62, 11; 63, 1-7

Thus says the Lord God:
Say to daughter Sion,
your savior comes!
Here is his reward with him,
his recompense before him.
Who is this that comes from Edom,
in crimsoned garments, from Bosra—
This one arrayed in majesty, marching in the greatness of his strength?
“It is I, I who announce vindication,
I who am mighty to save.”
Why is your apparel red,
and your garments like those of the wine presser?
“The wine press I have trodden alone, and of my people there was no one with
me.
I trod them in my anger,
and trampled them down in my wrath;

Hæc dicit Dóminus Deus: Dícite filíæ Sion. Ecce Salvátor tuus venit: ecce merces eius cum eo. Quis est iste, qui venit de Edom, tinctis véstibus de Bosra? Iste formósus in stola sua, grádiens in multitudíne fortitúdinis suæ. Ego, qui loquor iustítiam, et propugnátor sum ad salvándum. Quare ergo rubrum est induméntum tuum, et vestiménta tua, sicut calcántium in torculári? Tórcular calcávi solus, et de géntibus non est vir mecum: calcávi eos in furóre meo, et conculcávi eos in ira mea: et aspérsus est sanguis eórum super vestiménta mea, et ómnia induménta mea inquinávi. Dies enim uliónis in corde meo, annus redemptiÓnis meæ venit. I was appalled that there was no one to lend support;
So my own arm brought about the victory and my own wrath lent me its support.
I trampled down the peoples in my anger,
I crushed them in my wrath, and I let their blood run out upon the ground.”

The favors of the Lord I will recall,
the glorious deeds of the Lord,

7. A Reading from the Prophet Isaia Isaia 53, 1-12

In those days Isaia said:

He grew up like a sapling before him,
like a shoot from the parched earth;

Wednesday of Holy Week

There was in him no stately bearing to make us look at him, nor appearance that would attract us to him.
He was spurned and avoided by men, a man of suffering, accustomed to infirmity,
One of those from whom men hide their faces,
spurned, and we held him in no esteem.
Yet it was our infirmities that he bore,
our sufferings that he endured,
While we thought of him as stricken,
as one smitten by God and afflicted.
But he was pierced for our offenses,
crushed for our sins;
Upon him was the chastisement that makes us whole,
by his stripes we were healed.
We had all gone astray like sheep,
each following his own way;
But the Lord laid upon him
the guilt of us all.
Though he was harshly treated, he submitted and opened not his mouth;
Like a lamb led to the slaughter or a sheep before the shearers,
he was silent and opened not his mouth.
Oppressed and condemned, he was taken away,
and who would have thought any more
of his destiny?
When he was cut off from the land of the living,
and smitten for the sin of his people,
A grave was assigned him among the wicked and a burial place with evildoers, Though he had done no wrong
nor spoken any falsehood.
But the Lord was pleased to crush him in infirmity.
If he gives his life as an offering for sin,
he shall see his descendants in a long life,
and the will of the Lord shall be accomplished through him.

tulit, et dolóres nostros ipse porleprósum, et percússum a Deo, et humiliátum. Ipse autem vulnerátus est propter iniquitátes nostras, at-trítus est propter scélera nostra:

disciplína pacis nostræ super eum, et livóre eius sanáti sumus. Omnes iudício sublátus est: generatiónem eius quis enarrábit? quia abscessus est de terra vivéntium: propter scelus pópuli mei percússi eum.

Et dabit ímpios pro sepultúra, et dívitem pro morte sua: eo quod ini-quitátem non fécerit, neque dolus fúerit in ore eius. Et Dóminus vóluit contérrere eum in infirmitáte: si posúerit pro peccáto áni-mam suam, vidébit semen longævum, et volúntas Dómini in manu eius dirigétur. Pro eo quod labo-rávit ánima eius, vidébit, et saturábitur: in sciéntia sua iustificábit ipse iustus servus meus multos, et iniquitátes eórum ipse portábit.
Ideo dispértiam ei plúrimos: et fórtium dívidet spólia, pro eo quod trádidit in mortem ánimam suam, et cum scelerátis reputátus est:
et ipse peccáta multórum tulit, et pro transgressóribus rogávit.

Wednesday of Holy Week

Because of his affliction
he shall see the light in fullness of days;
Through his suffering, my servant shall justify many,
and their guilt he shall bear.
Therefore I will give him his portion among the great,
and he shall divide the spoils with the mighty,
Because he surrendered himself to death and was counted among the wicked;
And he shall take away the sins of many,
and win pardon for their offenses.

The Passion of our Lord Jesus Christ
according to Luke
Luke 22, 39-71; 26, 1-53

At that time Jesus went out and made his way, as he was in the habit of doing, to the Mount of Olives. And his disciples also went with him. On reaching the place he said to them: "Pray that you may not be subject to the trial." C. He himself withdrew from them about a stone's throw, went down on his knees, and prayed in these words: ✠ "Father, if you are willing, take away this cup from me; but not my will but yours be done." C. And an angel appeared to him from heaven, strengthening him. Being in anguish he prayed with all the greater intensity. And his sweat became like drops of blood falling to the ground. And rising from prayer, he came to his disciples and found them asleep, exhausted with grief. He said to them, ✠ “Why are you sleeping? Wake up and pray that you may not be subject to the trial.”

C. While he was still speaking a crowd came, led by the man named Judas, one of the Twelve. He approached Jesus to kiss him. Jesus said to him, ✠ “Judas, would you betray the Son of Man with a kiss?” C. The companions of Jesus, seeing what was going to happen, said: S. “Lord, shall we strike with the sword?” C. And one of them struck the high priest’s servant and cut off his right ear. But Jesus replied ✠ “No more of that!” C. And he touched the ear and healed the man. Then Jesus said to those who had come out against him — the chief priests, the chiefs of the Temple guard, and the elders: ✠ “Am I a bandit that you have come for me armed with swords and clubs? When I was with you daily in the Temple precincts, you never raised a hand against me. But this is your hour and the triumph of Darkness.”

C. Then they led him away under arrest and brought him to the house of the high priest, and Peter followed a long way off. When they had lighted a fire in the middle of the courtyard and were sitting beside it, Peter sat among them. A servant girl saw him sitting in the light of the fire, gazed at him, and said: S. “This man too was with him.” C. But he denied it saying: S. “Woman, I don’t know him.” C. A little later someone else saw him and said: S. “You are one of them too.” C. But Peter said, S. “No, sir, I am not.” C. About an hour later another spoke more insistently, S. “This man was certainly with him for he is a Galilean.” C. But Peter answered, S. “Sir, I don’t know what you are talking about.” C. And just as he spoke, a cock crowed. The Lord turned around and looked at Peter. And Peter remembered the statement which the Lord had made, “Before the cock crows today, you will deny me three times.” So he went out and wept bitterly.

Meanwhile the men guarding Jesus were mocking him. They slapped him after blindfolding him and asked: S. “Play the prophet for us. Who is it that struck you?” C. And they directed many other insulting words at him.

At daybreak the Council made up of the elders of the people, the chief priests, and the scribes, assembled again. They led him before their tribunal, saying: S. “Tell us, are you the Messiah?” C. He replied ✠ “If I tell you, you will not believe me, and if I question you, you will not answer. But, presently, the Son of Man will have his seat at the right hand of the Power of God.” S. “So you are the Son of God?” they all asked. ✠ “It is you,” C. he answered, S. “who say that I am.” C. They said, S. “What need, then, have we of witnesses? For we ourselves have heard it from his own mouth.”

C. Then the entire assembly rose up and led him before Pilate. They started his prosecution by saying, S. “We found this man subverting our nation, opposing the payment of taxes to Caesar, and saying that he was the Messiah, the King.” C. Pilate asked him, S. “Are you the king of the Jews?” C. He answered, S. “As you say.” C. Pilate said to the chief priests and the crowds, S. “I do not find a case against this man.” C. But they insisted: S. “He stirs up the people by his teaching through the whole of Judea, from Galilee where he began as far as here.”

C. Hearing this Pilate asked if the man was a Galilean. When he learned that he was under Herod’s jurisdiction he sent him to Herod who was himself in Jerusalem at this time. Herod was extremely pleased to see Jesus; from hearing about him, he had wanted for some time to see him and he was hoping to see him do some miracle. He interrogated him at considerable length but Jesus made no answer to him. The chief priests and scribes were at hand, and accused him vehemently. Herod then, and his guards, treated him with contempt and insulted him, and then put a bright robe on him and sent him back to Pilate. Herod and Pilate became friends on that day; previously they had been enemies. Pilate then called together the chief priests and the rulers and the people and said to them, S. "You have brought this man before me as one who subverts the people. I have examined him in your presence and have found no charge against him arising from your allegations. Neither has Herod, for he has sent him back to us; obviously this man has done nothing deserving the death penalty. I will release him, then, after chastising him."

C. (At the festival time he had to release one prisoner for them.) The whole crowd cried out, S. "Away with this fellow; release Barabbas for us." C. (Barabbas had been thrown into prison for an insurrection in the city and for murder.) Pilate addressed them again, wishing to release Jesus. But they shouted back, saying, S. "Crucify him; crucify him!" C. He said to them for the third time: S. "What evil has this man done? I have not found in him anything deserving the death penalty. I will therefore chastise and release him." C. But they demanded with loud shouts that he should be crucified, and their shouts increased in violence. Pilate then decreed that what they demanded should be done. He released the one they asked for, who had been thrown in prison for insurrection and murder, and delivered Jesus to their wishes.

And as they led him away, they laid hold of one Simon, from Cyrene, who was com-

Tunc incipient dicere montibus: Cadite super nos; et collibus: Operite nos. Quia si in viridi ligno haec faciunt, in arido quid fiet?

C. Ducebantur autem et alii duo nequam cum eo, ut interficerentur. Et postquam venerunt in locum, qui vocatur Calvariae, ibi crucifixerunt eum: et latrones, unum a dextris, et alterum a sinistris. Iesus autem dicebat: ✠ Pater, dimitte illis: non enim sciunt quid faciunt. C. Dividentes vero vestimenta eius, miserunt sortes. Et stabat populus spectans, et deridebant eum principes cum eis, dicentes: S. Alios salvos fecit: se salvum faciat, si hic est Christus Dei electus.

C. Illudabant autem ei et milites accedentes, et acetum offerentes ei, et dicentes: S. Si tu es Rex Iudaeorum, salvum te fac.

C. Erat autem et superscriptio scripta super eum litteris graecis, et latinis, et hebraicis: Hic est Rex Iudaeorum. Unus autem de his, qui pendebant, latronibus, blasphemabat eum, dicens: S. Si tu es Christus, salvum fac te ipsum, et nos. C. Respondens autem alter increpabat eum, dicens: S. Neque tu times Deum, quod in eadem damnatione es. Et nos quidem iuste, nam digna factis recipimus: hic vero nihil mali gessit. C. Et dicebat ad Iesum: S. Domine, memento mei, cum veneris in regnum tuum. C. Et dixit illi Iesus: ✠ Amen dico tibi: Hodie mecum eris in paradiso.

C. Erat autem fere hora sexta, et tenebrae factae sunt in universam terram usque in horam nonam. Et obscuratus est sol: et velum templi scissum est medium. Et clamans voce magna Iesus, ait: ✠ Pater, in manus tuas commendo spiritum meum. C. Et haec dicens, exspiravit. Hic genuflectitur, et pausatur aliquantulum.

ing in from the farm. They put the cross on his shoulder to carry behind Jesus. A great crowd of people followed him, including women who beat their breasts and made lament for him. Jesus turned to them and said, ✠ “Daughters of Jerusalem, do not weep for me, but weep for yourselves and for your children. For, remember, days are coming when they will say, ‘Happy are the sterile, the wombs that never bore, and the breasts that never nursed.’ Then they will begin saying to the mountains, ‘Fall upon us’, and to the hills, ‘Cover us.’ For if they do this in the green wood, what will be done in the dry?”

C. Two other criminals were led along with him to be crucified. And when they came to the Skull-Place as it was called, they crucified him there, and also the criminals, one on his right and the other on his left. Jesus said, ✠ “Father, forgive them; for they do not know what they are doing.”

C. Then in dividing his garments they rolled dice for them. The people stood there, watching, and the rulers kept jeering at him, saying: S. “He saved others; let him save himself, if he is the Messiah of God, the Chosen One.”

C. The soldiers also mocked him, coming forward and offering their sour wine to him, and saying, S. “If you are the king of the Jews, save yourself.” C. There was, besides, an inscription over his head (in Greek, Latin and Hebrew letters), “This is the King of the Jews.” One of the criminals, hanging in crucifixion, jeeringly said to him: S. “Aren’t you the Messiah? Save yourself and us.” C. But the other rebuked him, saying: S. “Haven’t you any fear of God, seeing that you are under the same sentence. And we deserve it; we are paying the penalty for what we have done. But this man has done nothing wrong.” C. And he said: S. “Jesus, remember me when you come into your kingdom.” C. Jesus said:

Wednesday of Holy Week

✠ “I tell you this: today you will be with me in Paradise.”

C. It was now around midday and darkness came over the whole land until mid-afternoon. The sun was eclipsed. The curtain in the sanctuary was torn in two. And Jesus cried aloud and said: ✠ “Father, into your hands I entrust my spirit.” C. And having said this he expired. (Here kneel and pause awhile.)

The centurion, seeing what had happened, glorified God, saying, S. “Surely this was a just man.” C. The whole crowd that had come together for this spectacle, when they saw what had happened, went away beating their breasts. All his friends, and the women who had accompanied him from Galilee, were standing at a distance watching all this.

There was a man named Joseph, a member of the Sanhedrin, an upright, just man—he had not been associated with their plan or their action). He was from Arimathea, a town of Judea, and was looking forward to the kingdom of God. This man approached Pilate and requested the body of Jesus. And he took the body down, wrapped it in linen, and laid it in a tomb cut out of rock in which no one had yet been buried.

10. Offertory Antiphon

Ps. 101, 2–3

O Lord, hear my prayer, and let my cry come to you. Hide not your face from me.

Dómine, exáudi oratióne meam, et clamor meus ad te perveniat: ne avértas fáciem tuam a me.

11. Prayer over the Gifts

O Lord, accept the gift we offer,* and graciously grant that by our devotion we may obtain what we celebrate in these sacred mysteries which renew the passion of your Son our Lord. Through Jesus Christ.

Súscipe, quáesumus, Dómine, munus oblátum, et dignánter operáre: ut, quod passióis Fílii tui Dómini nostri mystério gérimus, piis afféctibus consequámur. Per eúndem Dóminum.

13. Communion Antiphon

Ps. 101, 10, 13 and 14

Potum meum cum fletu temperábam: quia élevans allisísti me: et ego sicut fænum áruí: tu autem, Dómine, in ætérnum pérmanes: tu exsúrgens miseréberis Sion, quia venit tempus miseréndi eius.

I mingle my drink with tears, for you lifted me up only to throw me down, and I wither like grass; but you, O Lord, endure forever. You will arise and have mercy on Sion, for it is time to pity her.

Largíre sénsibus nostris, omnipotens Deus: ut, per temporálem Filii tui mortem, quam mystéria veneránda testántur, vitam te nobis dedísse perpétuam confidámus. Per eúndem Dóminum.

14. Prayer after Communion
Awaken our sensibilities, almighty God,* so that we may firmly believe that through your Son's death in the world, which is re-enacted in this holy rite, you have bestowed eternal life upon us. Through Jesus Christ.

MASS OF THE CHRISM

For the blessing of the Oil of Catechumens and the Oil of the Sick, and the making of the Sacred Chrism.

1. The blessing of the oil of catechumens and the oil of the sick and the making of the sacred chrism take place according to the rite described in the Roman Pontificale, with the exceptions that are noted below:

2. The blessing of oils and the making of the chrism take place within the Mass of the Chrism, which is to be celebrated after Terce.

3. Entrance Antiphon

Ex. 30, 25, 31

You shall make the oil of anointing and say to the sons of Israel: As sacred anointing oil this shall belong to me throughout your generations. Ps. 88, 2 The favors of the Lord I will sing forever; through all generations I shall proclaim your faithfulness. You shall.

6. A Reading from the Prophet Isaia Is. 61, 1-4, 6, 8-9

The spirit of the Lord God is upon me, because the Lord has anointed me; He has sent me to bring glad tidings to the lowly, to heal the brokenhearted, To proclaim liberty to the captives and release to the prisoners, To announce a year of favor from the Lord and a day of vindication by our God, to comfort all who mourn; To place on those who mourn in Sion a diadem instead of ashes, To give them oil of gladness in place of mourning, a glorious mantle instead of a listless spirit. They will be called oaks of justice, planted by the Lord to show his glory. They shall rebuild the ancient ruins, the former wastes they shall raise up And restore the ruined cities, desolate now for generations. You yourselves shall be named priests of the Lord, ministers of our God you shall be called. For I, the Lord, love what is right, I hate robbery and injustice; I will give them their recompense faithfully, a lasting covenant I will make with them. Their descendants shall be renowned among the nations, and their offspring among the peoples; All who see them shall acknowledge them as a race the Lord has blessed.

7. Gradual Ps. 27, 7-8 In God my heart trusts, and I find help; then my heart exults, and with my song I praise him. ℟. The Lord is the strength of his people, the saving refuge of his anointed.

8. ✠ A Reading from the holy Gospel according to Luke Luke 4, 16-22

At that time Jesus came to Nazareth where he had been raised. He entered the synagogue on the Sabbath as was his custom, and stood up to read. The volume of the prophet Isaia was handed to him. Unrolling the volume, he found the place where it was written: "The Spirit of the Lord is upon me because he has anointed me; He has sent me to proclaim good news to the poor: to heal the brokenhearted; to proclaim liberty to the captives, and return of sight to the blind; to set at liberty the oppressed, to proclaim an acceptable year of the Lord and the day of recompense."

Closing the volume, he gave it back to the atten-

Et dicitur haec tantum oratio.

6. Lectio Isaiae Prophetae Isai. 61: 1-4, 6, 8-9

Spiritus Domini super me, eo quod unxerit Dominus me, ad annuntiandum mansuetis misit me, ut mederer contritis corde et praedicarem captivis indulgentiam et clausis apertionem, ut praedicarem annum placabilem Domino et diem ultionis Deo nostro, ut consolarer omnes lugentes, ut ponerem lugentibus Sion et darem eis coronam pro cinere, oleum gaudii pro luctu, pallium laudis pro spiritu maroris et vocabuntur in ea fortes iustitiae plantatio Domini ad glorificandum. Et aedificabunt deserta a saeculo et ruinas antiquas erigent et instaurabunt civitates desertas, dissipatas in generationem et generationem. Vos sacerdotes Domini vocabimini, ministri Dei nostri, dicetur vobis. Quia ego Dominus diligens iudicium et odio habens rapinam in holocausto et dabo opus eorum in veritate et foedus perpetuum feriam eis. Et scient in gentibus semen eorum et germen eorum in medio populorum. Omnes qui viderint eos cognoscent illos, quia isti sunt semen, cui benedixit Dominus.

7. Graduale Ps. 27, 7-8 In Deo confisus est cor meum, et adiutus sum; ideo exultat cor meum, et cantico meo laudo eum. ℟. Dominus robor est populo suo, et praesidium salutis uncto suo.

8. Sequentia santi Evangelii secundum Lucam Luc 4: 16-22

In illo tempore: Venit Iesus Nazareth, ubi erat nutritus, et intravit secundum consuetudinem suam die sabbati in synagogam et surrexit legere. Et traditus est illi liber Isaiae prophetae. Et, ut revolvit librum, invenit locum, ubi scriptum erat: "Spiritus Domini super me; propter quod unxit me, evangelizare pauperibus misit me, sanare contritos corde, praedicare captivis remissionem et caecis visum, dimittere confractos in remissionem, Cœpit autem dicere ad illos: "Quia hódie impléta est hæc scriptúra in áuribus vestris." Et omnes testimoniúm illi dabant et mirábantur in verbis grátia, quæ procedébant de ore ipsius.

Et non dicitur Credo.

Hodie non cantatur antiphona ad offertorium; sed, dum una cum pane et vino pro celebratione eucharistica afferuntur ad altare olea consecranda, schola et totus populus concinunt hymnum O Redemptor.

9. At the offertory

Today the antiphon to the offertory is not sung. While the oils to be consecrated are carried to the altar together with the bread and wine for the celebration of the Eucharist, the schola and the entire people sing the hymn O Redeemer.

O Redeemer, receive the song of those who sing your praise.

A tree made fruitful by the fostering light of the sun brought forth this oil that it might be blessed. Humbly we bring it to the Savior of the world.

In your kindness, O King of the eternal homeland, Consecrate this oil of olives as a sign of life, a safeguard against the demon.

May both men and women by made new by being anointed by the Chrism,

And may the wound to their glorious dignity be healed.

Our minds being cleansed at the sacred font, let our sins be put to flight;

May holy gifts be lavished on those whose foreheads are anointed.

You who were born from the heart of the Father, and did fill the womb of the Virgin, Grant light, put an end to death for those who share in the Chrism.

May this day be a festival for us for ever and ever: May it be made holy with worthy praise, and may it not grow old with time.

15. Communion Antiphon Ps. 44, 7

You love justice and hate wickedness: therefore God, your God, has anointed you.

16. Prayer after Communion

O Lord, as we leave the things of the past and turn to the new,* may we put off our old nature and be renewed in holiness of mind. Through Jesus Christ.

17. At the end of Mass the blessing is given in the usual way, and afterwards Sext and None are said in choir.

18. Local Ordinaries who have celebrated the Mass of the Chrism in the morning may also offer the solemn Mass of the Lord's Supper in the evening.

EVENING MASS OF THE LORD'S SUPPER

The solemn Mass of the Lord's Supper is to be celebrated in the evening at a suitable hour, but not before four o'clock nor after nine o'clock. The celebration of other Masses of the Lord's Supper is prohibited. Where, however, a pastoral reason requires it, the Ordinary of the place may permit one or two low Masses in individual churches or public oratories; in semi-public oratories he may permit only one low Mass. The permission may be given in order that all the faithful may be present at the sacrifice of the Mass and receive the Body of Christ on this holy day. These Masses are permitted during the same hours which are assigned for the solemn Mass, as indicated above.

On this day holy Communion may be distributed to the faithful only within the evening Masses, or immediately after and continuously with the Masses. However, holy Communion may be brought to the sick on this day, both before and after noon.

1. If there is a tabernacle on the main altar, it is to be entirely empty. For the communion of the clergy and the people today and tomorrow a ciborium (or ciboria) shall be placed upon the altar with particles to be consecrated in this Mass itself.

2. Where there are not enough clerics and priests, Mass is celebrated according to the usual rite of high Mass.

3. Where clerics are present, it is most fitting that they should be present at the solemn evening Mass according to the form of choir assistance.

múneris induántur, quæ olim præfationem propriam Missæ chrismatis constituerant, et quæ in hoc instaurato ritu iterum locum suum obtinuerunt.

14. Ad triplex Agnus Dei, respondetur ter "miserére nobis." Omittitur oratio "Dómine Iesu Christe, qui dixísti;" et non datur osculum pacis.

Dilexísti iustítiam et odísti iniquitátem: proptérea unxit te Deus, Deus tuus.

Præsta, quæsumus, Dómine: ut, sicut de prætérítis ad nova transímus; ita, vetustáte depósita, sanctificátis méntibus innovémur. Per Dóminum.

17. In fine Missæ, datur benedictio more solito, postea in choro, dicuntur Sexta et Nona.

18. Locorum Ordinarii, qui Missam chrismatis mane celebraverint, possunt vespere Missam quoque solemnem in Cena domini litare.

Statio ad S. Ioannem in Laterano

Missæ solemnæ in Cena Domini celebranda est vespere, hora magis opportuna, non autem ante horam quartam post meridiem, nec post horam nonam. Aliarum Missarum in Cena Domini celebratio interdicitur. Ubi vero ratio pastoralis id postulet, loci Ordinarius unam alteramve Missam lectam in singulis ecclesiis vel oratoriis publicis permittere poterit; in oratoriis autem semipublicis unam tantum Missam lectam; ea quidem de causa, ut omnes fideles hoc sacro die Missæ sacrificio interesse et Corpus Christi sumere possint. Hæc autem Missæ inter easdem diei horas permittuntur, quæ pro Missa solènni assignatæ sunt, ut supra notatur. Hoc die sacra Communio fidelibus distribui potest tantummodo inter Missas vespertinas, vel continuo ac statim ab iis expletis; infirmis vero hoc die sacra Communio deferri licet, horis ante et post meridiem.

1. Tabernaculum, si quod exstat in altari maiore, omnino vacuum sit; pro communicando vero clero et populo hodie et crastino die, ponatur super altare pyxis (vel pyxides) cum particulis in hac ipsa Missa consecrandis.

2. Ubi deest copia clericorum et sacerdotum, Missa celebratur secundum consuetum ritum Missæ cantatæ.

3. Ubi vero clerici adsint, maxime convenit, ut, in forma assistentiæ choralis, Missæ solènni vespertinæ intersint.

Holy Thursday

4. Itaque, unusquisque suis choralibus vestimentis induitur: sacerdotes insuper accipiunt stolam; celebrans et ministri induunt vestes sacras albi coloris, ut in Missa moris est.

5. Omnibus sic paratis, incipit processio per ecclesiam ad altare.

4. Thus each cleric vests in his choir dress; in addition, priests wear stoles. The celebrant and the ministers wear the usual sacred vestments for Mass, white in color.

5. When all are vested, the procession goes through the church to the altar.

Entrance Antiphon Gal. 6, 14

Nos autem gloriári opórtet in cruce Dómini nostri Iesu Christi: in quo est salus, vita et resurrectio nostra: per quem salváti et liberáti sumus. Ps. 66, 2 Deus misereátur nostri, et benedicat nobis: illúminet vultum suum super nos, et misereátur nostri. Nos autem.

6. Celebrans confessionem facit more solito.

7. Cum celebrans incipit solemmiter Glória in excélsis Deo, pulsantur campanæ et organum, quæ, expleto hymno, silent usque ad Vigiliam paschalem.

But it behooves us to glory in the cross of our Lord Jesus Christ: in whom is our salvation, life, and resurrection: by whom we are saved and delivered. Ps. 66, 2 May God have pity on us and bless us; may he let his face shine upon us; and may he have pity on us. But it behooves.

6. The celebrant makes the confession in the usual way.

7. When the celebrant solemnly begins Glory to God in the highest, the bells are rung and the organ is played. At the end of the hymn the bells and organ remain silent until the Easter Vigil.

8. Prayer

Deus, a quo et Iudas reátus sui pœnam, et confessiónis suæ latro præmium sumpsit, concéde nobis tuæ propitiatiónis efféctum: ut, sicut in passióne sua Iesus Christus, Dominus noster, diversa utrísque íntulit stipéndia meritórum; ita nobis, abláto vetustátis erróre, resurrectiúnis suæ grátiam largiátur: Qui tecum.

Et dicitur hæc tantum oratio.

Fratres: Conveniéntibus vobis in unum, iam non est dominicam cenam manducáre. Unusquisque enim suam cenam præsumit ad manducándum. Et álius quidem ésurit, álius autem ébrius est. Numquid domos non habétis ad manducándum et bibéndum? Aut ecclesiám Dei contémnitis, et confunditis eos, qui non habent? Quid

O God, who punished Judas for his crime and rewarded the good thief for his penitence, be merciful to us!* Our Lord Jesus Christ in his passion gave each one recompense according to his deserts; may he deliver us from the deceitfulness of our old selves and bestow on us the grace of his resurrection: Who lives and reigns.

This prayer alone is said.

9. *A Reading from the Epistle of blessed Paul the Apostle to the Corinthians
1 Cor. 11, 20–32*

Brethren: When you assemble, there is no eating the Lord's supper. At the meal everyone hurries to eat his own supper, and one goes hungry while another gets drunk. Don't you have homes where you can eat and drink? Or are you going to show contempt for the church of God and embarrass those who have nothing? What can I say to you? Can I praise you? Not in this matter! I received from the Lord, what I also handed on to you, that the Lord Jesus on the night in which he was betrayed, took bread and, having given thanks, broke it and said: "This is my body which is for you. Do this as a remembrance of me." In the same way, after the supper, he took the cup, saying: "This cup is the new covenant in my blood. Do this, whenever you drink it, as a remembrance of me." Every time, then, that you eat this bread and drink this cup, you proclaim the death of the Lord, until he comes. So whoever eats the bread or drinks the cup of the Lord unworthily, will have to answer for the body and the blood of the Lord. A man should first examine himself. Only then should he eat of the bread and drink of the cup. For he who eats and drinks without recognizing the body, eats and drinks a judgment against himself. This is why there are many sick and infirm among you, and why so many are falling asleep. If we were examining ourselves we would not be judged. But when we are being judged by the Lord we are being chastised, in order that we may not be condemned along with the world.

Holy Thursday

10. Gradual Phil. 2, 8-9 Christ became obedient for us unto death, even to death on a cross. ℣. Therefore, God also has exalted him and has given him the name that is above every name.

Simíliter et cálicem, postquam cenávit, dicens: "Hic calix novum testaméntum est in meo sáanguine: hoc fácite, quotiescúmque bibétis, in meam commemoratiónem." dilexisset suos, qui erant in mundo, in finem diléxit eos. Et cena facta, cum diábolus iam misisset in cor, ut tráderet eum Iudas Simónis Iscariótæ: sciens quia ómnia dedit ei Pater in manus, et quia a Deo exívit, et ad Deum vadit, surgit a cena, et ponit vestiménta sua, et cum accepisset línteam, præcínxit se. Deínde mittit aquam in pelvim, et cœpit laváre pedes discipulórum, et extérgere línteo, quo erat præcínctus. Venit ergo ad Simónem Petrum. Et dicit ei Petrus: “Dómine, tu mihi lavas pedes?” Respóndit Iesus et dixit ei: “Quod ego fácio, tu nescis modo, scies autem póstea.” Dicit ei Petrus: “Non lavábis mihi pedes in atérnum.” Respóndit ei Iesus: “Si non lávero te, non habébis partem mecum.” Dicit ei Simon Petrus: “Dómine, non tantum pedes meos, sed et manus, et caput.” Dicit ei Iesus: “Qui lotus est, non índiget nisi ut pedes lavet, sed est mundus totus. Et vos mundi estis, sed non omnes.” Sciébat enim quisnam esset qui tráderet eum; proptérea dixit: Non estis mundi omnes. Postquam ergo lavit pedes eórum, et accépit vestiménta sua: cum recubúisset íterum dixit eis: “Scitis quid fécerim vobis? Vos vocátis me Magister et Dómine, et bene dicitis; sum étenim. Si ergo ego lavi pedes vestros, Dóminus et Magíster: et vos debétis alter altérius laváre pedes. Exémplum enim dedi vobis, ut quemádmóduo ego feci vobis, ita et vos faciátis.”

his love for them to the very end. The devil had already induced Judas Iscariot, son of Simon, to hand him over. And so, during a supper, Jesus, fully aware that the Father had handed over all things to him, and that he had come forth from God and was going to God, rose from the table and took off his robe. He picked up a towel and tied it around himself. Then he poured water into a basin and began to wash his disciples' feet and dry them with the towel he had around him. So he came to Simon Peter who said to him, “Are you, Lord, going to wash my feet?” Jesus answered, “You may not realize now what I am doing, but afterwards you will understand.” Peter replied, “You shall not wash my feet—ever!” “If I do not wash you,” Jesus answered, “you will have no heritage with me.” “Lord,” Simon Peter said to him, “then not only my feet, but my hands and face too.” Jesus told him, “The man who has bathed has no need to wash except for his feet; he is clean all over. And now you people are clean, though not all of you.” (The reason he said, “Not all of you are clean,” was that he knew his betrayer.) After he had washed their feet, he put on his robe and returned to the table. Then he said to them, “Do you understand what I have done for you? You address me as ‘Teacher’ and ‘Lord,’ and rightly so, for that is what I am. Now, if I washed your feet, even though I am Lord and Teacher, you too are obliged to wash one another’s feet. For it was an example that I gave you: as I have done for you, so must you do in turn.”

13. It is very fitting that after the Gospel a brief homily be given to illustrate the principal mysteries which are celebrated in this Mass, namely, the institution of the holy Eucharist and of the Priestly Order, as well as the commandment of the Lord concerning fraternal charity.

14. The Creed is not said today.

THE WASHING OF FEET

15. After the homily the washing of feet takes place, where a pastoral reason suggests it.

Holy Thursday

16. In the center of the presbyterium or in the body of the church, benches are prepared on each side for the twelve men whose feet are to be washed. Any other things which are needed should be prepared on a small table at the proper time.

17. Meanwhile the deacon and subdeacon, or the first two servers, lead the twelve men who have been chosen, two by two to the place prepared for them, while the schola or the clergy assisting begin to chant or recite the antiphons, psalms, and verses.

The twelve men make a reverence to the altar and to the celebrant, who is seated in the presbyterium, and take their seats. Then the sacred ministers, or servers, go to the celebrant. All remove their maniples, and the celebrant removes his chasuble.

As the washing of the feet nears the end, antiphon 8a with its verses is begun; the other verses may be omitted if necessary.

18. The antiphons, psalms and verses to be sung or recited are:

1

Antiphon John 13, 34 “A new commandment I give you, that you love one another, as I have loved you,” says the Lord. Ps. 118, 1 Happy are they whose way is blameless, who walk in the law of the lord.

And immediately the antiphon “A new commandment” is repeated. So also the other antiphons which have psalms or verses are repeated. And only the first verse of each psalm is said.

2

Antiphon John 13, 4, 5 and 15 After the Lord had risen from supper, he poured water into a basin, and began to wash the feet of his disciples: to whom he gave this example. Ps. 47, 2 Great is the Lord and wholly to be praised in the city of our God, his holy mountain. Ant. After the Lord, etc.

3

Antiphon John 13, 12, 13 and 15 The Lord Jesus, after he had supped with his disciples, washed their feet, and said to them: “Do you know what I your Lord and master have done to you? I have given you an example, that so you also should do.” Ps. 84, 2 You

16. In medio presbyterii, vel in ipsa aula ecclesiae, parata sint sedilia hinc inde pro duodecim viris, quorum lavabuntur pedes; cetera quae occurrunt, tempore opportuno, in mensula parentur.

17. Interim diaconus et subdiaconus, seu duo maiores ex ministrantibus, inducunt duodecim viros selectos, binos et binos, ad locum paratum, dum schola vel ipse clerus assistens incipit, cantando vel recitando, antiphonas, psalmos et versus infra-scriptos.

Duodecim autem viri selecti, facta reverentia altari ac celebranti, in presbyterio sedenti, disponuntur per sedilia; tunc ministri sacri, seu ministrantes, adibunt celebrantem. Omnes deponunt manipulum, celebrans vero etiam planetam.

Lotione pedum ad finem vergente, incipitur antiphona 8<sup>a</sup> cum suis versibus, ceteris, si opus sit, omissis.

18. Antiphonae vero, psalmi et versus cantandi vel recitandi, sunt:

1

Antiphona Ioann. 13, 34 “Mandatum novum do vobis: ut diligatis invicem, sicut dilexi vos,” dicit Dominus. Ps. 118, 1 Beati immaculati in via: qui ambulat in lege Domini.

2

Antiphona Ioann. 13, 4, 5 et 15 Postquam surrexit Dominus a cena, misit aquam in pelvim, et coepit lavare pedes discipulorum: hoc exemplum reliquit eis. Ps. 47, 2 Magnus Dominus, et laudabilis nimis: in civitate Dei nostri, in monte sancto eius.—Postquam.

3

Antiphona Ioann. 13, 12, 13 et 15 Dominus Iesus, postquam cenavit cum discipulis suis, lavit pedes eorum, et ait illis: “Scitis quid fecerim vobis ego, Dominus et Magister? Exemplum dedi vobis, ut et vos ita faciátis." Ps. 84, 2 Benedixisti, Dómine, terram tuam: avertísti captivitátem Iacob.—Dóminus Iesus.

Antiphona Ioann. 13, 6-7 et 8 "Dómine, tu mihi lavas pedes?" Respóndit Iesus, et dixit ei: "Si non lávero tibi pedes, non habébis partem mecum." Ÿ. Venit ergo ad Simónem Petrum, et dixit ei Petrus. Et repetitur antiphona "Dómine, tu mihi lavas pedes?" Respóndit Iesu, et dixit ei: "Si non lávero tibi pedes, non habébis partem mecum". Ÿ. "Quod ego fácio, tu nescis modo: scies autem póstea." Tertio repetitur antiphona "Dómine, tu mihi lavas pedes?" Respóndit Iesus, et dixit ei: "Si non lávero tibi pedes, non habébis partem mecum."

Antiphona "Si ego, Dóminus et Magíster vester, lavi vobis pedes: quanto magis debétis alter altérius laváre pedes?" Ps. 48, 2 Audíte hæc, omnes gentes: áuribus percípite, qui habitátis orbem.—"Si ego, Dóminus."

6

Antiphona Ioann. 13, 35 "In hoc cognóscet omnes, quia discípuli mei estis, si dilectiónem habuéritis ad ínvicem." Ÿ. Dixit Iesus discíplis suis.—"In hoc cognóscet."

7

Antiphona 1 Cor. 13, 13 Máneant in vobis fides, spes, cáritas, tria hæc: maior autem horum est cáritas. Ÿ. Nunc autem manent fides, spes, cáritas, tria hæc: maior horum est cáritas.—Máneant.

8

Sequens antiphona cum suis versibus

have favored, O Lord, your land; you have restored the well-being of Jacob. Ant. The Lord Jesus, etc.

Antiphon John 13, 6-7 and 8 "Lord, do you wash my feet?" Jesus answered and said to him, "If I do not wash your feet, you shall have no part with me." Ÿ. He came to Simon Peter, and Peter said to him. The antiphon is repeated. "Lord, do you wash my feet?" Jesus answered and said to him, "If I do not wash your feet, you shall have no part with me." Ÿ. "What I do, you know not now; but you shall know hereafter." The antiphon is repeated a third time. "Lord, do you wash my feet?" Jesus answered and said to him, "If I do not wash your feet, you shall have no part with me."

5

Antiphon "If I, your Lord and master, have washed your feet, how much more ought you to wash one another's feet?" Ps. 48, 2 Hear this, all you peoples; hearken, all you, who dwell in the world. Ant. If I, your Lord, etc.

6

Antiphon John 13, 35 "By this shall all men know that you are my disciples, if you have love for one another." Ÿ. Jesus said to his disciples. Ant. "By this shall," etc.

7

Antiphon 1 Cor. 13, 13 Let these three, faith, hope and charity abide in you; but the greatest of these is charity. Ÿ. And now there remain faith, hope and charity, these three; but the greatest of these is charity. Ant. Let these three, etc.

8

The following antiphon with its verses is never omitted. It is

Holy Thursday

begun as the washing of the feet draws to a close, the preceding antiphons being omitted if necessary.

Antiphon Where charity and love are, there is God. V. The love of Christ has gathered us together. V. Let us rejoice in him and be glad. V. Let us fear and love the living God. V. And let us love one another with a sincere heart.

The antiphon is repeated. Where charity and love are, there is God. V. When, therefore, we are assembled together. V. Let us take heed, that we be not divided in mind. V. Let malicious quarrels and contentions cease. V. And let Christ our God dwell among us.

The antiphon is repeated. Where charity and love are, there is God. V. Let us also with the blessed see. V. Your face in glory, O Christ our God. V. There to possess immeasurable and happy joy. V. For infinite ages of ages. Amen.

19. While the antiphons are being sung, the celebrant proceeds with the washing of the feet, in this way; he places a linen cloth about his waist, and kneeling before each of the twelve men in turn, he washes and dries the right foot of each one.

Acolytes minister the basin and water, the subdeacon holds the right foot of each man, and the deacon presents a linen cloth to dry the foot.

19a. The duties of the deacon and subdeacon in the solemn rite are performed by the servers.

20. After the washing of feet, the celebrant washes and dries his hands, saying nothing. Then all put on their maniples, the celebrant puts on his chasuble, and they return to the center of the altar where the celebrant, facing the people, says:

Our Father (silently as far as:)

V. And lead us not into temptation.

R. But deliver us from evil.

V. You have commanded your precepts, O Lord.

R. To be observed exactly.

V. You have washed the feet of your disciples.

R. Despise not the work of your hands.

numquam omittitur; incipitur autem, omissis, si opus sit, præcedentibus, lotionem pedum ad finem vergente.

Antiphona Ubi caritas et amor, Deus ibi est. V. Congregavit nos in unum Christi amor. V. Exsultemus et in ipso iucundemur. V. Timeamus et amemus Deum vivum. V. Et ex corde diligamus nos sincero.

Et repetitur antiphona Ubi caritas et amor, Deus ibi est. V. Simul ergo cum in unum congregamur: V. Ne nos mente dividamur, caveamus. V. Cessent iurgia maligna, cessent lites. V. Et in medio nostri sit Christus Deus.

Et repetitur antiphona Ubi caritas et amor, Deus ibi est. V. Simul quoque cum beatis videamus. V. Gloriantur vultum tuum, Christe Deus. V. Gaudium, quod est immensum atque probum. V. Sæcula per infinita sæculorum. Amen.

19. Interim celebrans procedit ad lotionem pedum, hoc modo: præcingit se linteo, et per ordinem dispositis iis, qui lavandi sunt, acolythis pelvim et aquam ministrantibus, subdiacono singulorum pedem dextrum tenente, genuflectens singulis, illorum pedem lavat et extergit, diacono præbente linteum ad abstergendum.

19a. Officia quæ in ritu solemniori a diacono et subdiacono adimplentur, a ministrantibus peraguntur.

20. Post lotionem celebrans lavat et abstergit manus, nihil dicens. Deinde omnes resumunt manipulum, celebrans vero etiam planetam, et redeunt ante medium altaris, ubi celebrans, versus populum, dicit:

Pater noster, secreto.

V. Et ne nos inducas in tentationem.

R. Sed libera nos a malo.

V. Tu mandasti mandata tua, Domine.

R. Custodiri nimis.

V. Tu lavasti pedes discipulorum tuorum.

R. Opera manuum tuarum ne despicias.

℣. Dómine, exáudi oratióne[m] meam.
℟. Et clamor meus ad te véniat.
℣. Dóminus vobiscum.
℟. Et cum spírítu tuo.

Orémus.

Adésto, Dómine, quæsumus, officio servitútis nostræ: et quia tu discipulis tuis pedes laváre dignátus es, ne despicias ópera mánuum tuárum, quæ nobis retinénda mandásti: ut, sicut hic nobis et a nobis exterióra abluúntur inquinaménta; sic a te ómnium nostrum interióra lavéntur peccáta. Quod ipse præstáre dignéris, qui vivis et regnas in sæcula sæculórum. ℟. Amen.

Oratione completa, duodecim viri, facta reverentia altari et celebranti, reducuntur ad loca sua, si sint clerici in presbyterium, si sint laici in peculiarem locum ad hoc designatum.

21. Ubi vero contingat lotionem pedum extra Missarum solemniam peragi, observetur ordo supra descriptus, præmisso, cum solitis cæremoniis, cantu evangelii Missæ "Ante diem festum Paschæ," ut supra, n. 12, P. 287.

22. Post pedum lotionem, seu, ubi hæc locum non habuerit, post homiliam, proceditur in celebratione Missæ, more solito.

Déxtera Dómini fecit virtútem, déxtera Dómini exaltávit me: non móriar, sed vivam, et narrábo ópera Dómini.

Ipse tibi, quæsumus, Dómine, sancte Pater, omnípotens ætérne Deus, sacrificium nostrum reddat accéptum, qui discipulis suis in sui commemoratióne hoc fieri hodiérna traditióne monstrávit, Iesus Christus, Filius tuus, Dóminus noster: Qui tecum.

25. Prefatio, Sanctus et Benedictus dicuntur more consueto. Dicitur autem Prefatio de sancta Cruce.

℣. O Lord, hear my prayer.
℟. And let my cry come to you.
℣. The Lord be with you.
℟. And with your spirit.

Let us pray.

O Lord, assist us in this performance of our service.* You condescended to wash the feet of your disciples and commanded us to follow your example; despise not the work of your hands.* And as we wash away outward stains, may we also be cleansed by you of our inward sins.* Grant us this, we beg you, who live and reign forever and ever. ℟. Amen.

After the prayer the twelve men make a reverence to the altar and to the celebrant and are led back to their places, if they are clerics to their places in the presbyterium, if they are laymen to the particular place assigned to them.

21. Where the washing of feet is performed outside Mass, the rite described above shall be observed. It is preceded by the singing of the Gospel of the Mass "Before the Passover feast," as above, no. 12, page 287, with the usual ceremonies.

22. After the washing of feet or, where this does not take place, after the homily, the celebration of Mass continues in the usual way.

23. Offertory Antiphon Ps. 117, 16 and 17

The right hand of the Lord has struck with power: the right hand of the Lord has exalted me; I shall not die, but live, and declare the works of the Lord.

24. Prayer over the Gifts

O Lord, holy Father, almighty and eternal God,* may our sacrifice be acceptable to you through our Lord Jesus Christ, your Son, who on this day commanded his disciples to perform this rite in commemoration of him: Who lives and reigns.

25. The Preface, Sanctus and Benedictus are said in the usual way. The Preface of the Holy Cross is said.

26. During the Canon

Communicántes, et diem sacratíssimum celebrántes, quo Dóminus noster Iesus Christus pro nobis est tráditus: sed et memóriam venerántes, in primis gloriósæ semper Vírginis Mariæ, Genetrícis eiúsdem Dei et Dómini nostri Iesu Christi: sed et beáti Ioseph, eiúsdem Vírginis Sponsi, et beatórum Apostolórum ac Mártyrum tuórum, Petri et Pauli, Andréæ, Iacóbi, Ioánnis, Thomæ, Iacóbi, Philíppi, Bartholomæi, Matthæi, Simónis et Thaddæi: Lini, Cleti, Cleméntis, Xysti, Cornélii, Cypriáni, Lauréntii, Chrysógoni, Ioánnis et Pauli, Cosmæ et Damiáni: et ómnium Sanctórum tuórum; quorum méritis precibúque concédas, ut in ómnibus protectiόνis tuæ muniámur auxilió. Per eúndem Christum Dóminum nostrum. Amen.

27. Holding his hands extended over the offerings, the celebrant says:

Hanc ígitur oblatiónem servitútis nostræ, sed et cunctæ famíliæ tuæ, quam tibi of-férimus ob diem, in qua Dóminus noster Iesus Christus trádidit discíplis suis Córporis et Sánguinis sui mystéria celebránda: quæsumus, Dómine, ut placátus accípias: diésque nostros in tua pace dispónas, atque ab æténa damnatióne nos éripi, et in elec-tórum tuórum iúbeas grege numerári. He joins his hands. Per eúndem Christum Dóminum nostrum. Amen.

27. Tenens manus expansas: super oblata, dicit:

Quam oblatiónem tu, Deus, in ómnibus, quæsumus, he makes the sign of the cross three times over the offerings, bene ✠ díctam, adscríp ✠ tam, ra ✠ tam, rationábilem, acceptabilémque fácere dignéris: he makes the sign of the cross once over the host, ut nobis Cor ✠ pus, and once over the chalice, et San ✠ guis fiat dilectíssimi Fílii tui he joins his hands Dómini nostri Iesu Christi.

Holy Thursday

Qui pridie, quam pro nostra omniúmque salute pateretur, hoc est, hodie, he takes the host, accipit panem in sanctas ac venerabiles manus suas, he raises his eyes, et elevatis oculis in caelum ad te Deum, Patrem suum omnipotentem, he bows his head, tibi gratias agens, he makes the sign of the cross over the host, bene ✠ dixit, fregit, deditque discipulis suis, dicens: Accipite, et manducate ex hoc omnes.

Tenens ambabus manibus hostiam inter indices et pollices, profert verba consecrationis distincte et attente super hostiam, et simul super omnes, si plures sint consecrandae.

Holding the host in both hands between his index fingers and thumbs, the celebrant speaks the words of consecration distinctly and attentively over the host, and at the same time over all the hosts, if there are others to be consecrated.

Hoc est enim Corpus meum.

Quibus verbis prolatis, statim hostiam consecratam genuflexus adorat: surgit, ostendit populo, reponit super corporale, et genuflexus iterum adorat: nec amplius pollices et indices disiungit, nisi quando hostia tractanda est, usque ad ablutionem digitorum. Tunc, detecto calice, dicit:

After these words are said, the celebrant immediately genuflects and adores the consecrated host. He rises, shows it to the people, replaces it upon the corporal, kneels and adores it again. He does not again separate his thumbs and index fingers, except when he is to touch the host, until the washing of his fingers. Then, having uncovered the chalice, he says:

Simili modo postquam cenatum est, he takes the chalice in both hands, accipiens et hunc praeclearum Calicem in sanctas, ac venerabiles manus suas: item he bows his head, tibi gratias agens, holding the chalice with his left hand, he makes the sign of the cross over it with his right hand, bene ✠ dixit, deditque discipulis suis, dicens: Accipite, et bibite ex eo omnes.

Profert verba consecrationis super calicem, attente et continue, tenens illum parum elevatum.

He speaks the words of consecration over the chalice attentively and continuously, lifting it up a little.

Hic est enim Calix Sanguinis mei, novi et aeterni testamenti: mysterium fidei: qui pro vobis et pro multis effundetur in remissionem peccatorum.

Quibus verbis prolatis, deponit calicem super corporale, et dicens:

After these words have been spoken, the celebrant places the chalice upon the corporal and says:

Haec quotiescumque feceritis, in mei memoriam facietis.

Genuflexus adorat: surgit, ostendit populo, deponit, cooperit, et genuflexus iterum adorat.

Genuflecting, he adores. He rises, shows the chalice to the people, replaces it upon the corporal, covers it and, genuflecting, again adores.

Holy Thursday

The rest as in the Canon of the Mass, as given below, with the following exceptions.

28. At the threefold Agnus Dei, "have mercy on us" is said three times, as below:

Lamb of God, who take away the sins of the world, * have mercy on us. *

Lamb of God, who take away the sins of the world, * have mercy on us. *

Lamb of God, who take away the sins of the world, * have mercy on us.

The kiss of peace is not given today, and the prayer "Dómine Iesu Christe, qui dixisti" is omitted.

29. After he has received the precious Blood, the celebrant distributes Communion in the usual way.

The sacred ministers receive Communion first, after them the other clerics in order, and then the servers.

All these come to the altar two by two, or four by four, genuflect and go up the steps. They kneel and reverently receive the Body of the Lord. Afterwards they leave in the same order. The faithful receive the Sacrament at the edge of the sanctuary area.

If, however, the crowd of the faithful coming to the sacred table is large, other priests may also distribute Communion together with the celebrant at the edge of the sanctuary area or in some other suitable place. Care must be taken to preserve good order and the devotion of the faithful.

30. The Communion Antiphon may be sung by the schola while Communion is being distributed.

31. Communion Antiphon John 13, 12, 13 and 15

The Lord Jesus, after he had supped with his disciples, washed their feet, and said to them, "Do you know what I, your Lord and Master, have done to you? I have given you an example, that so you also should do."

According to the number of communicants the following psalms may be added; Ps. 22 The Lord is my shepherd and the antiphon, The Lord Jesus, is repeated. Ps. 71 O God with your judgment, and the antiphon The Lord Jesus is repeated. Ps. 103 Bless the Lord, O my soul. And the antiphon The Lord Jesus is repeated. Psalm 150 Praise the Lord in his sanctuary. And the conclusion is with the same antiphon The Lord Jesus.

Reliqua ut in Canone Missæ, ut infra, præter sequentia.

28. Ad triplex Agnus Dei, ter respondetur "miserére nobis," ut infra:

Agnus Dei, qui tollis peccáta mundi: miserére nobis.

Agnus Dei, qui tollis peccáta mundi: miserére nobis.

Agnus Dei, qui tollis peccáta mundi: miserére nobis.

Osculum pacis hodie non datur, et omititur oratio "Dómine Iesu Christe, qui dixisti."

29. Sumpto sacratissimo Sanguine, celebrans procedit ad distributionem Communionis, more solito.

Præcedunt ministri sacri; post eos ceteri clerici per ordinem, deinde ministrantes.

Hi omnes accedunt ante altare, bini et bini, aut quaterni et quaterni, et facta genuflexione, gradus ascendunt, genibusque flexis reverenter accipiunt Corpus Domini; postea eodem ordine recedunt. Fideles vero accipiunt Sacramentum ad cancellos.

Si vero multitudo fidelium ad sacram mensam accedentium magna sit, alii quoque sacerdotes, vel una cum celebrante ad cancellos, vel alio loco apto, Communionem distribuere possunt, cauto tamen ut bono ordini ac devotioni fidelium sedulo provideatur.

30. Antiphona ad Communionem cantari potest a schola, dum celebrans sacras particulas distribuit.

Dóminus Iesus, postquam cenávit cum discipulis suis, lavit pedes eórum, et ait illis: "Scitis quid fécerim vobis ego, Dóminus et Magíster? Exémplum dedi vobis, ut et vos ita faciátis."

Iuxta numerum communicantium addi possunt sequentes psalmi: Psalmus 22 Dóminus pascit me: nihil mihi deest. Et repetitur antiphona Dóminus Iesus. Psalmus 71 Deus, iudícium tuum regi da. Et repetitur antiphona Dóminus Iesus. Psalmus 103 Bénedic, ánima mea, Dómino. Et repetitur antiphona Dóminus

Holy Thursday

Iesus. Psalmus 150 Laudáte Dóminum in sanctuário eius. Et clauditur cum eadem antiphona Dóminus Iesus.

32. Communione fidelium peracta, pyxis vel pyxides deponuntur super corporale. Celebrans procedit ad ablutionem calicis et digitorum, recitans solitas orationes.

33. Omnibus sic absolutis, Missa proseguitur more solito; sed celebrans genuflectit, quandocumque transit ante Sacramentum: et cum dicit "Dóminus vobiscum," non vertit se ad populum in medió altaris, ne terga vertat Sacramento, sed a latere evangelii.

34. Refécti vitálibus aliméntis, quésumus, Dómine Deus noster: ut, quod témpore nostræ mortalitátis exséquimur, immortalitátis tuæ múnere consequámur. Per Dóminum nostrum.

35. Loco Ite, missa est, hodie cantatur Benedicámus Dómino, et dicitur Pláceat tibi, sancta Trínitas, more solito.

36. Benedictio hodie omittitur; celebrans autem et ministri sacri deponunt manipulum, celebrans vero etiam planetam, et accipit pluviale albi coloris.

37. In Missis lectis, quæ ab Ordinario loci celebrari permittuntur, Missa terminatur more solito.

32. When the Communion of the faithful has been completed, the ciborium or ciboria are placed upon the corporal. The celebrant cleanses the chalice and his fingers, reciting the usual prayers.

33. When all this is completed, the Mass continues in the usual way. The celebrant, however, genuflects whenever he comes to or departs from the center of the altar, or whenever he passes in front of the Sacrament. When he says "The Lord be with you," he does not turn to the people in the center of the altar, lest he turn his back to the blessed Sacrament, but at the gospel side.

Prayer after Communion

We have been refreshed by this life-giving food, O Lord our God.* May this most sacred rite of our mortal life bestow upon us your gift of immortality. Through Jesus Christ.

35. In place of The Mass is ended, Go in peace, Let us bless the Lord is chanted today. Pláceat tibi, sancta Trínitas, is said in the usual way.

36. The blessing is omitted today. The celebrant and the sacred ministers remove their maniples, and the celebrant removes the chasuble and puts on a white cope.

37. In low Masses which are permitted by the Ordinary of the place, the Mass is ended in the usual way.

THE SOLEMN TRANSFER AND REPOSITION OF THE BLESSED SACRAMENT AND STRIPPING OF THE ALTARS

1. Missa expleta, statim proceditur ad solemnem translationem et repositionem Sacramenti, quod ad communionem sequenti die faciendam in pyxide asservatur.

2. Pro solemni Sacramenti repositione paretur locus aptus in aliquo sacello vel altari ecclesie, ac decenter, quoad fieri potest, ornatur velis et luminaribus; atque, servatis Sacre Rituum Congregationis decretis de vitandis vel tollendis abusibus in hoc loco parando, plane commendatur severitas, quæ liturgiæ horum dierum convenit.

3. In translatione et repositione vero Sacramenti proceditur hoc modo: Accenduntur intorticia, et fit processio more solito.

1. The Mass is immediately followed by the solemn transfer and reposition of the Blessed Sacrament, which is to be reserved in the ciborium for Communion on the following day.

2. For the solemn reposition of the Sacrament a suitable place is to be prepared in some chapel or altar of the church. This is to be decorated as becomingly as possible, with hangings and lights. The decrees of the Sacred Congregation of Rites concerning abuses to be avoided or removed in the preparation of this place are to be observed. A severity that is suited to the liturgy of these days is clearly recommended.

3. The transfer and reposition of the Blessed Sacrament proceeds in this way:

Torches are lighted and the procession takes place in the usual manner.

Holy Thursday

If possible, a second vested subdeacon carries the cross; otherwise this is done by one of the clerics or servers.

The celebrant, standing before the altar, places incense in two thuribles without any blessing. Then he kneels in the center and incenses the Blessed Sacrament three times. Next the celebrant receives the white humeral veil and goes up to the altar in the center. He genuflects and, standing, takes the ciborium which the deacon hands to him and covers it with the ends of the veil. The celebrant then goes down from the altar and walks under the canopy to the place prepared for the reposition. Two acolytes or servers incense the Blessed Sacrament continually.

The sacred ministers or servers accompany the celebrant, walking at his right and left.

During the procession the hymn “Pange lingua, gloriósi Córporis mystérium,” is chanted as far as the words “Tantum ergo.” If necessary, the same hymn is repeated.

4. Upon arriving at the place prepared, the celebrant, with the help of the deacon if necessary, places the pyx upon the altar. Having placed incense in the thurible again, he kneels and incenses the Blessed Sacrament. Meanwhile “Tantum ergo” is chanted. Then the deacon, or the celebrant himself, places the ciborium in the tabernacle or container.

5. Afterwards, all remain kneeling for some period of time and adore the Blessed Sacrament silently. At a signal, the celebrant and sacred ministers or servers rise, kneel again in adoration, and return to the sacristy. There the celebrant and sacred ministers remove the white vestments, and the celebrant and deacon put on violet stoles.

6. If there are several ciboria to be transferred, the same celebrant (or, if available, another priest or deacon, vested in surplice, white stole, and white humeral veil) transfers them to the designated place before he begins the stripping of the altar. This is done in the simple form, namely, with the accompaniment of two acolytes, or servers, who carry lighted candles, and another server carrying the small canopy.

7. Then the celebrant and ministers, or servers, go to the main altar. They make a reverence to the altar and, standing, begin the stripping of the altar in this manner:

The celebrant says the following antiphon in a clear tone of voice:

Ps. 21, 19 They divide my garments among them, and for my vesture they cast lots, adding the beginning of the same psalm: My God, my God, why have you forsaken me?

Si haberi potest, alius subdiaconus paratus ferat crucem; secus unus ex clericis vel ministrantibus.

Celebrans, stans ante altare, imponit incensum in duobus thuribulis, absque benedictione. Deinde, in medio genuflexus, ter incensat Sacramentum. Tunc assumit velum humerale albi coloris, et ascendens altare in medio, facta genuflexione, stans, accipit pyxidem, quam diaconus ei porrigit, et extremitatibus veli cooperit. Deinde, de altari descendens, procedit sub balduchino, duobus acolythis, vel ministrantibus, Sacramentum continue incensantibus, usque ad locum paratum.

Ministri sacri, vel ministrantes, comitantur celebrantem, a dextris et a sinistris procedentes.

Dum fit processio, cantatur hymnus “Pange, lingua, gloriósi Córporis mystérium,” usque ad verba “Tantum ergo”; si vero opus sit, idem hymnus repetitur.

4. Cum autem ventum fuerit ad locum paratum, celebrans, adiuvante, si opus sit, diacono, deponit pyxidem super altare, genuflectit, et incensat, thure iterum imposito; interim canitur “Tantum ergo.” Deinde diaconus, vel ipse celebrans, reponit pyxidem in tabernaculo seu capsula.

5. Postea, omnes, genibus flexis, per aliquod temporis spatium in silentio Sacramentum adorant. Signo dato, celebrans et ministri sacri, et ministrantes, surgunt, iterum, genibus flexis, adorant, et revertuntur in sacristiam, ubi celebrans et ministri sacri deponunt paramenta albi coloris; deinde celebrans et diaconus assumunt stolam violaceam.

6. Si autem plures pyxides transferendae sint, idem celebrans (vel, si habeantur, alius sacerdos, aut diaconus, indutus superpelliceo, stola alba et velo humerali eiusdem coloris), eas transferat ad locum destinatum, antequam incipiat altarium denudationem, forma quidem simplici, scilicet comitantibus duobus acolythis, vel ministrantibus, cum cereis accensis, alioque umbellam portante.

7. Deinde celebrans cum ministris, seu ministrantibus, exeunt ante altare maius; facta eidem reverentia, stantes, incipiunt denudationem altarium, hoc modo: Celebrans dicit clara voce sequentem antiphonam:

Psalmus 21, 19 Dívidunt sibi vestimenta mea, et de veste mea mittunt sortem, addens initium eiusdem psalmi: Deus meus, Deus meus, quare me dereliquisti?

Clerici, si adsunt, prosequuntur recitationem huius psalmi, usque dum altarium denudatio peracta sit; alioquin celebrans dicat antiphonam et primum tantum versum psalmi ante denudationem altaris maioris.

Celebrans vero cum ministris sacris, vel ministrantibus, denudat omnia altaria ecclesiae, excepto illo in quo Sacramentum solemniter adoratur. Aliaribus denudatis, redeunt ad altare maius, et repetita a celebrante antiphona Dividunt, revertuntur in sacristiam.

8. Mox in choro dicitur Completorium, candelis extinctis et absque cantu.

9. Ad locum autem repositionis sanctissimae Eucharistiae fit publica adoratio, inde ab expleta Missa in Cena Domini instituenda, et protrahenda saltem usque ad mediam noctem.

Statio ad S. Crucem in Ierusalem

Solemnis Actio liturgica celebranda est horis postmeridianis, et quidem circa horam tertiam; si vero ratio pastoralis id suadeat, inchoari potest inde a meridie, vel tardiori hora, non autem ultra horam nonam serotinam.

Hoc die sacra Communio fidelibus distribui potest unice inter solemnem Actionem liturgicam postmeridianam, exceptis iis, qui in periculo mortis sunt constituti.

1. Altare omnino nudum sit: sine cruce, sine candelabris, sine tobaleis.

2. Solemnis Actio liturgica postmeridiana huius feriae, ubi deest copia clericorum et sacerdotum, peragitur a celebrante cum assistentia ministrantium, ut suis locis notabitur; ubi vero clerici adsint, maxime convenit, ut in choro Actioni liturgicae assistant.

3. Itaque, unusquisque suis choralibus vestimentis induitur; celebrans et diaconus, amictu, alba et cingulo induti, sumunt stolam nigram; subdiaconus accipit amictum, albam et cingulum.

4. Omnibus sic paratis, incipit processio per ecclesiam ad altare, sub silentio.

Good Friday

If there are clerics present, they continue the recitation of this psalm until the stripping of the altars has been completed. Otherwise the celebrant says only the antiphon and the first verse of the psalm before the stripping of the main altar.

The celebrant, with the sacred ministers, or servers, strips all the altars of the church with the exception of the altar at which the Sacrament is solemnly adored. After the altars have been stripped, they return to the main altar. The celebrant repeats the antiphon, They divide my garments, and they return to the sacristy.

8. Next Compline is said in choir, with the candles extinguished and without chant.

9. The public adoration of the Holy Eucharist follows at the place of reposition, beginning at the completion of the Mass of the Lord's Supper and extended at least until midnight.

GOOD FRIDAY

SOLEMN LITURGICAL SERVICE OF THE AFTERNOON OF THE PASSION AND DEATH OF THE LORD

The solemn liturgical service is to be celebrated in the afternoon about three o'clock. If a pastoral reason suggests otherwise, it may begin at noon or at a later hour, but not after nine o'clock at night. The private celebration of this liturgical service is prohibited.

On this day holy Communion may be distributed only during the solemn liturgical service of the afternoon, except to those who are in danger of death.

1. The altar should be entirely bare, without cross, candlesticks, or cloths.

2. Where there are not sufficient clerics and priests, the solemn liturgical service of this afternoon is celebrated by the celebrant with the assistance of servers, as will be noted in the proper places. Where there are clerics, however, it is most fitting that they should assist at the liturgical service in choir.

3. Thus each cleric vests in his choir dress. The celebrant and the deacon vest in amice, alb, cincture, and black stole; the subdeacon vests in amice, alb, and cincture.

PART ONE OF THE LITURGICAL SERVICE THE LESSONS

4. When everything is ready, the procession through the church to the altar begins in silence.

Good Friday

5. When the clergy, ministers, or servers, and the celebrant come to the altar, they make a reverence to it. Then the celebrant and the sacred ministers, but not the servers, prostrate themselves. The others go to their benches in choir and remain there, kneeling and deeply bowed. All pray silently for a period of time.

6. At a signal, all come erect but remain kneeling. The celebrant alone, standing before the steps of the altar, says the following prayer without inflection, with his hands joined.

Prayer

O God, through the passion of your Christ, our Lord, you have conquered death, to which all men are heirs because of the first sin. Grant that we may be made like to him: as by our nature we have had to bear the likeness of the earthly man, so, made holy by your grace, may we bear the likeness of the heavenly man. Through Christ our Lord.

All respond: Amen.

7. After the prayer the celebrant and ministers, or servers, go to the seat. The lector reads the first reading in the place where the Epistle is proclaimed, while all sit and listen.

7a. If there is no lector, the celebrant himself, standing in his place, reads the lesson.

First Lesson

Os. 6, 1-6

Thus says the Lord:
In their affliction, they shall look for me:
“Come, let us return to the Lord,
For it is he who has rent, but he will heal us;
he has struck us, but he will bind our wounds.
He will revive us after two days;
on the third day he will raise us up,
to live in his presence.
Let us know, let us strive to know the Lord;
as certain as the dawn is his coming, and his judgment shines forth like the light of day!

5. Clerici, ministri, seu ministrantes, et celebrans, cum ad altare pervenerint, eidem altari reverentiam faciunt: deinde, celebrans et ministri sacri, non vero ministrantes, in faciem procumbunt, reliqui vero adeunt scamna in choro, ibique manent, genibus flexis et profunde inclinati: omnesque in silentio aliquamdiu orant.

6. Signo dato, omnes se erigunt, sed genuflexi manent; solus celebrans, stans ante gradus altaris, dicit, manibus iunctis et in tono feriali, sequentem orationem:

Deus, qui peccati veteris hereditariam mortem, in qua posteritatis genus omne successerat, Christi tui, Domini nostri, passione solvisti: da, ut conformes eidem facti; sicut imaginem terreni, naturae necessitate portavimus, ita imaginem caelestis, gratiae sanctificatione portemus. Per eundem Christum Dominum nostrum.

Omnes respondent: Amen.

7. Oratione completa, celebrans et ministri, seu ministrantes, ad sedilia pergunt. Lector primam lectionem legit in loco ubi Epistola proculamatur, omnibus sedentibus et auscultantibus.

7a. Deficiente lectore, ipse celebrans, stans in loco suo, legit lectionem.

Haec dicit Dominus: In tribulatione sua mane consurgent ad me: Venite, et revertamur ad Dominum: quia ipse cepit, et sanabit nos: percutiet, et curabit nos. Vivificabit nos post duos dies: in die tertia suscitabit nos, et vivemus in conspectu eius. Scimus, sequemurque, ut cognoscamus Dominum: quasi diluculum prae paratus est egressus eius, et veniet quasi imber nobis temporaneus, et serotinus terrae. Quid faciam tibi, Ephraim? Quid faciam tibi, Iuda? misericordia vestra quasi nubes matutina: et quasi ros mane pertransiens. Propter hoc dolavi in

Responsorium Habacuc 3, 2-3

Dómine, audívi audítum tuum, et tímui: considerávi ópera tua, et expávi. ℟. In médio duórum animalium innotescéris: dum appropinquáverint anni, cognoscéris: dum advénerit tempus, ostendéris. ℣. In eo, dum conturbáta fúerit ánima mea: in ira, misericórdiæ memor eris. ℟. Deus a Líbano véniet, et Sanctus de monte umbróso, et condénso. ℣. Opéruit cælos maiéstas eius: et laudis eius plena est terra.

8. Responsorio absoluto, omnes surgunt; celebrans, stans ad sedile, dicit Orémus, diaconus Flectámus génua, et omnes, flexis genibus, per aliquod temporis spatium in silentio orant; postquam diaconus surrexit et dixit Leváte, omnes surgunt, et celebrans dicit orationem.

8a. Celebrans, manens in loco suo, dicit Orémus, Flectámus génua, et brevi interposita precatone, flexis genibus et in silentio, surgit, dicit Leváte et orationem.

Orémus. Flectámus génua.
Leváte.

Good Friday

He will come to us like the rain, like spring rain that waters the earth.”
What can I do with you, Ephraim?
What can I do with you, Juda?
Your piety is like a morning cloud,
like the dew that early passes away.
For this reason I smote them through the prophets,
I slew them by the words of my mouth;
For it is love that I desire, not sacrifice,
and knowledge of God rather than holocausts.

There follows a responsory to be sung by the schola or recited by the assisting clergy.

Responsorium
Habacuc 3, 2-3

O Lord, I have heard your hearing and was afraid; I have considered your works and trembled. ℟. In the midst of two animals you shall be made known; when the years shall draw near. You shall be known; when the time shall come, you shall be manifested. ℣. When my soul shall be in trouble, you will remember mercy, even in your wrath. ℟. God will come from Lebanon, and the Holy One from the shady and thickly covered mountain. ℣. His majesty covered the heavens; and the earth is full of his praise.

8. After the first reading and responsory, all rise. The celebrant, standing at his seat, says Let us pray, the deacon says Let us kneel, and all kneel and pray silently for a period of time. After the deacon has risen and said Let us stand, all rise, and the celebrant says the prayer.

8a. The celebrant, remaining in his place, says Let us pray, let us kneel, and after kneeling for a brief period of silent prayer, he rises, says Let us stand, and the prayer.

Let us pray. Let us kneel.
Let us stand.

tence, be merciful to us; our Lord Jesus Christ in his passion gave each one recompense according to his deserts, may he deliver us from deceitfulness of our old selves and bestow on us the grace of his resurrection: Who lives and reigns.

9. After the collect there follows another reading, to be recited by the subdeacon in the place where the Epistle is read, without any title, and without "Deo gratias" at the end. The celebrant and everyone else are seated and listen.

9a. A lector shall read the lesson; in the absence of a lector, the celebrant himself reads it.

Second Reading Exod. 12, 1-11

In those days the Lord said to Moses and Aaron in the land of Egypt, "This month shall stand at the head of your calendar; you shall reckon it as the first month of the year. Tell the whole community of Israel: On the tenth of this month every one of your families must procure for itself a lamb, one apiece for each household. If a family is too small for a whole lamb, it shall join the nearest household in procuring one and shall share in the lamb in proportion to the number of persons who partake of it. The lamb must be a year-old male and without blemish. You may take it from either the sheep or the goats. You shall keep it until the fourteenth day of this month, and then, with the whole assembly of Israel present, it shall be slaughtered during the evening twilight. They shall take some of its blood and apply it to the two doorposts and the lintel of every house in which they partake of the lamb. That same night they shall eat its roasted flesh with unleavened bread and bitter herbs. It shall not be eaten raw or boiled, but roasted whole, with its head and shanks and inner organs. None of it must be kept beyond the next morning; whatever is left over in the morning shall be burned up. "This is how you are to eat it: with your loins girt, sandals on your feet and your

9. Oratione expleta, sequitur altera lectio, a subdiacono dicenda in loco ubi legitur Epistola, item sine titulo, et sine "Deo gratias" in fine, Celebrans ceterique omnes, sedentes, auscultant.

9a. Lectionem legat lector; secus vero ipse celebrans.

In diébus illis: Dixit Dóminus ad Móysen et Aaron in terra Ægypti: "Mensis iste, vobis principium ménsium: primus erit in ménsibus anni. Loquímini ad univérsam ceteram filiórum Israël, et dícite eis: Décima die mensis huius tollat unusquisque agnum per famílias et domos suas. Sin autem minor est númerus, ut sufficere possit ad vescéndum agnum, assúmet vicínium suum, qui iunctus est dómui suæ, iuxta númerum animárum, quæ sufficere possunt ad esum agni. Erit autem agnus absque mácula, másculus, annículus: iuxta quem ritum tollétis et hædum. Et servábitis eum usque ad quartam décimam diem mensis huius: immolábitque eum univérsa multitúdo filiórum Israël ad vésperam. Et sument de ságuine eius, ac ponent super utrúmque postem, et in superlímínaribus domórum, in quibus cómedent illum. Et edent carnes nocte illa assas igni, et ázymos panes cum lactúcis agréstibus. Non comedétis ex eo crudum quid, nec coctum aqua, sed tantum assum igni: caput cum pédibus eius, et intestínis vorábitis. Nec remanébit quidquam ex eo usque mane. Si quid residuum fúerit, igne comburétis. Sic autem comedétis illum: Renes vestros accingétis, et calceaménta habébitis in pédibus, tenéntes báculos in mánibus, et comedétis festinánter: est enim Phase, id est tránsitus, Dómini."

Sequitur responsorium, a schola cantandum, vel a clero assistente recitandum.

There follows a responsory to be sung by the schola or recited by the assisting clergy.

Responsory

Ps. 139, 2–10 and 14

Eripe me, Dómine, ab hómine malo: a viro iníquo líbera me. ℣. Qui cogitavérunt malítias in corde: tota die constituébant praelia. ℣. Acué-runt linguas suas sicut serpentes: venénúm áspidum sub lábiis eórum. ℣. Custódi me, Dómine, de manu peccatóris: et ab homínibus iníquis líbera me. ℣. Qui cogitavérunt sup-plantáre gressus meos: abscondérunt supérbi láqueum mihi. ℣. Et funes extendérunt in láqueum pédibus meis: iuxta iter scándalum posué-runt mihi. ℣. Dixi Dómino: Deus meus es tu: exáudi, Dómine, vocem oratiónis meæ. ℣. Dómine, Dómine, virtus salútis meæ: obúmbra caput meum in die belli. ℣. Ne tradas me a desidério meo peccatóri: cogitavé-runt advérsus me: ne derelínquas me, ne umquam exalténtur. ℣. Caput circúitus eórum: labor labió-rum ipsórum opériet eos. ℣. Verúm-tamen iusti confitebúntur nómini tuo: et habitábunt recti cum vultu tuo.

Deliver me, O Lord, from evil men; preserve me from violent men. ℣. From those who devise evil in their hearts, and stir up wars every day. ℣. They make their tongues sharp as those of serpents; the venom of asps is under their lips. ℣. Save me, O Lord, from the hands of the wicked; preserve me from violent men. ℣. Who plan to trip up my feet — the proud who have hidden a trap for me. ℣. They have spread cords for a net; by the wayside they have laid snares for me. ℣. I say to the Lord, you are my God; hearken, O Lord, to my voice of supplication. ℣. O Lord, my Lord, my strength and my salvation; you are my helmet in the day of battle! ℣. Give me not up from my desire to the wicked: they have plotted against me. Do not forsake me lest at any time they should triumph. ℣. Those who surround me lift up their heads; may the mischief which they threaten overwhelm them. ℣. Surely the just shall give thanks to your name; the upright shall dwell in your presence.

10. Absoluta altera lectione cum suo responsorio, ponuntur in latere evangelii, in plano presbyterii, legilia nuda, et proceditur ad cantum vel lectionem historiae passionis Domini secundum Ioannem, hoc modo: cantatur vel legitur a ministris, saltem in ordine diaconatus constitutis, qui, comitantibus duobus acolythis, vel ministrantibus, absque luminaribus, et absque incenso, facta altari reverentia, ante celebrantem sistunt; super eos, profunde inclinator, celebrans media voce dicit:

Dóminus sit in córdibus vestris, et in lábiis vestris. Ipsi vero, erigentes se, respondent: Amen.

Tunc, iterum facta altari reverentia, procedunt ad latus evangelii, ibique, super nudum legile, incipiunt cantare vel legere historiam passionis Domini, omnibus auscultantibus.

10. When the second reading and its responsory have been completed, uncovered lecterns are placed on the gospel side on the floor of the presbyterium for the chanting or reading of the Passion of the Lord according to John. The Passion is chanted or recited by ministers, at least in the order of deacon, who, accompanied by two acolytes, or servers, without lighted candles and without incense, make a reverence to the altar and stand before the celebrant. They bow deeply and the celebrant says in a medium tone of voice:

Dóminus sit in córdibus vestris et in lábiis vestris. They stand erect and respond: Amen.

Again making a reverence to the altar, the deacons go to the gospel side and there, at the uncovered lecterns, they begin to chant or recite the Passion of the Lord while all listen.

Good Friday

10a. The celebrant recites or chants the Passion of the Lord in a clear and distinct voice. Before he begins, he bows deeply in the center of the presbyterium and says in a low voice:

Dóminus sit in corde meo et in lábiis meis.
Amen.

Then he makes a reverence to the altar and goes to the gospel side where, at an uncovered lectern or at the ambo, he chants or recites the Passion of the Lord. But if he has read the preceding reading or readings, the celebrant says Dóminus sit while standing in the same place and facing toward the altar.

The Passion of our Lord Jesus Christ according to John John 18, 1-40; 19, 1-42

At that time Jesus went out with his disciples across the Cedron valley. There was a garden there, and he and his disciples went into it. This place was also familiar to Judas (the one who was to hand him over) because Jesus had often met there with his disciples. So Judas took the cohort of soldiers, together with the police supplied by the chief priests and the Pharisees, and came there with lanterns, torches and weapons. Of course, Jesus knew all that was to happen to him; so he went out and said to them, ✠ “Whom do you want?” S. “Jesus the Nazorean,” C. they replied. He answered, ✠ “I am he.” C. (Now Judas, the one who was to hand him over, was also there with them.) As he said to them, “I am he,” they stepped back and fell to the ground. So he asked them again, ✠ “Whom do you want?” S. “Jesus the Nazorean,” C. they repeated. ✠ “I told you that I am he,” C. Jesus answered. ✠ “And if I am the one you want, let these men go.” C. (This was to fulfill what he had said, “I have not lost even one of those whom you have given me.”)

Then Simon Peter, who had a sword, pulled it out and struck the slave of the Tunc, facta altari reverentia, vadit ad latus evangelii, ibique, super nudum legile vel ambonem cantat aut legit historiam passionis Domini. Si vero lectionem vel lectiones præcedentes ipse legit, celebrans dicit Dóminus sit stans in eodem loco versus altare.

Pássio Dómini nostri Iesu Christi secúndum Ioánnem

In illo témpore: Egréssus est Iesus cum discipulis suis trans torrénstem Cedron, ubi erat hortus, in quem introívit ipse, et discipuli eius. Sciébat autem et Iudas, qui tradébat eum, locum: quia frequéner Iesus convénerat illuc cum discipulis suis. Iudas ergo cum accepisset cohórtem, et a pontificibus et pharisæis ministros, venit illuc cum latérnis, et fácibus, et armis. Iesus itaque sciens ómnia, quæ ventúra erant super eum, processit, et dixit eis: ✠ Quem quæritis? C. Respondérunt ei: S. Iesum Nazarénum. C. Dicit eis Iesus: ✠ Ego sum. C. Stabat autem et Iudas, qui tradébat eum, cum ipsis. Ut ergo dixit eis: Ego sum: abiérunt retrórsum, et cecidérunt in terram. Iterum ergo interrogávit eos: ✠ Quem quæritis? C. Illi autem dixerunt: S. Iesum Nazarénum. C. Respóndit Iesus: ✠ Dixi vobis, quia ego sum: si ergo me quæritis, sinite hos abire. C. Ut implerétur sermo, quem dixit: Quia quos dedísti mihi, non pérdidi ex eis quemquam.

Simon ergo Petrus habens gládium edúxit eum: et percússit pontíficis servum: et absceídit aurículam eius dèxteram. Erat autem nomen servo Malchus. Dixit ergo Iesus Petro: ✠ Mitte gládium tuum in vaginam. Cálicem, quem dedit mihi Pater, non bibam illum? C. Cohors ergo, et tribúnus, et ministri Iudæórum comprehendérunt Iesum, et ligavérunt eum.

Et adduxérunt eum ad Annam primum, erat enim socer Cáiphæ, qui erat pón.tifex anni illius. Erat autem Cáiphás, qui consílium déderat Iudæís: Quia éxpedit unum hóminem mori pro pópulo. Sequebátur autem Iesum Simon Petrus, et álius discípulus. Discípulus autem ille erat notus pontífici, et introívit cum Iesu in átrium pontíficis.

Petrus autem stabat ad óstium foris. Exívit ergo discípulus álius, qui erat notus pontífici, et dixit ostiáriæ: et introduxit Petrum. Dicit ergo Petro ancílla ostiária: S. Numquid et tu ex discíplis es hóminis istíus? C. Dicit ille: S. Non sum. C. Stabant autem servi et ministri ad prunas, quia frigus erat, et calefaciébant se: erat autem cum eis et Petrus stans, et calefaciens se.

Pón.tifex ergo interrogávit Iesum de discíplis suis, et de doctrína eius. Respóndit ei Iesus: ✠ Ego palam locútus sum mundo: ego semper dócui in synagóga, et in templo, quo omnes Iudæí convéniunt: et in occúlto locútus sum nihil. Quid me intérrogas? intérroga eos, qui audiérunt quid locútus sim ipsis: ecce hi sciunt quæ díxerim ego. C. Hæc autem cum díxisset, unus assístens ministrórum dedit álapam Iesu, dicens: S. Sic respóndes pontífici? C. Respóndit ei Iesus: ✠ Si male locútus sum, testimónium pérhibe de malo: si autem bene, quid me cædis? C. Et misit eum Annas ligátum ad Cáipham pontíficem. Erat autem Simon Petrus stans et calefaciens se. Dixérunt ergo ei: S. Numquid et tu ex discíplis eius es? C. Negávit ille, et dixit: S. Non sum. C. Dicit ei unus ex servis pontíficis, cognátus eius, cuius absceídít Petrus aurículam: S. Nonne ego te vidi in horto cum illo? C. Iterum ergo negávit Petrus: et statim gallus cantávit.

Addúcunt ergo Iesum a Cáipha in prætórium. Erat autem mane: et ipsi non introiérunt in prætórium, high priest, severing his right ear. (The slave's name was Malchus.) At that Jesus told Peter, ✠ "Return your sword to its scabbard. Am I not to drink the cup the Father has given me?" C. So the cohort, their tribune, and the Jewish police arrested Jesus and bound him.

They led him first to Annas, for he was the father-in-law of Caiaphas who was high priest that year. (Remember, it was Caiaphas who had advised the Jews that "it was more advantageous to have one man die for the people.")

Now Simon Peter was following Jesus, along with another disciple. This disciple, who was known to the high priest, accompanied Jesus into the high priest's courtyard, while Peter was left standing outside at the gate. So this other disciple (the one known to the high priest) came out and spoke to the woman at the gate and brought Peter in. This servant girl who kept the gate said to Peter, S. "Aren't you too one of this man's disciples?" "No, I am not," C. he replied. Since it was cold, the servants and police who were standing around had made a charcoal fire and were warming themselves; so Peter, too, stood with them and warmed himself.

The high priest questioned Jesus about his disciples and about his teaching. Jesus answered him, ✠ "I have spoken publicly to all the world. I have always taught in a synagogue or in the Temple precincts where all the Jews come together. There was nothing secret about what I said. Why do you question me? Question those who heard me when I spoke. Obviously, they should know what I said." C. At this reply a policeman who was standing by gave Jesus a slap in the face. S. "Is that the way to answer the high priest?" C. he said. Jesus replied, ✠ "If I've said anything wrong, produce some evidence of it. But if I was right, why do you hit me?"

C. Then Annas sent him bound to Caia-phas, the high priest. In the meantime Simon Peter had been standing there, warming himself. So they said to him, S. "Aren't you too one of his disciples?" "No, I am not," C. he said, denying it. S. "Didn't I see you with him in the garden?" C. insisted one of the high priest's slaves, a relative of the man whose ear Peter had severed. Peter denied it again, and just then a cock began to crow.

Then, at daybreak, they brought Jesus from Caiaphas to the Pretorium. They did not enter the Pretorium themselves, for they had to avoid ritual impurity so that they could eat the Passover supper. So Pilate came out to them. S. "What accusation do you bring against this man?" C. he demanded. S. "If this fellow were not a criminal," C. they retorted, S. "we would certainly not have handed him over to you." C. At this Pilate told them, S. "Take him yourselves and pass judgment on him according to your own law." "We are not permitted to put anyone to death," C. the Jews answered. (This was to fulfill what Jesus had said, indicating the sort of death he was to die.)

So Pilate went back into the Pretorium and summoned Jesus. S. "Are you the king of the Jews?" C. he said to him. Jesus answered, ✠ "Are you saying this on your own, or have others been telling you about me?" S. "I'm no Jew, am I?" C. Pilate retorted. S. "It is your own nation and the chief priests who handed you over to me. What have you done?" C. Jesus answered, ✠ "My kingdom does not belong to this world. If my kingdom belonged to this world, my subjects would be fighting to save me from being handed over to the Jews. But, as it is, my kingdom does not belong here." C. At this Pilate said to him, S. "So, then, you are a king?" C. Jesus replied, ✠ "You say that I am a king. The reason why I have been born, the reason I have come into the world, is to testify to the ut non contaminarentur, sed ut manducarent pascha. Exiit ergo Pilatus ad eos foras, et dixit: S. Quam accusationem affertis adversus hominem hunc? C. Responderunt et dixerunt ei: S. Si non esset hic malefactor, non tibi tradidissimus eum. C. Dixit ergo eis Pilatus: S. Accipite eum vos, et secundum legem vestram iudicate eum. C. Dixerunt ergo ei Iudaei: S. Nobis non licet interficere quemquam. C. Ut sermo Iesu impleretur, quem dixit, significans qua morte esset moriturus.

Introivit ergo iterum in praetorium Pilatus, et vocavit Iesum, et dixit ei: S. Tu es Rex Iudaeorum? C. Respondit Iesus: ✠ A temetipso hoc dicis, an alii dixerunt tibi de me? C. Respondit Pilatus: S. Numquid ego Iudaeus sum? Gens tua et pontifices tradiderunt te mihi: quid fecisti? C. Respondit Iesus: ✠ Regnum meum non est de hoc mundo. Si ex hoc mundo esset regnum meum, ministri mei utique decertarent ut non traderer Iudaeis: nunc autem regnum meum non est hinc. C. Dixit itaque ei Pilatus: S. Ergo Rex es tu? C. Respondit Iesus: ✠ Tu dicis quia Rex sum ego. Ego in hoc natus sum, et ad hoc veni in mundum, ut testimonium perhibeam veritati: omnis, qui est ex veritate, audit vocem meam. C. Dicit ei Pilatus: S. Quid est veritas? C. Et, cum hoc dixisset, iterum exiit ad Iudaeos, et dicit eis: S. Ego nullam invenio in eo causam. Est autem consuetudo vobis ut unum dimittam vobis in Pascha: vultis ergo dimittam vobis Regem Iudaeorum? C. Clamaverunt ergo rursus omnes, dicentes: S. Non hunc, sed Barabbam. C. Erat autem Barabbas latro.

Tunc ergo apprehendit Pilatus Iesum, et flagellavit. Et milites plectentes coronam de spinis, imposuerunt capiti eius: et veste purpurea circumdederunt eum. Et veniebant ad eum, et dicebant: S. Ave, Rex Iudaeorum. C. Et dabant ei alapas.

Exiit ergo iterum Pilatus foras, et dicit eis: S. Ecce adduco vobis eum foras, ut cognoscatis, quia nullam invenio in eo causam. C. (Exiit ergo Iesus portans coronam spineam et purpúreum vestiméntum). Et dicit eis: S. Ecce homo. C. Cum ergo vidíssent eum pontífices et ministri, clamábant, dicéntes: S. Crucífíge, crucífíge eum. C. Dicit eis Pilátus: S. Accípíte eum vos, et crucífígíte: ego enim non invénio in eo causam. C. Respondérunt ei Iudæi: S. Nos legem habémus, et secúndum legem debet mori, quia Fílium Dei se fecit. C. Cum ergo audísset Pilátus hunc sermónem, magis tímuit.

Et ingrèssus est prætórium íterum: et dixit ad Iesum: S. Unde es tu? C. Iesus autem respónsum non dedit ei. Dicit ergo ei Pilátus: S. Mihi non lóqueris? nescis quia potestátem hábeo crucífígere te, et potestátem hábeo dimíttre te? C. Respóndit Iesus: ✠ Non habéres potestátem advérsum me ullam, nisi tibi datum esset désuper. Proptérea, qui me trádidit tibi, maius peccátum habet. C. Et exínde quærébat Pilátus dimíttre eum. Iudæi autem clamábant, dicéntes: S. Si hunc dimíttis, non es amícus Cæsaris. Omnis enim, qui se regem facit, contradícit Cæsari. C. Pilátus autem cum audísset hos sermónes, addúxit foras Iesum, et sedit pro tribunáli, in loco, qui dícitur Lithóstrotos, hebráice autem Gábbatha. Erat autem Parascève Paschæ, hora quasi sexta, et dicit Iudæis: S. Ecce Rex vester. C. Illi autem clamábant: S. Tolle, tolle, crucífíge eum. C. Dicit eis Pilátus: S. Regem vestrum crucífígam? C. Respondérunt pontífices: S. Non habémus regem, nisi Cæsarem. C. Tunc ergo trádidit eis illum ut crucífígerétur.

Suscepérunt autem Iesum, et eduxérunt. Et báulans sibi crucem, exívit in eum, qui dícitur Calvária, locum, hebráice autem Gólgotha: ubi crucifíxerunt eum, et cum eo álios duos, hinc et hinc, médium autem Iesum.

Scriptum autem et título Pilátus: et pósuit super crucem. Erat autem scriptum: Iesus Nazarénus, Rex Iudæórum. Hunc ergo título multi Iudæórum legérunt, quia prope civitátem erat locus, ubi crucifíxus est Iesus. Et erat scriptum hebráice, græce et latíne. Dicébant ergo Piláto pontífices Iudæórum: S. Noli scrítruth. Everyone who belongs to the truth listens to my voice.” S. “Truth,” C. said Pilate, S. “what does that mean?” C. After that remark Pilate went out again to the Jews and told them, S. “For my part, I do not find a case against this man. Remember, you have a custom that I release someone for you at Passover. Do you want me, then, to release for you the king of the Jews?” C. At this they shouted back, S. “We want Barabbas, not this fellow!” C. (Barabbas was a bandit.)

Finally Pilate took Jesus and had him flogged. And the soldiers wove a crown out of thorns and fixed it on his head, and threw around him a cloak of royal purple. Time and again they came up to him, saying, S. “All hail, king of the Jews!” C. And they would slap him in the face.

Once more Pilate went out and said to them, S. “Look, I am going to bring him out to you to make you realize that I find no case against him.” C. When Jesus came out, wearing the crown of thorns and the purple cloak, Pilate said to them, S. “Look at the man!” C. As soon as the chief priests and the Temple police saw him, they shouted, S. “Crucify! Crucify!” C. Pilate said to them, S. “Take him yourselves and crucify him; I find no case against him.” “We have our own law,” C. the Jews retorted, S. “and according to that law he has to die because he made himself God’s Son.” C. When Pilate heard that, he was more afraid than ever.

Going back into the Pretorium, he said to Jesus, S. “Where do you come from?” C. But Jesus would not give him an answer. S. “Do you refuse to speak to me?” C. Pilate said to him. S. “Don’t you know that I have power to release you and power to crucify you?” C. Jesus answered, ✠ “You would have no power over me at all were it not given to you from above. For that reason he who handed me over to you is guilty of a greater sin.” C. After this Pilate was eager to release him, but the Jews shouted, S. "If you free this fellow, you are no 'friend of Caesar.' Any man who makes himself a king becomes the Emperor's rival." C. Once he heard what they were saying, Pilate brought Jesus out and sat down on a judge's bench. It was at the place called Stone Pavement (Gabbatha being its Hebrew name). (Remember, it was the Preparation Day for Passover, and the hour was about noon.) Then he said to the Jews, S. "Look, here is your king!" C. At this they shouted, S. "Away with him! Away with him! Crucify him!" "What!" Pilate exclaimed. S. "Shall I crucify your king?" C. The chief priests replied, S. "We have no king but Caesar." C. Then, at last, he handed him over to them to be crucified.

Therefore, they took Jesus in charge. Carrying the cross by himself, he went out to what is called the Skull-Place (Golgotha being its Hebrew name). There they crucified Jesus and with him two others: one on either side and Jesus in the middle. Now Pilate even had an inscription placed on the cross. These were the words inscribed: "Jesus the Nazorean the King of the Jews." And this inscription, which was in Hebrew, Latin, and Greek, was read by many of the Jews, for the place where Jesus was crucified was quite near the city. The chief priests, therefore, tried to tell Pilate, S. "You should not have written, 'The King of the Jews'; write instead, 'This man claimed to be king of the Jews.'" C. Pilate answered, S. "What I have written, I have written."

C. When the soldiers had crucified Jesus, they took his garments and separated them into four parts, one for each soldier. There was also his tunic; but this tunic was woven in one piece from top to bottom and had no seam. So they said to one another, S. "We shouldn't tear it; let's toss to see who gets it." C. (The purpose of this was to have the Scripture fulfilled: "They divided up my Dixérunt ergo ad ívicem: S. Non scindámus eam, sed sortiámur de illa cuius sit. C. Ut Scriptúra implerétur, dicens: Partíti sunt vestiménta mea sibi; et in vestem meam misérunt sortem. Et míletes quidem hæc fecérunt.

Stabant autem iuxta crucem Iesu, mater eius, et soror matris eius María Cléophæ, et María Magdaléne. Cum vidisset ergo Iesus matrem, et discipulum stantem, quem diligébat, dicit matri suæ: ✠ Múlier, ecce filius tuus. C. Déinde dicit discipulo: ✠ Ecce mater tua. C. Et ex illa hora accépit eam discipulus in sua.

Póstea sciens Iesus quia ómnia consummáta sunt, ut consummarétur Scriptúra, dixit: ✠ Sítio. C. Vas ergo erat pósitum acéto plenum. Illi autem spóngiam plenam acéto, hyssópo circumponéntes, obtulé-runt ori eius. Cum ergo accepisset Iesus acéto, dixit: ✠ Consummátum est. C. Et inclináto cápite trádidit spíritum. Hic genuflectitur, et pausat aliquid tulum.

Iudæi ergo, quóniam Parascéve erat, ut non remanérent in cruce córpora sábbato, erat enim magnus dies ille sábbati, rogavérunt Pilátum, ut frangeréntur eórum crura, et tolleréntur. Venérunt ergo míletes: et primi quidem fregérunt crura, et altérius, qui crucifixus est cum eo. Ad Iesum autem cum venissent, ut vidérunt eum iam mórtuum, non fregérunt eius crura: sed unus mílitum láncea latus eius apéruit, et contínuo exívit sanguis et aqua. Et qui vidit, testimónium perhibuit: et verum est testimónium eius. Et ille scít, quia vera dicit; ut et vos credátis. Facta sunt enim hæc, ut Scriptúra implerétur: Os non minuétis ex eo. túra dicit: Vidébunt in quem transfixerunt.

Post hæc autem rogávit Pilátum Ioseph ab Arimathæa, eo quod esset discipulus Iesu, occúltus autem propter metum Iudæórum, ut tólleret corpus Iesu. Et permísit Pilátus. Venit ergo, et tulit corpus Iesu. Venit autem et Nicodémus, qui vénerat ad Iesum nocte primum, ferens mixtúram myrrhæ et áloës, quasi libras centum. Accepérunt ergo corpus Iesu, et ligavérunt illud línteis cum aromátibus, sicut mos est Iudæis sepelíre. Erat autem in loco, ubi crucifíxus est, hortus: et in horto monuméntum novum, in quo nondum quisquam pósitus erat. Ibi ergo propter Parascéven Iudæórum, quia iuxta erat monuméntum, posuérunt Iesum.

garments among them, and they rolled dice for my clothing.”) This, then, was what the soldiers did.

Yet near the cross of Jesus there also stood his mother, and his mother’s sister, Mary the wife of Clopas, and Mary Magdalene. Then seeing his mother there with the disciple whom he loved, Jesus said to his mother, ✠ “Women, there is your son.” C. In turn he said to the disciple, ✠ “There is your mother.” C. And from that hour the disciple took her into his care.

After that Jesus was aware that all was now finished; in order to bring the Scripture to its accomplishment, he said, ✠ “I am thirsty.” C. There was a jar there full of cheap wine. They stuck a sponge soaked in this wine on some hyssop and raised it to his lips. When Jesus took the wine, he said, ✠ “It is finished”; and bowing his head, he handed over the spirit. Here kneel and pause awhile.

Since it was Preparation Day, the Jews did not want the bodies left on the cross during the Sabbath, for that Sabbath was a solemn feast day. So they asked Pilate to have the legs broken and the bodies taken down. Accordingly, the soldiers came and broke the legs of the men crucified with Jesus, first of the one, then of the other. But when they came to Jesus and saw that he was already dead, they did not break his legs. However, one of the soldiers jabbed his side with a lance and immediately blood and water flowed out. (This testimony has been given by an eyewitness, and his testimony is true. He is telling what he knows to be true that you too may have faith.) These events took place in order to have the Scripture fulfilled: “None of its bones are to be broken.” And still another Scripture passage says: “They shall look on him whom they have pierced.”

Afterwards, Joseph of Arimathea, since he was a disciple of Jesus, although a secret one for fear of the Jews, asked Pilate's permission to remove the body of Jesus. Pilate granted it, and so they came and took the body away. Nicodemus (the man who had first come to him at night) also came and brought a mixture of myrrh and aloes, weighing about a hundred pounds. So they took Jesus' body; and, in accordance with Jewish burial custom, they bound it up in cloth wrappings with perfumed oils. Now in the place where he had been crucified there was a garden, and in the garden a new tomb in which no one had ever been laid. And so, because of the Jewish Preparation Day, they laid Jesus there, since the tomb was near at hand.

PART TWO OF THE LITURGICAL SERVICE THE SOLEMN PRAYERS OR PRAYER OF THE FAITHFUL

12. When the singing or recitation of the Passion of the Lord has been completed, the celebrant puts on a black cope; the deacon and subdeacon vest in a black dalmatic and tunic. Meanwhile two acolytes, or servers, spread a single cloth on top of the altar and place the book in the center of the altar.

Then the celebrant, accompanied by the ministers or servers, goes to the altar and kisses it in the center. Standing there at the book, he begins the solemn prayers, with the sacred ministers standing at his sides.

For the prayer of the faithful the celebrant may remain at his seat with the ministers. In this case the acolytes spread the cloth on top of the altar toward the end of the veneration of the cross.

13. The prayers are said in this manner: The preface by the celebrant, in which the special intention is indicated, comes first, and it is chanted in the particular tone noted below; the celebrant holds his hands joined. Then the celebrant says Let us pray, the deacon says Let us kneel, and all kneel and pray silently for a period of time. After the deacon has risen and said, Let us stand, all rise and the celebrant says the prayer without inflection, with his hands extended.

13a. The celebrant says Let us pray, Let us kneel, and kneels for a brief period of silent prayer. Then he rises, says Let us stand, and says the prayer without inflection, with his hands extended.

12. Cantu vel lectione historiae passionis Domini absoluto, celebrans assumit pluviale nigri coloris; diaconus et subdiaconus induunt dalmaticam vel tunicellam eiusdem coloris. Interim vero duo acolythi, vel ministrantes, unam tantum tobaleam super altare extendunt, locantes librum in medio.

Tunc celebrans, comitantibus ministris, vel ministrantibus, accedit ad altare, quod, ascendens, osculatur in medio, et stans ibidem, ante se habens librum, incipit orationes solemnes, ministris sacris hinc inde adstantibus.

Ad orationem fidelium celebrans cum ministris manere potest ad sedem. Hoc casu acolythi tobaleam super altare extendunt versus finem adorationis crucis.

13. Dicuntur autem hoc ordine: Præcedit celebrantis præfatio, qua intentio specialis indicatur, et cantatur tono peculiari infra notato, manibus iunctis: deinde celebrans dicit Orémus, diaconus Flectámus génua, et omnes, flexis genibus, per aliquod temporis spatium in silentio orant; postquam diaconus surrexit et dixit Leváte, omnes surgunt, et celebrans, extensis manibus ac in tono feriali, dicit orationem.

13a. Celebrans dicit Orémus, Flectámus génua, et brevi interposita precatione, flexis genibus et in silentio surgit, dicit Leváte, et, extensis manibus ac in tono feriali, dicit orationem.

PART THREE OF THE LITURGICAL SERVICE SOLEMN VENERATION OF THE HOLY CROSS

14. Orationibus solemnibus completis, celebrans et ministri redeunt ad sedilia, ubi celebrans deponit pluviale, ministri dalmaticam vel tunicellam; et datur initium solemnii adorationi sanctæ Crucis. Adhibeatur Crux satis magna, cum Crucifixo, velo violaceo obfecto, quod facile removeri possit.

15. Primum portatur sancta Crux e sacristia in medium presbyterii, omnibus stantibus. Portatur autem hoc modo: Celebrans et subdiaconus manent ad sedilia stantes: diaconus cum acolythis seu ministrantibus, adit sacristiam, ex qua processionaliter affert Crucem ad ecclesiam: præcedunt acolythi, seu ministrantes, sequitur diaconus cum Cruce, medius inter alios duos acolythos, seu ministrantes, candelabra accensa gestantes. Cum presbyterium ingressi fuerint, celebrans et subdiaconus ipsis obviam veniunt, et in medio, ante altare, celebrans Crucem e manibus diaconi accipit.

15a. Celebrans cum ministrantibus sacristiam adit, indeque, ut supra, portat Crucem ante altare.

16. Tum proceditur ad detectionem sanctæ Crucis, hoc modo: Celebrans, accedens ad latus epistolæ, ibique, stans in plano, versa facie ad populum, Crucem a summitate parum detegit. Deinde solus incipit antiphonam Ecce lignum Crucis, ac deinceps iuvatur in cantu a ministris sacris, usque ad Venite, adorémus, quod cantatur a

14. After the solemn prayers the celebrant removes his cope, the ministers remove the dalmatic and tunic, and the solemn veneration of the holy Cross begins.

A sufficiently large cross should be used, with a figure of the Crucified. It is covered with a violet veil which can be easily removed.

15. First the holy Cross is carried from the sacristy to the center of the presbyterium, while all stand. It is carried in this way:

The celebrant and the subdeacon remain standing at the seat. The deacon with the acolytes, or servers, goes to the sacristy and carries the cross in procession into the church. The acolytes, or servers, go first, followed by the deacon with the cross, between two other acolytes, or servers, who carry lighted candles.

When they enter the presbyterium, the celebrant and the subdeacon go to meet them and the celebrant takes the Cross from the hands of the deacon in the center before the altar.

15a. The celebrant goes to the sacristy with the servers and carries the cross to the place before the altar, as above.

16. Next the holy Cross is uncovered in this manner: The celebrant goes to the Epistle side and stands there on the floor facing the people. He uncovers the upper part of the Cross and then alone begins the antiphon Behold the wood of the Cross. The sacred ministers assist him in chanting the remainder of the antiphon, as far as Come, let us adore, which is chanted by the schola, accompanied by all standing.

After the chant has been completed, all kneel, with the ex- ception of the celebrant, and adore in silence for a brief moment.

Then the celebrant goes up to the altar and stands on the Epistle side. He uncovers the right arm of the Crucified, and lifts the cross a little higher, with the help of the sacred ministers, if necessary. In a higher tone of voice than before he chants Behold the wood of the Cross again, the others continuing and after the chant, kneeling as above.

Finally the celebrant goes to the center of the altar, uncovers the entire cross, and lifts it up. A third time he begins Behold the wood of the Cross in a higher tone of voice, with the others continuing as above, and adoring after the chant. Two acolytes, or servers, with lighted candles accompany the cross at the right and left of the celebrant.

schola, comitantibus omnibus adstantibus. Cantu finito, omnes in genua se prosternunt, celebrante excepto, et parvo momento in silentio adorant.

Deinde celebrans ascendit altare in latere epistolæ, et detegit brachium dextrum Crucifixi; tunc elevans Crucem paulisper, adiutantibus, si opus sit, ministris sacris, altius quam primo, cantat iterum Ecce lignum Crucis, aliis prosequentibus, et, post cantum, procumbentibus, ut supra.

Denique celebrans procedit ad medium altaris, et detegit Crucem totaliter, ac elevans eam, tertio altius incipit Ecce lignum Crucis, allis, ut supra, prosequentibus, et post cantum adorantibus. Duo autem acolythi, seu ministrantes, cum candelabris accensis comitantur Crucem, a dextris et a sinistris celebrantis.

16a. The celebrant is assisted by the servers in uncovering the holy Cross, but he chants the antiphon, Behold the wood of the Cross, alone as far as Come, let us adore.

16a. Celebrans, in detegenda sancta Cruce, adiuvatur a ministrantibus; antiphonam vero Ecce lignum Crucis, usque ad Venite, adorémus, cantat solus.

ANTIPHON FOR THE UNCOVERING OF THE HOLY CROSS

Be-hold the wood of the Cross, on which has hung the sal-va-tion of the world.

R̄ Come, let us a-dore.

Behold the wood of the Cross, on which has hung the salvation of the world.

All R̄. Come, let us adore.

Ecce lignum Crucis, in quo salus mundi pepéndit.

Omnes R̄. Veníte, adorémus.

17. The solemn veneration follows the uncovering of the Cross in this manner: After he has uncovered the Cross, the celebrant gives it to two acolytes, or servers, who stand on the platform before the center of the altar, facing to-

17. Post detectionem Crucis sequitur eiusdem solemniss adoratio, hoc modo: Crux, postquam detecta fuerit, traditur a celebrante duobus acolythis, vel ministrantibus, qui stantes in suppedaneo, ante medium altaris, et facie ad populum versa, eam hinc inde ita per brachia sustentant, ut pes Crucis super suppedaneum consistat. Alii vero duo acolythi, vel ministrantes, qui candelabra accensa gestabant, eisdem candelabris a dextris et a sinistris Crucis super suppedaneum collocatis, genuflexi manent in lateribus suppedanei, in superiore gradu, facie versus Crucem.

Tunc incipit adoratio sanctæ Crucis, ordine sequenti: primus accedit solus celebrans; deinde ministri, postea clerus, demum ministrantes. Hi omnes, si commode fieri possit, prius calceamenta deponunt, et, unus post alium, accedentes ad Crucem, simplici genuflexione ter repetita, pedes Crucifixi osculantur.

18. Sancta Crux, adoratione ex parte celebrantis, ministrorum, cleri ac ministrantium peracta, a duobus acolythis, seu ministrantibus, comitantibus aliis duobus acolythis, seu ministrantibus, cum candelabris accensis, defertur ad cancellos et ibidem sustentatur eodem modo, ut supra, ita ut fideles, ante Crucem quasi processionaliter transeuntes, primum viri, deinde mulieres, pedes Crucifixi devote deosculari possint, præmissa simplici genuflexione.

Si parochus aut rector ecclesiæ prævideat, adorationem sanctæ Crucis, prout supra præscribitur, ob ingentem populi concursum, vix aut non sine boni ordinis et devotionis detrimento peragi posse, tunc cæremonia hoc modo peragitur: celebrans, postquam clerus, si adsit, et ministrantes adorationem expleverint, sanctam Crucem e manibus ministrantium sumat et, in summitate graduum altaris consistens, paucis verbis populum ad sanctæ Crucis adorationem invitet eamque altius elevatam teneat, per breve tempus a fidelibus in silentio adorandam.

19. Dum autem sanctæ Crucis adoratio peragitur, cantantur a schola, in duos choros divisa, sic dicta Improperia, et alia quæ sequuntur; celebrans, ministri sacri, et ministrantes, ceterique omnes, qui adorationem sanctæ Crucis peregerunt, sedentes auscultant.

ward the people, and support the Cross on either side by its arms so that the foot of the Cross stands on the platform. The other two acolytes, or servers, who have carried lighted candles, place the candles on the platform at the right and left of the Cross. They remain kneeling at the sides of the platform, on the top step, facing toward the Cross.

The veneration of the holy Cross then begins, in the following order: first, the celebrant comes alone, then the ministers, next the clergy, and finally the servers. If it is convenient, all first remove their shoes and, one by one they go to the Cross, making a simple genuflection three times, and kiss the feet of the Crucified.

18. When the veneration by the celebrant, ministers, clergy, and servers has been completed, the holy Cross is carried by two acolytes, or servers, accompanied by the other two acolytes, or servers, with lighted candles, to the edge of the sanctuary entrance. There the acolytes hold the cross in the same way as before, so that the faithful, first the men and then the women, as they pass in procession before the Cross, may kiss the feet of the Crucified with devotion, having first made a simple genuflection.

If the pastor or rector of the church foresees that the veneration of the holy Cross, as prescribed above, can scarcely be performed without harm to good order and devotion by reason of the large number of people, the ceremony takes place in this way: after the clergy, if there are any present, and the servers have completed their veneration, the celebrant takes the holy Cross from the hands of the servers and stands on the platform of the altar. With a few words he invites the people to venerate the holy Cross and lifts the Cross higher for the faithful to venerate in silence for a brief period.

19. During the veneration of the holy Cross, the Improperia and other chants are sung by the schola, divided into two choirs. The celebrant, the sacred ministers, servers, and all who have completed the veneration of the Cross sit and listen.

The chant is taken as far as the number of adorers requires. It is always concluded, however, with the doxology Blessing, honor everlasting, below, p. 325.

REPROACHES

The parts for the individual choirs are indicated by the numbers 1 (first choir) and 2 (second choir); those to be sung by both choirs together are indicated thus: 1 and 2.

Good Friday

Thence the remedy procuring, whence the fatal wound had come.

2 Faithful cross, O tree all beauteous!
Tree all peerless and divine!

Not a grove on earth can show such a flower and leaf as thine.

1 So when now at length the fullness of the sacred time drew nigh,

Then the Son, the world's Creator, left his Father's throne on high;

From a virgin's womb appearing, clothed in our mortality.

2 Sweet the nails, and sweet the wood,
laden with so sweet a load!

1 All within a lowly manger, lo, a tender babe he lies!

See his gentle Virgin Mother lull to sleep his infant cries!

While the limbs of God incarnate round with swathing bands she ties.

2 Faithful cross, O tree all beauteous!
Tree all peerless and divine!

Not a grove on earth can show us such a flower and leaf as thine.

1 Thus did Christ to perfect manhood in our mortal flesh attain:

Then of his free choice he goeth to a death
of bitter pain;

And as a lamb, upon the altar of the cross,
for us is slain.

2 Sweet the nails, and sweet the wood,
laden with so sweet a load!

1 Lo, with gall his thirst he quenches!

See the thorns upon his brow!

Nails his tender flesh are rending!

See, his side is opened now!

Whence, to cleanse the whole creation, streams of blood and water flow.

2 Faithful cross, O tree all beauteous!
Tree all peerless and divine!

Not a grove on earth can show us such a flower and leaf as thine.

1 Lofty tree, bend down thy branches, to embrace thy sacred load;

Oh, relax the native tension of that all too

Good Friday

rigid wood;

Gently, gently bear the members of thy dying King and God.

2 Sweet the nails, and sweet the wood,
laden with so sweet a load!

1 Tree, which solely wast found worthy the world's great victim to sustain Harbor from the raging tempest! Ark, that saved the world again!

Tree, with sacred blood anointed of the Lamb for sinners slain.

2 Faithful tree, O tree all beauteous!
Tree all peerless and divine!

Not a grove on earth can show such a flower and leaf as thine.

This conclusion is never omitted:

1 Blessing, honor everlasting, to the immortal Deity;

To the Father, Son, and Spirit, equal praises ever be;

Glory through the earth and heaven to Trinity in Unity. Amen.

2 Sweet the nails, and sweet the wood,
laden with so sweet a load!

PART FOUR OF THE LITURGICAL SERVICE THE COMMUNION

20. When the veneration of the Cross has been completed, the Cross is carried back to the altar by the acolytes, or servers, who have held it, accompanied by the two other acolytes, or servers, with lighted candles. There the Cross is placed in the center of the altar and, if the structure of the altar permits, high enough so that it may be easily seen by the faithful, without inconveniencing the celebrant in the subsequent ceremonies which are to be performed upon the altar. The lighted candles are placed upon the altar.

21. Afterwards the celebrant and the deacon remove their black stoles and put on violet vestments. The celebrant vests in stole and chasuble, the deacon in stole and dalmatic, the subdeacon in tunic.

22. Then the deacon carries the burse to the altar and spreads the corporal in the usual way. An acolyte, or server, places a vessel of water with a purificator on the altar for washing and

Conclusio nunquam omittenda:

1 Sempiterna sit beatae Trinitati gloria;

Aequa Patri Filioque, par decus Paraclyto;

Unius Trinique nomen laudet universitas. Amen.

2 Dulce lignum, dulces clavos, dulce pondus sustinet.

22. Deinde diaconus, delata bursa super altare, extendit corporale, more solito; acolythus autem, vel ministrans, deponit super altare vas aquæ cum purificatorio, ad abluendos et abstergendos digitos post communionem, et librum disponit in latere evangelii.

Good Friday

22a. Antequam processio inchætur, sacerdos defert et explicat corporale super altare, more solito.

23. Rebus ita dispositis, reportatur Sacramentum e loco repositionis ad altare maius pro communionem peragenda. Portatur autem hoc modo:

Celebrans et subdiaconus, clerus et populus manent in suis locis, sub silentio. Diaconus cum duobus acolythis, et alio clerico ad umbellam portandam, accedunt ad altare repositionis, in quo præsto sint duo candelabra cum cereis accensis, postmodum ab acolythis sumenda.

Ad altare repositionis genua flectunt; tunc diaconus extrahit sacram pyxidem e tabernaculo seu capsula, et assumpto velo humerali albi coloris, pyxidem extremitatibus eiusdem veli cooperit et ad altare maius defert.

23a. Omnia fiunt per ipsum celebrantem cum suis ministrantibus.

24. Procedunt ordine quo venerunt: super Sacramentum defertur umbella; acolythi hinc inde procedentes candelabra accensa gestant, omnes in genua procumbunt. Interim schola cantat sequentes antiphonas:

1. Adoramus te, Christe, et benedicimus tibi, quia per Crucem tuam redemisti mundum.

2. Per lignum servi facti sumus, et per sanctam Crucem liberati sumus: fructus arboris seduxit nos, Filius Dei redemit nos.

3. Salvator mundi, salva nos: qui per Crucem et Sanguinem tuum redemisti nos, auxiliare nobis, te deprecamur, Deus noster.

25. Cum ad altare maius pervenerint, illud ascendunt, diaconus sacram pyxidem super corporale, acolythi autem candelabra super altare deponunt. Genuflexione peracta, diaconus dimittit velum humerale et se retrahit ad latus epistolæ; acolythi vero descendunt hinc inde, et genuflectunt in infimo gradu altaris.

26. Tunc celebrans et subdiaconus accedunt ad altare, utroque genu adorant, illud ascendunt, et facta, una cum diacono, genuflexione, celebrans clara voce recitat, drying the fingers of the celebrant after Communion, and he places the book on the Gospel side.

22a. Before the procession begins, the priest brings the corporal to the altar and unfolds it in the usual way.

23. After these preparations have been made, the Blessed Sacrament is carried from the place of reposition to the main altar for Communion in the following manner:

The celebrant, subdeacon, clergy and people remain in their places in silence.

The deacon goes to the altar of reposition with two acolytes and with another cleric to carry the small canopy. On the altar two candlesticks with lighted candles are ready for the acolytes to take.

They kneel at the altar of reposition and then the deacon removes the ciborium from the tabernacle or container and, putting on a white humeral veil, he covers the ciborium with the ends of the veil and carries it to the main altar.

23a. All this is done by the celebrant himself with his servers.

24. They walk in the same order in which they came to the altar of reposition. The small canopy is carried over the Blessed Sacrament; the acolytes, walking on either side, carry lighted candles, and all kneel.

Meanwhile the choir sings the following antiphons:

1. We adore you, O Christ, and we bless you, because by your holy cross you have redeemed the world.

2. By a tree we were made slaves, and by the holy cross we are set free: the fruit of the tree seduced us, the Son of God has redeemed us.

3. Savior of the world, save us: you who by your cross and blood have redeemed us, help us, we implore you, our God.

25. When they have come to the main altar, they go up to it, and the deacon places the ciborium on the corporal. The acolytes place the candles upon the altar. After genuflecting, the deacon removes the humeral veil and steps back to the Epistle side; the acolytes go down on either side and kneel on the lowest step.

26. Then the celebrant and subdeacon go to the altar, genuflect on both knees in adoration, and go up to the altar. Having genuflected with the deacon, the celebrant recites in a clear voice, without chant, the preface of the Lord's Prayer:

Good Friday

The celebrant says alone, with his hands joined:

Let us pray: Taught by our Savior's command and formed by the word of God, we dare to say:

The celebrant, with his hands extended, and all who are present continue:

Our Father, who art in heaven,* hallowed be thy name;*
thy kingdom come;*
thy will be done on earth as it is in heaven.*
Give us this day our daily bread;*
and forgive us our trespasses*
as we forgive those who trespass against us;*
and lead us not into temptation,*
but deliver us from evil.*

27. The celebrant alone continues in a clear and distinct tone of voice, with his hands extended:

Deliver us, we beg you, O Lord, from every evil, past, present, and to come; and by the intercession of the blessed and glorious ever-virgin Mary, mother of God, of the blessed apostles Peter and Paul, of Andrew, and all the saints, in your mercy grant us peace in our days, that by your compassionate aid we may be ever free from sin and sheltered from all turmoil. Through Jesus Christ, your Son, our Lord, who lives and reigns with you in the unity of the Holy Spirit, God, forever and ever.

All respond: Amen.

28. Next the celebrant recites the following prayer in a low voice, bowing as usual and with his hands joined and placed upon the altar:

Percéptio Córporis tui, Dómine Iesu Christe, quod ego indígnus súmerè præsúmo, non mihi provéniat in iudícium et condemnatió-nem; sed pro tua pietáte prosit mihi ad tuta-méntum mentis et córporis, et ad medélam percipiéndam: Qui vivis et regnas cum Deo Patre in unitáte Spíritus Sancti, Deus, per ómnia sáecula sáeculórum. Amen.

non cantat, præfationem orationis dominicæ Orémus. Præcéptis salutáribus móniti.

Celebrans, iunctis manibus, dicit solus:

Orémus. Præcéptis salutáribus móniti, et divína institutióne formáti, audémus dícere:

Celebrans, manibus extensis, et omnes præsentés prosequuntur:

Pater noster, qui es in cælis.*
Sanctificétur nomen tuum.*
Advéniat regnum tuum.*
Fiat volúntas tua, sicut in cælo, et in terra.*
Panem nostrum cotidiánum da nobis hódie.*
Et dimítte nobis débíta nostra,* sicut et nos dimíttimus debitóribus nostris.*
Et ne nos indúcas in tentatiónem,* sed líbera nos a malo.*

27. Celebrans solus, clara et distincta voce atque manibus extensis, prosequitur:

Líbera nos, quáesumus, Dómine, ab ómnibus malis, prætérítis, præ-séntibus et futúris: et intercedénte beáta et gloriósa semper Vírgine Dei Genetríce María, cum beátis Apóstolis tuis Petro et Paulo, atque Andréa, et ómnibus Sanctis, da propítius pacem in diébus nostris: ut, ope misericórdiæ tuæ adiúti, et a peccáto simus semper líberi et ab omni perturbatióne secúri. Per eúndem Dóminum nostrum Iesum Christum Fílium tuum: Qui tecum vivit et regnat in unitáte Spíritus Sancti Deus: per ómnia sáecula sáeculórum.

Et ab omnibus respondetur: Amen.

28. Et continuo celebrans recitat, submissa voce, sequentem orationem, de more inclinatus, manibusque iunctis super altare positis:

Good Friday

29. Tum discooperit pyxidem, et, facta genuflexione, accipit sacram particulam et, tenens illam supra pyxidem, inclinatus et pectus percutiens, ter dicit, more solito:

30. Postea, signans se Sacramento, adiungit submissa voce: Et sumit Corpus reverenter, ac paululum in meditatione Sacramenti quiescit.

31. Et continuo communicandi faciunt confessionem.

Tunc celebrans, facta genuflexione, conversus ad populum, manibus iunctis ante pectus, clara voce dicit:

Misereatur vestri omnipotens Deus, et, dimissis peccatis vestris, perducat vos ad vitam aeternam.

Omnes respondent: Amen.

Celebrans prosequitur:

Indulgentiam, absolutiorem, ✠ et remissionem peccatorum vestrorum tribuat vobis omnipotens et misericors Dominus.

Omnes respondent: Amen.

29. Then he uncovers the ciborium, genuflects, and takes a sacred particle. Holding the particle above the ciborium, bowing and striking his breast, he says three times in the usual way:

Dómine, non sum dignus, ut intres sub tectum meum: sed tantum dic verbo, et sanabitur ánima mea.

30. After this, making the sign of the cross upon himself with the Sacrament, he adds in a low voice:

Corpus Dómini nostri Iesu Christi custodiat ánimam meam in vitam aeternam. Amen.

He receives the Body reverently and spends a little while in meditation upon the Sacrament.

31. The communicants immediately make the confession:

I confess to almighty God, to blessed Mary ever Virgin, to blessed Michael the Archangel, to blessed John the Baptist, to the holy apostles Peter and Paul, to all the saints, and to you, Father, that I have sinned exceedingly in thought, word, and deed; through my fault, through my fault, through my most grievous fault. Therefore I beseech blessed Mary ever Virgin, blessed Michael the Archangel, blessed John the Baptist, the holy apostles Peter and Paul, all the saints, and you, Father, to pray to the Lord our God for me.

Then the celebrant, genuflecting and turning to the people, says in a clear tone of voice, with his hands joined before his breast:

May almighty God have mercy on you, forgive you your sins, and bring you to life everlasting.

All respond: Amen.

The celebrant continues:

May the almighty and merciful Lord grant you pardon, absolution, ✠ and the remission of your sins.

All respond: Amen.

Good Friday

32. The celebrant turns to the altar, genuflects, and takes the ciborium. Turned toward the people in the usual way at the center of the altar, he says in a clear tone of voice:

Behold the Lamb of God,* behold him who takes away the sins of the world.

Then the communicants add three times:

Lord, I am not worthy that you should come under my roof.*

Speak but the word and my soul will be healed.

The celebrant distributes Communion as described above on Holy Thursday, n. 29. The priests wear violet stoles.

33. While holy Communion is being distributed, Psalm 21 My God, my God can be sung; or one or another of the responsories from Matins of this Friday.

34. When Communion has been completed, the celebrant washes his fingers in a vessel and dries them with the purificator, saying nothing. He places the ciborium in the tabernacle.

35. After this, the celebrant stands in the center of the altar, with the book in front of him, and with the sacred ministers at his right and left. For thanksgiving he says the three following prayers, with his hands joined. All stand and respond Amen.

First Prayer

Let us pray.

O Lord, let your rich blessing descend upon your people who again devotedly commemorate the passion and death of your Son. Grant us pardon and consolation; increase our faith and make certain our eternal redemption. Through Christ our Lord.

℟. Amen.

Second Prayer

Let us pray.

Almighty and merciful God, you have healed us by the holy passion and death of your Christ. Be ever merciful to us and grant that we may always live devotedly by sharing in this mystery. Through Christ our Lord.

℟. Amen.

32. Deinde ad altare se convertit, genuflectit, apprehendit pyxidem, et more solito conversus ad populum, in medio altaris, dicit clara voce:

Ecce Agnus Dei, ecce qui tollit peccáta mundi.

Communicandi subdunt ter:

Dómine, non sum dignus, ut intres sub tectum meum: sed tantum dic verbo, et sanábitur ánima mea.

Et procedit ad distributionem Communionis, ut supra feria V in Cena Domini, n. 29 dictum est. Sacerdotes vero stolam violaceam deferunt.

33. Dum sacra Communio distribuitur, cani potest psalmus 21 Deus meus, Deus meus; vel unum aliudve responsorium ex Matutino huius feriae VI.

34. Communione absoluta, celebrans digitos abluit in vase, ac purificatorio abstergit, nihil dicens; pyxidem vero in tabernaculo reponit.

35. His completis, celebrans stans in medio altaris, habens ante se librum, a dextris et a sinistris ministros sacros, dicit pro gratiarum actione, in tono feriali et manibus iunctis, tres sequentes orationes, omnibus stantibus et Amen respondentibus.

Orémus.

Super pópulum tuum, quáesumus, Dómine, qui passiónem et mortem Filii tui devóta mente recóluit, benedictio copiósá descendat, indulgéntia véniat, consolátio tribuátur, fides sancta succréscaat, redemptio sempitérna firmétur. Per eúndem Christum Dóminum nostrum.

℟. Amen.

Orémus.

Omnípotens et miséricors Deus, qui Christi tui beáti passióne et morte nos reparásti: consérva in nobis óperam misericórdiae tuæ; ut, huius mystérii participatióne, perpétua devotióne vivámus. Per eúndem Christum Dóminum nostrum.

℟. Amen.

Good Friday

Third Prayer

Orémus.

Reminiscere miseratiónum tuárum, Dómine, et fámulos tuos aeterna protectióne sanctífica, pro quibus Christus, Fílius tuus, per suum cruórem, instituit paschále mystérium. Per eúndem Christum Dóminum nostrum.

℟. Amen.

36. Celebrans et ministri sacri de altari descendunt et, facta genuflexione, una cum acolythis, seu ministrantibus, in sacristiam revertuntur.

37. In choro dicitur Completorium, candelis extinctis, et absque cantu.

38. Tempore opportuno, sanctissima Eucharistia reportatur, forma privata, ad locum reservationis, et ibidem asservatur, lampade de more accensa. Et denudatur altare.

Let us pray.

O Lord, be mindful of your mercies and sanctify your servants with your eternal protection, for it was for us that Christ, your Son, instituted the paschal mystery through his death. Through Christ our Lord.

℟. Amen.

36. The celebrant and the sacred ministers go down from the altar and, having genuflected, return to the sacristy, together with the acolytes, or servers.

37. Compline is said in choir, with the candles extinguished and without chant.

38. At a suitable time, the Holy Eucharist is carried, according to the simple form, to the place of reservation, where a lamp is lighted as usual, and is kept there. The altar is stripped.

Holy Saturday

HOLY SATURDAY EASTER VIGIL

The solemn Easter Vigil is to be celebrated at the proper hour: namely, so that the solemn Mass of the Vigil may begin about midnight between Holy Saturday and the Sunday of the Resurrection. Nevertheless, where it is suitable to anticipate the hour for the celebration of the Vigil according to the judgment of the Ordinary of the place, in view of the circumstances of the faithful and the place, the Vigil may not begin before twilight or certainly not before sunset.

BLESSING OF THE NEW FIRE

1. At the proper hour, the altars are covered with cloths, but the candles are not lighted until the beginning of Mass. Meanwhile a fire is struck from flint and coals are lighted.

2. The celebrant vests in amice, alb, cincture, violet stole and cope; the sacred ministers vest in amice, alb, cincture, the deacon in stole and dalmatic, the subdeacon in tunic of the same color.

2a. The priest vests in amice, alb, cincture, violet stole and cope, or he vests without the chasuble.

3. With the ministers, or servers, assisting with cross, holy water, and incense, the celebrant blesses the new fire either in front of the church door, or in the church entrance, or inside the church, namely, where the people can best follow the sacred rite. He says:

℣. The Lord be with you.

℟. And with your spirit.

Let us pray.

O God, through your Son, the cornerstone, you bestowed the light of your glory upon the faithful. Sanctify ✠ this new fire which was struck from flint and is destined for our use. Grant that we may be so inflamed with heavenly desires through this paschal feast that we may come to the feast of eternal light with pure minds. Through Christ our Lord.

℟. Amen.

Then the celebrant sprinkles the fire three times, saying nothing.

4. An acolyte, or one of the servers, takes some of the blessed coals and places them in the thurible. The celebrant places incense in the thurible, blessing it in the usual way, and incenses the fire three times.

Statio ad S. Ioannem in Laterano

Solemnis Vigilia paschalis celebranda est hora competenti, ea scilicet, quæ permittat Missam solemnem eiusdem vigiliæ incipere circa mediam noctem inter sabbatum sanctum et dominicam Resurrectionis. Ubi tamen, ponderatis fidelium et locorum condicionibus, de iudicio Ordinarii loci, horam celebrandæ Vigiliæ anticipari conveniat, hæc non inchoetur ante diei crepusculum, aut certe non ante solis occasum.

1. Hora competenti tabuleis cooperiuntur altaria, sed candelæ extinctæ manent usque ad principium Missæ. Interim excutitur ignis de lapide, et ex eo accenduntur carbones.

2. Celebrans induitur amictu, alba, cingulo, stola et pluviale violacei coloris; ministri sacri amictu, alba, cingulo, diaconus stola et dalmatica, subdiaconus tunicella, eiusdem coloris.

2a. Sacerdos induitur amictu, alba, cingulo, stola et pluviali violaceo, vel manet sine casula.

3. Adstantibus ministris, seu ministrantibus, cum cruce, aqua benedicta et incenso, sive ante portam, sive in aditu ecclesiæ, vel intus eam, ubi scilicet populus ritum sacrum melius sequi possit, celebrans benedicit novum ignem, dicens:

℣. Dóminus vobíscum.

℟. Et cum spírítu tuo.

Orémus.

Deus, qui per Fílium tuum, angulárem scílicet lápidem, claritátis tuæ ignem fidélibus contulísti productum e sílice, nostris profutúrum úsibus, novum hunc ignem sanctí ✠ fica: et concéde nobis, ita per hæc festa paschália cæléstibus desidériis inflammári; ut ad perpétuæ claritátis, puris méntibus, valeámus festa per-tíngere. Per eúndem Christum Dóminum nostrum.

℟. Amen.

4. Acolythus, seu unus ministrantium, assumens de carbonibus benedictis, ponit in thuribulum; celebrans vero ponit incensum in thuribulum, benedicens illud more solito, ignemque ter adolet incenso.

Holy Saturday

BLESSING OF THE EASTER CANDLE

5. Novo igne benedicto, acolythus, seu unus ministrantium, portat cereum paschalem in medium, ante celebrantem, qui cum stilo, inter extrema foramina ad insertionem granorum incensi destinata, incidit crucem. Deinde facit super eam litteram græcam Alpha, subtus vero litteram Omega, et inter brachia crucis quatuor numeros exprimentes annum currentem, interim dicens:

- (1) Christus heri et hódie (incidit hastam erectam),
- (2) Princípium et Finis (incidit hastam transversam),
- (3) Alpha (incidit supra hastam erectam litteram  $\alpha$ )
- (4) et Omega (incidit subtus hastam erectam litteram  $\Omega$ );
- (5) Ipsíus sunt témpora (incidit primum numerum anni currentis in angulo sinistro superiore crucis)
- (6) et sáecula (incidit secundum numerum anni currentis in angulo dextro superiore crucis);
- (7) Ipsi glória et impérium (incidit tertium numerum anni currentis in angulo sinistro inferiore crucis)
- (8) per univérsa æternitátis sáecula. Amen (incidit quartum numerum anni currentis in angulo dextro inferiore crucis).

5. After the new fire has been blessed, an acolyte, or one of the servers, takes the Easter candle in the center and holds it before the celebrant. The celebrant cuts a cross with a stylus between the holes intended for the grains of incense. Then he makes the Greek letter Alpha above the cross, the letter Omega below the cross, and between the arms of the cross, the four numbers of the current year. Meanwhile he says:

- (1) Christ yesterday and today (he cuts the vertical line),
- (2) the beginning and the end (he cuts the transverse line),
- (3) Alpha (he cuts the letter above the vertical line),
- (4) and Omega (he cuts the letter below the vertical line);
- (5) His are the seasons (he cuts the first number of the current year in the upper left angle of the cross)
- (6) and the ages (he cuts the second number of the current year in the right angle of the cross);
- (7) to him glory and dominion (he cuts the third number of the current year in the lower left angle of the cross)
- (8) through endless ages. Amen (he cuts the fourth number of the current year in the lower right angle of the cross).

Holy Saturday

6. The place for cutting the cross and other marks may be prepared beforehand in colors or in some other way. After the marking of the candle the deacon, or one of the other servers, presents the grains of incense to the celebrant. If they have not been blessed, the celebrant sprinkles them three times and incenses them three times, saying nothing. Then he inserts the five grains in the holes, saying:

1 (1) By his wounds holy 4 2 5 (2) and glorious,
3 (3) may he guard
(4) and preserve us
(5) Christ the Lord. Amen.

7. Next the deacon, or one of the servers, gives the celebrant a small candle, which has been lighted from the new fire. The celebrant lights the Easter candle with it, saying:

May the light of Christ risen in glory scatter the darkness of heart and mind.

8. Then the celebrant blesses the lighted candle, saying:

℣. The Lord be with you.
℟. And with your spirit.

Let us pray.

Almighty God, pour out your abundant blessing ✠ upon this lighted candle. O invisible renewer of life, look with favor upon this lamp of night so that the sacrifice offered this eve may marvelously reflect your own light, and let the power of your majesty drive out the deceits of Satan and remain wherever this blessed holy fire may be taken. Through Christ our Lord.

℟. Amen.

9. In the meantime the lights of the church are extinguished.

SOLEMN PROCESSION AND THE EASTER PRECONIUM

10. The celebrant then places incense in the thurible. Afterwards the deacon, having removed his violet vestments and put on a white stole and dalmatic, takes the lighted Easter candle, and the procession begins in this order: the thurifer goes first, followed by the subdeacon with the cross, the deacon with the lighted candle, immediately after him the celebrant, then the clergy in order, and the people.

The celebrant lights his own candle from the blessed candle.

When the procession comes to the center of the church, the deacon chants in the same way, but in a higher tone of voice, Light of Christ, to which all, genuflecting, respond as before: Thanks be to God. The candles of the clergy are lighted from the blessed candle.

12. Then the celebrant goes to his place in choir, at the Epistle side. The subdeacon stands with the cross on the Gospel side, opposite the lectern. The clergy take their places at the seats.

The deacon places the Easter candle on a small candlestick in the center of the choir, and, after the celebrant has placed incense in the thurible, takes the book and asks for the blessing, saying: Iube, domne, benedicere.

The celebrant says: Dóminus sit in corde tuo, et in lábiis tuis: ut digne et competénter annúnties suum paschále præcónium: In nómine Patris, et Fílii, ✠ et Spíritus Sancti. The deacon responds: Amen.

12a. The priest places the Easter candle on a small candlestick in the center of the choir, and goes to the table. The cross-bearer stands on the Gospel side, opposite the lectern. The other servers stand on either side.

After the priest has placed incense in the thurible, he takes the book and says:

Iube, Dómine, benedicere.—Dóminus sit in corde meo, et in lábiis meis: ut digne et competénter annúntiem suum paschále præcónium. Amen.

13. Next the deacon goes to the lectern, which is covered with a white veil, places the book on it, and incenses it. Then he also incenses the Easter candle while walking around it.

All rise and remain standing as at the Gospel, while the deacon chants the Easter Preconium. He stands with the Easter candle before him, with the altar at his right and the body of the church at his left. While the Preconium is chanted, it is fitting that the clergy and people hold the lighted candles. If it is more convenient, the Easter Preconium may also be proclaimed from the ambo.

13a. Next the priest goes to the lectern, which is covered with a white veil, places the book on it, and incenses it. Then he also incenses the Easter candle while walking around it.

All rise and remain standing as at the Gospel, while the priest himself chants or recites the Easter Preconium. He stands with the Easter candle before him, with the altar at his right, the body of the church at his left. While the Preconium is chanted, it is fitting that the clergy and people hold the lighted candles.

If it is more convenient, the Easter Preconium may also be proclaimed from the ambo.

12. Tunc celebrans vadit ad locum suum in choro, in latere epistolæ; subdiaconus cum cruce stat in latere evangelii, contra legile; clerus locum suum occupat in scamnis.

Diaconus deponit cereum paschalem in medio chori, supra parvum sustentaculum, et, postquam celebrans posuerit incensum in thuribulo, accipiens librum, petit benedictionem, dicens: Iube, domne, benedicere.

Et celebrans subiungit:

Rejoice now, all you heavenly choirs of angels. Rejoice, all creation around his throne, for this mighty King is victorious. Sound, O trumpet, tell of our salvation. Rejoice too, O earth; you are made brilliant by such splendor. Rejoice for you have been illumined. Darkness everywhere has been overcome by the brightness of this everlasting King. Rejoice, O mother Church; you are made radiant by so great a light. Let this place ring out with rejoicing, with the song of all these people gathered here. And you, my dearest friends, who are standing here near the brightness of this sacred light, join with me in prayer to the almighty God. Let us ask that he show us mercy. It is truly right and just that with all the ardor of our hearts and minds we should proclaim with our voices the invisible almighty Father and his only begotten Son, our Lord Jesus Christ, who paid the debt of Adam for us to his eternal Father, and with his precious blood washed away the penalty of original sin. This is the paschal feast in which the true lamb is slain; whose blood hallowed the door-posts of the faithful. This is the night on which you brought our fore-fathers, the children of Israel, dry-shod through the Red Sea in the flight from Egypt. This is the night on which the light of the pillar of fire destroyed the darkness of sin. This is the night which at this hour everywhere restores to grace and unites in holiness those who believe in Christ, separating them from worldly vice and the darkness of sin. This is the night on which Christ burst the bonds of death and victoriously arose from the grave. For life itself, without redemption, would be of no avail to us. O wondrous condescension of your mercy towards us! How far beyond our understanding is your loving affection, that you should ransom a slave at the price of your Son. O necessary sin of Adam, which was blotted out by the death of Christ. O happy fault, that merited such a redeemer. O truly blessed night which alone deserved to know the time and the hour when Christ arose from the grave. It is of this night that Scripture says: "And the night shall be as bright as day. And the night shall light up my joy." The holiness of this night banishes wickedness and washes away sin and restores innocence to those who have fallen. It puts hatred to flight, brings peace and

Holy Saturday

humbles pride. Therefore, O holy Father, accept on this night the evening sacrifice of fire which your holy Church presents to you by the hands of her ministers in the solemn offering of this candle of wax made by bees. For now we see the splendor of this pillar which the shining flame enkindles to the glory of God. A flame not dimmed, even though divided into parts, because it is nourished by the melting wax produced by the parent bee to form the substance of this precious lamp. O truly blessed night which despoiled the Egyptians and enriched the Hebrews. O night on which heaven is united to earth and the divine brought to the human. Therefore, O Lord, we pray that this candle, consecrated in honor of your name, may endlessly continue to scatter the darkness of this night. May it be received as a sweet fragrance and mingle with the lights of heaven. May that morning Star which never sets—he who came back from the grave and shed his serene light upon mankind—find its flame still burning. Grant us, your servants, O Lord, and all your clergy and faithful people, together with our most Holy Father, Pope N. and our Bishop N. a season of peace during this time of Easter joy and govern, rule and preserve us with your constant protection. Also look upon those who rule over us and, in your ineffable pity and mercy, direct their thoughts towards justice and peace so that, with all your people, they may one day arrive in our heavenly country, leaving behind them the cares of this world. Through Jesus Christ your Son, our Lord, who lives and reigns with you in the unity of the Holy Spirit, God, forever and ever. Amen.

Lectio prima Gen. 1, 1-31 et 2, 1-2

In principio creavit Deus cælum et terram. Terra autem erat inanis et v̄acua, et t̄nebr̄æ erant super faciẽm abyssi: et Sp̄ritus Dei ferebatur super aquas. Dixitque Deus: "Fiat lux." Et facta est lux. Et vidit Deus lucem quod esset bona: et divisit lucem a t̄nebris. Appel- lavitque lucem Diem, et t̄nebras Noctem: factumque est v̄espere, et mane, dies unus. Dixit quoque Deus: "Fiat firmamentum in medio aquarum: et dividat aquas

15. Afterwards the readings are read, without title, and without Thanks be to God at the end. They are read by a lector as at the Epistle. The celebrant and ministers, clergy and people sit and listen.

15a. Afterwards the readings are read, without title, and without Thanks be to God at the end. They are read by the priest, as at the Epistle, the servers and the people sit and listen.

16. At the end of the reading, or after the cantic, the prayers are said in this manner: All stand, the celebrant says Let us pray, the deacon says Let us kneel, and all kneel, together with the celebrant, and pray silently for a period of time. After the deacon has risen and said Let us stand, all rise and the celebrant says the prayer without inflection, with his hands joined.

16a. At the end of the reading, or after the cantic, the prayers are said in this manner: All stand. The priest, standing in the same place, says: Let us pray. Let us kneel, and all kneel together with the priest himself and pray silently for a period of time. After the celebrant has risen and said Let us stand, all rise and he says the prayer without inflection, with his hands joined.

17. The four readings, together with their canticles, and prayers, are then read.

First Reading Gen. 1, 1-31; 2, 1-2

In the beginning God created the heavens and the earth; the earth was waste and void; darkness covered the abyss, and the spirit of God was stirring above the waters.

God said, "Let there be light," and there was light. God saw that the light was good. God separated the light from the darkness, calling the light Day and the darkness Night. And there was evening and morning, the first day.

Holy Saturday

Then God said, "Let there be a firmament in the midst of the waters to divide the waters." And so it was. God made the firmament, dividing the waters that were below the firmament from those that were above it. God called the firmament Heaven. And there was evening and morning, the second day.

Then God said, "Let the waters below the heavens be gathered into one place and let the dry land appear." And so it was. God called the dry land Earth and the assembled waters Seas. And God saw that it was good. Then God said, "Let the earth bring forth vegetation: seed-bearing plants and all kinds of fruit trees that bear fruit containing their seed." And so it was. The earth brought forth vegetation, every kind of seed-bearing plant and all kinds of trees that bear fruit containing their seed. God saw that it was good. And there was evening and morning, the third day.

And God said, "Let there be lights in the firmament of the heavens to separate day from night; let them serve as signs and for the fixing of the seasons, days and years; let them serve as lights in the firmament of the heavens to shed light upon the earth." So it was. God made the two great lights, the greater light to rule the day and the smaller one to rule the night, and he made the stars. God set them in the firmament of the heavens to shed light upon the earth, to rule the day and the night and to separate the light from the darkness. God saw that it was good. And there was evening and morning, the fourth day.

Then God said, "Let the waters abound with life, and above the earth let winged creatures fly below the firmament of the heavens." And so it was. God created the great sea monsters, all kinds of living, swimming creatures with which the waters abound and all kinds of winged birds. God saw that it was good, and God blessed them, ab aquis." Et fecit Deus firmamentum, divisitque aquas, quae erant sub firmamento, ab his, quae erant super firmamentum. Et factum est ita. Vocavitque Deus firmamentum Caelum: et factum est vespere, et mane, dies secundus. Dixit vero Deus: "Congregentur aquae, quae sub caelo sunt, in locum unum: et appareat arida." Et factum est ita. Et vocavit Deus aridam, Terram: congregationesque aquarum appellavit Maria. Et vidit Deus quod esset bonum. Et ait: "Germinet terra herbam virentem, et facientem semen, et lignum pomiferum faciens fructum iuxta genus suum, cuius semen in semetipso sit super terram." Et factum est ita. Et protulit terra herbam virentem, et facientem semen iuxta genus suum, lignumque faciens fructum, et habens unumquodque sementem secundum speciem suam. Et vidit Deus quod esset bonum. Et factum est vespere, et mane, dies tertius. Dixit autem Deus: "Fiant luminaria in firmamento caeli, et dividant diem ac noctem, et sint in signa, et tempora, et dies, et annos: ut luceant in firmamento caeli, et illuminent terram." Et factum est ita. Fecitque Deus duo luminaria magna: luminare maius, ut praesset diei: et luminare minus, ut praesset nocti: et stellas. Et posuit eas in firmamento caeli, ut lucerent super terram, et praesent diei ac nocti, et dividerent lucem ac tenebras. Et vidit Deus quod esset bonum. Et factum est vespere, et mane, dies quartus. Dixit etiam Deus: "Producant aquae reptile animae viventis, et volatile super terram sub firmamento caeli." Creavitque Deus cetera grandia, et omnem animam viventem atque motabilem, quam produserant aquae in species suas, et omne volatile secundum genus suum. Et vidit Deus quod esset bonum. Benedixitque eis, dicens: "Crescite, et multiplicamini, et replete aquas maris: avesque multiplicentur super terram." Et factum est vespere, et mane, dies quintus. Dixit quoque Deus: "Prodúcat terra ánimam vivéntem in génere suo: iuménta et reptília, et béstias terræ secúndum spécies suas." Factúmque est ita. Et fecit Deus béstias terræ iuxta spécies suas, et iuménta, et omne réptile terræ in génere suo. Et vidit Deus quod esset bonum, et ait: "Faciámus hóminem ad imáginem, et similitúdinem nostram: et præsit píscibus maris, et volatílibus cæli, et béstis, universæque terræ, omníque réptili, quod movétur in terra." Et creávit Deus hóminem ad imáginem suam: ad imáginem Dei creávit illum, másculum et féminam creávit eos. Benedixitque illis Deus, et ait: "Créscite, et multiplicámini, et repléte terram, et subiícite eam, et dominámini píscibus maris, et volatílibus cæli, et univérsis animántibus, quæ movéntur super terram." Dixitque Deus: "Ecce dedi vobis omnem herbam afferéntem semen super terram, et univérsa ligna, quæ habent in semetipsis seméntem géneris sui, ut sint vobis in escam: et cunctis animántibus terræ, omníque vólucris cæli, et univérsis, quæ movéntur in terra, et in quibus est ánima vivens, ut hábeant ad vescéndum." Et factum est ita. Viditque Deus cuncta, quæ fécerat: et erant valde bona. Et factum est vésperæ, et mane, dies sextus. Igitur perfécti sunt cæli, et terra, et omnis ornátus eórum. Complevitque Deus die séptimo opus suum, quod fécerat: et requiévít die séptimo ab univérso ópere quod patrát.

saying, "Be fruitful, multiply, and fill the waters of the seas; and let the birds multiply on the earth." And there was evening and morning, the fifth day.

God said, "Let the earth bring forth all kinds of living creatures: cattle, crawling creatures and wild animals." And so it was. God made all kinds of wild beasts, every kind of cattle, and every kind of creature crawling on the ground. And God saw that it was good.

God said, "Let us make mankind in our image and likeness; and let them have dominion over the fish of the sea, the birds of the air, the cattle, over all the wild animals and every creature that crawls on the earth." God created man in his image.

In the image of God he created him.

Male and female he created them.

Then God blessed them and said to them, "Be fruitful and multiply; fill the earth and subdue it. Have dominion over the fish of the sea, the birds of the air, the cattle and all the animals that crawl on the earth." God also said, "See, I give you every seed-bearing plant on the earth and every tree which has seed-bearing fruit to be your food. To every wild animal of the earth, to every bird of the air, and to every creature that crawls on the earth and has the breath of life, I give the green plants for food." And so it was. God saw that all he had made was very good. And there was evening and morning, the sixth day.

Thus the heavens and the earth were finished and all their array. On the sixth day God finished the work he had been doing. And he rested on the seventh day from all the work he had done.

even more wondrously redeemed him. Grant that we may courageously resist the enticements of sin so that we may deserve to attain everlasting joy. Through Jesus Christ.

Second Reading Exodus 14, 24–31; 15, 1

In those days: in the night watch just before dawn the Lord cast through the column of the fiery cloud upon the Egyptian force a glance that threw it into a panic; and he so clogged their chariot wheels that they could hardly drive. With that the Egyptians sounded the retreat before Israel, because the Lord was fighting for them against the Egyptians.

Then the Lord told Moses, “Stretch out your hand over the sea, that the water may flow back upon the Egyptians, upon their chariots and their charioteers.” So Moses stretched out his hand over the sea, and at dawn the sea flowed back to its normal depth. The Egyptians were fleeing head on toward the sea, when the Lord hurled them into its midst. As the water flowed back, it covered the chariots and the charioteers of Pharaoh’s whole army which had followed the Israelites into the sea. Not a single one of them escaped. But the Israelites had marched on dry land through the midst of the sea, with the water like a wall to their right and to their left. Thus the Lord saved Israel on that day from the power of the Egyptians. When Israel saw the Egyptians lying dead on the seashore and beheld the great power that the Lord had shown against the Egyptians, they feared the Lord and believed in him and in his servant Moses. Then Moses and the Israelites sang this song to the Lord:

Lectio secunda Ex. 14, 24–31 et 15, 1

In diebus illis: Factum est in vigilia matutina, et ecce respiciens Dominus super castra Aegyptiorum per columnam ignis, et nubis, interfecit exercitum eorum: et subvertit rotas curruum, ferebanturque in profundum. Dixerunt ergo Aegyptii: “Fugiamus Israel: Dominus enim pugnat pro eis contra nos.” Et ait Dominus ad Moysen: “Extende manum tuam super mare, ut revertantur aquae ad Aegyptios super currus, et equites eorum.” Cumque extendisset Moyses manum contra mare, reversum est primo diluculo ad priorem locum: fugientibusque Aegyptiis occurrerunt aquae, et involvit eos Dominus in mediis fluctibus. Reversaeque sunt aquae, et operuerunt currus, et equites cuncti exercitus Pharaonis, qui sequentes ingressi fuerant mare: nec unus quidem superfuit ex eis. Filii autem Israel perrexerunt per medium siccis maris, et aquae eis erant quasi pro muro a dextris et a sinistris: liberavitque Dominus in die illa Israel de manu Aegyptiorum. Et viderunt Aegyptios mortuos super littus maris, et manum magnam, quam exercuerat Dominus contra eos: timuitque populus Dominum, et crediderunt Domino, et Moysi servo eius. Tunc cecinit Moyses, et filii Israel carmen hoc Domino, et dixerunt:

Prayer

O God, we see your wondrous works of old enlighten even our own day. For the salvation that you bestowed by the power of your right hand upon one nation, as you rescued them from the Egyptian persecution, is now conferred upon all nations by means of the water of regeneration. Grant that the peoples of the whole world may become the descendants of Abraham and share the prerogative of Israel. Through Jesus Christ.

Third Reading
Isaia 4, 2-6

On that day,
The branch of the Lord will be luster and glory,
and the fruit of the earth will be honor and splendor for the survivors of Israel.
He who remains in Sion and he that is left in Jerusalem
Will be called holy:
every one marked down for life in Jerusalem.
When the Lord washes away
the filth of the daughters of Sion,
And purges Jerusalem's blood from her midst
with a blast of searing judgment,
Then will the Lord create,
over the whole site of Mount Sion and over her place of assembly,
A smoking cloud by day and a light of flaming fire by night.

Fourth Reading Deut. 31, 22-30

In those days Moses wrote this song, and he taught it to the Israelites. Then the Lord commissioned Josue, son of Nun, and said to him, "Be brave and steadfast, for it is you who must bring the Israelites into the land which I promised them on oath. I myself will be with you."

When Moses had finished writing out on a scroll the words of the law in their entirety, he gave the Levites who carry the Ark of the Covenant of the Lord this order: "Take this scroll of the law and put it beside the Ark of the Covenant of the Lord, your God, that Novi enim quod post mortem meam inique agetis, et declinabitis cito de via, quam praecipi vobis: et occurrent vobis mala in extremo tempore, quando feceritis malum in conspectu Domini, ut irritetis eum per opera manuum vestrarum." Locutus est ergo Moyses, audiente universo coetu Israel, verba carminis huius, et ad finem usque complavit.

there it may be a witness against you. For I already know how rebellious and stiff-necked you will be. Why, even now, while I am alive among you, you have been rebels against the Lord! How much more, then, after I am dead! Therefore, assemble all your tribal elders and your officials before me, that I may speak these words for them to hear, and so may call heaven and earth to witness against them. For I know that after my death you are sure to become corrupt and to turn aside from the way along which I directed you, so that evil will befall you in some future age because you have done evil in the Lord's sight, and provoked him by your deeds." Then Moses recited the words of this song from beginning to end, for the whole assembly of Israel to hear:

Canticle: Deut. 32, 1-4

Give ear, O heavens, while I speak;
let the earth hearken to the words of my mouth!
May my instruction soak in like the rain,
and my discourse permeate like the dew,
Like a downpour upon the grass,
like a shower upon the crops:
For I will sing the Lord's renown.
Oh, proclaim the greatness of our God!
The Rock—how faultless are his deeds,
how right all his ways!

how just and upright is the Lord!

20. While the Litany of the Saints is being chanted, the vessel of water to be blessed as baptismal water and other things necessary for the blessing are prepared in the center of the choir, toward the Epistle side, in view of the faithful. It is becoming that the vessel of water to be blessed should be suitably ornamented.

21. For the blessing of the baptismal water, the celebrant stands facing the people and has in front of him the vessel of water, the blessed candle at his right, a second subdeacon or cleric or server, standing at his left with the cross. The celebrant says without inflection, with his hands joined:

Holy Saturday

℣. The Lord be with you.
℟. And with your spirit.
℣. Lift up your hearts.
℟. We have lifted them up to the Lord.
℣. Let us give thanks to the Lord our God.
℟. It is right and just.

It is truly right and just, proper and helpful toward salvation that we always and everywhere give thanks to you, O Lord, holy Father, almighty and eternal God, who by your unseen power wondrously bring about the effect of your sacraments. Although we are unworthy to perform so great a rite, you are not one to withdraw the gift of your grace; and you are also ready to listen to our prayers. O God, in the very beginning of the world your Spirit moved over the waters and gave the element of water the power to sanctify. O God, by water you also washed away the sinfulness of a guilty world. By the deluge of rain you prefigured the regeneration where, in a mysterious manner, one and the same element makes an end of sin and initiates virtue. May you, O Lord, who fill your city with joy by the flowing torrent of your grace, look mercifully upon your Church and multiply your acts of regeneration within her. Open the fountains of baptism all over the world for the renewal of the nations, so that under your majestic dominion they may receive from the Holy Spirit the grace of your only-begotten Son.

At this point the celebrant divides the water in the form of a cross with his extended hand. He immediately dries his hand with a cloth, saying:

May this water, prepared for the regeneration of man, be made fruitful by the secret out-pouring of his divine power, so that a heavenly offspring, conceived in holiness and reborn into a new creature, may come forth from the spotless womb of this divine font; and may all—regardless of distinction of age or sex—be brought forth into the same infancy by the motherhood of grace.

℣. Dóminus vobíscum.

℟. Dignum et iustum est.

Vere dignum et iustum est, æquum et salutáre, nos tibi semper, et ubíque grátias ágere: Dómine, sancte Pater, omnípotens atérne Deus. Aquam manu tangit.

Sit hæc sancta, et innocens creatúra, líbera ab omni impugnatóris incúrsu, et totíus nequítæ purgáta discéssu. Sit fons vivus, aqua regénerans, unda puríficans: ut omnes hoc lavácro salutífero diluéndi, operánte in eis Spírítu Sancto, perféctæ purgatiónis indulgéntiam consequántur.

Facit crucem super aquam dicens:

Unde bene ✠ dico te, creatúra aquæ, per Deum vivum, per Deum verum, per Deum sanctum: per Deum, qui te in princípío, verbo separávit ab árida: cuius Spírítus super te ferebátur.

Hic manu aquam dividit, et effundit eam versus quatuor mundi partes, dicens:

Bene ✠ dico te et per Iesum Christum Fílium eius únicum, Dominum nostrum: qui te in Cana Galiléæ signo admirábili, sua poténtia convértit in vinum. Qui pédibus super te ambulávit: et a Ioánné in Iordáne in te baptizátus est. Qui te una cum sáanguine de látere suo prodúxit: et discípulis suis iussit, ut credéntes baptizaréntur in te, dicens: Ite, docéte omnes gentes, baptizántes eos in nómine Patris, et Fílii, et Spírítus Sancti.

Therefore, O Lord, may all unclean spirits depart from here at your command; may all wickedness and satanic deceit be banished. May no power of the enemy remain here to fly about and lay snares, nor creep in by stealth and corrupt by its poison.

May this holy and innocent creature be free from all the enemy's assaults and cleansed by the removal of all his wickedness. May it be a font of life, a water of new birth, a stream of purification, so that all who are washed in this bath of salvation, may obtain through the working of the Holy Spirit in them, the grace of perfect cleansing.

The celebrant makes a cross above the water, saying:

Therefore, O water, created by the Almighty, I bless ✠ you by the living God, by the true God, by the holy God, by the God who through his word in the beginning separated you from the dry land and whose Spirit moved over you.

At this point the celebrant divides the water with his hand, and sprinkles it toward the four corners of the world, saying:

He also made you flow from a fountain in paradise and bade you water the whole earth with your four rivers; in the desert he changed your bitterness to sweetness so that you were fit to drink, and caused you to spring forth from a rock to quench the thirst of his people. I also bless ✠ you by our Lord Jesus Christ, his only Son, who by his power miraculously changed you into wine at Cana of Galilee and who walked upon your surface and was baptized in your Jordan stream by John. He also caused you, together with blood, to flow from his own side, and commanded his disciples to baptize believers in you, saying, "Go, teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Spirit."

Here may the stain of all sin be washed away; may human nature created in your likeness and re-created to the glory of its maker, be cleansed from all the old defilement of man, so that everyone who receives this sacrament of regeneration may be born again into a new infancy of true innocence.

Ps. 41, 2-4

Sicut cervus desiderat ad fontes aquarum: ita desiderat ánima mea baptismal promises, as below n. 25, and for sprinkling homes and other places.

When this has been done, the celebrant, who is blessing the water, pours some of the oil of catechumens into the water in the form of a cross, saying in an intelligible voice:

May this font, by the oil of salvation, be sanctified ✠ and made fruitful for those who are born anew in it into life everlasting. R. Amen.

Then the celebrant pours some of the chrism into the water, in the same way, saying:

May the pouring of the chrism of our Lord Jesus Christ ✠ and of the Holy Spirit, the Paraclete, be made in the name of the Holy Trinity. R. Amen.

After this the celebrant takes both vessels of holy oil and chrism and, pouring from both at the same time in the form of a cross, he says:

May the mixture of the chrism of sanctification, the oil of anointing and the water of baptism be made in the name of the Father and of the Son ✠ and of the Holy Spirit. R. Amen.

Then he mixes the oil with the water. If there are candidates for baptism present, he baptizes them in the usual way. It is permissible, especially if there are several candidates, to anticipate the ceremonies of the Roman Ritual which precede the conferral of baptism at a convenient hour on the same morning, that is, for the baptism of infants up to the words, Do you believe in God (Roman Ritual, tit. II, cap. II, n. 17), and for the baptism of adults up to the words What is your name? (Roman Ritual, tit. II, cap. IV, n. 37).

22. When the blessing has been completed, the baptismal water is carried in procession to the font, in this way: the thurifer goes first, followed by a second subdeacon or cleric, with the cross, and the clergy; then the deacon with the vessel of baptismal water, unless it is more convenient for acolytes to carry it, and the celebrant. The Paschal candle remains in its place. Meanwhile the canticle is chanted.

Canticle: Ps. 41, 2-4

As the hind longs for the running waters, so my soul longs for you, O God.

Holy Saturday

Athirst is my soul for God, the living God.
When shall I go and behold the face of God?

My tears are my food day and night,
as they say to me day after day, "Where

After the baptismal water has been poured into the font, the celebrant says without inflection, with his hands joined:

Ψ. The Lord be with you.

Let us pray.

Almighty and eternal God, look mercifully on the devotion of your reborn people, who, like the hind, seek the fountain of your waters. Graciously grant that faith may sanctify body and soul through the mystery of baptism. Through Christ our Lord.
℞. Amen.

He incenses the font.

Then all return in silence to the choir, and the renewal of baptismal promises begins.

22a. After the blessing has been completed, the baptismal water is carried in procession to the font in this way: the thurifer goes first, followed by the cross bearer and servers; then one or more servers, who carry the vessel of baptismal water, and the priest. The Paschal candle remains in its place. Everything else is done as above.

23. In places where there is a baptistry distinct from the church, and it is preferred to bless the baptismal water in the baptistry itself, after the invocation Holy Trinity, one God, have mercy on us, the procession to the font takes place in this way: a cleric with the blessed candle goes first, followed by a second subdeacon with the cross, or a cross-bearer, who walks between acolytes carrying lighted candles, then the clergy in order, and finally the celebrant with the sacred ministers. The chanters and the people remain in their places and continue the singing of the litany, repeating, if necessary, the invocations beginning with Holy Mary, pray for us.

The blessing of the baptismal water takes place as above, with these changes only: during the procession to the font, the canticle As the hind longs is sung and the celebrant, before he enters to bless the font, says the prayer, Almighty and eternal God, look mercifully, n. 22; after this he proceeds with the blessing of the font, n. 21.

Existimemus ergo nos mortuos quidem esse peccato, viventes autem Deo in Christo Iesu Domino nostro.

Quapropter, fratres carissimi, quadragesimali exercitatione absoluta, sancti Baptismatis promissiones renovemus, quibus olim satanæ et operibus eius, sicut et mundo, qui inimicus est Dei, abrenuntiavimus, et Deo in sancta Ecclesia catholica fideliter servire promissimus.

RENEWAL OF BAPTISMAL PROMISES

24. The renewal of baptismal promises follows the blessing of the baptismal water and its transfer to the font, or where the blessing does not take place, it follows the first part of the litany. During the renewal of promises, it is fitting that the clergy and the people hold lighted candles.

25. The celebrant removes his violet vestments and puts on a white stole and cope. Then he places incense in the thurible and incenses the candle. Standing next to the candle, facing toward the people, or standing in the ambo or pulpit he begins as follows:

In this most sacred night, dear brethren, holy Mother Church recalls the death and burial of our Lord Jesus Christ. In return for his great love, she keeps watch. And, celebrating his glorious resurrection, she is filled with an exceeding joy.

But, as the Apostle teaches, by baptism we have been buried with Christ into death. As Christ has risen from the dead, so we too must now walk in the newness of life. For we know that our old self has been crucified with Christ, so that we may no longer be slaves to sin. Let us, then, remember that we have died to sin, but are to live for God, in Christ Jesus our Lord.

Therefore, dear brethren, having completed the Lenten observance, let us renew the promises of holy baptism, by which we once renounced Satan and his works, as well as that world which is the enemy of God, and promised to serve God faithfully in the holy Catholic Church.

And so I ask you:

Celebrant: Do you renounce Satan?

All: We do renounce him.

Celebrant: And all his works?

All: We do renounce them.

Holy Saturday

Celebrant: And all his allurements?

All: We do renounce them.

Celebrant: Do you believe in God, the Father almighty, creator of heaven and earth?

All: We do believe.

Celebrant: Do you believe in Jesus Christ, his only Son, our Lord, who was born into this world and who suffered?

All: We do believe.

Celebrant: Do you believe also in the Holy Spirit, the Holy Catholic Church, the communion of saints, the forgiveness of sins, the resurrection of the body and life everlasting?

All: We do believe.

Celebrant: Now let us pray to God together, as our Lord Jesus Christ has taught us to pray:

All: Our Father, who art in heaven,* hallowed be thy name;*
thy kingdom come;*
thy will be done on earth as it is in heaven.*
Give us this day our daily bread;*
and forgive us our trespasses*
as we forgive those who trespass against us;*
and lead us not into temptation,* but deliver us from evil.*
Amen.

Celebrant: And may almighty God, the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, who has given us a new birth by means of water and the Holy Spirit and forgiven all our sins, keep us by his grace in the same Christ Jesus our Lord, so that we may have life everlasting.

All: Amen.

The celebrant sprinkles the people with the blessed water, removed as indicated above, n. 21, during the blessing of baptismal water. Where the blessing of baptismal water does not take place, he sprinkles the people with ordinary holy water.

26. This allocution and renewal of baptismal promises may everywhere take place in the vernacular language, but in a version approved by the local Ordinary.

Celebrans: Et ómnibus pompis eius?

Omnes: Abrenuntiámus.

Celebrans: Créditis in Deum, Patrem omnipoténtem, Creatórem cæli et terræ?

Omnes: Crédimus.

Celebrans: Créditis in Iesum Christum, Fílium eius únicum, Dóminum nostrum, natum, et passum?

Omnes: Crédimus.

Celebrans: Créditis et in Spíritum Sanctum, sanctam Ecclesiám catholicam, sanctorum communióem, remissionem peccatorum, carnis resurrectionem, et vitam ætérnam?

Omnes: Crédimus.

Celebrans: Nunc autem una simul Deum precémur, sicut Dóminus noster Iesus Christus oráre nos dócuit:

Omnes: Pater Noster. . .

Celebrans: Et Deus omnipotens, Pater Dómini nostri Iesu Christi, qui nos regenerávit ex aqua et Spíritu Sancto, quique nobis dedit remissionem peccatorum, ipse nos custódiat grátia sua in eódem Christo Iesu Dómino nostro, in vitam ætérnam.

Omnes: Amen.

Et aspergit populum aqua benedicta, extracta, et supra dictum est n. 21, in benedictione aquæ baptismalis; vel, ubi benedictio aquæ baptismalis locum non habet, aqua benedicta "ordinaria."

26. Hæc allocutio et renovatio promissionum baptismatis fieri potest, ubique locorum, lingua vernacula; versione tamen ab Ordinario loci approbata.

Holy Saturday

SECOND PART OF THE LITANY

27. Renovatione promissionum baptismatis, peracta, cantores, seu ipse sacerdos, incipiunt alteram partem litaniarum, inde ab invocatione "Propitius esto," usque ad finem, omnibus genuflexis et respondentibus.

Si in hac sacra vigilia paschali Ordines conferantur, consueta ordinandorum prostratio et benedictio peragitur, dum hæc altera pars litaniarum decantatur.

28. Celebrans vero et ministri, accedentes ad sacristiam, induuntur paramentis albi coloris pro Missa solemniter celebranda.

28a. Sacerdos vero et ministrantes accedunt ad sacristiam, ubi sacerdos induitur paramentis albi coloris, ministrantes vero sumunt vestes festivas, pro Missa cantata.

Vel si, cantoribus deficientibus, ipse sacerdos litanias sanctorum decantare debeat, his absolutis, ad sacristiam accedat, cum ministrantibus, ad paramenta sumenda pro Missa cantata, ut supra dictum est.

29. Interim cereus paschalis reponitur in candelabro suo, in latere evangelii, et altare paratur pro Missa solemniter, luminaribus accensis et floribus.

Propitius esto, parce nobis Dómine.
Propitius esto, exáudi nos, Dómine.
Ab omni malo, líbera nos, Dómine.
Ab omni peccáto, líbera.

A morte perpétua, líbera.

Per mystérium sanctæ incarnationis tuæ, líbera.

Per advéntum tuum, líbera.

Per nativitátem tuam, líbera.

Per baptísmum et sanctum ieiúnium tuum, líbera.

Per crucem et passiónem tuam, líbera.

Per mortem et sepultúram tuam, líbera.

Per sanctam resurrectiónem tuam, líbera.

Per admirábilem ascensiónem tuam, líbera.

Per advéntum Spíritus Sancti Parácliti, líbera.

In die iudícii, líbera.

Peccatóres, te rogámus, audi nos.

Ut nobis parcas, te rogámus, audi nos.

27. After the renewal of baptismal promises, the cantors, or the priest himself, begin the second part of the Litany, at the invocation "Be merciful, spare us, Lord," up to the end. All kneel and respond.

If Orders are conferred in this Easter Vigil, the customary prostration and blessing of the candidates takes place while this second part of the Litany is chanted.

28. The celebrant and ministers go to the sacristy and put on white vestments for the solemn celebration of Mass.

28a. The priest and servers go to the sacristy, where the priest puts on white vestments, and the servers put on festive vestments, for the high Mass.

Or, if there are no cantors, the priest himself must chant the Litany of the Saints. At the end of the Litany he goes to the sacristy with the servers to put on the vestments for the high Mass as described above.

29. Meanwhile the Paschal candle is replaced in its candlestick on the Gospel side, and the altar is prepared for solemn Mass with lights and flowers.

Be merciful, spare us, Lord.

Be merciful, hear us, Lord.

From every evil, deliver us, Lord.

From every sin, deliver.

From everlasting death, deliver.

Through the mystery of your holy Incarnation, deliver.

Through your coming, deliver.

Through your birth, deliver.

Through your baptism and holy fasting, deliver.

Through your cross and passion, deliver.

Through your death and burial, deliver.

Through your holy resurrection, deliver.

Through your wonderful ascension, deliver.

Through the coming of the Holy Spirit, the Consoler, deliver.

In the day of judgment, deliver.

Sinners that we are, we ask you to hear us.

That you would pardon us, this we ask you, hear our prayer.

Mass of the Easter Vigil

That you would govern and preserve your holy Church, this.

That you would preserve the Apostolic Pope and all ranks in the Church in holy religion, this.

That you would humble the enemies of holy Church, this.

That you would give peace and true union of hearts to Christian kings and rulers, this.

That you would strengthen and keep us in your holy service, this.

That you would repay with everlasting goods all who have done good to us, this.

That you would give and preserve the fruits of the earth, this.

That you would grant eternal rest to all the faithful departed, this.

That you would listen to us, this.

Lamb of God, who take away the sins of the world, spare us, Lord.

Lamb of God, who take away the sins of the world, hear us, Lord.

Lamb of God, who take away the sins of the world, have mercy on us.

Christ, hear us.

Christ, graciously hear us.

Ut Ecclesiam tuam sanctam régere et conservare digneris, te rogámus, audi nos.

Ut dominum apostolicum et omnes ecclesiásticos ordines in sancta religióne conservare digneris, te rogámus.

Ut inimicos sanctæ Ecclesiæ humiliare digneris, te rogámus.

Ut régibus et princípibus christiánis pacem et veram concórdiam donare digneris, te rogámus.

Ut nosmetipsos in tuo sancto servitio confortare et conservare digneris, te rogámus.

Ut ómnibus benefactoribus nostris sempiterna bona retríbuas, te rogámus.

Ut fructus terræ dare et conservare digneris, te rogámus.

Ut ómnibus fidelibus defúntis réquiem æternam donare digneris, te rogámus.

Ut nos exaudire digneris, te rogámus.

Agnus Dei, qui tollis peccáta mundi, parce nobis, Dómine.

Agnus Dei, qui tollis peccáta mundi, exáudi nos, Dómine.

Agnus Dei, qui tollis peccáta mundi, miserere nobis.

Christe, audi nos.

Christe, exáudi nos.

EASTER SEASON

SOLEMN MASS OF THE EASTER VIGIL

The celebration of the Mass of the Easter Vigil alone, without the preceding ceremonies, is prohibited.

Holy Communion may be given to the faithful only during Mass or immediately after and continuously with Mass, except in the case of sick who are in danger of death.

1. At the end of the Litany, the cantors begin solemnly "Lord, have mercy," as usual at Mass. Meanwhile the celebrant, with the ministers, in white vestments, or with the servers, goes to the altar and makes the required reverence to it. Omitting all the prayers to be said at the foot of the altar, as well as the prayers "Aufer a nobis" and "Oramus, te, Domine," he kisses the altar in the center and incenses it in the usual way.

Celebratio solius Missæ Vigilæ paschalis sine cæremoniis præcedentibus interdicitur.

Sacra communio fidelibus dari potest tantummodo inter Missarum solemniam, vel continuo ac statim ab iis expletis; exceptis iis, qui in periculo mortis sunt constituti.

1. In fine litaniarum, cantores solemniter incipiunt "Kýrie, eléison," ut in Missa moris est. Interim celebrans cum ministris, in paramentis albis, seu cum ministrantibus, accedit ad altare, et, facta ei debita reverentia, omissis omnibus precibus ad gradus altaris dicendis, necnon orationibus "Aufer a nobis" et "Oramus, te, Dómine, ascendens, osculatur illud in medio, et incensat more solito.

Mass of the Easter Vigil

2. Finitis a choro Kyrie, eléison, celebrans incipit solemniter Glória in excélsis, et pulsantur campanæ ac discooperiuntur imagines.

Pulsatio campanarum hoc modo fiat:

a) In locis, in quibus una tantum habetur ecclesia, campanæ pulsantur hora, qua dicti hymni incipit cantus.

b) In locis, autem ubi plures ecclesiae exstant, sive in omnibus eodem tempore sacrae cæremoniæ peragantur, sive tempore diverso, campanæ omnium ecclesiarum eiusdem loci pulsantur una cum campanis ecclesiae cathedralis, vel matricis aut principalis. In dubio quænam ecclesia in loco sit matrix aut principalis, adeatur Ordinarius loci.

Postea Glória celebrans dicit:

☩. Dóminus vobiscum.

☩. Et cum spíritu tuo.

Orémus.

Deus, qui hanc sacratíssimam noctem glória dominicæ Resurrectiónis illústras: consérva in nova familiæ tuæ progénie adoptiónis spírítum, quem dedísti; ut corpore et mente renováti puram tibi exhibeant servitútem. Per eúndem Dóminum.

Et dicitur hæc tantum oratio.

3. Lécitio Epístolæ beáti Pauli
Apóstoli ad Colossénses
Col. 3, 1-4

Fratres: Si consurrexístis cum Christo, quæ sursum sunt quærite, ubi Christus est in dextera Dei sedens: quæ sursum sunt sápite, non quæ super terram. Mórtui enim estis, et vita vestra est abscondita cum Christo in Deo. Cum Christus apparúerit, vita vestra: tunc et vos apparébitis cum ipso in glória.

4. Finita Epístola, celebrans incipit:

2. After the choir has completed the Kyrie, the celebrant begins solemnly, Glory to God in the highest, and the bells are rung and the images uncovered.

The ringing of the bells shall take place in this way:

a) In places where there is only one church, the bells are rung at the time when the chanting of the hymn begins.

b) In places, however, where there are several churches, whether the sacred rites are celebrated in all churches at the same time, or at different times, the bells of all the churches of the same place, are rung together with the bells of the cathedral church, or the mother church, or the principal church. If there is a doubt which church in the place is the mother church or the principal church, the local Ordinary shall be consulted.

After the Gloria the celebrant says:

☩. The Lord be with you.

☩. And with your spirit.

Let us pray.

O God, you make this holy night radiant with the glory of the resurrection of our Lord.* Preserve in the new members of your family the spirit of sonship that you have conferred on them, so that they may be made new in body and soul to render you singlehearted service. Through Jesus Christ.

This prayer alone is said.

3. A Reading from the Epistle of blessed Paul the Apostle to the Colossians
Col. 3, 1-4

Brethren: Since you have been raised together with Christ, seek the things above, where Christ is seated at the right hand of God. Set your heart upon things above rather than upon things of earth. For you died, and your life is hidden with Christ in God. When Christ, our life, appears, then you too will appear with him in glory.

4. At the end of the Epistle, the celebrant begins:

Mass of the Easter Vigil

He chants the entire Alleluia three times, raising his voice step by step. All repeat the Alleluia each time in the same tone of voice as the celebrant.

Then the cantors continue.

℣. Ps. 117, 1 Give thanks to the Lord, for he is good, for his mercy endures forever. Then is said ℣. Ps. 116, 1–2 Praise the Lord, all you nations; glorify him, all you peoples! ℣. For steadfast is his kindness toward us, and the fidelity of the Lord endures forever.

5. Lighted candles are not carried at the Gospel but incense only. The blessing is sought and everything else is done as usual.

✠ A Reading from the holy Gospel
according to Matthew
Matth. 28, 1–7

After the sabbath, as the first day of the week was dawning, Mary Magdalene came with the other Mary to inspect the tomb. And suddenly there was a mighty earthquake, for the angel of the Lord descended from heaven. He came to the stone, rolled it back, and sat on it. In appearance, he resembled a flash of lightning, while his garments were as dazzling as snow. The guards became paralyzed with fear of him, and fell down like dead men. Then the angel spoke up, addressing the women, "You have no reason to be afraid. I know you are looking for Jesus the crucified, but he is not here. He has been raised, just as he promised. Come and see the spot where he was laid. Then go quickly and tell his disciples, 'He has been raised from the dead, and now goes to Galilee ahead of you, where you will see him.' That is what I have to tell you."

The Creed is not said, but at the end of the Gospel the celebrant says: The Lord be with you, and afterwards, Let us pray. The antiphon to the offertory is not said. At the Lavabo, Gloria Patri is said.

Et totum decantat ter, elevando vocem gradatim: et omnes post quamlibet vicem, in eodem tono, repetunt illud idem.

Postea cantores prosequuntur:

℣. Ps. 117, 1 Confitémini Dómino, quóniam bonus: quóniam in sæculum misericórdia eius. Deinde dicitur ℣. Ps. 116, 1–2 Laudáte Dóminum, omnes gentes: et colaudáte eum, omnes pópuli. ℣. Quóniam confirmáta est super nos misericórdia eius: et véritas Dómini manet in ætérnum.

5. Ad Evangelium non portantur luminaria, sed tantum incensum: pertitur benedictio, et alia fiunt de more.

✠ Sequéntia sancti Evangélii
secúndum Matthæum
Matth. 28, 1–7

Véspere autem sábbati, quæ lucéscit in prima sábbati, venit María Magdaléne, et áltera María vidére sepúlcrum. Et ecce terræmótus factus est magnus. Angelus enim Dómini descéndit de cælo: et accédens revólvit lápidem, et sedébat super eum: erat autem aspéctus eius sicut fulgur: et vestiméntum eius sicut nix. Præ timóre autem eius extérriti sunt custódes, et facti sunt velut mórtui. Respóndens autem Angelus, dixit muliéribus: "Nolíte timére vos: scio enim, quod Iesum, qui crucifixus est, quæritis: non est hic: surréxit enim, sicut dixit. Veníte, et vidéte locum, ubi pósitus erat Dóminus. Et cito eúntes, dícite discíplis eius, quia surréxit: et ecce præcédit vos in Galilæam: ibi eum vidébitis. Ecce prædíxi vobis."

Mass of the Easter Vigil

6. Prayer over the Gifts

Súscipe, quæsumus, Dómine, preces pópuli tui, cum oblatiónibus hostiárum: ut paschálibus initiáta mystériis, ad æternitátis nobis medélam, te operánte, proficiant. Per Dóminum.

Præfatio paschalis, quæ dicitur tamquam propria in Missis de Tempore a Missa Vigiliæ paschalis usque ad vigiliam Ascensionis Domini inclusive, et tamquam de Tempore in ceteris Missis, quæ eodem tempore celebrantur, et præfatione propria carent.

Hac nocte, in præfatione dicitur: Te quidem, Dómine, omni témpore, sed in hac potíssimum nocte, ut infra.

O Lord, accept the prayers and sacrificial offering of your people.* May what we have begun in these Easter mysteries through your help bring us eternal healing. Through Jesus Christ.

Easter Preface. This preface is said as the proper preface in seasonal Masses from the Mass of the Easter Vigil up to the Vigil of the Ascension of the Lord, inclusively, and as the seasonal preface in other Masses which are celebrated during the same time and which lack a proper preface.

In the preface tonight: on this night is said.

CANON MISSÆ

Mass of the Easter Vigil

Dicit Pax Dómini sit semper vobíscum sed pacis osculum non datur, Agnus Die non dicitur: et, omíssa oratione Dómine Iesu Christe, qui dixísti, dicuntur ceteræ orationes consuetae Dómine Iesu Christi, Filii Dei vivi, et Percéptio Córporis tui.

8. Post sumptionem Sacramenti, distributio communionis, purificatio et ablutio fiunt more solito; deinde pro LAUDIBUS dominicæ Resurrectionis in choro cantatur antiphona:

Allelúia, alleluía, allelúia.

Laudate Dóminum in sanctuário eius,* laudáte eum in augústo firmaménto eius.
Laudáte eum propter grándia ópera eius,* laudáte eum propter summam maiestátem eius.
Laudáte eum clangóre tubæ,* laudáte eum psaltério et cíthara.
Laudáte eum týmpano et choro,* laudáte eum chordis et órgano.
Laudáte eum cýmbalis sonóris, laudáte eum cýmbalis crepitántibus: * omne quod spirat, laudet Dóminum!

Glória Patri, et Filio, * et Spirítui Sancto, Sicut erat in princípío, et nunc, et semper, * et in sæcula sæculórum.
Amen.

Repetitur antiphona Allelúia, alleluía, allelúia.

Capitulum, hymnus et versus non dicuntur, sed statim celebrans in cantu incipit antiphonam ad Benedictus.

Et VALDE mane

et prosequuntur cantores:

una sabbatórum, véniunt ad monuméntum, orto iam sole, allelúia.

May the peace of the Lord be always with you is said, but the kiss of peace is not given.

The Agnus Dei is not said, nor is the prayer, Domine Iesu Christe, qui dixisti. The other customary prayers are said, Domine Iesu Christe, Filii Dei vivi, and Perceptio Corporis tui.

8. After the celebrant has received the Sacrament, the distribution of Communion, the purification, and ablution take place in the usual way. Then the antiphon for Lauds of Easter Sunday is chanted in choir.

Alleluia, alleluia, alleluia.

Psalm 150

Praise the Lord in his sanctuary,* praise him in the firmament of his strength.
Praise him for his mighty deeds,*
praise him for his sovereign majesty.
Praise him with the blast of the trumpet,*
praise him with lyre and harp.
Praise him with timbrel and dance,*
praise him with strings and pipe.
Praise him with sounding cymbals, praise him with clanging cymbals.*
Let everything that has breath praise
the Lord!

Glory be to the Father, and to the Son,*
and to the Holy Spirit.
As it was in the beginning, is now, and ever shall be,* world without end. Amen.

After the Psalm, the antiphon Alleluia, alleluia, alleluia is repeated.

The chapter, hymn and verse are not said, but the celebrant immediately begins to chant the antiphon to the Benedictus.

And very early in the morning

The cantors continue:

after the Sabbath, they came to the sepulchre at sunrise, alleluia.

Mass of the Easter Vigil

Then the Benedictus is chanted with Gloria Patri at the end, and the incensation takes place as on other occasions at Lauds.

Deinde cantatur Benedictus, cum Glória Patri in fine, et fit incensatio, ut alias in Laudibus.

Canticle of Zachary

—The New Liturgical Movement Blog (6/10/2019)

Blessed be the Lord, the God of Israel,* because he has visited and wrought redemption for his people,
And has raised up a horn of salvation for us*
in the house of David his servant,
As he promised through the mouths of his holy ones,*
the prophets from of old:
Salvation from our enemies*
and from the hands of all our foes.
He has fulfilled his kindness to our fathers,* and been mindful of his holy covenant
In the oath to Abraham our father,*
by which he swore to grant us
That, delivered from the hands of our enemies,* we should serve him without fear
In holiness and justice before him*
all our days.
And you, O child, shall be called the prophet of the Most High;*
For you shall go before the Lord to prepare his ways,
To give his people knowledge of salvation*
through forgiveness of their sins,
Because of the compassionate kindness of our God*
with which the Orient from on high will visit us,
To shine on those who sit in darkness and the shadow of death,*
to guide our feet into the way of peace.
Glory be to the Father and to the Son* and to the Holy Spirit, as it was in the beginning, is now, and ever shall be,* world without end.
Amen.

9. After the antiphon has been repeated, the celebrant says in the usual way:

BENEDICTUS Dóminus, Deus Israëli,* quia visitávit et redémit pópulum suum,
Et eréxit cornu salútis nobis* in domo David servi sui,
Sicut locútus est per os sanctorum,* qui olim fuérunt, prophetarum suorum:
Ut liberáret nos ab inimicis nostris,* et e manu ómnium qui odérunt nos,
Ut fáceret misericórdiam cum pátribus nostris,* et recordarétur féderis sui sancti:
Iurisiurándi, quod iurávit Abrahæ, patri nostro,* datúrum se nobis,
Ut sine timóre, e manu inimicorum nostrorum liberáti,* serviámus illi,
In sanctitáte et iustítia coram ipso* ómnibus diébus nostris.
Et tu, puer, prophéta Altíssimi vocáberis:* præibis enim ante faciém Dómini ad parándas vias eius,

☩. Dóminus vobíscum.
✠. Et cum spírítu tuo.
Orémus.

☩. The Lord be with you.
✠. And with your spirit.
Let us pray.

Prayer after Communion, or Prayer

Spírítum nobis, Dómine, tuæ caritátis infúnde; ut, quos sacraméntis paschálibus satiásti, tua fácias pietáte concórdes. Per Dóminum.

O Lord, pour forth the Spirit of your love upon us,* so that we who have been nourished by this Easter sacrament may be made one in heart through your mercy. Through Jesus Christ.

10. Deinde celebrans dicit:

10. Then the celebrant says:

☩. Dóminus vobíscum.
✠. Et cum spírítu tuo.

☩. The Lord be with you.
✠. And with your spirit.

Et diaconus, vertens se ad populum, seu ipse sacerdos, cantat:

The deacon, turning to the people, or the priest himself, chants:

The Mass is end - ed. Go in peace. Al - le - lu - ia,
☩ Thanks be to God.

Al - le - lu - ia.

Ite, missa est, allelúia, allelúia.

The Mass is ended. Go in peace, alleluia, alleluia.

☩. Deo grátias, allelúia, allelúia.

☩. Thanks be to God, alleluia, alleluia.

Et celebrans, dicto Pláceat tibi, sancta Trínitas, dat benedictionem, more solito, et omnes revertuntur in sacristiam.

The celebrant says Pláceat tibi, sancta Trínitas, gives the blessing in the usual way, and all return to the sacristy.

11. Sacerdotes qui Missam Vigilie paschalis celebrant post mediam noctem, possunt ipso dominico die Resurrectionis Missam litare, atque etiam, si indultum habeatur, bis aut ter. Locorum Ordinarii vero, si eandem Vigiliam paschalem celebraverint, possunt, sed non tenentur, Missam solemnem ipso die Paschatis litare.

11. Priests who celebrate the Mass of the Easter Vigil after midnight may also offer Mass on Easter Sunday in the daytime, and may even celebrate two or three Masses, if they have an indult. Local Ordinaries who have celebrated the Easter Vigil may offer solema Mass on Easter in the daytime, but are not bound to do so.

THE RESURRECTION OF THE LORD

Entrance Antiphon
Ps. 138, 18 and 5-6

I arose, and am still with you, alleluia; you rest your hand upon me, alleluia; your knowledge is too wonderful, alleluia, alleluia. Ps. ibid., 1-2 O Lord, you have probed me and you know me; you know when I sit and when I stand. ℟. Glory be to the Father. I arose.

Prayer

On this day, O God, you overcame death through your only-begotten Son, and opened to us the gate of everlasting life.* Help us continually to carry out by our actions the desires that you put into our hearts. Through Jesus Christ your Son, Our Lord, who lives and reigns with you in the unity of the Holy Spirit,* God, forever and ever. ℟. Amen.

A Reading from the Epistle of blessed
Paul the Apostle to the Corinthians
1 Cor. 5, 7-8

Brethren: Clean out the old yeast, that you may be fresh dough, as you really are unleavened. For indeed, our passover, Christ, has been sacrificed. Let us celebrate the feast, then, not with the old yeast, the yeast of malice and wickedness, but with the unleavened bread of sincerity and truth.

Gradual Ps. 117, 24 and 1 This is the day the Lord has made; let us be glad and rejoice in it. ℟. Give thanks to the Lord, for he is good, for his mercy endures forever.

Alleluia, alleluia. ℟. 1 Cor. 5, 7 Christ, our passover, has been sacrificed.

Sed ite, dícite discipulis eius, et Petro, quia præcédit vos in Galiléam: ibi eum vidébitis, sicut dixit vobis.

At that time Mary Magdalene, and Mary the mother of James, and Salome, bought perfumed oils, intending to come and anoint Jesus. Then, very early in the morning, on the first day of the week, they came to the tomb, after sunrise. They were saying to one another, “Who will roll back the stone for us from the entrance to the tomb?” But when they looked up, they observed that the stone had been rolled back (and it was indeed huge). On entering the tomb, they saw a young man sitting at the right, dressed in a white robe. This thoroughly amazed them. But he reassured them, “No need to be amazed! You are looking for Jesus of Nazareth, the crucified. He has been raised: he is not here. See the spot where they laid him. Now go, tell his disciples and Peter, ‘He is going to Galilee

Et respóndens unus, cui nomen Cléophas, dixit ei: Tu solus peregrínus es in Iersúalem, et non cognovísti, quæ facta sunt in illa his diébus? Quibus ille dixit: Quæ? Et dixerunt: De Iesu Nazaréno, qui fuit vir prophéta potens in ópere et sermóne, coram Deo, et omni pópulo: et quómodo eum tradidérunt summi sacerdótes, et príncipes nostri in damnatióne mortis, et crucifixerunt eum. Sed et mulieres quædam ex nostris terruerunt nos, quæ ante lucem fuerunt ad monuméntum, et, non invénto corpore eius, venérunt, dicétes si étiam visióne Angelórum vidísse, qui dicunt eum vivere. Et abiérunt quidam ex nostris ad monuméntum: et ita invenérunt sicut mulieres dixerunt, ipsum vero non invenérunt. Et ipsi narrábant, quæ gesta erant recognizing him. He said to them: "What is the subject of your discussion as you go your way?" They stood still and looked at him sadly. One of them named Cleophas answered: "Are you the only inhabitant of Jerusalem not to know the things that happened in it in the past few days?"

He said to them: "What kind of things?" They said to him: "Those that happened to Jesus of Nazareth, who was a prophet, powerful in word and deed in the eyes of God and all the people; how our chief priests and rulers delivered him up to be condemned to death, and crucified him. We for our part were hoping that he was the one who would redeem Israel. Furthermore, today is the third day since all this happened. It is true that some women of our company astounded us: they were at the tomb before dawn and did not find his body, and they have returned with the news that they had seen a vision of angels who declared that he was alive. And some of our number went to the tomb and found it exactly as the women said; but they did not see him."

And he said to them: "How lacking in intelligence you are, and slow to believe all that the prophets have announced. Was it not necessary for the Messiah first to endure these sufferings and then enter into his glory?" And beginning with Moses and all the prophets, he interpreted for them all the Scriptures which referred to him. And they were near the village to which they were going, and he acted as if he were going further. But they pressed him, saying: "Stay with us, because it is near evening, and the day is practically ended."

And he went in to stay with them. And when he had sat down to dine with them he took bread, pronounced the blessing, broke it and began distributing it to them.

Then their eyes were opened and they recognized him. And he vanished from their sight. And they said to each other: "Was not our heart burning inside us as he talked to us on the road and as he explained the Scriptures to us?" Then they rose up immediately and returned to Jerusalem, and found the eleven and the rest of the company assembled and saying: "The Lord has truly been raised up and has appeared to Simon." And they recounted what had happened on the road and how he had been recognized by them in the breaking of the bread.

A Reading from the Acts of the Apostles
Acts 13, 16 and 26–33

Now in those days Paul arose, motioned to them for silence and began: "My brothers, children of the family of Abraham and you others who reverence our God, it was to us that this message of salvation was sent forth. The inhabitants of Jerusalem and their rulers failed to recognize him, and in condemning him, they fulfilled the words of the prophets which we read Sabbath after Sabbath. Even though they had no case against him, they begged Pilate to have him executed. When in this way they brought about all that was written of him, they took him down from the tree and laid him in a tomb. Yet God raised him from the dead, and for many days thereafter he appeared to those who had come up with him from Galilee to Jerusalem—they are now his witnesses before the people. And we ourselves are here to announce to you the good news that God has fulfilled for us, the children, the promise made to our fathers, by raising up Jesus Christ our Lord."

✠ A Reading from the holy Gospel
according to Luke
Luke 24, 36–47

At that time Jesus himself appeared in the midst of his disciples and said to them: “Peace be with you.” In their panic and fright they thought that they were seeing a ghost. But he said to them: “Why are you so disturbed? And why do doubts arise in your hearts? Look at my hands and my feet; it is really I. Touch me and see; for a ghost does not have flesh and bones as you see that I have.”

And saying this he showed them his hands and feet. As they still disbelieved for sheer joy, and were in amazement, he said to them: "Have you anything here to eat?" They gave him a piece of cooked fish, which he took and ate in their presence. Then he said to them: "These were my words which I spoke to you when I was still with you: 'All things written about me in the Law of Moses and in the prophets and psalms have to be fulfilled.'" Then he opened their minds to the understanding of the Scriptures. And he said to them: "So it is written: that the Messiah will suffer and will rise from the dead the third day, and in his name repentance leading to remission of sins is to be preached to all nations."

In those days Peter spoke out and said, “Fellow Israelites and you others who reverence our God, listen to what I have to say. The God of Abraham, of Isaac and of Jacob, the God of our fathers, has glorified his Servant Jesus, whom you handed over and disowned in Pilate’s presence when he was ready to release him. You disowned the Holy and Just One and preferred instead to be granted the release of a murderer. You put to death the author of life, but God raised him from the dead. To that we can testify. Yet, I know, my brothers, that you acted out of ignorance, just as your leaders did. Thus God has brought to fulfilment what he announced long ago through all the prophets, that his Messiah would suffer. Therefore, reform your lives and turn to God, that your sins may be wiped out.”

John 21, 1-14

At that time Jesus appeared again to the disciples at the Sea of Tiberias, and this is how the appearance took place. Gathered together were Simon Peter, Thomas (this name means “Twin”), Nathanael (the one from Cana in Galilee), the sons of Zebedee, and two other disciples. Simon Peter said to them, “I’m going fishing.” “We’ll go along with you,” they replied, and went off and got into their boat. That night they caught nothing. Now, just after daybreak, Jesus stood on the shore—though none of the disciples knew that it was Jesus. He said to them, "Children, you haven't caught anything to eat, have you?" "No," they answered. "Cast your net to the right of the boat," he suggested, "and you'll find something." So they cast it, and the number of fish was so great that they were not able to haul it in. Then that disciple whom Jesus loved exclaimed to Peter, "It is the Lord!" Once he heard it was the Lord, Simon Peter threw on his outer garment—for he had taken it off—and jumped into the sea. Meanwhile the other disciples came in the boat, towing the net full of fish. Actually they were not far from land—only about a hundred yards. When they landed, they saw there a charcoal fire, with a fish laid on it and bread. "Bring some of the fish you caught just now," Jesus told them. Simon Peter went aboard and hauled ashore the net loaded with large fish—one hundred and fifty-three of them! Yet, in spite of the great number, the net was not torn. "Come and eat your meal," Jesus told them. Not one of the disciples dared to inquire, "Who are you?" for they knew it was the Lord. Jesus came over, took the bread and gave it to them, and did the same with fish. Now this was the third time that Jesus appeared to the disciples after being raised from the dead.

In those days the angel of the Lord spoke to Philip, "Start out and head south on the road which goes from Jerusalem down to Gaza through the desert. So he started out on the journey. Now it so happened that an Ethiopian eunuch, a court-official in charge of the entire treasury of Candace (that is, queen) of the Ethiopians, had come on a pilgrimage to Jerusalem, and was returning home. He was sitting in his carriage, reading the prophet Isaia. The Spirit said to Philip, "Go and catch up with that carriage." Philip ran up and heard the man reading the prophet Isaia. He said to him, "Do you really understand what you are reading?" The man replied, "How can I, unless someone explains it to me?" So he invited Philip to get in and sit down beside him. This was the passage of Scripture he was reading: "Like a sheep he was led to the slaughter, and like a lamb before its shearer he was silent and opened not his mouth. In his humiliation he was deprived of justice. Who will ever speak of his posterity, for he is deprived of his life on this earth?" Now the eunuch asked Philip, "Please, sir, of whom does the prophet say this—of himself or someone else?" So Philip began, and using this Scripture passage as a starting-point, he told him the good news of Jesus. As they moved along the road, they came to some water, and the eunuch said, "Look, there's some water. What hinders me from being baptized?" He ordered the carriage to stop, and Philip went down into the water with the eunuch and baptized him. When they came out of the water, the Spirit of the Lord snatched Philip away, and the eunuch saw him no more. But he went on his way rejoicing. And Philip found himself at Azotus, and went about announcing the good news in all the towns until he reached Caesarea, the good news of the name of the Lord Jesus Christ.

Dixit autem Philíppus: Si credis ex toto corde, licet. Et respóndens ait: Credo, Fílium Dei esse Iesum Christum. Et iussit stare currum: et descendérunt utérque in aquam, Philíppus, et eunúchus, et baptizávit eum. OCTAVE OF EASTER

Ps. 77, 53

The Lord led them on in hope, alleluia, while he covered their enemies with the sea, alleluia, alleluia, alleluia. Ps. ibid., 1 Hark-en, my people, to my teaching: incline your ears to the words of my mouth. ℣. Glory be to the Father. The Lord.

Prayer

Almighty and eternal God, this Easter sacrament is a covenant of reconciliation for all mankind.* Let our minds now be made strong so that we may prove in deeds the faith we profess in words. Through Jesus Christ.

A Reading from the Epistle of blessed Peter the Apostle
1 Peter 3, 18–22

Beloved: Christ died for sins once for all, the just for the unjust, so that he might offer you to God. He was put to death in the flesh but brought to life in the spirit. In the spirit he went and made proclamation to the spirits in prison. They had disobeyed once upon a time in Noe's day, while God patiently waited out the time until the ark was built, in which a few, namely eight persons, were saved through water. It is the counterpart of this which now saves you: baptism. This is no removal of physical dirt, but a pledge to God of an irreproachable conscience, through the resurrection of Jesus Christ our Lord, who is at the right hand of God.

Gradual Ps. 117, 24 and 26–27 This is the day the Lord has made; let us be glad and rejoice in it. ℣. Blessed is he who comes in the name of the Lord; the Lord is God, and he has given us light.

Christians, to the Paschal victim
Offer your thankful praises!
A lamb the sheep redeemeth: Christ, who only is sinless,
Reconcileth sinners to the Father.
Death and life have contended in that combat stupendous:
The Prince of life, who died, reigns immortal.
Speak, Mary, declaring
What thou sawest, wayfaring.
“The tomb of Christ, who is living,
The glory of Jesus’ resurrection;
Bright angels attesting,
The shroud and napkin resting.
Yea, Christ my hope is arisen:
To Galilee he goes before you.”
Christ indeed from death is risen, our new life obtaining.
Have mercy, victor King, ever reigning!
Amen. Alleluia.

✠ A Reading from the holy Gospel
according to Matthew
Matth. 28, 16–20

At that time the eleven disciples made their way to Galilee, to that mountain to which Jesus had summoned them. When they saw him, those who had previously doubted paid him homage. Jesus came up to them and addressed them in these words, “Complete authority has been conferred on me in heaven as on earth; go, therefore, and make disciples of all the nations by baptizing them in the name ‘of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Spirit,’ by teaching them to carry out everything that I have commanded you. And remember, I am with you always until the end of the world.”

A Reading from the Epistle of
blessed Peter the Apostle
1 Peter 2, 1–10

Beloved: Strip away everything vicious, everything deceitful; pretenses, jealousies and disparaging remarks of all kinds. Like newborn babes, crave pure milk for your minds, that by it you may grow up into salvation, now that you have tasted the sweetness of the Lord. Come to him, the living stone, rejected indeed by men, but choice and precious before God. You too are living stones, built as a spiritual temple. Your vocation is to a holy priesthood, to offer pleasing spiritual sacrifices to God through Jesus Christ. This is why Scripture has: “See, I am laying a stone in Sion, a choice and precious cornerstone, and he who puts his belief in it will not be disappointed.” Yours, then, is the honor because you believe. For unbelievers, however, “The stone which the builders rejected has become the capstone, and a stumblingblock and a stone obstacle” which those fall over who disbelieve the word; for this, indeed, they are destined. But you are a chosen race, a royal house, a priesthood, a holy nation, a people God takes as his own, that you may declare the praises of him who called you out of darkness into his wonderful light. Once not a people, you are now God’s people; once there was no mercy for you, but now you have found mercy.

John 20, 1-9*

At that time, early in the morning on the first day of the week, while it was still dark, Mary Magdalene came to the tomb. She saw that the stone had been moved away from the tomb; so she ran off to Simon Peter and to the other disciple (the one whom Jesus loved) and told them, “They have taken the Lord from the tomb, and we don’t know where they have laid him.” So Peter and the other disciple started out and were on their way to the tomb. The two of them were running side by side; but the other disciple, being faster, outran Peter and reached the tomb first. He did not enter, but bent down to peer in and saw wrappings lying on the ground. Presently, Simon Peter came along behind him and entered the tomb. He observed the wrappings on the ground, and the piece of cloth which had covered the head, not lying with the wrappings, but rolled up by itself in another spot. Then, in turn, the other disciple who had arrived first at the tomb also entered. He saw and believed. (Remember that as yet they did not understand the Scripture that he had to rise from the dead.)

O almighty God, let our conduct and our lives always be guided by the Easter feast we have just celebrated. Through Jesus Christ.

A Reading from the Epistle of blessed John the Apostle
1 John 5, 4–10

Beloved: Whatever is begotten by God conquers the world; and the conquest that has conquered the world is this faith of ours. Who is the conqueror of the world?—none other than he who believes that Jesus is the Son of God. Jesus Christ is the one who came through water and blood; not in water only, but in water and in blood. And it is the Spirit that testifies to this because the Spirit is truth. Thus there are three who testify to this: the Spirit and water and blood, and these three are of one accord. If we accept human testimony, the testimony of God is far better; for God's testimony consists in what he himself has testified about his son. Whoever believes in the Son of God possesses that testimony in his own heart.

¶ John 20, 26 After eight days, the doors being closed, Jesus stood in the midst of his disciples, and said, "Peace be to you!" Alleluia.

✠ A Reading from the holy Gospel
according to John
John 20, 19–31

At that time, on the evening of that first day of the week, even though, for fear of the Jews, the disciples had locked the doors of the place where they were, Jesus came and stood in front of them. "Peace be with you," he said. And when he had said this, he showed them his hands and side. At the sight of the Lord the disciples rejoiced. "Peace be with you," he said to them again. "As the Father has sent me, so do I send you." After these words he breathed on them, saying, "Receive the Holy Spirit. If you forgive men's sins, their sins are forgiven; if you hold them, they are held fast." It happened that one of the Twelve, Thomas (this name means "Twin"), was absent when Jesus came. So the other disciples kept telling him: "We have seen the Lord!" But he answered them, "I'll never believe without first examining the marks of the nails on his hands, and putting my finger right into the mark of the nails and my hand into his side." Now, a week later, his disciples were once more in the room; this time Thomas was with them. Even though the doors were locked, Jesus came and stood in front of them. "Peace be with you," he said. Then he told Thomas, "Take your finger and examine my hands; take your hand and put it into my side; and don't persist in your disbelief. Become a believer!" Thomas answered with the words, "My Lord and my God!" Jesus told him, "You have believed because you have seen me. Happy those who have not seen but have believed." Of course, Jesus also performed many other signs in lays down his life for the sheep. The hired hand, who is not the shepherd and does not own the sheep, catches sight of the wolf coming and runs away, leaving the sheep to be snatched and scattered by the wolf. And this is because he works for pay and has no concern for the sheep. I am the good shepherd: I know my sheep and mine know me, just as the Father knows me and I know the Father. And for these sheep I lay down my life. I have other sheep, too, that do not belong to this fold. These also must I lead, and they will listen to my voice. Then there will be one flock, one shepherd.”

THIRD SUNDAY AFTER EASTER

II classis

Entrance Antiphon

Ps. 65, 1–2

Shout joyfully to God, all you on earth, alleluia; sing praise to the glory of his name, alleluia; proclaim his glorious praise, alleluia, alleluia, alleluia. Ps. ibid., 3 Say to God, “How tremendous are your deeds, O Lord! For your great strength your enemies fawn upon you.” ℟. Glory be to the Father. Shout.

✠ A Reading from the holy Gospel
according to John
John 16, 16–22

At that time Jesus said to his disciples: “There is just a little while before you lose sight of me, and again a little while before you see me.” At this some of his disciples remarked to one another, “What does he mean by this: ‘There is just a little while before you lose sight of me, and again a little while before you see me’ and ‘Because I am going to the Father’?” So they kept saying, “What does he mean by this ‘little while’? We don’t understand what he is talking about.” Since Jesus knew that they wanted to question him, he said, “You are asking yourselves about my saying, ‘There is just a little while before you lose sight of me, and again a little while before you see me.’ Truly I assure you, you will weep and go into mourning while the world will rejoice; you will grieve but your grief will be changed to joy. When a woman is in labor, she is in pain since her hour has come. But once the child is born, her joy makes her forget her trial because a man has been born into the world! So you too are in pain now; but I shall see you again, and your hearts will rejoice with a joy that no one can take from you.”

A Reading from the Epistle of blessed James the Apostle James 1, 17-21

Beloved: Each good gift and every best favor comes from above, comes down from the Father of the lights of the sky, who has never known change, who is never shadowed over. He has willed to bring us to birth with a revelation of truth, so that we might be a kind of first-fruits of his creatures. Remember this, my beloved brothers. Then let every man be quick to hear, slow to speak, slow to anger; for a man's anger does not accomplish God's just purpose. So strip away everything filthy, every vicious excess. Humbly welcome the revelation that has struck its roots into you, that has the power to save your souls.

your hearts are full of sorrow. Still, I am telling you the truth: it is better for you that I go away. If I do not go, the Paraclete will never come to you; whereas, if I do go, I shall send him to you. And when he does come, he will prove the world wrong about sin, about justice, about condemnation. First, sin—because they refuse to believe in me. Then, justice—because I am going to the Father and you can no longer see me. Finally, condemnation—because the Prince of this world has been condemned. I have much more to tell you, but you cannot bear it now. When he comes, however, being the Spirit of Truth, he will guide you along the way of all truth. For he will not speak on his own, but will speak only what he hears and will announce to you the things to come. He will glorify me because he will take what is mine and announce it to you.”

A Reading from the Epistle of blessed
James the Apostle
James 1, 22-27

Caríssimi: Estóte factóres verbi, et non auditóres tantum: falléntes vosmetípsos. Quia si quis auditor est verbi, et non factor: hic comparábitur viro consideránti vultum nativitátis suæ in spéculo: considerávit enim se, et ábiit, et statim oblítus est, qualis fúerit. Qui autem perspéxerit in legem perféctam libertátis, et permánerit in ea, non auditor obliuísus factus, sed factor óperis: hic beátus in facto suo erit. Si quis autem putat se religiósus esse, non refrénans linguam suam, Beloved: Act on this revelation. If you only listen to it, you are fooling yourselves. For a man who listens to divine revelation but does not put it into practice is like a man who looks in a mirror at the face he was born with. He looks at himself, then off he goes and promptly forgets how he appeared. But then there is the man who peers into the ideal law that is characterized by freedom, and he does so continually. He is no forgetful listener but he does things in practice.

Fifth Sunday after Easter

Happy will this man be in his accomplishment. Then there is the case of a man whose tongue is not controlled. He imagines that he is devout, but this is self-deception. That man's worship is pointless. Looking after orphans and widows in their distress, keeping oneself unspotted by the world, this is pure and stainless worship before our God and Father.

Alleluia, alleluia. ℣. Christ is risen, and has shone upon us, whom he redeemed with his blood. Alleluia. ℣. John 16, 28 I came forth from the Father, and have come into the world. Again I leave the world, and go to the Father. Alleluia.

✠ A Reading from the holy Gospel
according to John
John 16, 23–30

At that time Jesus said to his disciples: "Truly I assure you, whatever you ask the Father, He will give you in my name. Until now you have not asked for anything in my name. Ask and you shall receive that your joy may be complete. I have said all this to you in figures of speech. An hour is coming when I shall no longer speak to you in figures, but tell you plainly about the Father. On that day you will ask in my name; and this does not mean that I shall have to petition the Father for you. For the Father himself loves you, since you have loved me and have believed that I came forth from God. I came forth from the Father and I have come into the world. Now I am leaving the world and I am going to the Father." "Why, at last," his disciples exclaimed, "you are talking plainly without any figure of speech! Now we know that you know everything—no need for anybody to ask you questions. Because of this we believe that you came forth from God."

The Lesser Litanies or rogations are assigned to Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday before the feast of the Ascension of the Lord. Ordinaries of places, however, have the faculty of transferring the rogations to another three successive days which are more suitable, in accordance with regional diversity, custom, or necessity.

In accordance with the customs and conditions of churches and places, to be judged by the Ordinary of the place, a procession takes place on these days, during which the Litany of the Saints with its prayers is said. The invocations are not doubled.

Greater and Lesser Litanies

If the procession cannot take place, the Ordinaries of places shall establish particular devotional exercises, during which the Litany of the Saints and other prayers customary in the procession shall be said.

On both the Greater and Lesser Litanies, in churches where the procession takes place or where, by command of the Ordinary of the place, particular devotional exercises are celebrated, the Mass of rogations is celebrated as a votive Mass of class II.

The Mass of rogations or the Mass of the day which takes the place of the impeded votive Mass is considered as a part of the entire liturgical service, and is regularly celebrated after the completion of the procession. It is also fitting that the Mass of rogations be celebrated after the particular devotional exercises which replace the procession, even if these exercises take place in the evening.

In the Mass which follows the procession or other exercises, all the prayers to be said at the foot of the altar are omitted, as well as the prayers Aufer a nobis and Oramus te, Domine. When the celebrant comes to the altar, he goes up to it immediately and kisses it in the center.

Additional Masses of the rogations are prohibited.

Entrance Antiphon Ps. 17, 7

From his holy temple he heard my voice, alleluia; and my cry to him reached his ears. (P. T. Alleluia, alleluia.) Ps. ibid., 2–3 I love you, O Lord, my strength, O Lord, my rock, my fortress, my deliverer. Ps. Glory be to the Father. From his holy temple.

In this Mass the Gloria is not said.

ut salvémini: multum enim valet deprecátio iusti assídua. Elías homo erat símilis nobis passíbilis: et oratióne orávit ut non plúeret super terram, et non pluit annos tres, et menses sex. Et rursum orávit: et cælum dedit plúviam, et terra dedit fructum suum. Fratres mei, si quis ex vobis erráverit a veritaté, et convérterit quis eum: scire debet, quóniam qui convérsti fécerit peccatórem ab erróre viæ suæ, salvábit ánimam eius a morte, et opériet multitudínem peccatórum.

find healing. The fervent petition of a holy man is powerful indeed. Elia was only a man like us. Yet he prayed earnestly that it would not rain and no rain fell on the land for three years and six months. When he prayed again, the sky poured rain and the land produced its crop. My brothers, some one of you may stray from the truth and be brought back by someone else. Remember this: the person who brings a sinner back from his mistaken way will save his soul from death and do away with a multitude of sins.

Greater and Lesser Litanies

✠ A Reading
from the holy Gospel
according to Luke
Luke 11, 5–13

At that time Jesus said to his disciples: “If one of you has a friend, who comes to you in the middle of the night, and says to you: ‘My friend, lend me three loaves, for a friend of mine has come in from a trip and I have nothing to offer him,’ will you from inside say in reply: ‘Do not disturb me. The door is shut now, and my children and I are in bed. I can’t get up and give you anything.’ I tell you, even if you will not get up and give to him because of your friendship, you will rise because of his persistence and give him as much as he needs. So I say to you: Keep asking, and you will receive; keep seeking, and you will find; keep knocking, and the door will be opened. Everyone who keeps asking, receives. He who keeps seeking, finds. To him who keeps knocking, the door will be opened. What father among you will hand his son a stone when he asks for bread, or a viper when he asks for a fish, or a scorpion when he asks for an egg? Now if you, bad as you are, know how to give your children what is good, is not the heavenly Father much more likely to give the Holy Spirit to those who keep asking him?”

Offertory Antiphon
Ps. 108, 30–31

Vigil of the Ascension

“When he ascended on high, he took a host of captives,
and gave gifts to men.”

“He ascended”—what does this mean, but that he had first descended into the low regions of the earth? He who descended is also the very one who ascended high above all the heavens, that he might fill all. And “he gave” some men as apostles, and some as prophets, and others again as evangelists, and others as pastors and teachers, thus fitting the saints for the work of the ministry, for building up the body of Christ until we all become one in faith and in the knowledge of the Son of God, and form that perfect man who is Christ come to full stature.

At that time Jesus looked up to heaven and said: “Father, the hour has come: glorify your Son, that your Son may glorify you—inasmuch as you granted him power over all flesh that he might grant eternal life to all that you have given him. (And eternal life consists in this, that they know you, the only true God, and the one whom you sent, Jesus Christ.) I glorified you on earth by accomplishing the work that you gave me to do; so now glorify me, Father, in your presence with that glory which I had with you before the world existed. I made your name known to the men whom you gave me out of the world. These men whom you gave me were yours and they have kept your word. Now they have realized that all that

In my first account, Theophilus, I dealt with all that Jesus did and taught until the day he was taken up to heaven, after he had instructed his chosen apostles through the Holy Spirit. For after his Passion he showed them in many convincing ways that he was alive, appearing to them during forty days and speaking to them about the kingdom of God. Once when he met with them, he told them not to leave Jerusalem. "Wait, rather, for the fulfilment of my Father's promise about which you have heard me speak. John baptized with water, but within a few days you will be baptized with the Holy Spirit." When they were with him, they used to ask, "Lord, is this the time when you are going to restore the kingdom to Israel?" He answered, "It is not for you to know the exact time; the Father has reserved that to himself. You will receive power when the Holy Spirit comes upon you, and you are to

And he told them, “Go into the whole world, and proclaim the good news to the whole of creation. The man who believes in it and accepts baptism will be saved, the man who refuses to believe in it will be condemned. And signs like these will accompany those who have professed their faith: they will use my name to expel demons; they will speak entirely new languages; they will be able to handle serpents; they will even be able to drink deadly poison without harm; and the sick upon whom they lay their hands will recover.” Then, after speaking to them, the Lord Jesus was taken up into heaven and took his seat at God’s right hand. A Reading from the Epistle of blessed Peter the Apostle

1 Peter 4, 7-11

Beloved: Be responsible, and earnest in prayers. Above all maintain constant charity towards each other, because charity does away with a multitude of sins. Be hospitable to one another without grumbling. Let each of you, according to the gift he has received, share it with the rest, as good stewards of the manifold gift of God. When one of you speaks, let it be like the things said by God; when one of you shares, let it be as from the resources which God provides; so that in all of you God may be glorified, through Jesus Christ our Lord.

Alleluia, alleluia. ℣. Ps. 46, 9 The Lord reigns over all the nations, God sits upon his holy throne. Alleluia. ℣. John 14, 18 I will not leave you orphans; I go away and I come to you, and your heart shall rejoice. Alleluia.

Sunday after the Ascension

✠ A Reading from the holy Gospel
according to John
John 15, 26–27; 16, 1–4

At that time Jesus said to his disciples: “When the Paraclete comes, the Spirit of Truth who comes forth from the Father and whom I shall send you from the Father, he will give evidence on my behalf. You too will give evidence because you have been with me from the beginning. I have said all this to you to prevent your faith from being shaken. They are going to put you out of the synagogue. In fact, a time will come when anyone who puts you to death will think he is paying homage to God! And they will do such things because they never knew the Father nor me. For my part, I have said all this to you so that, when their hour comes, you may remember what I told you.”

A Reading from the Acts of the Apostles
Acts 19, 1-8

In those days, while Appollos was in Corinth, Paul passed through the interior country and came to Ephesus. There he found some disciples and asked them, "Did you receive the Holy Spirit, when you became believers?" They answered, "We have not so much as heard that there is a Holy Spirit." "How were you baptized then?" he persisted; and they replied, "With the baptism of John." So Paul explained, "John's baptism was a baptism of repentance. He used to tell the people about the one who would come after him, in whom they were to believe—that is, Jesus." When they heard this, they were baptized in the name of the Lord Jesus. Paul laid hands on them and the Holy Spirit came upon them. Then they began to speak with tongues and to utter prophecies. In all there were about twelve men. Paul entered the synagogue and

John 14, 15–21

At that time Jesus said to his disciples: “If you love me and keep my commandments, then at my request the Father will give you another Paraclete to be with you forever—the Spirit of Truth. The world cannot accept him because it neither sees nor recognizes him; but you can recognize him because he remains with you and he will be within you. I shall not leave you orphans: I am coming back to you. There is just a little while before the world loses sight of me; but you can see me because I have life and you will have life. On that day you yourselves will recognize that I am in my Father, and you are in me, and I in you. Whoever keeps the commandments that he has from me is the man who loves me; and the man who loves me will be loved by my Father, and I shall love him and reveal myself to him.”

Prayer

O God, on this day you have instructed the hearts of the faithful by the light of the Holy Spirit.* Grant that through the same Holy Spirit we may be truly wise and always rejoice in his consolation. Through Jesus Christ.

A Reading from the Acts of the Apostles Acts 2, 1-11

When the day of Pentecost had come, the disciples were all gathered together. Suddenly from the sky there was a noise like a strong driving wind that filled the whole house where they sat. There appeared to them tongues as of fire that parted and came to rest on each one of them. They were all filled with the Holy Spirit and began to speak in other tongues and to proclaim according to the promptings of the Spirit. Now there were living in Jerusalem devout people, Jews of every nation under heaven, who on hearing the sound gathered in a crowd. But they were confused because each one heard the speakers in his own language. This astounded them and they asked in amazement, "Aren't these men who are speaking all Galileans? How is it, then, that each of us hears them in his native language? We are Parthians, Medes and Elamites; inhabitants of Mesopotamia, of Judea and Cappadocia, of Pontus and Asia, of Phrygia and Pamphylia, of Egypt and the regions of Libya around Cyrene; even visitors from Rome—all Jews or Jewish converts (Cretans and Arabs too). And yet we hear them speaking in our own tongues about the great things which God has done."

Alleluia, alleluia. ℟. Ps. 103, 30 Send forth your spirit, and they shall be created; and you shall renew the face of the earth. Alleluia. (Here genuflect) ℟. Come, Holy Spirit, fill the hearts of your faithful: and kindle in them the fire of your love.

not keep my words; yet the word that you hear is not my own but comes from the Father who sent me. All this have I spoken to you during my stay with you. But the Paraclete, the Holy Spirit, whom the Father will send in my name, will teach you everything and remind you of all that I told you myself. 'Peace' is my farewell to you. My 'peace' is my gift to you, and I do not give it to you as the world gives it. Do not let your hearts be troubled or fearful. You have heard me say to you, 'I am going away,' and 'I am coming back to you.' If you loved me, you would rejoice to have me go to the Father, for the Father is greater than I. But I have told you this now even before it happens so that, when it does happen, you may believe. I shall no longer speak at length with you, for the Prince of the world is coming. Actually, he has no hold on me; but the world must recognize that I love the Father and that I do exactly as the Father has commanded me."

In those days Peter began to address them: "My brothers, the Lord commissioned us to preach to the people and to bear witness that he is the one set apart by God as judge of the living and the dead. All the prophets bear witness to him, that everyone who believes in him obtains forgiveness of sins through His name." Peter had not finished these words, before the Holy Spirit fell on all who listened to his message. And the believing Jews, who had accompanied Peter, were surprised that the gift of the Holy Spirit had been poured out on the Gentiles too. For they heard them speaking in tongues and glorifying God. Then Peter spoke up, "Can anyone hinder these people, who have

✠ *Sequētia sancti Evangēlii

Ioann. 3, 16–21*

In illo tēpore: Dixit Iesus Nicodēmo: Sic Deus dilēxit mundum, ut Filium suum unigēnitum daret: ut omnis, qui credit in eum, non péreat, sed hábeat vitam aetérnam. Non enim misit Deus Filium suum in mundum, ut iúdicet mundum, sed ut salvétur mundus per ipsum. Qui credit in eum, non iudicátur; qui autem non credit, iam iudicátus est: quia non credit in nómine unigéniti Filii Dei. Hoc est autem iudícium: quia lux venit in mundum, et dilexérunt hómines magis ténébras, quam lucem: erant enim eórum mala ópera. Omnis enim qui male agit, odit lucem, et non venit ad lucem, ut non arguántur ópera eius: qui autem facit veritátem, venit ad lucem, ut manifesténtur ópera eius, quia in Deo sunt facta.

✠ A Reading from the holy Gospel
according to John
John 3, 16–21

At that time Jesus said to Nicodemus: “Yes, God loved the world so much that He gave His only Son, that every one who believes in him may not perish but have eternal life. For God did not send the Son into the world to condemn the world, but that the world might be saved through him. Whoever believes in him is not condemned, but whoever does not believe has already been condemned for refusing to believe in the name of God’s only Son. Now the judgment is this: the light has come into the world, but men have loved darkness rather than light because their deeds were wicked. For everyone who practices evil hates the light, and does not come near the light for fear his deeds will be exposed. But he who acts in truth comes into the light, so that it may be shown that his deeds are done in God.”

Creed

Offertory Antiphon
Ps. 17, 14 and 16

The Lord thundered from heaven, the Most High gave forth his voice; and the fountains of waters appeared, alleluia.

Prayer over the Gifts

Mercifully bless this offering, O Lord.* Receive the offering of this spiritual sacrifice, and may we ourselves become an eternal offering to you. Through Jesus Christ.

the keeper opens the gate. And the sheep hear his voice as he calls by name those that belong to him and leads them out. When he has brought out all his own, he walks in front of them; and the sheep follow him because they recognize his voice. But they will not follow a stranger; they will run away from him because they do not recognize the voice of strangers.” Although Jesus drew this picture for them, they did not understand what he was trying to tell them. So Jesus said to them again, “Truly I assure you, I am the sheepgate. All who came before me are thieves and bandits, but the sheep did not heed them. I am the gate. Whoever enters through me will be saved; and he will go in and out and find pasture. The thief comes only to steal, slaughter and destroy. I came that they might have life and have it to the full.”

These men are not drunk, as you imagine; after all, it is only nine o'clock in the morning! No, it is rather what Joel the prophet was talking about when he said, 'And it shall happen in the last days, God says, that I will pour out a portion of my spirit upon all mankind; your sons and daughters shall prophesy, your young men shall see visions, and your old men shall dream dreams. ### A Reading from the Acts of the Apostles Acts 5, 12-16

Now in those days, through the apostles, many signs and wonders occurred among the people. By mutual agreement all of them used to meet in Solomon's Portico. No one else dared to join them, even though the people held them in great esteem. Nevertheless more and more believers, men and women in great numbers, were continually added to the Lord. As a result, the people would even carry the sick out into the streets and lay them on cots and mattresses so that, when Peter passed by, his shadow might at least fall on one or other of them. Then too crowds from the towns around Jerusalem would gather, bringing their sick and those who were troubled by unclean spirits. And they were all cured.

raise him up on the last day. It is written in the prophets: 'And they shall all be taught by God.' Everyone who has heard the Father and learned from him comes to me. Not that anyone has seen the Father—only the one who is from God has seen the Father. I solemnly assure you, the believer possesses eternal life. I am the bread of life. Your ancestors ate the manna in the desert but they are dead. This is the bread which comes down from heaven, that a man may eat it and not die. I am the living bread which came down from heaven. If anyone eats this bread, he will live forever. And the bread that I shall give is my own flesh for the life of the world."

A Reading from the Acts of the Apostles
Acts 8, 5-8

In those days Philip went down to the town of Samaria and preached to them about the Messiah. Without exception, the crowds that heard Philip and saw the miracles he performed were attentive to what he had to say. There were many who had unclean spirits and these came out shrieking loudly; and there were many others who were paralytics or cripples, and they were cured. So there was much rejoicing in that town.

Come, thou Holy Spirit, come!
And from thy celestial home
Shed a ray of light divine!

Thursday within the Octave of Pentecost

Come, thou Father of the poor!
Come, thou source of all our store!
Come, within our bosoms shine!
Thou, of comforters the best;
Thou, the soul's most welcome guest;
Sweet refreshment here below;
In our labor, rest most sweet;
Grateful coolness in the heat;
Solace in the midst of woe.

O most blessed Light divine,
Shine within these hearts of thine,
And our inmost being fill!
Where thou art not, man hath naught,
Nothing good in deed or thought,
Nothing free from taint of ill.

Heal our wounds, our strength renew;
On our dryness pour thy dew;
Wash the stains of guilt away:
Bend the stubborn heart and will;
Melt the frozen, warm the chill;
Guide the steps that go astray.

On the faithful, who adore
And confess thee, evermore
In thy sev'nfold gift descend;
Give them virtue's sure reward;
Give them thy salvation, Lord;
Give them joys that never end.
Amen. Alleluia.

Luke 9, 1-6

At that time Jesus called the Twelve together and gave them power and authority over all the devils, and to cure diseases. He sent them forth to proclaim the kingdom of God and to heal the infirm. He said to them: "Take nothing for the journey, neither walking stick nor traveling bag, neither bread nor money, neither is anyone to have two coats. Stay at whatever house you enter, and proceed from there. And when people will not receive you, leave that

✠ A Reading from the holy Gospel
according to Luke
Luke 5, 17-26

At that time, as Jesus one day sat teaching, Pharisees and teachers of the Law, who had come from every village of Galilee, from Judea, and from Jerusalem, were sitting close by, and the power of the Lord made him heal. Men came carrying on a mat a man who was a paralytic. And they were trying to bring him in and lay him before him, but finding no way of bringing him in because of the crowd, they went up on the roof and let him down through the tiles, with his mat, into the middle of the crowd before Jesus. Seeing their faith, he said:
“Man, your sins are forgiven.”

The scribes and the Pharisees began a discussion, saying: "Who is this fellow who is speaking? Who can forgive sins except God alone?" But Jesus, knowing their reasonings, answered them, saying: "Why are these thoughts in your hearts? Which is less trouble—to say 'Your sins are forgiven you,' or to say 'Stand up and walk'?" But, that you may know that the Son of Man has authority on earth to forgive sins,"—he said to the paralytic—"I say to you, stand up and take your mat, and go home."

He stood up at once before them, took up what he was lying on, and went home praising God. They were all seized with astonishment and, full of awe, praised God, saying: "We have seen incredible things today."

In those days Moses said to the Israelites: "Hear, O Israel, what I command you today! When you have come into the land which the Lord, your God, is giving you as a heritage, and have occupied it and settled in it, you shall take some first fruits of the various products of the soil which you harvest, and putting them in a basket, you shall go to the place which the Lord, your God, chooses for the dwelling place of his name. There you shall go to the priest in office at that time and say to him, 'Today I acknowledge the Lord, your God, who heard our cry and saw our affliction, our toil and our oppression. He brought us out of Egypt with his strong hand and outstretched arm, with terrifying power, with signs and wonders; and bringing us into this country, he gave us this land flowing with milk and honey. Therefore, I have now brought these first fruits of the soil which the Lord has given me.' And having set them before the Lord, your God, you shall bow down in his presence. ### Léctio libri Levítici Levit. 26, 3–12

In diébus illis: Dixit Dóminus ad Móysen: Lóquere filiis Israél, et dices ad eos: Si in præcéptis meis ambulavéritis, et mandáta mea custodiéritis, et fecéritis ea, dabo vobis plúvias tempóribus suis, et terra gignet germen suum, et pomis árbores replebúntur. Apprehéndet méssium tritúra vindémiam, et vindémia occupábit seméntem: et comedétis panem vestrum in saturitate, et absque pavóre habitábitis in terra vestra. Dabo pacem in finibus vestris: dormiétis, et non erit qui extérreat. Auferam malas béstias, et gládus non transibit téminos vestros. Persequémini inimícos vestros, et córruent coram vobis. Persequéntur quinque de vestris centum aliénos, et centum de vobis decem millia: cadent inimíci vestri gládio in conspéctu vestro. Respiciam vos, et créscere fáciam: multiplicabímíni, et firmábo pactum meum vobíscum. Comedétis vetustíssima véterum, et vétera novis superveniéntibus proiciétiis. Pónam tabernáculum meum in médio vestri, et non abiúciat vos ánima mea. Ambulábo inter vos, et ero Deus vester, vosque éritis pópulus meus: dicit Dóminus omnipotens.

Léctio Daniélis Prophétæ Dan. 3, 47-51

In diébus illis: Angelus Dómini descendit cum Azaría, et sóciis eius in fornácem: et excússit flammam ignis de fornáce, et fecit médium fornácis quasi ventum roris flantem. Flamma autem effundebátur super fornácem cúbitis quadragínta novem: et erúpit, et incéndit quos réperit iuxta fornácem de Chaldæis minístros regis, qui eam incendébant. Et non tétigit eos omníno ignis, neque contristávit, nec quidquam moléstiaé íntulit. Tunc hi tres quasi ex uno ore laudábant, et glori ficábant, et benedicébant Deum in fornáce, dicétes:

A Reading from the Prophet Daniel Dan. 3, 47-51

In those days the angel of the Lord went down into the furnace with Azaria and his companions, drove the fiery flames out of the furnace, and made the inside of the furnace as though a dew-laden breeze were blowing through it. The flames rose forty-nine cubits above the furnace, and spread out, burning the Chaldeans nearby, the king's men who stoked it. The fire in no way touched the young men or caused them pain or harm. Then these three in the furnace with one voice sang, glorifying and blessing God.

Thanks be to God is not said.

Alleluia. Ÿ. Ibid., 52 Blessed are you, O Lord, the God of our fathers, and worthy to be praised forever.

After the fifth reading and Alleluia, when the verse has been completed, the Gloria is said followed by:

Ÿ. The Lord be with you.
℞. And with your spirit.

Prayer

O God, who protected the three young men from the flames of fire,* grant that the flames of sin may not consume us, your servants. Through Jesus Christ.

A second prayer which may occur is added to this prayer under one conclusion.

A Reading from the Epistle of blessed
Paul the Apostle to the Romans
Rom. 5, 1–5

Brethren: Now that we have been justified by faith, we are at peace with God through our Lord Jesus Christ. Through him we have gained access by faith to the favor in which we now stand, and we boast of our hope for the glory of God. But not only that—we even boast of our afflictions! For we know that affliction makes for endurance, and endurance for tested virtue, and tested virtue for hope. And hope does not disappoint, because the love of God has been poured out in our hearts through the Holy Spirit who was given to us.

Tract Ps. 116, 1–2 Praise the Lord, all you nations; glorify him, all you peoples! For steadfast is his kindness toward us, and the fidelity of the Lord endures forever.

✠ A Reading from the holy Gospel
according to Luke
Luke 4, 38–44

At that time, on leaving the synagogue, Jesus entered Simon's house. Simon's mother-in-law was in the grip of a great fever, and they implored him on her behalf. Standing over her, he rebuked the fever. It left her and she rose at once and began to wait on them. At sunset all who had friends suffering from various maladies brought them to him. He placed his hands on each of them and cured them.

Devils also came out of many of them, shouting: "You are the Son of God." These he rebuked and did not allow to speak, because they knew that he was the Messiah. At daybreak he went out and retired to an out-of-the-way place. But the crowds went in search of him, and coming upon him they wanted to detain him and keep him from leaving them. But he said to them: "I must announce the good news of the kingdom of God to the other towns also, for this is why I was sent." So he went preaching in the synagogues of Judea.

Lectio Epistolæ beati Ioannis
Apóstoli
1 Ioann. 4, 8–21

Caríssimi: Deus caritas est. In hoc apparuit caritas Dei in nobis, quóniam Fílium suum unigénitum misit Deus in mundum, ut vivamus per eum. In hoc est caritas: non quasi nos dilexerimus Deum, sed quóniam ipse prior diléxit nos, et misit Fílium suum propitiatióem pro peccátis nostris. Caríssimi, si sic Deus diléxit nos, et nos debemus altérutrum diligere. Deum nemo vidit umquam. Si diligamus invicem, Deus in nobis manet, et caritas eius in nobis perfécta est. In hoc cognóscimus, quóniam in eo manémus, et ipse in nobis: quóniam de Spíritu suo dedit nobis. Et nos vídimus, et testificámur, quóniam Pater misit Fílium suum Salvatórem mundi. Quisquis conféssus fuerit, quóniam Iesus est Fílius Dei, Deus in eo manet, et ipse in Deo. Et nos cognóvimus, et credídimus caritati, quam habet Deus in nobis. Deus caritas est: et qui manet in caritate, in Deo manet, et Deus in eo. In hoc perfécta est caritas Dei nobiscum, ut fidúciam habéamus in die iudícii: quia sicut ille est, et nos sumus in hoc mundo. Timor non est in caritate: sed perfécta caritas foras mittit timórem, quóniam timor pœnam habet. Qui autem timet, non est perféctus in caritate. Nos ergo diligámus Deum, quóniam Deus prior diléxit nos. Si quis díxerit, quóniam díligo Deum, et fratrem suum óderit, mendax est. Qui enim non díligit fratrem suum quem videt, Deum, quem non videt, quómodo potest díligere? Et hoc mandátum habémus a Deo: ut qui díligit Deum, díligat et fratrem suum.

Graduale Ps. 40, 5 et 2 Ego dixi: Dómine, miserére mei: sana ánimam meam, quia peccávi tibi. ℣. Beátus qui intélegit super egénium et páuperem: in die mala liberábit eum Dóminus.

A Reading from the Epistle of blessed
John the Apostle
1 John 4, 8–21

Beloved, God is love. In this way was God's love revealed in our midst: God has sent his only Son into the world that we may have life through him. This is what love consists in: not that we have loved God, but that he loved us and sent his Son as a propitiation for our sins. Beloved, if God so loved us, then we, in turn, must love one another. No one has ever seen God. Yet, if we love one another, God dwells in us; and his love is brought to perfection in us. This is how we know that we abide in him and he in us: that he has given us of his own Spirit. And we have seen for ourselves, and can testify, that the Father has sent the Son as Savior of the world. Whenever anyone acknowledges that Jesus is the Son of God, then God dwells in him and he in God. And we have come to know and believe the love that God has for us. God is love; and he who abides in love abides in God, and God in him. With us love is brought to perfection in this way, that we may have confidence on the day of judgment because, in this world, we are just the same as he is. Love has no room for fear; rather, perfect love drives out fear. Since fear involves punishment, love has not been brought to perfection in one who is still afraid. As for us, we love because he first loved us. If anyone boasts, "I love God," and still hates his brother, he is a liar. For a man who has no love for his brother whom he has seen cannot love the God he has never seen. And the commandment we have from him is this: whoever loves God must also love his brother.

Gradual Ps. 40, 5 and 2 I said, "O Lord, have pity on me; heal my soul, for I have sinned against you." ℣. Happy is he who has regard for the lowly and the poor; in the day of misfortune the Lord will deliver him.

First Sunday after Pentecost

Alleluia, alleluia. Ps. 5, 2 Hearken to my words, O Lord, attend to my sighing. Alleluia.

✠ A Reading from the holy Gospel
according to Luke
Luke 6, 36–42

At that time, Jesus said to his disciples: “Be compassionate, as your Father is compassionate. Do not judge, and you will not be judged; do not condemn, and you will not be condemned. Grant pardon, and you will be granted pardon. Give, and it shall be given to you. Good measure, pressed down, shaken together, running over, they will pour into the fold of your garment. For whatever you measure out to others will be measured back to you.”

He spoke also a parable to them: “Can a blind man act as guide to a blind man? Will they not both fall into a trench? A pupil is not above his teacher, but every pupil, when he has graduated, will be like his teacher. Why do you look at the speck of wood in your brother’s eye, and not notice the block of wood in your own?”

How can you say to your brother, ‘Brother, let me remove the speck out of your eye,’ yet fail yourself to see the block in your own? Hypocrite, first take the block out of your own eye, and then you will see clearly to remove the speck from your brother’s eye.”

said: "This is my body which is for you. Do this as a remembrance of me." In the same way, after the supper, he took the cup saying: "This cup is the new covenant in my blood. Do this, whenever you drink it, as a remembrance of me." Every time, then, that you eat this bread and drink this cup, you proclaim the death of the Lord, until he comes. So, whoever eats the bread or drinks the cup of the Lord unworthily will have to answer for the body and the blood of the Lord. A man should first examine himself. Only then should he eat of the bread and drink of the cup. For he who eats and drinks without recognizing the body, eats and drinks a judgment against himself.

Gradual Ps. 144, 15–16 The eyes of all look hopefully to you, O Lord; and you give them their food in due season. Ps. You open your hand; and satisfy the desire of every living thing. Alleluia, alleluia. John 6, 56–57 My flesh is food indeed, and my blood is drink indeed. He who eats my flesh, and drinks my blood, abides in me and I in him.

Sequence

Laud, O Sion, thy salvation,
Laud with hymns of exultation,
Christ, thy king and shepherd true:
Bring him all the praise thou knowest,
He is more than thou bestowest,
Never canst thou reach his due.
Special theme for glad thanksgiving
Is the quick'ning and the living
Bread today before thee set:
From his hands of old partaken,
As we know, by faith unshaken,
Where the twelve at supper met.
Full and clear ring out thy chanting,
Joy nor sweetest grace be wanting,
From thy heart let praises burst:
For today the feast is holden,
When the institution olden

Hoc fácite, quotiescúmque bibétis, in meam commemora-tiónem. Quotiescúmque enim manducábítis panem hunc, et cálicem bibétis, mortem Dómini annuntiá-bítis, donec véniat. Itaque quícúmque manducáverit panem hunc, vel bíberit cálicem Dómini indígne, reus erit córporis et ságuinis Dó-mini. Probet autem seípsum homo: et sic de pane illo edat, et de cálice bibat. Qui enim mandúcat, et bibit indígne, iudícium sibi mandúcat, et bibít: non diiúdicans corpus Dómini.

Graduale Ps. 144, 15–16 Oculi ómnium in te sperant, Dómine: et tu das illis escam in témpore oportúno. Ps. Aperis tu manum tuam: et imples omne ánimál benedictióne. Allelúia, allelúia. Ps. Ioann. 6, 56–57 Caro mea vere est cibus, et sanguis meus vere est potus: qui mandúcat meam carnem, et bibít meum ságuinem, in me manet, et ego in eo.

Sequentia

Lauda, Sion, Salvatórem, lauda ducem et pastórem in hymnis et cánticis.
Quantum potes, tantum aude: quia maior omni laude, nec laudáre súfficis.
Laudis thema speciális, panis vivus et vitális hódie propónitur.
Quem in sacræ mensa cenæ, turbæ fratrum duodénæ datum non ambígitur.
Sit laus plena, sit sonóra, sit iucúnda, sit decóra mentis iubilátio.
Dies enim solémnis ágitur, in qua mensæ prima recólitur huius institútio.
In hac mensa novi Regis, novum Pascha novæ legis, Phase vetus términat.
Vetustátem nóvitas, umbram fugat vérítas, noctem lux eliminat.

Feast of Corpus Christi

Quod in cena Christus gessit, faciendum hoc expréssit in sui memóriam.

Docti sacris institútis, panem, vinum in salútis consecrámus hóstiam. Dogma datur Christiánis, quod in carnem transit panis, et vinum in ságuinem.

Quod non capis, quod non vides, animósa firmat fides, præter rerum órđinem.

Sub divérsis speciébus, signis tantum, et non rebus, latent res exímia. Caro cibus, sanguis potus: manet tamen Christus totus, sub utrâque spécie.

A suménte non concísus, non confráctus, non divísus: ínteger accípitur. Sumit unus, sumunt mille: quantum isti, tantum ille: nec sumptus consúmitur.

Sumunt boni, sumunt mali: sorte tamen inæquáli, vitæ, vel intéritus. Mors est malis, vita bonis: vide paris sumptiónis quam sit dispar éxitus.

Fracto demum sacraméto, ne vacílles, sed meméto, tantum esse sub fragméto, quantum toto tégitur. Nulla rei fit scissúra: signi tantum fit fractúra: qua nec status, nec statúra signáti minúitur.

Ecce panis Angelórum, factus cibus viatórum: vere panis filiórum, non mitténdus cánibus.

In figúris præsignáatur, cum Isaac immoláatur: agnus paschæ deputáatur: datur manna pátribus.

Bone pastor, panis vere, Iesu, nostri miserére: tu nos pasce, nos tuére: tu nos bona fac vidére in terra vivéntium.

Tu, qui cuncta scis et vales: qui nos pascis hic mortáles: tuos ibi commensáles, coherédes et sodáles fac sanctórum cívium. Amen. Allelúia.

Of that supper was rehearsed.
Here the new law's new oblation,
By the new king's revelation,
Ends the form of ancient rite:
Now the new the old effaceth,
Truth away the shadow chaseth,
Light dispels the gloom of night.
What he did at supper seated,
Christ ordained to be repeated,
His memorial ne'er to cease:
And his rule for guidance taking,
Bread and wine we hallow, making
Thus our sacrifice of peace.
This the truth each Christian learneth,
Bread into his flesh he turneth,
To his precious blood the wine:
Sight hath fail'd, nor thought conceiveth,
But a dauntless faith believeth,
Resting on a pow'r divine.
Here beneath these signs are hidden
Priceless things to sense forbidden;
Signs, not things are all we see:
Blood is poured and flesh is broken,
Yet in either wondrous token
Christ entire we know to be.
Whoso of this food partaketh,
Rendeth not the Lord nor breaketh
Christ is whole to all that taste:
Thousands are, as one, receivers,
One, as thousands of believers,
Eats of him who cannot waste.
Bad and good the feast are sharing,
Of what divers dooms preparing,
Endless death, or endless life.
Life to these, to those damnation,
See how like participation
Is with unlike issues rife.
When the sacrament is broken,
Doubt not, but believe 'tis spoken,
That each sever'd outward token doth the very whole contain.
Nought the precious gift divideth,
Breaking but the sign betideth
Jesus still the same abideth, still unbroken doth remain.

Feast of Corpus Christi

Lo! the angels' food is given
To the pilgrim who hath striven;
See the children's bread from heaven,
which on dogs may not be spent.
Truth the ancient types fulfilling,
Isaac bound, a victim willing,
Paschal lamb, its life blood spilling,
manna to the fathers sent.
Very bread, good shepherd, tend us,
Jesu, of thy love befriend us,
Thou refresh us, thou defend us,
Thine eternal goodnéss send us
In the land of life to see.
Thou who all things canst and knowest,
Who on earth such food bestowest,
Grant us with thy saints, though lowest,
Where the heav'nly feast thou showest,
Fellow heirs and guests to be. Amen.
Alleluia.

A Reading from the Epistle of blessed John the Apostle
1 John 3, 13–18

Beloved: No need to be surprised if the world hates you. That we have passed from death to life we know, because we love the brothers. The man without love is still in the abode of death. Everyone who hates his brother is a murderer; and, as you know, no murderer has eternal life abiding within him. The way we came to understand love was that he laid down his life for us; so must we too lay down our lives for the brothers. Now, how can divine love abide within a man who has enough of this world's livelihood, and yet closes his heart to his brother when he observes him in need? Little children, let us show with deeds that our love is genuine, and not merely express it with words.

Offertory Antiphon

Ps. 6, 5

Return, O Lord, save my life; rescue me because of your kindness.

Prayer over the Gifts

O Lord, may this sacrifice, which we are about to offer in your name,* cleanse us from sin and bring us each day closer to the realization of a heavenly life. Through Jesus Christ.

Preface of the Trinity

Communion Antiphon

Ps. 12, 6

I will sing of the Lord, "He has been good to me"; and I will sing to the name of the Lord the Most High.

Prayer after Communion

O Lord, may we, who have received your gifts,* be brought closer to our salvation by each celebration of this sacred rite. Through Jesus Christ.

FEAST OF THE SACRED HEART OF JESUS

I classis

FRIDAY AFTER THE SECOND SUNDAY AFTER PENTECOST

Entrance Antiphon

Ps. 32, 11 and 19

The thoughts of his heart are to all generations: to deliver them from death and preserve them in spite of famine. Ps. ibid. 1 Exult, you just, in the Lord; praise from the upright is fitting. ℟. Glory be to the Father. The thoughts.

Cogitationes Cordis eius in generatione et generationem: ut eruat a morte animas eorum et alat eos in fame. Ps. ibid., 1 Exultate, iusti, in Domino, rectos decet collaudatio. ℟. Gloria Patri. Cogitationes.

Prayer

O God, through your mercy we possess the treasures of your love in the heart of your Son, the same heart we wounded by our sins.* Grant that we may make reparation to him for our faults by offering him the worship of our devotion. Through Jesus Christ.

Deus, qui nobis, in Corde Filii tui, nostris vulnerato peccatis, infinitos dilectionis thesauros misericorditer largiri dignaris: concede, quaesumus; ut illi devotum pietatis nostrae praestantes obsequium, dignae quoque satisfactionis exhibeamus officium. Per eundem Dominum.

Ephes. 3, 8–12; 14–19

Brethren: To me, less than least of all the saints, this favor was given, to preach to the Gentiles the unfathomable riches of Christ, and to enlighten all men on the working out of the mystery which for ages was hidden in God, the creator of all things, so that now through the Church the manifold wisdom of God might become known to the Principalities and Powers of heaven, in fulfillment of the eternal decree which he carried out in Christ Jesus our Lord. In him and through faith in him we can speak freely to God and draw near to him with confidence. For this reason I kneel before the Father from whom every family in heaven and on earth takes its name; and I pray that he will bestow on you gifts cor-

In illo tempore: Iudæi, quoniam Parasceve erat, ut non remanerent in cruce corpora sabbato (erat enim magnus dies ille sabbati), rogaverunt Pilatum ut frangerentur eorum crura et tollerentur. Venierunt ergo milites, et primi quidem fregerunt crura et alterius qui crucifixus est cum eo. Ad Iesum autem cum venissent, ut viderunt eum iam mortuum, non fregerunt eius crura: sed unus militum lancea latus eius aperuit, et continuo exiit sanguis et aqua. ✠ A Reading from the holy Gospel
John 19, 31–37

At that time, since it was Preparation Day, the Jews did not want to have the bodies left on the cross during the Sabbath, for that Sabbath was a solemn feast day. So they asked Pilate to have the legs broken and the bodies taken down. Accordingly, the soldiers came and broke the legs of the men crucified with Jesus, first of the one, then of the other. But when they came to Jesus and saw that he was already dead, they did not break his legs. However, one of the soldiers jabbed his side with a lance and immediately blood and water flowed out. (This testimony has been given by an eyewitness, and his testimony is true. He is telling what he knows to be true that you too may have faith.) These events took place in order to have the Scripture fulfilled: "None of its bones are to be broken." And still another Scripture passage says: "They shall look on him whom they have pierced."

Third Sunday after Pentecost

Offertory Antiphon

Ps. 68, 21

My heart expected reproach and misery; I looked for sympathy, but there was none; and for comforters, and I found none.

Impropérium exspectávit Cor meum et misériam, et sustínui qui simul mecum contristarétur et non fuit: consolánthem me quæsívi et non invéni.

Prayer over the Gifts

O Lord, behold the love in the heart of your beloved Son, which no tongue can describe.* Because of that love, accept our gift as an offering in atonement for our sins. Through Jesus Christ.

Réspice, quæsumus, Dómine, ad ineffábilem Cordis dilécti Filii tui caritátem: ut quod offérimus sit tibi munus accéptum et nostrórum expiatio delictórum. Per eúndem Dóminum.

Communion Antiphon

John 19, 34

One of the soldiers opened his side with a lance, and immediately there came out blood and water.

Unus mílitum láncea latus eius apéruit, et contínuo exívit sanguis et aqua.

Prayer after Communion

O Lord Jesus, let the blessed sacrament fire us with a holy fervor,* that we may experience the sweetness of your loving heart and learn to prefer the things of heaven to those of earth: You who live and reign.

Præbeant nobis, Dómine Iesu, divinum tua sancta fervórem: quo dulcíssimi Cordis tui suavitate percepta, discámus terréna despícere, et amáre cæléstia: Qui vivis.

THIRD SUNDAY AFTER PENTECOST

II classis

Entrance Antiphon

Ps. 24, 16 and 18

Look toward me, and have pity on me, O Lord, for I am alone and afflicted. Put an end to my affliction and my suffering, and take away all my sins, O my God. Ps. ibid., 1-2 To you, I lift up my soul, O Lord. In you, O my God, I trust; let me not be put to shame. ℟. Glory be to the Father. Look toward me.

Réspice in me, et miserére mei, Dómine: quóniam únicus, et pauper sum ego: vide humilitátem meam, et labórem meum: et dimítte ómnia peccáta mea, Deus meus. Ps. ibid., 1-2 Ad te, Dómine, levávi ánimam meam: Deus meus, in te confído, non erubéscam. ℟. Glória Patri. Réspice.

Third Sunday after Pentecost

He addressed this parable to them: "What man of you, owning a hundred sheep and losing one, does not abandon the ninety-nine in the desert and go after the lost one until he finds it? When he finds it, he lays it on his shoulders in jubilation, and comes to his house, and invites his friends and neighbors in, saying, 'Rejoice with me because I have found my lost sheep.' In the same way, I tell you, there will be more rejoicing in heaven over one sinner who repents than over ninety-nine upright people who have no need of repentance.

"Or what woman of you, who has ten dimes and loses one, does not light a lamp, and sweep the house, and search carefully until she finds it? And when she has found it, she calls in the friends and neighbors, and says: 'Rejoice with me, because I have found the dime which I lost.' In the same way, I tell you, there will be rejoicing among the angels of God over one sinner who repents."

Brethren: I consider the sufferings of the present time unworthy to be compared with the glory that one day will be revealed in us. Even creation itself is waiting with eager longing for that revelation of the sons of God. For creation was condemned to a futile existence, not willingly, but by the will of him who doomed it. Yet hope still remained that even creation itself would be delivered from its slavery to corruption and would come to share in the glorious liberty of the children of God. Up to the present, as we know, the whole of creation has been groaning together as it undergoes the pains of childbirth. And not only creation, but

✠ A Reading from the holy Gospel
according to Luke
Luke 5, 1-11

At that time as Jesus stood by the Lake of Genesareth and the crowd pressed upon him to hear the word of God, he saw two boats moored by the side of the lake; the fishermen had disembarked and were washing their nets. He got into one of the boats, the one belonging to Simon, and asked him to pull out a short distance from the shore. Then he sat down and went on teaching the crowds from the boat. When he finished speaking he said to Simon: "Put out into the deep water and lower your nets for a catch."

Simon answered: "Master, we worked hard at it all night long and caught nothing; but at your word I will lower the nets." Upon doing so they caught a great number of fish, and their nets were at breaking point. They signalled to their mates in the other boat to come and help them. These came and they filled both boats to the point of sinking.

At the sight of this Simon Peter fell at the knees of Jesus, saying: "Depart from me because I am a sinful man, Lord."

upon our ancestors, ‘You shall not kill.’
Every murderer will be liable to judgment.
But now I warn you, everyone who becomes angry with his brother will be liable to judg-brother will be answerable to the Sanhedrin.

Any man who says, ‘You impious fool,’ will be liable to fiery Gehenna. Therefore, if at the moment you are bringing your

A Reading from the Epistle of blessed Paul the Apostle to the Romans

Rom. 6, 3–11

Brethren: All of us who were baptized into Christ Jesus were baptized into his death. By baptism into his death we were buried together with him, in order that just as Christ was raised from the dead by the glory of the Father, so we too might live a new life. For if we have been united with him by likeness to his death, so shall we be united with him by likeness to his resurrection. We know this: our old self was crucified with him, so that the sinful body might be destroyed and we might no longer be slaves

according to Mark
Mark 8, 1-9

At that time a large crowd was present with Jesus, and again they had nothing to eat. So he summoned the disciples and told them, "My heart is moved to pity for the crowd. For three days now they have been in my company, and have nothing left to eat. And if I send them home hungry, they will become weak on the way. Some of them, you know, have come a long distance." But his disciples replied, "How could anyone satisfy these people with bread here in this isolated spot?" Still he asked them, "How many loaves do you have?" "Seven," they replied. Then he directed the crowd to take their places on the ground. And taking the seven loaves, he gave thanks, broke them, and gave them to his disciples to distribute; and they distributed them to the crowd. They also had a few tiny fish; and blessing them, he told them to distribute them also. They ate until they were Cum enim servi essétis peccáti, líberi fuístis iustítiae. Quem ergo fructum habuístis tunc in illis, in quibus nunc erubescitis? Nam finis illórum mors est. Nunc vero liberáti a peccáto, servi autem facti Deo, habétis fructum vestrum in sanctificatiÓnem, finem vero vitam aetérnam. Stipéndia enim peccáti, mors. Grátia autem Dei, vita aetérna, in Christo Iesu Dómino nostro.

Brethren: Because of your weak human nature, I am using quite human language. Just as formerly you presented your bodily organs to uncleanness and lawlessness as slaves for the doing of lawless deeds, present them now as slaves to justice so that you may become holy. When you were slaves of sin, you were free from justice. But what fruit did you reap? Now you are ashamed of those things. And their goal is death. But now that you have been freed from sin and have become slaves of God, the fruit of this is that you be made holy and your goal is eternal life. For the wages of sin is death, but God's gift is eternal life in Christ Jesus our Lord.

A healthy tree cannot bear bad fruit, any more than a rotten tree can bear good fruit. (Every tree that does not bear good fruit is chopped down and thrown into the fire.) That is why you will recognize them by their fruit. It is not the man who says to me, 'Lord, Lord,' who will enter into the kingdom of heaven, but he who does my heavenly Father's will."

Brethren: We are debtors—but not to the flesh so that we must live according to the flesh. If you live according to the flesh, you will die. But if by the spirit you put the evil deeds of the body to death, you will live. Now, all who are led by the Spirit of God are sons of God. You did not receive a spirit of slavery, leading you back into fear, but a spirit of adoption through which we cry out “Abba!” (that is, “Father!”). And the Spirit itself gives witness together with our spirit that we are children of God. But if children, heirs too, heirs of God, heirs together with Christ.

✠ Sequentia sancti Evangelii
secundum Lucam
Luc. 16, 1-9

At that time Jesus spoke this parable to his disciples: "There was a rich man who had a steward, who was reported to him for dissipating his property. He called him and said to him: 'What is this I hear about you? Give an accounting of your stewardship, for you can't be steward any longer.' The steward thought to himself, 'What must I do, in view of the fact that my master is taking my job away from me? I am unable to dig and ashamed to beg. I know what I must do to ensure that, when I am dismissed, they will receive me with open doors.' So he called in each one of his master's debtors. He said to the first: 'How much do you owe my master?' He replied: 'A hundred jars of oil.' The steward said: 'Take your invoice, sit down quickly and make it fifty.' Then he said to a second: 'How much do you owe?' He answered: 'A hundred measures of wheat,' and the steward said, 'Take your invoice and make it eighty.'

"The master gave the unjust steward credit for being so enterprising. For the children of this age are more enterprising than the children of light toward their own kind. And I say to you, make friends for yourselves with the help of wicked money so that when it runs out they may receive you into an everlasting abode."

Offertory Antiphon

Lowly people you save, O Lord, but haughty eyes you bring low; for who is God except you, O Lord?

In illo tempore: Dixit Iesus discipulis suis parabolam hanc: Homo quidam erat dives, qui habebat villicum: et hic diffamatus est apud illum, quasi dissipasset bona ipsius. Et vocavit illum, et ait illi: Quid hoc audio de te? redde rationem villicationis tuae: iam enim non poteris villicare. Ait autem villicus intra se: Quid faciam, quia dominus meus aufert a me villicationem? fodere non valeo, mendicare erubesco. Scio quid faciam, ut, cum amotus fuero a villicatione, recipiant me in domos suas. Convocatis itaque singulis debitoribus domini sui, dicebat primo: Quantum debes domino meo? At ille dixit: Centum cados olei. Dixitque illi: Accipe cautionem tuam: et sede cito, scribe quinquaginta. Deinde alii dixit: Tu vero quantum debes? Qui ait: Centum coros tritici. Ait illi: Accipe litteras tuas, et scribe octoginta. Et laudavit dominus villicum iniquitatis, quia prudenter fecisset: quia filii huius saeculi prudentiores filiis lucis in generatione sua sunt. Et ego vobis dico: facite vobis amicos de mammona iniquitatis: ut, cum defeceritis, recipiant vos in aeterna tabernacula.

O God, your almighty power is made most evident in your mercy and pity.* Be even more merciful toward us, that we may seek the rewards you have promised and come to share in them. Through Jesus Christ.

A Reading from the Epistle of blessed Paul the Apostle to the Corinthians
1 Cor. 12, 2-11

Brethren: You know that when you were pagans you were led astray to mute idols, whenever the impulse drove you. That is why I am telling you that nobody who speaks under the impulse of God's Spirit ever says: "Cursed be Jesus." And nobody can say: "Jesus is Lord," unless he is inspired by the holy Spirit.

There are different gifts, but the one same Spirit; and there are different ministries, but the one same Lord; and there are different functions, but the one same God, who is the cause of all of them in everyone. To each individual the manifestation of the Spirit is given for the common good. To one the Spirit imparts the expression of wisdom; to another the same Spirit imparts the expression of knowledge. By the same Spirit one receives faith; by the same Spirit another is given the gift of healing, while still another gets miraculous powers. Prophecy is given to one, to another ability to distinguish one spirit from another. One gets the gift of tongues, another that of interpreting the tongues. But the one and the same Spirit produces all these gifts, distributing them to each one just as he wills.

Luke 18, 9–14

At that time Jesus spoke this parable, addressed to those who believed in their own righteousness and held everyone else in contempt. "Two men went up to the Temple to pray; one was a Pharisee, the other a tax-gatherer. The Pharisee stood forward and prayed as follows: 'I give you thanks, God, that I am not like the rest of men, grasping, unjust, adulterous, or even like this tax-gatherer. I fast twice weekly; I tithe all that I possess.' The tax-gatherer, however, kept his distance and would not dare to raise his eyes to heaven, but beat his breast, saying, 'O God, be merciful to me, a sinner.' I tell you, this man went home from the Temple justified, but not the other. For everyone who exalts himself will be humbled, and he who humbles himself will be exalted."

He put his fingers into his ears and spitting, touched his tongue; then he looked up to heaven, and groaned, saying to him, "Ephphatha!" (that is, "Be opened"). At once his ears were opened, and the knot in his tongue was untied, and he began to speak plainly. Then he strictly enjoined them not to tell anyone. A Reading from the Epistle of blessed Paul the Apostle to the Corinthians
2 Cor. 3, 4-9

Brethren: It is through Christ that we have such great confidence in our relations with God. Not that we are self sufficient and can take personal credit for anything. But our capability is from God, who has made us qualified ministers of the new covenant; not of the letter, but of the Spirit. For the letter kills, but the Spirit gives life. Now if the ministry of death, carved in writing on stone, was inaugurated with such glory that the Israelites could not look steadily at Moses' face, because of the glory that shone on it, even though it was a fading glory; how much greater glory will not the ministry of the Spirit have? For if the ministry of condemnation had glory, much greater will be the glory of the ministry of justification.

seeing. I tell you, many prophets and kings wished to see what you see and have not seen it, and to hear what you hear and have not heard it.”

Then a certain lawyer stood up to pose this problem to him: “Master, what must I do to inherit eternal life?” Jesus answered him: “What is written in the Law? How do you interpret it?” He replied:

“ ‘You shall love the Lord your God with all your heart,

with all your soul,

with all your strength,

and with all your mind,

and your neighbor as yourself’ .”

Jesus said to him: “You have answered rightly. Do this and you will live.” But he, wishing to justify himself, said to Jesus: “And who is my neighbor?” Jesus replied: “A man was going down from Jerusalem to Jericho, and he fell in with robbers who stripped him, beat him, and went off leaving him half dead. A priest happened to be going down the same road; he saw him but passed on. Likewise a Levite also came the same way, saw him, and passed on. But a Samaritan who was on his way came upon him, and was moved to pity at the sight. He went to him and bound up his wounds, applying oil and wine as an ointment. Then he hoisted him on his own beast, brought him to an inn, and took care of him. Next day he took out two silver pieces, and gave them to the innkeeper, saying: ‘Take care of him, and if you spend anymore I will reimburse you on my return.’ Which of these three in your opinion, was neighbor to the man who fell into the hands of the robbers?” He answered him: “The one who treated him with compassion.” Jesus said to him: “Go and act like him.”

A Reading from the Epistle of blessed Paul the Apostle to the Galatians Gal. 3, 16–22

Léctio Epístolæ beáti Pauli Apóstoli ad Gálatas Gal. 3, 16–22

Brethren: The promises were spoken to Abraham “and to his offspring.” It is not said: “and to his offsprings,” as applicable to many, but in a way applicable to one only: “and to your offspring,” that is, Christ. I make a further point: a covenant formally ratified by God is not set aside as no longer valid by the Law that came into being four hundred and thirty years later, so as to render the Promise null and void. Clearly if one’s inheritance comes by virtue of the Law it is no longer conferred by virtue of the promise. Yet it was by way of the Promise that God granted Abraham his privilege.

Fratres: Abrahæ dictæ sunt promissiónes, et sémini eius. Non dicit: Et semínibus, quasi in multis; sed quasi in uno: Et sémini tuo, qui est Christus. Hoc autem dico: testaméntum confirmátum a Deo, quæ post quadringéntos et trigínta annos facta est lex, non írritum facit ad evacuándam promissiónem. Nam si ex lege heréditas, iam non ex promissióne. Abrahæ autem per repromissiónem donávit Deus. Quid ígitur lex? Propter transgressiónes pósita est donec veníret semen, cui promiserat, ordináta per Angelos in manu mediátoris. Mediátor autem uníus non est: Deus autem unus est. Lex ergo advérsus promíssa Dei? Absit. Si enim data esset lex, quæ posset vivificáre, vere ex lege esset iustítia. Sed conclusit Scriptúra ómnia sub peccáto, ut promíssio ex fide Iesu Christi darétur credéntibus.

What, then, is the relevance of the Law? It was given as a supplement, in view of transgressions of it; it was promulgated by the help of angels and with the services of a mediator; but it was intended to be valid only until that Offspring came to whom the Promise had been given. Now there can be no mediator when only one person acts and God is only one. Then is the Law in opposition to God’s promises? Impossible! Obviously, if the Law which was given were such as could itself give life, justice would in reality be a consequence of the Law. But in fact Scripture has locked in all things under the restraining force of sin, so that the prom-

✠ A Reading from the holy Gospel
according to Luke
Luke 17, 11-19

At that time on his journey to Jerusalem, Jesus passed along the border of Samaria and Galilee. As he entered a village ten lepers went to meet him. Keeping their distance they raised their voices and said: "Jesus, Master, have pity on us." When he saw them he said, "Go and show yourselves to the priests." And on their way they were made clean. One of them, realizing that he had been made clean, returned praising God in a loud voice. He threw himself face down at the feet of Jesus, thanking him. And this man was a Samaritan.

Jesus' comment was: "Were not ten of them made clean? Where are the other nine? Was no one found to return and give glory to God except this stranger?" And he said to the man, "Stand up, and go your way; your faith has saved you."

spirit, and those of the spirit are against the flesh; these two are directly opposed to one another. That is why you do not carry out what your will intends. But if you are led by the spirit, you are not under the Law. Now it is obvious what proceeds from the flesh: fornication, impurity, indecency, idolatry, sorcery, hatreds, contentiousness, jealousy, outbursts of rage, rivalries, dissensions, factions, envy, drunkenness, orgies of debauchery, and the like. I warn you, as I have warned you before: those who do such things will not inherit the kingdom of God! But the fruit of the spirit is love, joy, peace, patient endurance, kindness, goodness, faith, mildness, self-control. Against such there is no law! Now those who belong to Christ Jesus have crucified their flesh with its passions and desires.

You cannot devote yourself to God and to money. So I warn you, do not worry about your livelihood, about what you are to eat, or what you are to drink, or how you are to clothe yourselves. Is not life more important than food? Is not the body more important than clothes? Take a look at the birds in the sky: they do not sow; they do not reap; they gather nothing into barns. Yet your heavenly Father feeds them. Aren’t you more important than they? Still, which of you by worrying can add a single moment to his allotted span of life? And as for clothes, what are you worrying about? Learn a lesson from the way the wild lilies grow. They do not toil; they do not spin thread. Yet I assure you, not even Solomon in his royal robes was arrayed like one of them. If God can so deck out the wild flowers which bloom today but tomorrow are thrown into the oven, is he not much more likely to provide for you? What weak faith you have! Stop worrying then over questions like ‘What are we to eat?’, ‘What are we to drink?’, ‘What are we to wear?’. That is what pagans are always looking for. Your heavenly Father realizes that you need all this sort of thing. Seek first his kingdom and his will, and everything else will be given to you.”

Brethren: Since we live by the spirit, let us in fact follow the spirit's lead. Let us never be boastful, a source of provocation to others, or jealous of one another. My brothers, if a person is overtaken by some sin, you who are spiritual should set him right in a spirit of mildness, looking to yourself to avoid also falling into temptation. Help carry one another's burdens, and in that way fulfill the law of Christ. If anyone thinks he is something, when he is really nothing, he is deceiving himself. Each one should examine his own conduct, and thus if he has reason to boast of anything, it will be on his own account, not on another's, and each one will bear his own responsibility. He who is instructed in the word should share with his instructor all his goods. Make no mistake about it: God is not made a fool of! A man will surely reap whatever he sows. If he sows in the field of flesh, he will reap from it a harvest of corruption. But if his seed-ground is the spirit, from the spirit he will reap everlasting life. Let us not grow weary of doing good, for, if we do not relax our efforts, in due time we shall reap our harvest. So while we have the opportunity, let us do good to all men, but especially to those who belong to the household of the faith.

At that time Jesus went to a town called Naim; his disciples and a large crowd accompanied him. As he approached the gate of the town a man who had died was being carried out, an only son of a widowed mother; and a good sized crowd of town-folk were with her. And the Lord, seeing her, was moved with pity for her and said to her: "Do not lament." Then he stepped forward and touched the stretcher, and the bearers halted. And he said: "Young man, I bid you rise up." The dead man sat up and began to speak. Then Jesus gave him back to his mother. Fear seized them all and they began to praise God. O Lord, I will tell of your singular justice; O God, you have taught me from my youth; and now that I am old and gray, O God, forsake me not.

Prayer after Communion

Purify our souls, O Lord, and instill new life into them through this heavenly sacrament,* so that even our bodies may find strength now and for the future. Through Jesus Christ.

Seventeenth Sunday after Pentecost

SEVENTEENTH SUNDAY AFTER PENTECOST

II classis

Entrance Antiphon
Ps. 118, 137 and 124

You are just, O Lord, and your ordinance is right. Deal with your servant according to your kindness. Ps. ibid., 1 Happy are they whose way is blameless, who walk in the law of the Lord. ℟. Glory be to the Father. You are just, O Lord.

Iustus es, Dómine, et rectum iudícium tuum: fac cum servo tuo secúndum misericórdiam tuam. Ps. ibid., 1 Beáti immaculáti in via: qui ámbulant in lege Dómini. ℟. Glória Patri. Iustus.

Prayer

O Lord, keep your people from falling under the influence of the devil* and let them sincerely seek the only God. Through Jesus Christ.

Da, quæsumus, Dómine, pópulo tuo diabólica vitáre contágia: et te solum Deum pura mente sectári. Per Dóminum.

A Reading from the Epistle of blessed
Paul the Apostle to the Ephesians
Ephes. 4, 1-6

Lectio Epístolæ beáti Pauli
Apóstoli ad Ephésios
Ephes. 4, 1-6

Brethren: I plead with you, I, a prisoner for the Lord, to live a life worthy of the calling you have received, with perfect humility and meekness, and with patience, supporting one another lovingly. Make every effort to preserve the unity whose source is the Spirit and whose bond is peace. There is but one body and one Spirit, just as there is but one hope given you by your call. There is but one Lord, one faith, one baptism; one God and Father of all, who is over all, and works through all, and is in us all, who is blessed forever. Amen.

Fratres: Obsecro vos ego vinctus in Dómino, ut digne ambulétis vocatióne, qua vocáti estis, cum omni humilitáte, et mansuetúdone, cum paciéntia, supportántes ínvicem in caritáte, solliciti serváre unitátem spíritus in vínculo pacis. Unum corpus, et unus spíritus, sicut vocáti estis in una spe vocatiónis vestræ. Unus Dóminus, una fides, unum baptísma. Unus Deus, et Pater ómnium, qui est super omnes, et per ómnia, et in ómnibus nobis. Qui est benedíctus in sácula sæculórum. Amen.

Gradual Ps. 32, 12 and 6 Happy the nation whose God is the Lord, the people the Lord has chosen for his own inheritance. ℟. By the word of the Lord the heavens were made; by the breath of his mouth all their host.

Graduale Ps. 32, 12 et 6 Beáta gens, cuius est Dóminus Deus eórum: pópulus, quem elégit Dóminus in hereditátem sibi. ℟. Verbo Dómini cæli firmáti sunt: et spíritu oris eius omnis virtus eórum.

Alleluia, alleluia. ℟. Ps. 101, 2 O Lord, hear my prayer, and let my cry come to you. Alleluia.

Allelúia, allelúia. ℟. Ps. 101, 2 Dómine, exáudi oratióne meam, et clamor meus ad te pervéniat. Allelúia.

Matth. 22, 34-46

In illo témpore: Accessérunt ad Iesum pharisæi: et interrogávit eum unus ex eis legis doctor, tentans eum: Magister, quod est mandátum magnum in lege? Ait illi Iesus: Díliges Dóminum Deum tuum ex toto corde tuo, et in tota ánima tua, et in tota mente tua. Hoc est máximum, et primum mandátum. Secúndum autem símile est huic: Díliges próximum tuum sicut tépsum. In his duóbus mandátis univérsa lex pendet, et prophétæ. Congregátis autem pharisæis, interrogávit eos Iesus, dicens: Quid vobis vidétur de Christo? cuius fílius est? Dicunt ei: David. Ait illis: Quómodo ergo David in spíritu vocat eum Dóminum, dicens: Dixit Dóminus Dómino meo: Sede a dextris meis, donec ponam inimícos tuos scabéllum pedum tuórum? Si ergo David vocat eum Dóminum, quómodo fílius eius est? Et nemo póterat ei respondére verbum: neque ausus fuit quisquam ex illa die eum ámplius interrogáre.

✠ A Reading from the holy Gospel
according to Matthew
Matth. 22, 34-46

At that time the Pharisees approached Jesus, and one of them, a lawyer, in an attempt to trip him up, asked him, "Master, which commandment in the Law is the greatest?" So he said to him, "'You shall love the Lord your God with all your heart, with all your soul, and with all your mind.' This is the greatest and the first commandment. And the second is similar to it. 'You shall love your neighbor as yourself.' On these two commandments, the whole Law is based, and the Prophets as well." In turn, Jesus put a question to the assembled Pharisees, "What is your opinion about the Messiah? Whose son is he?" "David's," they answered. He said to them, "Then how is it that David, under divine inspiration, calls him 'Lord,' as he does, 'The Lord said to my Lord, sit at my right hand until I humble your enemies beneath your feet'? If therefore David calls him 'Lord,' how can he be his son?" No one was able to give him an answer, and so no one dared, from that day on, to ask him any more questions.

Creed

Offertory Antiphon
Dan. 9, 17, 18 and 19

I, Daniel, prayed to my God, saying, "Hear, O Lord, the prayers of your servant; show your face upon your sanctuary, and favorably look down upon this people, upon whom your name is invoked, O God."

Prayer over the Gifts

We humbly implore your majesty, O Lord,* to grant us, through the sacred rite that we here celebrate, pardon for our sins of the past and preservation from sin in the future. Through Jesus Christ.

Ember Wednesday of September

Communion Antiphon

Ps. 75, 12–13

Make vows to the Lord, your God, and fulfill them; let all round about him bring gifts to the terrible Lord who checks the pride of princes, who is terrible to the kings of the earth.

Prayer after Communion

O almighty God, may the grace of this sacrament cure our sinfulness* and be an everlasting remedy for our weakness. Through Jesus Christ.

EMBER WEDNESDAY OF SEPTEMBER

Entrance Antiphon

Ps. 80, 2, 3, 4 and 5

Sing joyfully to God our strength; acclaim the God of Jacob. Take up a pleasant psalm with the harp; blow the trumpet in the beginning of the month; for it is a statute in Israel, an ordinance of the God of Jacob. Ps. ibid., 6 He made it a decree for Joseph, when he came forth from the land of Egypt: he heard an unfamiliar speech. ℟. Glory be to the Father. Sing.

After the Kyrie: Let us pray. Let us kneel. Let us stand.

Prayer

O Lord, mercifully support our human weaknesses with your grace, so that your pity will constantly renew our strength as it wastes away. Through Jesus Christ.

The preceding prayer, without Let us kneel, is used to commemorate the Ember Wednesday of September.

A Reading from the Book of Ezra
Neh. or 2 Ezra 8, 1-10

In those days the whole people gathered as one man in the open space before the Water Gate, and they called upon Ezra the scribe to bring forth the book of the Law of Moses which the Lord prescribed for Israel. On the first day of the seventh month, therefore, Ezra the priest brought the Law before the assembly which consisted of men, women, and those children old enough to understand. Standing at one end of the open place

Ember Wednesday of September

that was before the Water Gate, he read out of the book from daybreak till mid-day, in the presence of the men, women, and those children old enough to understand; and the entire people listened attentively to the Book of the Law. Ezra the scribe stood on a wooden platform that had been made for the occasion. Ezra opened the scroll so that all the people might see it (for he was standing higher up than any of the people); and, as he opened it, all the people rose. Ezra blessed the Lord, the great God, and all the people, their hands raised high, answered, "Amen, amen!" Then they bowed down and prostrated themselves before the Lord, their faces to the ground. Ezra read plainly from the Book of the Law of God, interpreting it so that all could understand what was read. Then Ezra the priest-scribe said to all the people, "Today is holy to the Lord, your God. Do not be sad, and do not weep"—for all the people were weeping as they heard the words of the Law. He said further, "Go, eat rich foods and drink sweet drinks, and allot portions to those who had nothing prepared; for today is holy to our Lord. Do not be saddened this day, for rejoicing in the Lord, that is your strength!"

At ille ait: Ab infantia: et frequenter eum in ignem, et in aquas misit, ut eum perderet. Sed si quid potes, adiuva nos, miserus nostri. Iesus autem ait illi: Si potes credere, omnia possible sunt credenti. Et continuo exclamans pater pueri, cum lacrimis aiebat: Credo, Domine: adiuva incredulitatem meam. Et cum videt Iesus concurrentem turbam, comminatus est spiritui immundo, dicens illi: Surde et mute spiritus, ego precipio tibi, exi ab eo: et amplius ne introeas in eum. Et exclamans, et multum discerpens eum, exiit ab eo, et factus est sicut mortuus, ita ut multi dicerent: Quia mortuus est. Iesus autem tenens manum eius, elevavit eum, et surrexit. disciples to expel him, but they were unable." In reply, Jesus said to them, "O this unbelieving age! How long am I to be with you? How long am I to put up with you? Bring him to me." So they brought him to him. On catching sight of him, the spirit immediately threw him into convulsions, and falling on the ground he started to roll around and foam at the mouth. Then Jesus questioned the father, "How long is it that this has been happening to him?" "From childhood," he replied, "and often it throws him into fire and into water, in order to kill him. But if you can do anything, help us out of the kindness of your heart!" "If you can?" said Jesus. "Everything is possible to a man who has faith." The boy's father immediately shouted, "I do have faith! Help my lack of faith!" Jesus, on seeing a crowd rapidly gathering, reprimanded the unclean spirit and told him, "Mute and deaf spirit, I command you! Get out of him and never enter him again!" Shouting and throwing him into convulsions, it came out of him; and he became like a corpse, so that many said, "He is dead." But Jesus took him by the hand and he helped him up, till he got to his feet. When Jesus arrived home, his disciples began to ask him privately, "Why is it that we could not expel it?" So he told them, "This kind can be expelled by nothing but prayer."

was dining in the home of the Pharisee. She brought with her a vial of perfume, and placed herself behind him at his feet, weeping. With her tears she wet his feet, and wiped them with her hair, then kissed them and perfumed them with the ointment. His host, the Pharisee, when he saw this, said to himself: "If this man were a prophet, he would know who and what sort of woman this is that touches him, that she is a sinner." Jesus in answer said to him: "Simon, I have something to say to you." "Master," said he, "say it."

"Two men owed money to a certain moneylender; one owed five hundred days' wages, the other, fifty. Since neither was able to repay he canceled both debts. Now which of them will love him more?" Simon answered: "He, I presume, for whom he canceled more." Jesus said to him: "You are correct."

And turning to the woman, he said to Simon: "You see this woman? I came to your home; you gave me no water for my feet, but she has wet my feet with her tears and wiped them with her hair. You gave me no kiss; but she has not ceased kissing my feet since I entered. You did not anoint my head with oil; but she has anointed my feet with perfume. Therefore, I tell you, her many sins are forgiven because of her great love. But he to whom little is forgiven, loves little."

He said to her: "Your sins are forgiven." His fellow-guests began to say among themselves: "Who is this who even forgives sins?" But he said to the woman: "Your faith has saved you: go in peace."

Propter quod dico tibi: Remittúntur ei peccáta multa, quóniam diléxit multum. Cui autem minus dimíttitur, minus díligit. Dixit autem ad illam: Remittúntur tibi peccáta. Et cœpérunr, qui simul accumbébant, dícere intra se: Quis est hic, qui étiam peccáta dimíttit? Dixit autem ad mulierem: Fides tua te salvam fecit: vade in pace.

Bénedic, ánima mea, Dómino, et noli oblivísci omnes retributiónes eius: et renovábitur, sicut áquilæ, iuventus tua.

Prayer over the Gifts

Accépta tibi sint, Dómine, quæsumus, nostri dona ieiúonii: quæ et expiándo nos tua grátia dignos efficiant, et ad sempitérna promíssa perdúcant. Per Dóminum.

May our fasting be acceptable to you, O Lord. * Let it atone for our sins and make us worthy of your grace, so that we may attain the fulfillment of your everlasting promises. Through Jesus Christ.

Communion Antiphon

Ps. 118, 22 and 24

Aufer a me oppróbrium et contéptum, quia mandáta tua exquisívi, Dómine: nam et testimónia tua meditátio mea est.

Take away from me reproach and contempt, for I observe your decrees, O Lord. Your decrees are my delight.

Prayer after Communion

Quæsumus, omnipotens Deus: ut de percéptis munéribus grátias exhibéntes, benefícia potióra sumámus. Per Dóminum.

Almighty God, may our gratitude for the gifts we have received from you bring us even greater benefits. Through Jesus Christ.

EMBER SATURDAY OF SEPTEMBER

LONG FORM OF MASS

Hæc forma adhibenda est in Missa conventuali et in Missa in qua Ordines conferuntur; in ceteris Missis adhiberi potest forma brevior, ut infra.

This form is to be used in the conventual Mass and in the Mass during which orders are conferred. In other Masses the shorter form given below may be used.

In sabbato Quatuor Temporum Missa in qua Ordines conferuntur dicenda est de sabbato, etiam festo I vel II classis occurrente, et in ea additur, oratio ritualis "In collatione Ordinum" sub unica conclusione cum oratione quæ sequitur Dóminus vobiscum, et omittuntur omnes commemorationes, nisi sint privilegiatæ.

On Ember Saturday, the Mass during which orders are conferred is to be the Mass of the Saturday, even if a feast of class I or II occurs. In this Mass, the ritual prayer of the conferral of orders is added under one conclusion with the prayer which follows The Lord be with you; all commemorations are omitted, except privileged commemorations.

Entrance Antiphon

Ps. 94, 6-7

Veníte, adorémus Deum, et procidámus ante Dóminum, plorémus ante eum, qui fecit nos: quia ipse est Dóminus Deus noster. Ps. ibid., 1 Veníte, exsultémus Dómino: iubilémus Deo salutári nostro. Ps. Glória Patri. Veníte.

Come let us bow down in worship to God; let us kneel before the Lord. Let us weep before him who made us; for he is the Lord our God. Ps. ibid., 1 Come, let us sing joyfully to the Lord; let us acclaim God our Savior. Ps. Glory be to the Father. Come.

A Reading from the Book of Leviticus Levit. 23, 26–32

In those days the Lord said to Moses, “The tenth of this seventh month is the Day of Atonement, when you shall hold a sacred assembly and mortify yourselves and offer an oblation to the Lord. On this day you shall not do any work, because it is the Day of Atonement, when atonement is made for you before the Lord, your God. Anyone who does not mortify himself on this day shall be cut off from his people; and if anyone does any work on this day, I will remove him from the midst of his people. This is a perpetual statute for you and your descendants wherever you dwell: you shall do no work, but shall keep a sabbath of complete rest and mortify yourselves. Beginning on the evening of the ninth of the month, you shall keep this sabbath of yours from evening to evening, says the Lord Almighty.”

Gradual Ps. 78, 9 and 10 Pardon our sins, O Lord; why should the nations say, “Where is their God?” ℣. Help us, O God our savior; because of the glory of your name, O Lord, deliver us.

After the first reading and gradual: Let us pray. Let us kneel. Let us stand.

Prayer

O Lord, grant us through our fast the fullness of your grace, and let our abstinence make us stronger than our enemies. Through Jesus Christ.

In those days the Lord said to Moses: "On the fifteenth day of the seventh month, when you have gathered in the produce of the land, you shall celebrate a pilgrim feast of the Lord for a whole week. The first and the eighth day shall be days of complete rest. On the first day you shall gather foliage from majestic trees, branches of palms and boughs of myrtles and of valley poplars, and then for a week you shall make merry before the Lord, your God. By perpetual statute for you and your descendants you shall keep this pilgrim feast of the Lord for one whole week in the seventh month of the year. During this week every native Israelite among you shall dwell in booths, that your descendants may realize that, when I led the Israelites out of the land of Egypt, I made them dwell in booths, I, the Lord, am your God."

A Reading from the Prophet Daniel Dan. 3, 47-51

In those days the angel of the Lord went down into the furnace with Azaria and his companions, drove the fiery flames out of the furnace, and made the inside of the furnace as though a dew-laden breeze were blowing through it. The flames rose forty-nine cubits above the furnace, and spread out, burning the Chaldeans nearby, the king's men who stoked it. The fire in no way touched the young men or caused them pain or harm. Then these three in the furnace with one voice sang, glorifying and blessing God:

Léctio Epístolæ beáti Pauli
Apóstoli ad Hebræos
Hebr. 9, 2-12

Post velaméntum autem secúndum, tabernáculum, quod dicitur Sancta sanctorum: áureum habens thuríbulum, et arcam testaménti circumtáctam ex omni parte auro, in qua urna áurea habens manna, et virga Aaron, quæ frondúerat, et tábulæ testaménti, supérque eam erant Chérubim glóriæ obumbrántia propitiatórium: de quibus non est modo dicéndum per síngula. His vero ita compósitis; in prióri quidem tabernáculo semper introíbant sacerdótes, sacrificiórum officia consummántes: in secúndo autem semel in anno solus pöntifex, non sine ságuine, quem offert pro sua et pópuli ignorántia: hoc significánte Spíritu Sancto, nondum propalátam esse sanctorum viam, adhuc prióre tabernáculo habénte statum. Christus autem assístens pöntifex futurórum bonórum, per ámplius et perféctius tabernáculum non manufactum, id est, non huius creatiόνis; neque per ságuinem hircórum aut vitulórum, sed per próprium ságuinem introívit semel in Sancta, æténa redemptióne invénta.

Tractus Ps. 116, 1-2 Laudáte Dóminum, omnes gentes: et collaudáte

A Reading from the Epistle of blessed
Paul the Apostle to the Hebrews
Hebr. 9, 2-12

Brethren: The outer tent was set up and in it were the lampstand and the table and the showbread; it was called the Holy Place. Behind the second veil there was the tent called the Holy of Holies, with the golden altar of incense and the ark of the covenant completely covered with gold. In the ark were the manna, contained in a golden jar, the staff of Aaron which had blossomed, and the tablets of the Covenant. And over the Ark there were the glorious cherubim overshadowing the propitiatory. We cannot speak now about each of these.

That was the way in which they were arranged. The priests constantly went into the outer tent to fulfill their priestly duties, but the high priest alone went into the inner tent and that but once a year, and never without the blood which he offered for himself and for the sins of the people. By this the Holy Spirit was showing that as long as the outer tent was standing the way into the sanctuary had not yet been revealed. This was a symbol pointing to the present time. In accordance with that symbol, gifts and sacrifices were offered which could not bring the worshipper to perfection of conscience; they were simply ordinances which concerned the flesh imposed until the time of the new order, and having to do with food, drink and a variety of washings. But when Christ came as high priest of the good things which have come to be, he entered once for all into the sanctuary, passing through the greater and more perfect tent not made by hands, that is, not belonging to this creation. He entered not with the blood of goats and calves but with his own blood, and achieved eternal redemption.

steadfast is his kindness toward us, and the fidelity of the Lord endures forever.

✠ A Reading from the holy Gospel
according to Luke
Luke 13, 6–17

At that time Jesus spoke this parable to the crowds: “A man had a fig tree growing in his vineyard and he came looking for fruit on it, but did not find any. He said to the vine-dresser: ‘See here! For three years I have come in search of fruit on this fig tree and found none. Cut it down. Why should it take up space?’ In answer the man said: ‘Sir, leave it another year until I hoe around it and put manure to it. Then perhaps, it will bear fruit, but if not, you shall then have it cut down.’ ”

On a Sabbath day he was teaching in one of their synagogues. And there was a woman who for eighteen years was possessed by a spirit that weakened her. She was very stooped and quite incapable of standing up straight. When Jesus saw her he called her to him and said: “Woman, you are free of your infirmity.” He laid his hands on her and immediately she stood up straight and began thanking God. The chief of the synagogue, indignant that Jesus healed on the Sabbath, said to the congregation: “There are six days for working. Come on these days to be cured, but not on the Sabbath.” The Lord said in reply: “You hypocrites! Which of you does not let out his ox or his donkey from the manger on the Sabbath and take it for a drink? And this daughter of Abraham here, who has been in the bondage of Satan for eighteen years, ought she not to have been released from these shackles of hers on the Sabbath day?” When he said this, all his opponents were completely confounded, and the crowd rejoiced at all the marvels he was accomplishing.

✠ Sequéntia sancti Evangélii
secúndum Lucam
Luc. 13, 6–17

In illo témpore: Dicébat Iesus turbis hanc similitúdinem: Arborem fici habébat quidam plantátam in vénea sua, et venit quærens fructum in illa, et non invénit. Dixit autem ad cultórem véneæ: Ecce anni tres sunt ex quo vénio quærens fructum in ficúlnea hac, et non invénio: succide ergo illam: ut quid étiam terram óccupat? At ille respóndens, dicit illi: Dómine, dimítte illam et hoc anno, usque dum fódiam circa illam, et mittam stercora: et si quidem fécerit fructum: sin autem, in futúrum succides eam. Erat autem docens in synagóga eórum sábbatis. Et ecce múlier, quæ habébat spíritum infirmitátis annis decem et octo: et erat inclináta, nec omníno póterat sursum respícere. Quam cum vidéret Iesus, vocávit eam ad se, et ait illi: Múlier, dimíssa es ab infirmitáte tua. Et impósuit illi manus, et conféstim erécta est, et glorificábat Deum. Respóndens autem archisynagógus, indignans quia sábbato curásset Iesus, dicébat turbæ: Sex dies sunt, in quibus opórtet operári: in his ergo veníte, et curámini, et non in die sábbati. Respóndens autem ad illum Dóminus, dixit: Hypócritæ, unusquisque vestrum sábbato non solvit bovem suum, aut ásinum a præsepío, et ducit adaquáre? Hanc autem fíliam Abrahæ, quam alligávit sátnas, ecce decem et octo annis, non opórtuit solvi a vínculo isto die sábbati? Et cum hæc díceret, erubescébant omnes adversárii eius: et omnis pópulus gaudébat in univérsis, quæ glorióse fiébant ab eo.

A Reading from the Book of Leviticus Levit. 23, 26–32

In those days the Lord said to Moses, “The tenth of this seventh month is the Day of Atonement, when you shall hold a sacred assembly and mortify yourselves and offer an oblation to the Lord. On this day you shall not do any work, because it is the Day of Atonement, when atonement is made for you before the Lord, your God. Anyone who does not mortify himself on this day shall be cut off from his people; and if anyone does any work on this day, I will remove him from the midst of his people. This is a perpetual statute for you and your descendants wherever you dwell: you shall do no work, but shall keep a sabbath of complete rest and mortify yourselves. Beginning on the evening of the ninth of the month, you shall keep this sabbath of yours from evening to evening, says the Lord Almighty.”

Gradual Ps. 78, 9 and 10 Pardon our sins, O Lord; why should the nations say, “Where is their God?” ℣. Help us, O God our savior; because of the glory of your name, O Lord, deliver us.

After the first reading and gradual, The Lord be with you is said, without Let us kneel.

Lectio Epistolæ beati Pauli
Apóstoli ad Hebræos
Hebr. 9, 2-12

Fratres: Tabernaculum factum est primum, in quo erant candelabra, et mensa, et propositio panum, quæ dicitur Sancta. Post velamentum autem secundum, tabernaculum, quod dicitur Sancta sanctorum: aureum habens thuribulum, et arcam testamenti circumtectam ex omni parte auro, in qua urna aurea habens manna, et virga Aaron, quæ fronduerat, et tabulæ testamenti, superque eam erant Chérubim gloriæ obumbrantia propitiatorium: de quibus non est modo dicendum per singula. His vero ita compositis; in priori quidem tabernaculo semper introibant sacerdotes, sacrificiorum officia consummantes: in secundo autem semel in anno solus pontifex, non sine sanguine, quem offert pro sua et populi ignorantia: hoc significante Spiritu Sancto, nondum propalatum esse sanctorum viam, adhuc, priore tabernaculo habente statum. Quæ parabola est temporis instantis: iuxta quam munera, et hostiæ offeruntur, quæ non possunt iuxta conscientiam perfectum facere servientem, solummodo in cibis, et in potibus, et variis baptismatibus, et iustitiis carnis usque ad tempus correctionis impositis. Christus autem assistens pontifex futurorum bonorum, per amplius et perfectius tabernaculum non manufactum, id est, non huius creationis; neque per sanguinem hircorum aut vitulorum, sed per proprium sanguinem introivit semel in Sancta, æterna redemptione inventa.

Tractus Ps. 116, 1-2 Laudate Dominum, omnes gentes: et collaudate

A Reading from the Epistle of blessed
Paul the Apostle to the Hebrews
Hebr. 9, 2-12

Brethren: The outer tent was set up and in it were the lampstand and the table and the showbread; it was called the Holy Place. Behind the second veil there was the tent called the Holy of Holies, with the golden altar of incense and the ark of the covenant completely covered with gold. In the ark were the manna, contained in a golden jar, the staff of Aaron which had blossomed, and the tablets of the Covenant. And over the Ark there were the glorious cherubim overshadowing the propitiatory. We cannot speak now about each of these.

That was the way in which they were arranged. The priests constantly went into the outer tent to fulfill their priestly duties, but the high priest alone went into the inner tent and that but once a year, and never without the blood which he offered for himself and for the sins of the people. By this the Holy Spirit was showing that as long as the outer tent was standing the way into the sanctuary had not yet been revealed. This was a symbol pointing to the present time. In accordance with that symbol, gifts and sacrifices were offered which could not bring the worshipper to perfection of conscience; they were simply ordinances which concerned the flesh imposed until the time of the new order, and having to do with food, drink and a variety of washings. But when Christ came as high priest of the good things which have come to be, he entered once for all into the sanctuary, passing through the greater and more perfect tent not made by hands, that is, not belonging to this creation. He entered not with the blood of goats and calves but with his own blood, and achieved eternal redemption.

Tract Ps. 116, 1-2 Praise the Lord, all you nations; glorify him, all you peoples! ✠.

Ember Saturday of September

For steadfast is his kindness toward us, and the fidelity of the Lord endures forever.

✠ A Reading from the holy Gospel
according to Luke
Luke 13, 6–17

At that time Jesus spoke this parable to the crowds: “A man had a fig tree growing in his vineyard and he came looking for fruit on it, but did not find any. He said to the vine-dresser: ‘See here! For three years I have come in search of fruit on this fig tree and found none. Cut it down. Why should it take up space?’ In answer the man said: ‘Sir, leave it another year until I hoe around it and put manure to it. Then perhaps it will bear fruit, but if not, you shall then have it cut down.’”

On a Sabbath day he was teaching in one of their synagogues. And there was a woman who for eighteen years was possessed by a spirit that weakened her. She was very stooped and quite incapable of standing up straight. When Jesus saw her he called her to him and said: “Woman, you are free of your infirmity.” He laid his hands on her and immediately she stood up straight and began thanking God. The chief of the synagogue, indignant that Jesus healed on the Sabbath, said to the congregation: “There are six days for working. Come on these days to be cured, but not on the Sabbath.” The Lord said in reply: “You hypocrites! Which of you does not let out his ox or his donkey from the manger on the Sabbath and take it for a drink? And this daughter of Abraham here, who has been in the bondage of Satan for eighteen years, ought she not to have been released from these shackles of hers on the Sabbath day?” When he said this, all his opponents were completely confounded, and the crowd rejoiced at all the marvels he was accomplishing.

In illo témpore: Dicébat Iesus turbis hanc similitúdinem: Arborem fici habébat quidam plantátam in vénea sua, et venit quærens fructum in illa, et non invénit. Dixit autem ad cultórem véneæ: Ecce anni tres sunt ex quo vénio quærens fructum in ficúlnea hac, et non invénio: succíde ergo illam: ut quid étiam terram óccupat? At ille respóndens, dicit illi: Dómine, dimítte illam et hoc anno, usque dum fódiam circa illam, et mittam stércora: et si quidem fécerit fructum: sin autem, in futúrum succídes eam. Erat autem docens in synagóga eórum sábbatis. Et ecce múlier, quæ habébat spíritum infirmitátis annis decem et octo: et erat inclináta, nec omníno póterat sursum respícere. Quam cum vidéret Iesus, vocávit eam ad se, et ait illi: Múlier, dimíssa es ab infirmitáte tua. Et impósuit illi manus, et conféstim erécta est, et glorificábat Deum. Respóndens autem archisynagógus, indignans quia sábbato curásset Iesus, dicébat turbæ: Sex dies sunt, in quibus opórtet operári: in his ergo veníte et curámini, et non in die sábbati. Respóndens autem ad illum Dóminus, dixit: Hypócritæ, unusquisque vestrum sábbato non solvit bovem suum, aut ásinum a præsépio, et ducit adaquáre? Hanc autem filiam Abrahæ, quam alligávit sátanas, ecce decem et octo annis, non opórtuit solvi a vínculo isto die sábbati? Et cum hæc díceret, erubescébant omnes adversárii eius: et omnis pópulus gaudébat in univérsis, quæ glorióse fiébant ab eo.

A Reading from the Epistle of blessed
Paul the Apostle to the Corinthians
1 Cor. 1, 4–8

Brethren: I keep thanking my God always for you because of the favor which he gave you in Christ Jesus, in whom you have been enriched in every way, with every gift of speech and of knowledge. Thus the witness I bore to Christ has been confirmed among you, and you lack no spiritual gift as you wait for the revelation of our Lord Jesus Christ. He will strengthen you to the end, so that you will be blameless on the day of our Lord Jesus Christ.

Gradual Ps. 121, 1 and 7 I rejoiced because they said to me, “We will go up to the house of the Lord.” ℣. May peace be within your walls, prosperity in your buildings. Alleluia, alleluia. *℣. Matth. 9, 1–8

At that time Jesus got into a boat, made the crossing, and came back to his own town. Just then people came bringing to him a paralyzed man lying on a mat. When Jesus saw their faith, he said to the paralyzed man, “Courage, my son, your sins are forgiven.” With that, some of the scribes said to themselves, “This fellow is blaspheming!” Aware of what they were thinking, Jesus said, “What makes you harbor evil thoughts in your minds? Which is less trouble—to say, ‘Your sins are forgiven,’ or to say, ‘Stand up and walk’?—Now, in order that you people may realize that the Son of Man possesses authority on earth to forgive sins . . .” Then he said to the paralyzed man: “Stand up, pick up your mat and go

Then he said to his slaves, ‘The banquet is ready, but those who were invited proved unworthy. Therefore, go out to the country roads, and invite to the wedding anyone you find.’ So those slaves went out on the roads and collected all the people they found, bad as well as good, till the wedding hall was filled with guests. But when the king came in to meet the guests, he caught sight of a man there who was not properly dressed for a wedding. ‘My friend,’ he said to him, ‘how is it you came in here not properly dressed?’ But he had nothing to say. Brethren: Keep careful watch over your conduct. Do not act like fools, but like wise men make the most of every opportunity, for these are evil days. Therefore do not be thoughtless; but know how to discern the will of the Lord. Do not get drunk on wine, for that leads to debauchery. ✠ *A Reading from the holy Gospel
John 4, 46–53*

At that time there was at Capharnaum a royal official whose son was ill. When he heard that Jesus had come back from Judea to Galilee, he went to him and begged him to come down and restore the health of his son who was near death. Jesus replied, "Unless you people can see signs and wonders, you will not believe." "Sir," the royal official pleaded with him, "Come down before my little boy dies." Jesus told him, "Return home; your son is going to live." The man put his trust in the word Jesus had spoken to him and started for home. And when he was already on his way back, his servants met him with the message that his boy was going to live. When he asked them at what time he had shown improvement, they told him, "The fever left him yesterday afternoon about one." Now it was at that very hour, the father realized, that Jesus had told him, "Your son is going to live." And he believed and his whole household along with him.

At that time Jesus told his disciples this parable: “The kingdom of heaven may be compared to the situation of a king who decided to settle accounts with his ministers. When he began the auditing, one was brought in who owed him several million dollars. As he had no means of repaying it, his lord ordered him to be sold together with his wife and children and all his property, in payment of the debt. At that the minister prostrated himself in homage before him and said, ‘My lord, be patient with me, and I will pay you back in full.’ So his lord, being moved with pity, let the minister go and wrote off the debt. But when that same minister went out, he met one of his fellow officials who owed him about a hundred dollars. He seized him and throttled him. 'Pay back what you owe,' he demanded. His fellow official, dropping to his knees, began to plead with him, 'Be patient with me, and I will pay you back.' But he refused. Instead, he went off and had him put in jail until he could pay back what he owed. When his other fellow officials saw what had happened, they were very upset, and went to their lord and reported the whole incident. So his lord sent for him and said to him, 'You wicked servant! I wrote off the whole of your debt when you pleaded with me. Shouldn't you, in turn, have dealt mercifully with your fellow-servant, as I dealt with you?' Then in anger, his lord handed him over to the torturers, until he could pay back all that he owed him. So will my heavenly Father treat you unless each of you forgives his brother with all his heart."

Brethren: I am sure of precisely this in the Lord Jesus, that he who has begun in you a noble work will by the same token, carry it through to completion right up to the day of Christ Jesus. It is only natural that I should entertain such expectations in regard to all of you, since I hold all of you in my heart—you who are one and all sharers with me in this favor of imprisonment and of defense of the gospel and its firm establishment. God himself can testify how much I long for each of you with the affection of Christ Jesus! This is what I pray for: that your love may abound ever more and more in knowledge and depth of experience, so that you may learn to value those things that are really

At that time the Pharisees went off and began to plot how they might trap Jesus in speech. So they sent their disciples to him, accompanied by the Herodians, to say, “Master, we know you are a sincere man, and sincerely teach God’s way of life. You are unconcerned about anybody’s opinion, since you don’t act out of human respect. Then tell us your opinion about this case. Is it lawful to pay the poll-tax to the Emperor, or not?” But Jesus, realizing their bad faith, said to them, “Why are you trying to trip me up, you hypocrites? Show me the coin used for the poll-tax.” When they handed him a Roman coin, he asked them, “Whose head is this, and whose inscription?” “The Emperor’s,” they replied. At that he said to them, “Then give to the Emperor what is the Emperor’s, but to God what is God’s.”

Brethren: Join the others who follow my example, and observe the behavior of those who conduct themselves according to the pattern you have in us. For alas, many go about in a manner which shows them to be enemies of the cross of Christ, as I have often said to you and now say again tearfully. These people will end up in disaster! Their only god is their stomach; their “glory” is their very shamefulness. I mean those people whose sole concern is things of this world. For, as you know, we are citizens of heaven. And it is from there that we hopefully await expectantly the coming of our Savior, the Lord Jesus Christ. He will give a new form to this lowly body of ours, making it into an image of his own glorified body. This he will do by the power he has to bring all things into submission to his will. For these reasons, my brothers whom I so love and long for, you who are my joy and my crown, stand firm in the Lord, worthy of love. I plead with Evodia and Synteché: come to a mutual understanding in the Lord. Yes, and I ask you also, my true fellow-worker, go to their aid, for they have struggled at my side in promoting the gospel, along with Clement and my other co-workers, all of whose names are in the Book of Life.

At that time Jesus had not finished speaking to the crowds when, suddenly, a magistrate came along, did him reverence, and said, "My daughter has just died. But please come and lay your hand on her and she will come back to life." Jesus stood up and followed him, and his disciples did likewise. Now a woman who had suffered from hemorrhages for twelve years came along behind him, and touched the tassel on his cloak. "If only I can touch his cloak," she thought to herself, "I shall get well." Jesus turned around, saw her, and said, "Courage, my daughter! Your faith has made you well." That very moment the woman got well. When Jesus arrived at the magistrate's house and saw the flute-players and the crowd making a dreadful din, he said, "Get out of here. The little girl is not dead. She is asleep." At this, they laughed at him. But when the crowd had been put out, he entered, took her by the hand, and the little girl got up. News of this circulated around that entire district.

✠ A Reading from the holy Gospel
according to Matthew
Matth. 8, 1–13

At that time, when Jesus came down from the mountain, great crowds followed him. And suddenly a leper advanced, did him homage, and said to him, "Lord, if you will to do so, you can make me clean." He stretched out his hand, touched him and said, "I will to do so. Be clean." Immediately he was clean of leprosy. Then Jesus said to him, "See that you tell no one. Simply go and show yourself to the priest, and offer the gift Moses prescribed. That will be a proof for them." After he had entered Capharnaum, a centurion approached him with the urgent request, "Lord, my boy is at home in bed paralyzed, suffering terribly." He said to him, "I will come and cure him." "Lord," replied the centurion, "I am not worthy to have you enter my house. Just give an order, and my boy will get better. I myself know how authority works. I have soldiers under me, and if I give one man the order, 'On your way,' off he goes; or another the order, 'Come here,' he comes. If I tell my slave, 'Do this,' he does it." Jesus was surprised to hear this and he remarked to his followers, "I assure you, I have never found an Israelite with faith as great as this. Mark my words! Many from east and west will come and find a place at the banquet in the kingdom of heaven with Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, while the natural heirs of the kingdom will be driven outside into the darkness, where they will wail and gnash their teeth." To the centurion Jesus said, "Go home. It shall be done in answer to your faith." The boy got better that very moment.

✠ A Reading from the holy Gospel
according to Matthew
Matth. 8, 23–27

At that time Jesus got into the boat, and his disciples followed him. Without warning, a violent storm came up on the sea, so that the boat was being swamped by the waves. But he was sleeping soundly, so they came near and woke him, with the plea, “Lord, save us! We are going to drown!” But he said to them, “Why such cowardice? What weak faith you have!” Then he stood up, reprimanded the winds and the sea, and everything became very calm. The men expressed their surprise, “What sort of man is this, that the winds and the sea obey him?”

Brethren: As God's chosen ones, holy and beloved, you must put on heartfelt mercy, kindness, humility, meekness, patience. Bear with one another and forgive whatever grievances you may have against each other; forgive just as the Lord has forgiven you. And over all these put on love, which binds them together and makes them perfect. Let the peace of Christ rule over your hearts; for, as members of the one body, you have been called to that peace. Be thankful. Let the word of Christ dwell in you with all its richness; instruct and admonish one another with perfect wisdom. With heartfelt gratitude sing to God psalms, hymns, and inspired songs. At that time Jesus proposed another parable to the crowds: "The kingdom of heaven may be compared to the situation of a farmer who sowed good seed in his field. But when everyone was asleep, his enemy came along and sowed weeds all through his wheat and got away. Then when the crop came up and began to ripen, the weeds also made their appearance. So the owner's slaves came and said to him, 'Sir, didn't you sow good seed in your field? Then where do the weeds come from?' 'This is the work of an enemy,' he answered. His slaves said to him, 'Do you want us to go out and pull them up?' 'No,' he replied, 'Pull up the weeds, and you might pull up the wheat along with them. Let them both grow together until the harvest; then at harvest time, I will order the harvesters, "Collect the weeds first, and bundle them up to burn. But gather the wheat into my barn."'" of words only but also of power and the Holy Spirit and complete conviction. You know as well as we do what manner of men we proved to be for your sakes while we were in your midst. For your own part, you became imitators of us and, indeed, of the Lord, receiving the word in the face of great trial with the joy that comes from the Holy Spirit. Thus you became a model for all the believers of both Macedonia and Achaia. For the word of the Lord has resounded from your midst; not only in Macedonia and Achaia but throughout every region has come report of your faith towards God. Hence it is needless for us to say a thing. Rather, it is they who tell all about us: what kind of admittance we gained with you, and how you turned to God from idols, to serve the living and true God and to await the coming down from heaven of his Son whom he raised from the dead, Jesus, who delivers us from the wrath to come.

Lectio Epístolæ beáti Pauli Apóstoli ad Colossénses Coloss. 1, 9–14

Brethren: We have been praying for you unceasingly, asking that you may attain full knowledge of God's will through perfect wisdom and spiritual understanding. Thus you will lead a life worthy of the Lord and pleasing to him in every way; you will be fruitful in every kind of good deed and you will grow in the knowledge of God; by the might of his glory you will be endowed with great power to stand fast and endure joyfully whatever may come; and you will give thanks to the Father for making you worthy to share the lot of the saints in light. For he rescued us from the power of darkness and brought us into the kingdom of his beloved Son, through whom we have redemption and the forgiveness of our sins.

Fratres: Non cessámus pro vobis orántes, et postulántes ut impleámini agnitíone voluntátis Dei, in omni sapiéntia et intelléctu spiritali: ut ambulétis digne Deo per ómnia placéntes: in omni ópere bono fructificántes, et crescéntes in sciéntia Dei: in omni virtúte confortáti secúndum poténtiam claritátis eius in omni paciéntia, et longanimitáte cum gáudio, grátias ágéntes Deo Patri, qui dignos nos fecit in partem sortis sanctórum in lúmine: qui erípuit nos de potestáte tenebrárum, et tránstulit in regnum Filii dilectiónis suæ, in quo habémus redemptionem per sánguinem eius, remissionem peccatórum.

must flee to the mountains. If a man is on the roof terrace, he must not go down to get anything out of his house. If a man is in the field, he must not turn back to pick up his cloak. Unhappy the women who are pregnant or nursing their children at that period! Keep praying that you will not have to flee in the winter or on a sabbath. For then, there will be great distress surpassing any since the beginning of the world until now, or any that is to come. Indeed if that period had not been shortened, not a human being would have been saved. However, for the sake of the chosen that period will be shortened. Then, if anyone tells you, 'Look, here is the Messiah!' or 'There he is!' don't believe it. False messiahs and false prophets will appear displaying such great signs and wonders as to mislead (were that possible) even the chosen. Remember, I have foretold this to you. So if they tell you, 'Look, he is in the desert!' don't go out there, or, 'Look, he is hidden in the house!' don't believe it. Just as lightning from the east flashes clear to the west, so will be the coming of the Son of Man. It is where the dead body lies that the eagles will gather. Immediately after the distress of that period, 'the sun will be darkened, the moon will not shed her light, the stars will fall out of the sky, the hosts of heaven will be shaken loose.' And then the sign of the Son of Man will appear in the sky, 'while all the clans of earth' will strike their breasts when they see 'the Son of Man coming on the clouds of heaven' with power and great glory. He will dispatch his angels 'with a mighty trumpet-blast and they will assemble his chosen from the four winds, from one horizon to the other.' Learn a lesson from the example of the fig-tree. Once its branch becomes tender and sprouts leaves, you realize that summer is near. Likewise, when you see all these things, you will realize that he is near, standing at your door. I assure you, the men

ORDO MISSÆ

THE ORDINARY OF THE MASS

1. After the celebrant has made the required reverence to the altar, he signs himself with the sign of the cross, saying in an appropriate tone of voice:

In the name of the Father, and of the Son,
and of the Holy Spirit. Amen.

Then, with his hands joined, he adds:

☩. I will go to the altar of God.

℟. To God who gives joy to my youth.

2. And he continues immediately:

☩. Our help is in the name of the Lord.

℟. Who made heaven and earth.

Next, bowing deeply, he makes the following confession:

I confess to almighty God, to blessed Mary ever Virgin, to blessed Michael the Archangel, to blessed John the Baptist, to the holy apostles Peter and Paul, to all the saints, and to you, brethren, that I have sinned exceedingly in thought, word and deed; (he strikes his breast three times, saying:) through my fault, through my fault, through my most grievous fault. Therefore I beseech blessed Mary ever Virgin, blessed Michael the Archangel, blessed John the Baptist, the holy apostles Peter and Paul, all the saints, and you, brethren, to pray to the Lord our God for me.

The ministers or those present respond:

May almighty God have mercy on you,
forgive you your sins, and bring you to life everlasting.

The celebrant says: Amen, and stands erect. Next the ministers or those present make the confession. Where the celebrant has said to you, brethren; and you, brethren, they say to you, father and you, father.

1. Celebrans, facta altari debita reverentia, signans se signo crucis, congrua voce dicit:

In nómine Patris, et Fílii, et Spíritus Sancti. Amen.

Deinde, iunctis manibus, subiungit:

☩. Introíbo ad altáre Dei.

℟. Ad Deum qui lætíficat iuventútem meam.

2. Et statim addit:

☩. Adiutórium nostrum in nómine Dómini.

℟. Qui fecit cælum et terram.

Deinde, profunde inclinatus, facit confessionem:

Confíteor Deo omnipoténti, beátæ Mariæ semper Vírgini, beáto Michaéli Archángelo, beáto Ioánni Baptístæ, sanctis Apóstolis Petro et Paulo, ómnibus Sanctis, et vobis, fratres: quia peccávi nimis cogitatióne, verbo et ópere: (percutit sibi pectus ter, dicens:) mea culpa, mea culpa, mea máxima culpa. Ideo precor beátam Mariám semper Vírginem, beátum Michaélem Archángelum, beátum Ioánnem Baptístam, sanctos Apóstolos Petrum et Paulum, omnes Sanctos, et vos, fratres, oráre pro me ad Dóminum Deum nostrum.

Ministri vel circumstantes respondent:

Misereátur tui omnípotens Deus, et, dimíssis peccátis tuis, perdúcat te ad vitam ætérnam.

Sacerdos dicit: Amen et erigit se. Deinde ministri vel circumstantes faciunt confessionem: et ubi a celebrante dicebatur vobis, fratres, et vos fratres, ab eis dicitur tibi, pater, et te, pater.

Ordinary of the Mass

Postea celebrans dicit:

Misereatur vestri omnipotens Deus, et, dimissis peccatis vestris, perducat
vos ad vitam æternam.

℟. Amen.

Signat se, dicens:

Indulgentiam, absolutionem, et remissionem peccatorum nostrorum tribuat nobis omnipotens et misericors Dominus.

℟. Amen.

3. Et inclinatus prosequitur:

℣. Deus, tu conversus vivificabis nos.
℟. Et plebs tua lætabitur in te.
℣. Ostende nobis, Domine, misericordiam tuam.

℟. Et salutare tuum da nobis.

℣. Domine, exaudi orationem meam.

℟. Et clamor meus ad te veniat.

℣. Dominus vobiscum.

℟. Et cum spiritu tuo.

4. Et, extendens ac iungens manus, congrua voce dicit: Orémus, et, ascendens ad altare, dicit secreto:

Deinde, manibus iunctis super altare, inclinatus dicit:

5. Omnes supradictæ preces, non autem osculum altaris, omittuntur, quoties alia actio liturgica immediate præcessit.

6. In Missa solemnī, et in Missa cantata in qua adhibetur incensum, dummodo non sint defunctorum, celebrans benedicit

Afterwards the celebrant says:

May almighty God have mercy on you,
forgive you your sins, and bring you to life everlasting.

℟. Amen.

Making the sign of the cross upon himself, he says:

May the almighty and merciful Lord grant us pardon, absolution and remission of our sins.

℟. Amen.

3. Bowing, he continues:

℣. O God, you will give us life again.

℟. And your people will rejoice in you.

℣. Show us, O Lord, your kindness.

℟. And grant us your salvation.

℣. O Lord, hear my prayer.

℟. And let my cry come to you.

℣. The Lord be with you.

℟. And with your spirit.

4. Extending and joining his hands, the celebrant says: Let us pray, in an appropriate tone, and, going up to the altar, he says in a low voice:

Aufer a nobis, quæsumus, Domine, iniquitates nostras: ut ad Sancta sanctorum puris mereamur mentibus introire. Per Christum Dominum nostrum. Amen.

Then, placing his joined hands upon the altar and bowing, he says:

Oramus te, Domine, per mérita Sanctorum tuorum, (he kisses the altar) quorum reliquiae hic sunt, et omnium Sanctorum: ut indulgere digneris omnia peccata mea. Amen.

5. All the preceding prayers, but not the kissing of the altar, are omitted whenever another liturgical action immediately precedes the Mass.

6. In solemn Mass and in high Mass in which incense is used, provided they are not Masses for the dead, the celebrant blesses the incense, saying:

Ordinary of the Mass

Ab illo bene ✠ dicáris, in cuius honóre cremáberis. Amen.

Receiving the thurible from the deacon or server, he incenses the altar, saying nothing. Afterwards the deacon or the server incenses the celebrant.

7. In sung Masses and in low Masses celebrated with the people, after the kissing of the altar or the incensation of the altar, the celebrant goes to his seat, unless, according to the arrangement of the individual church, it seems to be more suitable for him to remain at the altar up to the collect, inclusively.

8. If the antiphon to the introit is chanted or recited by the schola or by the people, it is not said privately by the celebrant; otherwise the celebrant reads it.

9. The Kyrie follows. If it is chanted or recited by the people or by the schola, the celebrant does not say it privately, but he may chant or recite it together with the people or schola.

Lord, have mercy. Lord, have mercy.
Lord, have mercy.
Christ, have mercy. Christ, have mercy.
Christ, have mercy.
Lord, have mercy. Lord, have mercy.
Lord, have mercy.

10. Then the celebrant begins Glory to God in the highest, if it is to be said. If the Gloria is chanted or recited by the people or by the schola, he does not say it privately, but he may chant or recite it together with the people or schola.

incensum, dicens:

Ab illo bene ✠ dicáris, in cuius honóre cremáberis. Amen.

Et, accepto thuribulo a diacono vel ministrante, incensat altare nihil dicens. Postea diaconus vel ministrans incensat celebrantem.

7. In Missis in cantu et in Missis lectis cum populo celebratis, post osculum altaris aut ipsius incensationem, celebrans ad sedem accedit, nisi, iuxta cuiusque ecclesiae dispositionem, aptius videatur ut ad altare maneat usque ad orationem inclusive.

8. Antiphona ad introitum, si a schola vel a populo cantatur vel recitatur, a celebrante privatim non dicitur; secus celebrans eam legit.

9. Sequitur Kýrie, quod, si a populo vel a schola cantatur aut recitatur, celebrans privatim non dicit; potest tamen illud una cum populo vel schola cantare vel recitare.

℣. Dóminus vobíscum.

Omnes ℞. Et cum spíritu tuo.

Postea dicit: Orémus, et orationes, iuxta rubricas. Si celebrans est ad altare, illud osculatur antequam dicit Dóminus vobíscum.

12. Sequentur Lectiones, Epistola, graduale, tractus, vel Allelúia cum versu, aut sequentia, iuxta rubricas.

13. In Missa solemní, oratione expleta, subdiaconus librum sumit, ambonem ascendit vel accedit ad cancellos et, versus ad populum, Epistolam cantat vel legit; qua finita, nisi Missa sit defunctorum, vadit ad celebrantem, et, inclinatus, benedictionem recipit.

11. Next, turning to the people, he says:

℣. The Lord be with you.

All ℞. And with your spirit.

Afterwards he says: Let us pray, and the collects, in accordance with the rubrics. If the celebrant is at the altar, he kisses it before he says The Lord be with you.

12. The Lessons, Epistle, gradual, tract, Alleluia with its verse, or the sequence follow, in accordance with the rubrics.

13. In solemn Mass, after the collect has been completed, the subdeacon takes the book and goes up to the ambo or to the edge of the sanctuary area. There, turned to the people, he chants or recites the Epistle. Afterwards, unless it is a Mass for the dead, he goes to the celebrant and, bowing, receives the blessing.

Ordinary of the Mass

After the chanting of the gradual, unless it is a Mass for the dead, the celebrant, seated, places incense in the thurible and blesses it. After this the deacon brings the book of Gospels to the altar and places it in the center; then he kneels before the altar and says, with his hands joined:

Munda cor meum ac lábia mea, omnípotens Deus, qui lábia Isaíæ prophétæ cálculo mundásti igníto: ita me tua grata miseratióne dignáre mundáre, ut sanctum Evangélium tuum digne váleam nuntiáre. Per Christum Dóminum nostrum. Amen.

Then the deacon rises, takes the book from the altar, and goes to the celebrant. He bows and asks for the blessing, saying:

Iube, domne, benedícere.

Standing, the celebrant replies:

Dóminus sit in corde tuo et in lábii tuis: ut digne et competénter annúnties Evangélium suum: In nómine Patris, et Fílii, ✠ et Spíritus Sancti. Amen.

After receiving the blessing, the deacon goes with the other ministers, with incense and lights, to the place where the Gospel is to be sung. Standing there, he says, with his hands joined:

℣. The Lord be with you.

All ℟. And with your spirit.

As he says: A reading from the holy Gospel according to N., the deacon makes the sign of the cross with the thumb of his right hand upon the book at the beginning of the Gospels which is to be chanted or read, and then makes the sign of the cross upon his forehead, mouth, and breast. While all respond: Glory to you, O Lord, he incenses the book three times; he then continues the Gospel, with his hands joined. At the end of the Gospel, the subdeacon brings the book to the celebrant, who kisses the Gospel, saying: Per evangélica dicta deleántur nostra delícta.

At the end of the Gospel the celebrant is not incensed.

14. In high Mass or in low Mass with the participation of the people, the Lessons and the Epistle are proclaimed by a qualified lector or server, and the chants which occur between the Lessons are said by the schola or by the people or by the lector. The Gospel, however, may be proclaimed by a deacon

Post cantum gradualis, si Missa non est defunctorum, celebrans, sedens, imponit et benedicit incensum. Postea diaconus librum Evangeliorum ad altare defert et in medio deponit; deinde genuflexus ante altare, manibus iunctis, dicit:

Postea surgit, accipit librum de altari, accedit ad celebrantem et, inclinatus, petit benedictionem, dicens:

Iube, domne, benedícere.

Celebrans stans respondet:

Accepta benedictione, diaconus cum aliis ministris, incenso et luminaribus, accedit ad locum ubi Evangelium decantatur, ibique stans, iunctis manibus, dicit:

℣. Dóminus vobíscum.

Omnes ℟. Et cum spíritu tuo.

Et pronuntians: Inítium sive Sequéntia sancti Evangélii secúndum N., pollice dexteræ manus signat librum in principio Evangelii, quod est cantaturus vel lecturus, deinde seipsum in fronte, ore et pectore: et dum omnes respondent: Glória tibi, Dómine, incensat ter librum, postea prosequitur Evangelium iunctis manibus, Quo finito, subdiaconus defert librum celebranti, qui osculatur Evangelium, dicens: Per evangélica dicta deleántur nostra delícta.

In fine celebrans non incensatur.

lectore dicuntur; Evangelium autem a diacono vel ab alio sacerdote proferri potest. Quibus in casibus, omnia fiunt ut supra dictum est. Post Epistolam tamen lector vel ministrans a celebrante non benedicitur.

Si vero Evangelium a celebrante cantatur vel legitur, circa finem cantuum post Epistolam occurrentium, celebrans accedit ad infimum gradum altaris, ibique, profunde inclinatus, dicit:

Deinde pergit ad ambonem vel ad cancellos vel etiam ad altare, ibique Evangelium cantat vel legit, ut dictum est. Quo finito, librum osculatur, dicens: Per evangélica dicta, ut supra.

Deficiente vero lectore, seu ministrante idoneo, ipse celebrans in ambone vel ad cancellos Epistolam cantat vel legit, et, si necesse est, etiam cantus post ipsam occurrentes; stans deinde in eodem loco, ad altare conversus et profunde inclinatus, dicit Munda cor meum, et ad populum iterum conversus, Evangelium cantat vel legit. Potest tamen, si magis opportunum fuerit, omnes lectiones etiam ex altari proferre, sed versus ad populum.

In Missa cantata quæ non sit defunctorum, si adhibetur incensum, celebrans illud imponit et benedicit, antequam dicat Munda cor meum; initio Evangelii liber ter incensatur, in fine vero incensatio celebrantis omittitur.

15. In Missa quam sacerdos privatim celebrat, Epistolam et cantus post ipsam occurrentes ad latus dextrum altaris legit, deinde, delato a ministro libro ad aliud latus altaris, profunde inclinatus in medio, iunctis manibus dicit Munda cor meum et Iube Dómine, benedícere ac Dóminus sit in corde meo, etc., ut supra. Deinde, conversus ad librum, legit Evangelium, et in fine librum osculatur, dicens: Per evangélica dicta; ministrans autem respondet: Laus tibi, Christe.

or by a second priest. In these cases, everything is done as described above, but after the Epistle the lector or server is not blessed by the celebrant.

If the Gospel is chanted or recited by the celebrant, toward the end of the chants which occur after the Epistle, he goes to the lowest step of the altar and there, bowing deeply, says: Munda cor meum, as above, and Iube, Dómine, benedícere. Dóminus sit in corde meo et in lábiis meis: ut digne et competénter annúntiem Evangélium suum. Amen.

Next the celebrant goes to the ambo or to the edge of the sanctuary area or even to the altar, and there chants or recites the Gospel, as described above. At the end of the Gospel he kisses the book, saying: Per evangélica dicta, as above.

In the absence of a lector or qualified server, however, the celebrant himself chants or recites the Epistle at the ambo or at the edge of the sanctuary area and, if necessary, the chants which occur after the Epistle as well. Then, standing in the same place but turned toward the altar, he bows deeply and says Munda cor meum. Turning again to the people, he chants or recites the Gospel. He may, however, if it is more convenient, proclaim all the lessons from the altar, but turned toward the people.

In high Mass, unless it is a Mass for the dead, if incense is used the celebrant places it in the thurible and blesses it before he says Munda cor meum; at the beginning of the Gospel he incenses the book three times. At the end, the incensation of the celebrant is omitted.

15. In a Mass which a priest celebrates privately, he reads the Epistle and the chants occurring after it at the right-hand side of the altar. Then, while the book is carried by the minister to the other side of the altar, he bows deeply in the center and says, with his hands joined, Munda cor meum, Iube, Dómine, benedícere, and Dóminus sit in corde meo, etc., as above. Then, turned toward the book, he reads the Gospel and at the end kisses the book, saying: Per evangélica dicta; the server replies: Praise to you, O Christ.

Ordinary of the Mass

16. In Masses for the dead Munda cor meum is said, but the blessing is not sought, nor are lights and incense carried; the celebrant does not kiss the book and does not say Per evangélica dicta.

17. After the Gospel the celebrant gives the homily, if there is to be one, at the seat or altar, or at the ambo or the edge of the sanctuary area. After the homily the celebrant, at his seat or at the altar, begins I believe in one God, if it is to be said. If the creed is chanted or recited by the people or by the schola, the celebrant does not say it privately, but he may chant or recite it together with the people or schola.

16. In Missis defunctorum dicitur Munda cor meum, sed non petitur benedictio, non deferuntur luminaria neque incensum; celebrans non osculatur librum, nec dicit Per evangélica dicta.

17. Post Evangelium, celebrans, ad sedem aut ad altare, vel in ambone aut ad cancellos, homiliam, si facienda est, habet, eaque finita, ad sedem vel ad altare, inchoat, si dicendum est, Credo in unum Deum, quod si a populo vel a schola cantatur vel recitatur, privatim non dicit; potest tamen illud una cum populo vel schola cantare vel recitare.

I believe in one God.

The Father almighty, maker of heaven and earth,* and of all things visible and invisible*

And I believe in one Lord, Jesus Christ,* the only-begotten Son of God.*

Born of the Father before all ages.*

God of God, Light of Light, true God of true God.*

Begotten, not made,* of one substance with the Father.*

By whom all things were made.*

Who for us men and for our salvation came down from heaven.*

And he became flesh by the Holy Spirit of the Virgin Mary:*

and was made man.*

Credo in unum Deum

Patrem omnipotentem, factorem cæli et terræ, visibílium ómnium et invisibílium. Et in unum Dóminum Iesum Christum, Fílium Dei unigénitum. Et ex Patre natum ante ómnia sæcula. Deum de Deo, lumen de lúmine, Deum verum de Deo vero. Génitum, non factum, consubstantiálem Patri: per quem ómnia facta sunt. Qui propter nos hómines et propter nostram salútem descendit de cælis. Et incarnátus est de Spíritu Sancto ex María Vírgine: et homo factus est. Crucifíxus etiam pro nobis: sub Póntio Piláto passus, et sepúltus est. Et resurrexit tértia die, secúndum Scriptúras. Et ascendit in cælum: sedet ad déxteram Patris. Et íterum ventúrus est cum glória iudicáre vivos et mórtuos: cuius regni non erit finis. Et in Spíritum Sanctum, Dóminum, et vivificántem: qui ex Patre Filióque procedít. Qui cum Patre et Fílio simul adorátur et conglorificátur: qui locúsus est per Prophétas. Et unam sanctam cathólicam et apostólicam Ecclesiám. Confíteor unum baptísma in remissionem peccatórum. Et exspécto resurrectionem mortuórum. Et vitam ventúri sáeculi. Amen.

18. Deinde, iuxta cuiusque loci consuetudinem, fit oratio communis seu fidelium, quam celebrans aut ad sedem aut ex altari aut in ambone vel ad cancellos moderatur. Symbolo itaque expleto, celebrans versus ad populum dicit:

☩. Dóminus vobíscum,

✠. Et cum spírítu tuo.

Deinde subiungit: Orémus, et fit oratio fidelium. Si celebrans est ad altare, illud osculatur antequam dicat: Dóminus vobíscum; secus cum ad altare accedit, oratione fidelium completa.

Si vero oratio fidelium non est facienda, celebrans altare osculatur; deinde, versus ad populum, dicit:

☩. Dóminus vobíscum.

✠. Et cum spírítu tuo.

Postea subiungit: Orémus.

He was also crucified for us,* suffered under Pontius Pilate, and was buried.*

And on the third day he rose again, according to the Scriptures.*

He ascended into heaven and sits at the right hand of the Father.*

He will come again in glory to judge the living and the dead.*

And of his kingdom there will be no end.*
And I believe in the Holy Spirit, the Lord and Giver of life,*

who proceeds from the Father and the Son.*

Who together with the Father and the Son is adored and glorified,*

and who spoke through the prophets.*

And one holy, Catholic, and Apostolic Church.*

I confess one baptism for the forgiveness of sins.*

And I await the resurrection of the dead.*

And the life of the world to come. Amen.

18. Next, according to the local custom, the common prayer or prayer of the faithful takes place. The celebrant directs this prayer at his seat, the altar, the ambo, or the edge of the sanctuary area. At the end of the creed, the celebrant turns toward the people and says:

☩. The Lord be with you.

✠. And with your spirit.

Then he adds: Let us pray, and the prayer of the faithful begins. If the celebrant is at the altar, he kisses it before he says: The Lord be with you; otherwise he kisses it when he goes to the altar at the completion of the prayer of the faithful.

But if the prayer of the faithful is not to be said, the celebrant kisses the altar; then, turning to the people, he says:

☩. The Lord be with you.

✠. And with your spirit.

After the response he adds: Let us pray.

Ordinary of the Mass

19. The antiphon to the offertory follows. If this is chanted or recited by the schola or by the people, the celebrant does not read it privately.

20. In solemn Mass, the deacon hands the paten with the host to the celebrant; in other Masses the priest himself takes the paten with the host, which he offers, saying:

Súscipe, sancte Pater, omnípotens ætérne Deus, hanc immaculátam hóstiám, quam ego indígnus fámulus tuus óffero tibi Deo meo, vivo et vero, pro innumerabílibus peccátis, et offensió nibus, et negligéntiis meis, et pro ómnibus circumstántibus, sed et pro ómnibus fidélibus christiánis vivis atque defúntis: ut mihi et illis proficiat ad salútem in vitam ætérnam. Amen.

Then, making a cross with the paten, the celebrant places the host upon the corporal.

21. The deacon ministers the wine, the subdeacon the water, for the chalice. If Mass is celebrated without sacred ministers, the celebrant pours both wine and water. Making the sign of the cross, he blesses the water to be mixed in the chalice, saying:

Deus, qui humánæ substántiæ dignitátem mirabíliter condidísti, et mirabílius reformásti: da nobis, per huius aquæ et vini mystérium, eius divinitátis esse consórtes, qui humanitátis nostræ fíeri dignátus est párticeps, Iesus Christus, Fílius tuus, Dóminus noster: Qui tecum vivit et regnat in unitáte Spíritus Sancti, Deus, per ómnia sæcula sæculórum. Amen.

In Masses for the dead, the preceding prayer is said, but the water is not blessed.

22. Next the celebrant takes the chalice and offers it, saying: Offérimus tibi, Dómine, cálicem salutáris, tuam deprecántes cleméntiam: ut in conspéctu divínæ maiestátis tuæ, pro nostra et totíus mundi salúte, cum odóre suavitátis ascéndat. Amen.

Then he makes the sign of the cross with the chalice, and places it upon the corporal, covering it with the pall.

19. Sequitur antiphona ad offertorium, quam celebrans privatim non legit, si a schola vel a populo cantatur vel recitatur.

20. Si Missa est solemnis, diaconus porrigit celebranti patenam cum hostia: secus sacerdos ipse accipit patenam cum hostia, quam offerens, dicit:

Deinde, faciens crucem cum eadem patena, deponit hostiam super corporale.

21. Diaconus ministrat vinum, subdiaconus aquam in calice; vel, si Missa sine sacris ministris celebratur, utrumque infundit celebrans, et aquam miscendam in calice benedicit signo crucis, dicens:

In Missis defunctorum dicitur prædicta oratio: sed aqua non benedicitur.

22. Postea accipit calicem, et offert, dicens:

Deinde facit signum crucis cum calice, et illum ponit super corporale, et palla cooperit.

Ordinary of the Mass

23. Tum iunctis manibus super altare, aliquantulum inclinatus, dicit:

23. With his hands joined upon the altar and bowing somewhat, the celebrant then says:

In spírítu humilitátis et in ánimo contríto suscipiámur a te, Dómine: et sic fiat sacrificium nostrum in conspéctu tuo hódie, ut pláceat tibi, Dómine Deus.

24. Erectus expandit manus, easque in altum porrectas iungens, elevatis oculis, et statim demissis, dicit:

24. Standing erect, he extends, raises, and joins his hands, lifts up his eyes and immediately lowers them, saying:

Veni, sanctificátor omnípotens ætérne Deus: he blesses the offerings, continuing: et béne ✠ dic hoc sacrificium, tuo sancto nómini præparátum.

25. Postea, in Missa solemní et in Missa cantata in qua adhibetur incensum, celebrans benedicit incensum, dicens:

25. Afterwards, in solemn Mass and in high Mass in which incense is used, the celebrant blesses the incense, saying:

Per intercessiónem beáti Michaélis Archángeli, stantis a dextris altáris incénsi, et ómnium electórum suórum, incensum istud dignétur Dóminus bene ✠ dícere, et in odórem suavitátis accípere. Per Christum Dóminum nostrum. Amen.

26. Et accepto thuribulo a diacono vel ministrante, incensat oblata, modo in rubricis præscripto, dicens:

26. Taking the thurible from the deacon or the server, the celebrant incenses the offerings in the manner prescribed in the rubrics, saying:

Incensum istud a te benedíctum ascéndat ad te, Dómine: et descéndat super nos misericórdia tua.

Deinde incensat altare, dicens:

Then he incenses the altar, saying:

Ps. 140, 2-4

Dirigátur, Dómine, orátio mea, sicut incensum, in conspéctu tuo: elevátio mánuum meárum sacrificium vespertínium. Pone, Dómine, custódiam ori meo, et óstium circumstántiæ lábiis meis: ut non declínet cor meum in verba malítiae, ad excusándas excusatiónes in peccátis.

Ordinary of the Mass

When he returns the thurible to the deacon or the server, he says:

Accéndat in nobis Dóminus ignem sui amóris et flammam ætérnæ caritátis. Amen.

Then the celebrant is incensed by the deacon or the server, and afterwards the others are incensed in order.

27. Meanwhile the priest washes his hands, saying:

Ps. 25, 6–12

Lavábo inter innocéntes manus meas: et circúmdabo altáre tuum, Dómine:

Ut áudiam vocem laudis, et enárrem univérsa mirabília tua.

Dómine, diléxi decórem domus tuæ, et locum habitatiónis glóriæ tuæ.

Ne perdas cum ímpiis, Deus, ánimam meam, et cum viris sánguinum vitam meam:

In quorum mánibus iniquitátes sunt: délixtera eórum repléta est munéribus.

Ego autem in innocéntia mea ingrèssus sum: rédime me, et miserére mei.

Pes meus stetit in dirécto: in ecclésiis benedícam te, Dómine.

Glória Patri, et Fílio, et Spirítui Sancto.

Sicut erat in princípio, et nunc, et semper: et in sæcula sæculórum. Amen.

In Masses for the dead, and during Passion time in Masses of the season, Glória Patri is omitted.

28. Then, bowing at the center of the altar and placing his joined hands upon the altar, the celebrant says:

Súscipe, sancta Trínitas, hanc oblatiόνem, quam tibi offérimus ob memóriam passiónis, resurrectiόνis et ascensiónis Iesu Christi Dómini nostri: et in honórem beátæ Maríæ semper Vírginis, et beáti Ioánnis Baptístæ, et sanctórum Apostolórum Petri et Pauli, et istórum, et ómnium Sanctórum: ut illis profíciat ad honórem,

Dum reddit thuribulum diacono vel ministranti, dicit:

Postea incensatur celebrans a diacono vel ministrante, deinde alii per ordinem.

27. Interim sacerdos lavat manus, dicens:

In Missis defunctorum, et tempore Passionis in Missis de Tempore omittitur Glória Patri.

28. Deinde, inclinatus in medio altaris, iunctis manibus super eo, dicit:

Ordinary of the Mass

nobis autem ad salutem: et illi pro nobis intercedere dignentur in caelis, quorum memoriam agimus in terris. Per eundem Christum Dominum nostrum. Amen.

29. Postea osculatur altare et, versus ad populum, extendens et iungens manus, congrua voce, dicit:

Orate, fratres: ut meum ac vestrum sacrificium acceptabile fiat apud Deum Patrem omnipotentem.

Minister seu circumstantes respondent:
Suscipiat Dominus sacrificium de manibus tuis ad laudem, et gloriam nominis sui, ad utilitatem quoque nostram, totiusque Ecclesiae suae sanctae.

30. Deinde, manibus extensis, absolute sine Orémus cantat vel clara voce dicit orationes super oblata, usque ad Per omnia saecula saeculorum inclusive.

31. Postea, manibus super altare positis, dicit: Dominus vobiscum; eas autem aliquantulum elevat, cum dicit: Sursum corda, et iungit cum dicit: Grátias agámus Dómino Deo nostro.

Deinde disiungit manus, et disiunctas tenet usque ad finem praefationis: qua finita, iterum iungit eas, et una cum ministris, clero et populo cantat vel dicit Sanctus-Benedictus:

29. Afterwards he kisses the altar and turns to the people. Extending and joining his hands, he says in an appropriate tone of voice:

Brethren, pray that my sacrifice and yours may be acceptable to God the Father almighty.

The minister or those present reply:

May the Lord receive the sacrifice from your hands to the praise and glory of his name, for our welfare and that of all his holy Church.

30. Extending his hands, the celebrant chants or recites in a clear voice, without Let us pray, the prayers over the gifts, as far as forever and ever, inclusively.

31. After this, placing his hands upon the altar, the celebrant says: The Lord be with you. Then he lifts his hands somewhat while he says: Lift up your hearts, and joins his hands while he says: Let us give thanks to the Lord our God.

Then he extends his hands and holds them extended up to the end of the preface. At the end of the preface he joins his hands again and chants or recites the Sanctus-Benedictus together with the ministers, the clergy, and the people.

Preface of Christmas

PREFACE OF CHRISTMAS

Sequens præfatio dicitur: a) tamquam propria in Missis de Nativitate Domini et de eiusdem octava, necnon in festo Purificationis B. Mariæ Virg.; b) tamquam de Tempore, infra octavam Nativitatis Domini, etiam in Missis quæ secus præfationem propriam habent, exceptis iis Missis quæ præfationem propriam de divinis mysteriis vel Personis habent; et a die 2 ad 5 ianuarii.

℣. Dóminus vobíscum.

℞. Et cum spírítu tuo.

℣. Sursum corda.

℞. Habémus ad Dóminum.

℣. Grátias agámus Dómino Deo nostro.

℞. Dignum et iustum est.

Vere dignum et iustum est, æquum et salutáre, nos tibi semper et ubíque grátias ágere: Dómine, sancte Pater, omnípotens ætérne Deus: Quia per incarnáti Verbi mystérium, nova mentis nostræ óculis lux tuæ claritátis infúlsit: ut dum visibíliter Deum cognóscimus, per hunc in invisibílium amórem rapiámur. Et ídeo cum Angelis et Archángelis, cum Thronis et Dominationibus, cumque omni militía cæléstis exércitus, hymnum glóriæ tuæ cánimus, sine fine dicétes:

Sanctus, Sanctus, Sanctus Dóminus Deus Sábaoth. Pleni sunt cæli et terra glória tua. Hosánna in excélsis. Benedíctus qui venit in nómine Dómini. Hosánna in excélsis.

Infra Actionem Communicántes propr., ut in Canone. In prima vero Missa Nativitatis Domini dicitur: Et noctem sacratíssimam celebrántes, qua etc.; deinde semper dicitur: diem sacratíssimum celebrántes, quo etc., usque ad octavam Nativitatis Domini inclusive.

The following preface is said: (a) as a proper preface in the Masses of Christmas and its octave, as well as on the feast of the Purification of the Blessed Virgin Mary; (b) as a seasonal preface, during the octave of Christmas even in Masses which otherwise have a proper preface, with the exception of those Masses which have a preface proper to the divine mysteries or divine Persons; and from January 2 to January 5.

℣. The Lord be with you.

℞. And with your spirit.

℣. Lift up your hearts.

℞. We have lifted them up to the Lord.

℣. Let us give thanks to the Lord our God.

℞. It is right and just.

It is truly right and just, proper and helpful toward salvation, that we always and everywhere give thanks to you, O Lord, holy Father, almighty and eternal God; for the brightness of your glory has made itself manifest to the eyes of our mind by the mystery of the Word made flesh, and we are drawn to the love of things unseen through him whom we acknowledge as God, now seen by men. Therefore with the Angels and Archangels, the Thrones and Dominations, and all the militant hosts of heaven, we continuously praise your glory in song, and say:

Holy, holy, holy Lord God of hosts.*

Heaven and earth are filled with your glory.*

Hosanna in the highest.*

Blessed is he who comes in the name of the Lord.*

Hosanna in the highest.

During the Canon, the proper Communicántes, as given below. In the first Mass of Christmas: Et noctem sacratíssimam celebrántes, qua etc.; thereafter: Diem sacratíssimum celebrántes, quo etc., up to the Octave of Christmas inclusively.

Preface of the Epiphany

PREFACE OF THE EPIPHANY OF THE LORD

Sequens præfatio dicitur: a) tamquam propria in Missis de festo Epiphaniæ et de Commemoratione Baptismatis D. N. Iesu Christi; b) tamquam de Tempore diebus a 7 ad 13 ianuarii.

℣. Dóminus vobiscum.

℟. Et cum spíritu tuo.

℣. Sursum corda.

℟. Habémus ad Dóminum.

℣. Grátias agámus Dómino Deo nostro.

℟. Dignum et iustum est.

Vere dignum et iustum est, æquum et salutáre, nos tibi semper et ubique grátias ágere: Dómine, sancte Pater, omnipotens ætérne Deus: Quia, cum Unigénitus tuus in substántia nostræ mortalitátis apparuit, nova nos immortalitátis suæ luce reparávit. Et ideo cum Angelis et Archángelis, cum Thronis et Dominatió nibus, cumque omni militiá cælestis exercitus, hymnum glóriæ tuæ cánimus, sine fine dicéntes:

Sanctus, Sanctus, Sanctus Dóminus Deus Sábaoth. Pleni sunt cæli et terra glória tua. Hosánna in excélsis. Benedictus qui venit in nómine Dómini. Hosánna in excélsis.

Infra Actionem Communicántes propr., ut in Canone. Et dicitur in festo tantum.

The following preface is said: (a) as a proper preface in the Masses of the feast of the Epiphany and of the Commemoration of the Baptism of our Lord Jesus Christ; (b) as a seasonal preface, from January 7 to January 13.

℣. The Lord be with you.

℟. And with your spirit.

℣. Lift up your hearts.

℟. We have lifted them up to the Lord.

℣. Let us give thanks to the Lord our God.

℟. It is right and just.

It is truly right and just, proper and helpful toward salvation, that we always and everywhere give thanks to you, O Lord, holy Father, almighty and eternal God; for your only-begotten Son restored our human nature by the new light of his immortality when he appeared in the substance of man's mortal nature. Therefore with the Angels and Archangels, the Thrones and Dominations, and all the militant hosts of heaven, we continuously praise your glory in song, and say:

Holy, holy, holy Lord God of hosts.*

Preface of Lent

PREFACE OF LENT

The following preface is said: (a) as a proper preface in seasonal Masses from Ash Wednesday to the Saturday before the first Sunday of Passion time; (b) as a seasonal preface in the other Masses which are celebrated during that period and which lack a proper preface.

℣. The Lord be with you.

℟. And with your spirit.

℣. Lift up your hearts.

℟. We have lifted them up to the Lord.

℣. Let us give thanks to the Lord our God.

℟. It is right and just.

It is truly right and just, proper and helpful toward salvation, that we always and everywhere give thanks to you, O Lord, holy Father, almighty and eternal God, for using our bodily fasting to curb our vices, to elevate our minds, and to bestow upon us virtue and its reward, through Christ our Lord. Through the same Christ the Angels acclaim your majesty, the Dominations adore you, and the Powers worship in awe. Through him also the heavens and the Virtues of heaven join the blessed Seraphim in one grand chorus of joyous praise. We beg you, let our voices blend with theirs, as in humble praise we say:

Holy, holy, holy Lord God of hosts.*
Heaven and earth are filled with your glory.*
Hosanna in the highest.*

Blessed is he who comes in the name of the Lord.*

Hosanna in the highest.

Sequens præfatio dicitur: a) tamquam propria in Missis de Tempore a feria IV cinerum usque ad sabbatum ante dominicam I Passionis; b) tamquam de Tempore in ceteris Missis quæ celebrantur eodem tempore, et præfatione propria carent.

℣. Dóminus vobíscum.

℟. Et cum spírítu tuo.

℣. Sursum corda.

℟. Habémus ad Dóminum.

℣. Grátias agámus Dómino Deo nostro.

℟. Dignum et iustum est.

Vere dignum et iustum est, æquum et salutáre, nos tibi semper et ubíque grátias ágere: Dómine, sancte Pater, omnipotens ætérne Deus: Qui corporáli ieiúnio vítia cómprimis, mentem élevas, virtútem largírís, et præmia: per Christum Dóminum nostrum. Per quem maiestátem tuam laudant Angeli, adórant Dominatiónes, tremunt Potestátes. Cæli cælórúmque Virtútes, ac beáta Séraphim, sócia exsultatióne concélebrant. Cum quibus et nostras voces ut admítteri iúbeas, deprecámur, súpplici confessióne dicétes:

Sanctus, Sanctus, Sanctus Dóminus Deus Sábaoth. Pleni sunt cæli et terra glória tua. Hosánna in excélsis. Benedictus qui venit in nómine Dómini. Hosánna in excélsis.

Preface of the Holy Cross

PREFACE OF THE HOLY CROSS

Sequens præfatio dicitur: a) tamquam propria in Missis de Tempore a dominica I Passionis usque ad feriam V in Cena Domini; in Missis tam festivis quam votivis de sancta Cruce, de Passione Domini et instrumentis Passionis Domini, de pretiosissimo Sanguine D.N. Iesu Christi, de Ssmo Redemptore; b) tamquam de Tempore in omnibus Missis a dominica I Passionis usque ad feriam IV Hebdomadæ sanctæ, quæ præfatione propria carent.

℣. Dóminus vobíscum.

℞. Et cum spíritu tuo.

℣. Sursum corda.

℞. Habémus ad Dóminum.

℣. Grátias agámus Dómino Deo nostro.

℞ Dignum et iustum est.

Vere dignum et iustum est, æquum et salutáre, nos tibi semper et ubíque grátias ágere: Dómine, sancte Pater, omnipotens ætérne Deus: Qui salútem húmáni géneris in ligno Crucis constituísti: ut, unde mors oriebátur, inde vita resúrgeret; et qui in ligno vincébat, in ligno quoque vincerétur: per Christum Dóminum nostrum. Per quem maiestátem tuam laudant Angeli, adórant Dominatiónes, tremunt Potestátes. Cæli, cælorúmque Virtútes, ac beáta Séraphim, sócia exsultatióne concélebrant. Cum quibus et nostras voces ut admítte iúbeas, deprecámur, súpplíci confessióne dicétes:

Sanctus, Sanctus, Sanctus Dóminus Deus Sábaoth. Pleni sunt cæli et terra glória tua. Hosánna in excélsis. Benedictus qui venit in nómine Dómini. Hosánna in excélsis.

The following preface is said: (a) as a proper preface in seasonal Masses from the first Sunday of Passion time to Holy Thursday; in festive and votive Masses of the Holy Cross, the Passion of the Lord, the Instruments of the Passion of the Lord, the Precious Blood of our Lord Jesus Christ, and the Holy Redeemer; (b) as a seasonal preface in all Masses which lack a proper preface from the first Sunday of Passion time to Wednesday of Holy Week.

℣. The Lord be with you.

℞. And with your spirit.

℣. Lift up your hearts.

℞. We have lifted them up to the Lord.

℣. Let us give thanks to the Lord our God.

℞. It is right and just.

It is truly right and just, proper and helpful toward salvation, that we always and everywhere give thanks to you, O Lord, holy Father, almighty and eternal God; for you ordained that the salvation of mankind should be accomplished upon the tree of the cross, in order that life might be restored through the very instrument which brought death, and that Satan, who conquered us through the tree, might also be overcome by it; through Christ our Lord. Through the same Christ the Angels acclaim your majesty, the Dominations adore you, and the Powers worship in awe. Through him also the heavens and the Virtues of heaven join the blessed Seraphim in one grand chorus of joyous praise. We beg you, let our voices blend with theirs, as in humble praise we say: Holy, holy, holy Lord God of hosts.*

Heaven and earth are filled with your glory.*

Hosanna in the highest.*

Blessed is he who comes in the name of the Lord.* Hosanna in the highest.

Preface for the Mass of the Chrism

PREFACE FOR THE MASS OF THE CHRISM

The following preface for the Mass of the Chrism is said on Holy Thursday in that Mass.

℣. The Lord be with you.
℟. And with your spirit.
℣. Lift up your hearts.
℟. We have lifted them up to the Lord.
℣. Let us give thanks to the Lord our God.
℟. It is right and just.

It is truly right and just, proper and helpful toward salvation, that we humbly implore your mercy to strengthen this chrism and so make it a sacrament of life and perfect salvation for those who are to be remade in the spiritual bath of baptism. After the corruption of their first birth has been submerged, may each one of them, when this sacred oil is poured on him, be a holy temple redolent with the sweet fragrance of innocent life pleasing to you. By this mystery which you have instituted, richly bestow upon them royal, priestly and prophetic honor and clothe them with the robe of immortality; through Christ our Lord. Through the same Christ the Angels acclaim your majesty, the Dominations adore you, and the Powers worship in awe. Through him also the heavens and the Virtues of heaven join the blessed Seraphim in one grand chorus of joyous praise. We beg you, let our voices blend with theirs, as in humble praise we say:

Holy, holy, holy Lord God of hosts.*
Heaven and earth are filled with your glory.*
Hosanna in the highest.*

Blessed is he who comes in the name of the Lord.* Hosanna in the highest.

Sequens præfatio de Missa Chrismatis dicitur feria V in Cena Domini in sua Missa.

℣. Dóminus vobíscum.
℟. Et cum spírítu tuo.
℣. Sursúm corda.
℟. Habémus ad Dóminum.
℣. Grátias agámus Dómino Deo nostro.
℟. Dignum et iustum est.

Vere dignum et iustum est, æquum et salutáre, cleméntiam tuam suppliciter obsecráre, ut spirituális lavácri baptísimo renovándis creatúram chrismatis in sacraméntum perfectæ salutis vitæque confirmes; ut sanctificatióne unctiónis infúsa, corruptiÓne primæ nativitátis absorpta, sanctum uniuscuiúsque templum acceptábilis vitæ innocéntiæ odóre redoléscat; ut secúndum constitutiÓnis tuæ sacraméntum, régio et sacerdotáli propheticóque honóre perfúsi, vestiménto incorrupti múnere induántur per Christum Dóminum nostrum. Per quem maiestátem tuam laudant Angeli, adórant DominatiÓnes, tremunt Potestátes. Cæli, cælorúmque Virtútes, ac beáta Séraphim, sócia exsultatiÓne concélebrant. Cum quibus et nostras voces, ut admítte iúbeas, deprecámur, súpplici confessiÓne dicéntes:

Sanctus, Sanctus, Sanctus Dóminus Deus Sábaoth. Pleni sunt cæli et terra glória tua. Hosánna in excélsis. Benedictus qui venit in nómine Dómini. Hosánna in excélsis.

EASTER PREFACE

Sequens præfatio dicitur: a) tamquam propria in Missis de Tempore in Missa Vigiliæ paschalis usque ad vigiliam Ascensionis Domini; b) tamquam de Tempore in ceteris Missis quæ celebrantur eodem tempore, et præfatione propria carent.

In Missa Vigiliæ paschalis dicitur: in hac potissimum nocte; a die Paschæ usque ad sabbatum in albis inclusive: in hac potissimum die; alias: in hoc potissimum.

℣. Dóminus vobíscum.

℟. Et cum spíritu tuo.

℣. Sursum corda.

℟. Habémus ad Dóminum.

℣. Grátias agámus Dómino Deo nostro.

℟. Dignum et iustum est.

Vere dignum et iustum est, æquum et salutáre: Te quidem, Dómine, omni témpore, sed in hac potissimum die (vel in hac potissimum nocte vel in hoc potissimum) gloriósius prædicáre, cum Pascha nostrum immolátus est Christus. Ipse enim verus est Agnus, qui ábstulit peccáta mundi. Qui mortem nostram moriéndo destrúxit, et vitam resurgéndo reparávit. Et ideo cum Angelis et Archángelis, cum Thronis et Dominationibus, cumque omni militía cæléstis exércitus, hymnum glóriæ tuæ cánimus, sine fine dicétes:

Sanctus, Sanctus, Sanctus Dóminus Deus Sábaoth. Pleni sunt cæli et terra glória tua. Hosánna in excélsis. Benedíctus qui venit in nómine Dómini. Hosánna in excélsis.

Infra Actionem Communicántes et Hanc ígitur propr., ut infra in Canone.

Sic dicitur a Missa Vigiliæ paschalis usque ad sabbatum in albis inclusive. In Missa autem Vigiliæ paschalis dicitur: et noctem sacratíssimam celebrántes.

The following preface is said: (a) as a proper preface in seasonal Masses from the Mass of the Easter Vigil to the Vigil of the Ascension of the Lord; (b) as a seasonal preface in other Masses which are celebrated during the same period and which lack a proper preface.

In the Mass of the Easter Vigil, on this night is said; from the day of Easter to the following Saturday inclusively, on this day is said: at other times, at this season is said.

℣. The Lord be with you.

℟. And with your spirit.

℣. Lift up your hearts.

℟. We have lifted them up to the Lord.

℣. Let us give thanks to the Lord our God.

℟. It is right and just.

It is truly right and just, proper and helpful toward salvation, that we always praise you, O Lord, but more especially so on this day (or on this night or at this season) when Christ our Pasch was sacrificed. For he is the true Lamb who has taken away the sins of the world, who overcame death for us by dying himself and who restored us to life by his own resurrection. Therefore with the Angels and Archangels, the Thrones and Dominations, and all the militant hosts of heaven, we continuously praise your glory in song, and say:

Holy, holy, holy Lord God of hosts.*

Heaven and earth are filled with your glory.*

Hosanna in the highest.*

Blessed is he who comes in the name of the Lord.* Hosanna in the highest.

During the Canon, the proper Communicántes and Hanc ígitur, as given below. This is said from the Mass of the Easter Vigil to the following Saturday inclusively. In the Mass of the Easter Vigil: et noctem sacratíssimam celebrántes.

Preface of the Ascension

PREFACE OF THE ASCENSION OF THE LORD

The following preface is said: (a) as a proper preface on the feast of the Ascension of our Lord; (b) as a seasonal preface in all Masses which lack a proper preface from the Friday after the Ascension to the Friday before the Vigil of Pentecost.

℣. The Lord be with you.
℟. And with your spirit.
℣. Lift up your hearts.
℟. We have lifted them up to the Lord.
℣. Let us give thanks to the Lord our God.
℟. It is right and just.

It is truly right and just, proper and helpful toward salvation, that we always and everywhere give thanks to you, O Lord, holy Father, almighty and eternal God, through Christ our Lord; who appeared openly to all his disciples after his resurrection, and was taken up to heaven before their eyes, so that he might make us sharers in his own divinity. Therefore with the Angels and Archangels, the Thrones and Dominations, and all the militant hosts of heaven, we continuously praise your glory in song, and say:

Holy, holy, holy Lord God of hosts.*
Heaven and earth are filled with your glory.*
Hosanna in the highest.*
Blessed is he who comes in the name of the Lord.*
Hosanna in the highest.

During the Canon, the proper Communicantes, as given below. It is said on the feast only.

Sequens præfatio dicitur: a) tamquam propria in festo Ascensionis Domini; b) tamquam de Tempore in omnibus Missis a feria VI post Ascensionem usque ad feriam VI ante vigiliam Pentecostes, quæ præfatione propria carent.

℣. Dóminus vobíscum.
℟. Et cum spírítu tuo.
℣. Sursum corda.
℟. Habémus ad Dóminum.
℣. Grátias agámus Dómino Deo nostro.
℟. Dignum et iustum est.

Vere dignum et iustum est, æquum et salutáre, nos tibi semper et ubíque grátias ágere: Dómine, sancte Pater, omnípotens ætérne Deus: per Christum Dóminum nostrum. Qui post resurrectionem suam ómnibus discipulis suis maniféstus apparuit, et ipsis cernéntibus est elevátus in cælum, ut nos divinitátis suæ tribúeret esse partícipes. Et ídeo cum Angelis et Archángelis, cum Thronis et Dominatió nibus, cumque omni militiã cæléstis exércitus, hymnum glóriæ tuæ cánimus, sine fine dicétes:

Sanctus, Sanctus, Sanctus Dóminus Deus Sábaoth. Pleni sunt cæli et terra glória tua. Hosánna in excélsis. Benedictus qui venit in nómine Dómini. Hosánna in excélsis.

Infra Actionem Communicantes propr., ut in Canone. Et dicitur die festo tantum.

Preface of the Sacred Heart

PREFACE OF THE SACRED HEART OF JESUS

Sequens prelatio dicitur in Missis festiuis et uotiu de Ssmo Corde Iesu.

℣. Dóminus uobíscum.
℟. Et cum spírítu tuo.
℣. Sursum corda.
℟. Habémus ad Dóminum.
℣. Grátias agámus Dómino Deo
nostro.

℟. Dignum et iustum est.
Vere dignum et iustum est, æquum et salutáre, nos tibi æmpet et ubique grátias ágere: Dómine, sancte Pater, omnípotens ætérne Deus: Qui Unigénítum tuum in cruce pendéntem láncea mílitis transfígi uolúisti, ut apértum Cor, diuínæ largitátis sacrárium, torréntes nobis fúnderet mise-ratiónis et grátiae, et quod amóre nostri flagráre numquam déstitit, piis esset réquies et pœniténtibus patéret salútis refúgium. Et ídeo cum Angelis et Archángelis, cum Thronis et Dominatióibus, cumque omni mílítia cæléstis exércitus, hymnum glóriæ tuæ cánimus, sine fine dicéntes:

Sanctus, Sanctus, Sanctus Dóminus
Deus Sábaoth. Pleni sunt cæli et terra glória tua. Hosánna in excélsis. Benedíc-tus qui uenit in nómine Dómini.
Hosánna in excélsis.

The following preface is said in festive and uotive Masses of the Sacred Heart of Jesus.

℣. The Lord be with you.
℟. And with your spirit.
℣. Lift up your hearts.
℟. We have lifted them up to the Lord.
℣. Let us give thanks to the Lord our God.
℟. It is right and just.

It is truly right and just, proper and helpful toward salvation, that we always and everywhere give thanks to you, O Lord, holy Father, almighty and eternal God, who decreed that your only-begotten Son should be pierced by a soldier's lance as he hung upon the cross, so that from his open heart, as from a treasury of divine bounty, streams of mercy and grace might pour forth upon us and, ever burning with love for us, it might be a haven of peace for the devout and a safe refuge for the penitent. Therefore with the Angels and Archangels, the Thrones and Dominations, and all the militant hosts of heaven, we continuously praise your glory
in song, and say:

Holy, holy, holy Lord God of hosts.*
Heaven and earth are filled with your glory.*
Hosanna in the highest.*
Blessed is he who comes in the name of the Lord.*
Hosanna in the highest.

Preface of our Lord Jesus Christ the King

PREFACE OF OUR LORD JESUS CHRIST THE KING

The following preface is said in festive and votive Masses of our Lord Jesus Christ the King.

℣. The Lord be with you.
℟. And with your spirit.
℣. Lift up your hearts.
℟. We have lifted them up to the Lord.
℣. Let us give thanks to the Lord our God.
℟. It is right and just.

It is truly right and just, proper and helpful toward salvation, that we always and everywhere give thanks to you, O Lord, holy Father, almighty and eternal God, who anointed your only-begotten Son, Jesus Christ our Lord, with the oil of gladness to be a priest forever and king of the whole world, so that by offering himself on the altar of the cross as a pure victim and a peace offering, he might perform the sacrificial rite of mankind's redemption. All creation thereby has been made subject to his dominion that he might present to your infinite majesty a universal and everlasting kingdom—a kingdom of truth and life, of holiness and grace, a kingdom of justice, of love and of peace. Therefore with the Angels and Archangels, the Thrones and Dominations, and all the militant hosts of heaven, we continuously praise your glory in song, and say:

Holy, holy, holy Lord God of hosts.*
Heaven and earth are filled with your glory.*
Hosanna in the highest.*

Blessed is he who comes in the name of the Lord.* Hosanna in the highest.

Sequens præfatio dicitur in Missis festivis et votivis de D.N. Iesu Christo Rege.

℣. Dóminus vobíscum.
℟. Et cum spírítu tuo.
℣. Sursum corda.
℟. Habémus ad Dóminum.
℣. Grátias agámus Dómino Deo nostro.
℟. Dignum et iustum est.

Vere dignum et iustum est, æquum et salutáre, nos tibi semper et ubíque grátias ágere: Dómine, sancte Pater, omnípotens ætérne Deus: Qui unigénitum Fílium tuum Dóminum nostrum Iesum Christum, Sacerdótem ætérnum et universórum Regem, óleo exsultatiónis unxísti: ut seípsum in ara crucis, hóstiam immaculátam et pacíficam ófferens, redemptiónis humánæ sacraméta perágeret: et suo subiéctis império ómnibus creatúris, ætérnum et universále regnum imménsæ tuæ tráderet Maiestáti: regnum veritátis et vitæ regnum sanctitátis et grátiae; regnum iustitiæ, amóris et pacis. Et ídeo cum Angelis et Archángelis, cum Thronis et Dominationibus, cumque omni militía cæléstis exércitus, hymnum glóriæ tuæ cánimus, sine fine dicétes:

Sanctus, Sanctus, Sanctus Dóminus Deus Sábaoth. Pleni sunt cæli et terra glória tua. Hosánna in excélsis. Benedictus qui venit in nómine Dómini. Hosánna in excélsis.

Preface of the Holy Spirit

PREFACE OF THE HOLY SPIRIT

Sequens præfatio dicitur: a) tamquam propria in Missis de Tempore a vigilia Pentecostes usque ad subsequens sabbatum; et in Missis festivis et votivis de Spiritu Sancto; b) tamquam de Tempore in ceteris Missis quæ celebrantur eodem tempore, et præfatione propria carent. Extra vigiliam et octavam Pentecostes omittuntur verba: hodierna die.

℣. Dóminus vobíscum.
℟. Et cum spírítu tuo.
℣. Sursum corda.
℟. Habémus ad Dóminum.
℣. Grátias agámus Dómino Deo nostro.
℟. Dignum et iustum est.

Vere dignum et iustum est, æquum et salutáre, nos tibi semper et ubíque grátias ágere: Dómine, sancte Pater, omnipotens ætérne Deus: per Christum Dóminum nostrum. Qui ascéndens super omnes cælos, sedénsque ad dexteram tuam, promíssum Spírítum Sanctum (hodierna die) in filios adoptiónis effúdit. Quaprópter profúsis gáudiis, totus in orbe terrárum mundus exsúltat. Sed et supérnæ Virtútes, atque angélicæ Potestátes, hymnum glóriæ tuæ cóncinunt, sine fine dicétes:

Sanctus, Sanctus, Sanctus Dóminus Deus Sábaoth. Pleni sunt cæli et terra glória tua. Hosánna in excélsis. Benedictus qui venit in nómine Dómini. Hosánna in excélsis.

Infra Actionem Communicántes et Hanc ígitur propr., ut infra in Canone. Et dicitur tantum a vigilia Pentecostes usque ad sequens sabbatum inclusive, in omnibus Missis.

The following preface is said: (a) as a proper preface in seasonal Masses from the Vigil of Pentecost to the following Saturday, and in festive and votive Masses of the Holy Spirit; (b) as a seasonal preface in other Masses which are celebrated during this period and which lack a proper preface.

Outside the vigil and octave of Pentecost, the words: On this day are omitted.

℣. The Lord be with you.
℟. And with your spirit.
℣. Lift up your hearts.
℟. We have lifted them up to the Lord.
℣. Let us give thanks to the Lord our God.
℟. It is right and just.

It is truly right and just, proper and helpful toward salvation, that we always and everywhere give thanks to you, O Lord, holy Father, almighty and eternal God, through Christ our Lord; who ascended above the heavens to sit at your right hand, and (on this day) sent forth the Holy Spirit upon the children of adoption, as he had promised. Therefore the whole world is jubilant with unrestrained joy; and the Virtues on high, with the Powers of the angelic choir, continuously praise your glory in song, and say:

Holy, holy, holy Lord God of hosts.*
Heaven and earth are filled with your glory.*
Hosanna in the highest.*

Blessed is he who comes in the name of the Lord.*

Hosanna in the highest.

During the Canon, the proper Communicantes and Hanc ígitur, as given below. It is said only from the Vigil of Pentecost to the following Saturday inclusively, in all Masses.

Preface of the Holy Trinity

PREFACE OF THE HOLY TRINITY

The following preface is said: (a) as a proper preface in Masses of the feast of the Trinity and in votive Masses of the Trinity; (b) as a seasonal preface on the Sundays of Advent, and all Sundays of Class II, outside the Christmas and Easter seasons.

℣. The Lord be with you.
℟. And with your spirit.
℣. Lift up your hearts.
℟. We have lifted them up to the Lord.
℣. Let us give thanks to the Lord our God.
℟. It is right and just.

It is truly right and just, proper and helpful toward salvation, that we always and everywhere give thanks to you, O Lord, holy Father, almighty and eternal God; for with your only-begotten Son and the Holy Spirit you are one God, one Lord, not in the unity of a single person, but in the Trinity of one substance. For what we believe of your glory, through your revelation, that we also believe of your Son, and of the Holy Spirit, without difference or distinction. So that in confessing the true and eternal Godhead, we adore the distinction of persons, oneness in being, and equality in majesty. This the Angels and Archangels, the Cherubim and Seraphim praise, and unceasingly chant each day, saying with one voice:

Holy, holy, holy Lord God of hosts.*
Heaven and earth are filled with your glory.*
Hosanna in the highest.*
Blessed is he who comes in the name of the Lord.*
Hosanna in the highest.

Sequens præfatio dicitur: a) tamquam propria, in Missis de festo et votivis Ss̄mæ Trinitatis; b) tamquam de Tempore in dominicis Adventus, et in omnibus dominicis II classis, extra tempus natalicium et paschale.

℣. Dóminus vobiscum.
℟. Et cum spíritu tuo.
℣. Sursum corda.
℟. Habémus ad Dóminum.
℣. Grátias agámus Dómino Deo nostro.
℟. Dignum et iustum est.

Vere dignum et iustum est, æquum et salutáre, nos tibi semper et ubique grátias ágere: Dómine, sancte Pater, omnípotens ætérne Deus: Qui cum unigénito Fílio tuo, et Spíritu Sancto, unus es Deus, unus es Dóminus: non in uníus singularitáte persónæ, sed in uníus Trinitáte substántiæ. Quod enim de tua glória, revelánte te, crédimus, hoc de Fílio tuo, hoc de Spíritu Sancto, sine differentia discretiónis sentímus. Ut in confessióne veræ sempiternæque Deitátis, et in persónis proprietas, et in esséntia únitás, et in maiestáte adorétur æquálitas. Quam laudant Angeli atque Archángeli, Chérubim quoque ac Séraphim: qui non cessant clamáre cotídie, una voce dicéntes:

Sanctus, Sanctus, Sanctus Dóminus Deus Sábaoth. Pleni sunt cæli et terra glória tua. Hosánna in excélsis. Benedictus qui venit in nómine Dómini. Hosánna in excélsis.

Preface of the Blessed Virgin Mary

It is truly right and just, proper and helpful toward salvation, that we always and everywhere give thanks to you, O Lord, holy Father, almighty and eternal God; and praise, honor, and extol you on this feast of the . . . of (or as we commemorate or as we venerate) the blessed ever-virgin Mary. For without losing the glory of her virginity she conceived your only-begotten Son by the overshadowing of the Holy Spirit, and she brought forth to the world Jesus Christ our Lord, the eternal light. Through the same Christ the Angels acclaim your majesty, the Dominations adore you, and the Powers worship in awe. Through him also the heavens and the Virtues of heaven join the blessed Seraphim in one grand chorus of joyous praise. We beg you, let our voices blend with theirs, as in humble praise we say:

Holy, holy, holy Lord God of hosts.*
Heaven and earth are filled with your glory.*
Hosanna in the highest.*

Blessed is he who comes in the name of the Lord.*
Hosanna in the highest.

Vere dignum et iustum est, æquum et salutäre, nos tibi semper et ubique grätias ägere: Dömine, sancte Pater, omnöpöten äterne Deus: Et te in . . . beätæ Mariæ semper Virginis colaudäre, benedícere et prædicäre. Quæ et Unigénitum tuum Sancti Spíritus obumbratióne concépit: et virginitätis glória permanénte, lumen ætérnum mundo effúdit, Iesum Christum Dóminum nostrum. Per quem maiestátem tuam laudant Angeli, adórant Dominatiónes, tremunt Potestátes. Cæli, cælorúmque Virtútes, ac beáta Séräphim, sócia exsultatióne concélebrant. Cum quibus et nostras voces ut admítte iúbeas, deprecámur, súpplici confessióne dicéntes:

Preface of the Apostles

PREFACE OF THE APOSTLES

Sequens præfatio dicitur in Missis festivis et votivis Apostolorum et Evangelistarum.

℣. Dóminus vobíscum.
℞. Et cum spírítu tuo.
℣. Sursum corda.
℞. Habémus ad Dóminum.
℣. Grátias agámus Dómino Deo nostro.
℞. Dignum et iustum est.

Vere dignum et iustum est, æquum et salutáre: Te, Dómine, suppliciter exoráre, ut gregem tuum, Pastor ætérne, non déseras: sed per beátos Apóstolos tuos, contínua protectióne custódias: Ut íisdem rectóribus gubernétur, quos óperis tui vicários eídem contulísti præesse pastóres. Et ídeo cum Angelis et Archángelis, cum Thronis et Dominatió nibus, cumque omni milítia cæléstis exércitus, hymnum glóriæ tuæ cánimus, sine fine dicéntes:

Sanctus, Sanctus, Sanctus Dóminus Deus Sábaoth. Pleni sunt cæli et terra glória tua. Hosánna in excélsis. Benedíctus qui venit in nómine Dómini. Hosánna in excélsis.

The following preface is said in festive and votive Masses of the apostles and evangelists.

℣. The Lord be with you.
℞. And with your spirit.
℣. Lift up your hearts.
℞. We have lifted them up to the Lord.
℣. Let us give thanks to the Lord our God.
℞. It is right and just.

It is truly right and just, proper and helpful toward salvation, that we humbly implore you, O Lord, our eternal shepherd, never to desert your flock, but to guard and protect it always through your blessed Apostles, so that it may be governed by the same rulers whom you have set over it to carry on your work as its shepherds. Therefore with the Angels and Archangels, the Thrones and Dominations, and all the militant hosts of heaven, we continuously praise your glory in song, and say:

Holy, holy, holy Lord God of hosts.*
Heaven and earth are filled with your glory.*
Hosanna in the highest.*

Blessed is he who comes in the name of the Lord.*
Hosanna in the highest.

Preface of the Dead

PREFACE OF THE DEAD

*Sequens præfatio dicitur in omnibus
Missis defunctorum.*

℣. Dóminus vobíscum.
℟. Et cum spírítu tuo.
℣. Sursum corda.
℟. Habémus ad Dóminum.
℣. Grátias agámus Dómino Deo
nostro.
℟. Dignum et iustum est.

Vere dignum et iustum est, æquum et salutáre, nos tibi semper et ubíque grátias ágere: Dómine, sancte Pater, omnípotens ætérne Deus: per Christum Dóminum nostrum. In quo nobis spes beátæ resurrectiónis effúlsit, ut quos contrístat certa moriéndi condítio, eósdem consolétur futúrá immortalitátis promíssio. Tuis enim fidélibus, Dómine, vita mutátur, non tóllitur, et, dissolúta terréstris huius incolátus domo, ætérna in cælis habitátio comparátur. Et ídeo cum Angelis et Archángelis, cum Thronis et Dominatió nibus, cumque omni milítia cæléstis exércitus, hymnum glóriæ tuæ cánimus, sine fine dicétes:

Sanctus, Sanctus, Sanctus Dóminus
Deus Sábaoth. Pleni sunt cæli et terra glória tua. Hosánna in excélsis. Benedíctus quí venit in nómine Dómini.
Hosánna in excélsis.

The following preface is said in Masses for the dead.

℣. The Lord be with you.
℟. And with your spirit.
℣. Lift up your hearts.
℟. We have lifted them up to the Lord.
℣. Let us give thanks to the Lord our God.
℟. It is right and just.

It is truly right and just, proper and helpful toward salvation, that we always and everywhere give thanks to you, O Lord, holy Father, almighty and eternal God, through Christ our Lord. In the same Christ the hope of a blessed resurrection has dawned for us, bringing all who are under the certain, sad sentence of death the consoling promise of future immortality. For those who have been faithful, O Lord, life is not ended, but merely changed; and when this earthly abode dissolves, an eternal dwelling place awaits them in heaven. Therefore with the Angels and Archangels, the Thrones and Dominations, and all the militant hosts of heaven, we continuously praise your glory in song, and say:

Holy, holy, holy Lord God of hosts.*
Heaven and earth are filled with your glory.*
Hosanna in the highest.*

Blessed is he who comes in the name of the Lord.*

Hosanna in the highest.

PAGES 657—662 are missing from this 1965 (1966) Missale Romanum. They were ripped out in 1967 (when permission was given to say the Canon in the vernacular) and replaced with the Roman Canon in English & Latin ... but this, too, was ripped out in 1970 when four (4) new Eucharistic Prayers were added. Therefore, it was necessary to supply the missing 1965 (1966) pages from another book. We chose the 1966 Sacramentary.

You might be wondering why those pages were not removed from the Sacramentary in 1967. Perhaps they would have been, but somebody employed a metal contraption to add the new pages on top of the old ones. Therefore, we removed the metal contraption and found the desired pages from 1965 (1966).

CANON MISSÆ

dicens: Accípite, et manducáte ex hoc omnes.

Tenens ambabus manibus hostiam inter indices et pollices, profert verba consecrationis distincte et attente super hostiam, et simul super omnes, si plures sint consecrandae.

Hoc est enim Corpus meum.

Quibus verbis prolatis, statim hostiam consecratam genuflexus adorat: surgit, ostendit populo, reponit super corporale, et genuflexus iterum adorat: nec amplius pollices et indices disiungit, nisi quando hostia tractanda est, usque ad ablutionem digitorum.

38. Tunc, detecto calice, dicit:

Símili modo postquam cenátum est, ambabus manibus accipit calicem, accípiens et hunc præclárum cálicem in sanctas ac venerábiles manus suas: item caput inclinat, tibi grátias agens, sinistra tenens calicem, dextera signat super eum, bene ✠ díxit, dedítque discíplis suis, dicens: Accípíte, et bíbite ex eo omnes.

Profert verba consecrationis super calicem attente et continue, tenens illum parum elevatum.

Hic est enim Calix Sánguinis mei, novi et ætérni testamenti:
mystérium fídei:
quí pro vobis et pro multis effundétur in remissiónem peccatórum.

Quibus verbis prolatis, deponit calicem super corporale, et dicens:

Hæc quotiescúmque fecéritis, in mei memóriam faciétis.

Genuflexus adorat: surgit, ostendit populo, deponit, cooperit, et genuflexus iterum adorat.

39. Deinde, disiunctis manibus, dicit:

Unde et mémoires, Dómine, nos servi tui, sed et plebs tua sancta, eiúsdem Christi Fílii tui, Dómini nostri, tam beátæ passiónis, nec non et ab íferis resurrectiόνis, sed et in cælos gloriósæ ascensiónis: offérimus præcláræ maiestáti tuæ de tuis donis ac datis iungit manus, et signat ter super hostiam et calicem simul, dicens: hóstiam ✠ puram, hóstiam ✠ sanctam, hóstiam ✠ immaculátam, signat semel super hostiam, dicens: Panem ✠ sanctum vitæ ætérnæ, et semel super calicem, dicens: et Cálicem ✠ salútis perpétuæ.

40. Extensis manibus prosequitur:

Meménto étiam, Dómine, famulórum famularúmque tuárum N. et N., qui nos præcessérunt cum signo fidei, et dórmiunt in somno pacis.

Et orat aliquantulum pro iis defunctis, pro quibus orare intendit, deinde extensis manibus prosequitur:

Ipsis, Dómine, et ómnibus in Christo quiescéntibus, locum refrigerií, lucis et pacis, ut indúlgeas, deprecámur. Iungit manus, dicens: Per eúndem Christum Dóminum nostrum. Amen.

43. Manu dextera percutit sibi pectus, elata aliquantulum voce dicens:

Nobis quoque peccatóribus extensis manibus ut prius, secrete prosequitur: fámulis tuis, de multitúdine miserationum tuárum sperántibus, partem áliquam et societátem donáre dignéris, cum tuis sanctis Apóstolis et Martýribus: cum Ioánne, Stéphano, Matthía, Bárnaba, Ignátio, Alexándro, Marcellíno, Petro, Felicitáte, Perpétua, Agatha, Lúcia, Agnéte, Cæcília, Anastásia, et ómnibus Sanctis tuis: intra quorum nos consórtium, non æstimátor mériti, sed véniaë, quæsumus, largítor admítte. Iungit manus. Per Christum Dóminum nostrum.

44.

45. Discooperit calicem, genuflectit, accipit hostiam inter pollicem et indicem manus dexterae, sinistra autem calicem, et elevans eum parum cum hostia, quam tenet super calicem, clara voce cantat vel dicit:

Per ipsum, et cum ipso, et in ipso, est tibi Deo Patri omnipotenti, in unitate Spiritus Sancti, omnis honor, et gloria,
per omnia saecula saeculorum.

Omnes respondent: Amen.

46. Calice et hostia depositis, calicem palla cooperit, genuflectit, surgit et, iunctis manibus, clara voce cantat vel dicit:

Orémus. Præceptis salutáribus móniti, et divína institutióne formáti, audémus dicere:

Extendit manus.

Pater noster, qui es in caelis:
Sanctificétur nomen tuum: Ad-véniat regnum tuum: Fiat vo-lúntas tua, sicut in caelo, et in terra. Panem nostrum cotidiá-num da nobis hódie: Et dimítte nobis débita nostra, sicut et nos dimíttimus debitóribus nostris. Et ne nos indúcas in tentatióne; sed líbera nos a malo.

Non dicitur Amen.

46. Having replaced the chalice and the host upon the corporal, he covers the chalice with the pall. He genuflects, rises, and, with his hands joined, chants or recites in a clear voice:

Let us pray.

Taught by our Savior's command, and formed by the word of God, we dare to say:

He extends his hands.

Our Father, who art in heaven, *
hallowed be thy name; *
thy kingdom come; *
thy will be done on earth as it is in heaven. *
Give us this day our daily bread; *
and forgive us our trespasses *
as we forgive those who trespass against us; *
and lead us not into temptation, *
but deliver us from evil.

Amen is not said.

47. Deinde, manibus extensis, celebrans cantat vel clara voce dicit:

Líbera nos, quæsumus, Dómine, ab ómnibus malis, præteritis, præsentibus et futuris: et intercedente beáta et gloriosa semper Vírgine Dei Genetrice María, cum beátis Apóstolis tuis Petro et Paulo, atque Andréa, et ómnibus Sanctis, da propítius pacem in diébus nostris: ut, ope misericórdiæ tuæ adiúti, et a peccáto simus semper líberi et ab omni perturbatióne secúri.

Discooperit calicem, genuflectit, surgit, súbmittit patenam hostiæ, accipit hostiam, et eam super calicem tenens utraque manu, frangit per medium, dicens:

Per eúndem Dóminum nostrum Iesum Christum, Fílium tuum.

Et mediam partem, quam in dextera manu tenet, ponit super patenam. Deinde ex parte, quæ in sinistra remanserat, frangit particulam, dicens:

Qui tecum vivit et regnat in unitate Spíritus Sancti, Deus.

Aliam mediam partem, quam in sinistra manu habet, adiungit mediæ super patenam positæ, et particulam parvam dextera retinens super calicem, quem sinistra per nodum infra cuppam tenet, dicit:

Per ómnia sæcula sæculórum.
R. Amen.

Cum ipsa particula signat ter super calicem, dicens:

Pax ✠ Dómini sit ✠ semper vobis ✠ cum.

R. Et cum spíritu tuo.

47. Then, with his hands extended, the celebrant, chants or recites in a clear voice:

Deliver us, we beg you, O Lord, from every evil, past, present, and to come; and by the intercession of the blessed and glorious ever-Virgin Mary, Mother of God, of the blessed apostles Peter and Paul, of Andrew, and all the saints, in your mercy grant peace in our days, that by your compassionate aid we may be ever free from sin and sheltered from all turmoil.

He uncovers the chalice, genuflects, and rises. He places the paten under the host, then takes the host and, holding it above the chalice with both hands, breaks it down the middle, saying:

Through Jesus Christ, your Son, our Lord.

The celebrant places the half of the host which he holds in his right hand upon the paten. Then he breaks a particle from the part which remains in his left hand, saying:

Who lives and reigns with you in the unity of the Holy Spirit, God.

Then he joins the part which he holds in his left hand to the half of the host which he has placed upon the paten. Holding the small particle in his right hand above the chalice and holding the chalice itself in his left hand by the node below the cup, he says:

Forever and ever. R. Amen.

He makes the sign of the cross three times over the chalice with the particle, saying:

May the peace ✠ of the Lord ✠ be always with ✠ you.

R. And with your spirit.

Ordinary of the Mass

46 Having replaced the chalice and the host upon the corporal, he covers the chalice with the pall. He genuflects, rises, and, with his hands joined, chants or recites in a clear voice:

Let us pray.

Taught by our Savior's command, and formed by the word of God, we dare to say:

He extends his hands.

Our Father, who art in heaven,*
hallowed be thy name;*
thy Kingdom come;*
thy will be done on earth as it is in heaven.*
Give us this day our daily bread;*
and forgive us our trespasses*
as we forgive those who trespass against us;*
and lead us not into temptation,*
but deliver us from evil.*

Amen is not said.

47 Then, with his hands extended, the celebrant chants or recites in a clear voice:

Deliver us, we beg you, O Lord, from every evil, past, present, and to come; and by the intercession of the blessed and glorious ever-virgin Mary, mother of God, of the blessed apostles Peter and Paul, of Andrew, and all the saints, in your mercy grant peace in our days, that by your compassionate aid we may be ever free from sin and sheltered from all turmoil.

He uncovers the chalice, genuflects, and rises. He places the paten under the host, then takes the host and, holding it above the chalice with both hands, breaks it down the middle, saying:

Through Jesus Christ, your Son, our Lord.

46. Calice et hostia depositis, calicem palla cooperit, genuflectit, surgit et, iunctis manibus, clara voce cantat vel dicit:

Orémus.

Præceptis salutáribus móniti, et divína institutióne formáti, audémus dicere:

Extendit manus.

Pater noster, qui es in cælis: Sanctificétur nomen tuum: Advéniat regnum tuum: Fiat volúntas tua, sicut in cælo, et in terra. Panem nostrum cotidiánum da nobis hódie: Et dimítte nobis débíta nostra, sicut et nos dimíttimus debitóribus nostris. Et ne nos indúcas in tentatiónem; sed líbera nos a malo.

Non dicitur Amen.

47. Deinde, manibus extensis, celebrans cantat vel clara voce dicit:

Líbera nos, quásumus, Dómine, ab ómnibus malis, prætéritis, præséntibus et futúris: et intercedénte beáta et gloriósa semper Vírgine Dei Genetríce María, cum beátis Apóstolis tuis Petro et Paulo, atque Andréa, et ómnibus Sanctis, da propítius pacem in diébus nostris: ut ope misericórdiæ tuæ adiúti, et a peccáto simus semper líberi et ab omni perturbatióne secúri.

Discooperit calicem, genuflectit, surgit, submittit patenam hostiæ, accipit hostiam, et eam super calicem tenens utraque manu, frangit per medium, dicens:

Per eúndem Dóminum nostrum Iesum Christum, Fílium tuum.

Ordinary of the Mass

Et mediam partem, quam in dextera manu tenet, ponit super patenam. Deinde ex parte, quæ in sinistra remanserat, frangit particulam, dicens:

The celebrant places the half of the host which he holds in his right hand upon the paten. Then he breaks a particle from the part which remains in his left hand, saying:

Qui tecum vivit et regnat in unitate Spiritus Sancti, Deus.

Who lives and reigns with you in the unity of the Holy Spirit, God.

Aliam mediam partem, quam in sinistra manu habet, adiungit mediæ super patenam positæ, et particulam parvam dextera retinens super calicem, quem sinistra per nodum infra cuppam tenet, dicit:

Then he joins the part which he holds in his left hand to the half of the host which he has placed upon the paten. Holding the small particle in his right hand above the chalice and holding the chalice itself in his left hand by the node below the cup, he says:

Per omnia sæcula sæculorum. R. Amen.

Forever and ever. R. Amen.

schola, with his hands joined, and striking his breast three times. But if the Agnus Dei is not chanted by the people or the schola, the celebrant says it in a clear tone of voice, bowing toward the Sacrament, with his hands joined, and striking his breast three times.

Lamb of God, who take away the sins of the world,*
have mercy on us.*

Lamb of God, who take away the sins of the world,*
have mercy on us.*

Lamb of God, who take away the sins of the world,*
grant us peace.

In Masses for the dead have mercy on us is not said, but grant them rest is said in its place, and the third time grant them eternal rest is said.

50 Next, placing his joined hands upon the altar and bowing, the celebrant says the following prayers in a low voice:

Dómine Iesu Christe, qui dixísti Apóstolis tuis: Pacem relínquo vobis, pacem meam do vobis: ne respicias peccáta mea, sed fidem Ecclésiæ tuæ; eámque secúndum voluntátem tuam pacificáre et coadunáre dignéris: Qui vivis et regnas, Deus, per ómnia sæcula sæculórum. Amen.

If the pax is to be given, he kisses the altar and, giving the pax, says:

Peace be with you.
℟. And with your spirit.

In Masses for the dead the pax is not given nor is the preceding prayer said.

vel schola cantare vel recitare, iunctis manibus, et ter pectus percutiens. Si vero a populo vel a schola non cantatur, celebrans illud clara voce dicit inclinatus Sacramento, iunctis manibus, et ter pectus percutiens.

Agnus Dei, qui tollis peccáta mundi: miserére nobis.
Agnus Dei, qui tollis peccáta mundi: miserére nobis.
Agnus Dei, qui tollis peccáta mundi: dona nobis pacem.

In Missis defunctorum non dicitur miserére nobis, sed eius loco dona eis réquiem, et in tertio additur sempitérnam.

50. Deinde, iunctis manibus super altare, inclinatus dicit secreto sequentes orationes:

Si danda est pax, osculatur altare et, dans pacem, dicit:

Pax tecum.
℟. Et cum spírítu tuo.

In Missis defunctorum non datur pax, neque dicitur præcedens oratio.

Ordinary of the Mass

Dómine Iesu Christe, Fili Dei vivi, qui ex voluntáte Patris, cooperánte Spíritu Sancto, per mortem tuam mundum vivificásti: libera me per hoc sacrosánctum Corpus et Sáanguinem tuum ab ómnibus iniquitátibus meis et univérsis malis: et fac me tuis semper inhærére mandátis, et a te numquam separári permíttas: Qui cum eódem Deo Patre et Spíritu Sancto vivis et regnas, Deus, in sæcula sæculórum. Amen.

Percéptio Córporis tui, Dómine Iesu Christe, quod ego indígnus súmere præsumo, non mihi provéniat in iudícium et condemnatiónem: sed pro tua pietáte prosit mihi ad tutaméntum mentis et córporis, et ad medélam percipiéndam: Qui vivis et regnas cum Deo Patre in unitáte Spíritus Sancti, Deus, per ómnia sæcula sæculórum. Amen.

51. Genuflectit, surgit, et dicit:

Deinde, parum inclinatus, accipit ambas partes hostiæ inter pollicem et indicem sinistræ manus, et patenam inter eundem indicem et medium supponit, et dextera tribus vicibus percutiens pectus, elata aliquantulum voce, ter dicit devote et humiliter:

Postea, dextera se signans cum hostia super patenam, dicit:

51 The celebrant genuflects, rises, and says:

Pamen cæléstem accípiam, et nomen Dómini invocábo.

Then, bowing a little, he takes both parts of the host between the thumb and index finger of his left hand, and holds the paten under the host between the same index finger and the middle finger of his left hand. Striking his breast three times with his right hand and raising his voice somewhat, he says three times devoutly and humbly:

Dómine, non sum dignus, and he continues in a low voice: ut intres sub tectum meum, sed tantum dic verbo, et sanábitur ánima mea.

After this, making the sign of the cross with the host above the paten, he says:

Corpus Dómini nostri Iesu Christi custódiat ánimam meam in vitam ætérnam. Amen.

Ordinary of the Mass

Bowing, the celebrant reverently receives both parts of the host. Then he places the paten upon the corporal and, standing erect, joins his hands and spends a little while in meditation upon the most holy Sacrament.

52 Then the celebrant uncovers the chalice and genuflects. He gathers the fragments, if there are any, and purifies the paten over the chalice, saying meanwhile:

Quid retríbuiam Dómino pro ómnibus quæ retríbuit mihi? Cálicem salutáris accípiam, et nomen Dómini invocábo. Laudans invocábo Dóminum, et ab inimícis meis salvus ero.

He takes the chalice in his right hand and, making the sign of the cross with it, he says:

Sanguis Dómini nostri Iesu Christi custódiat ánimam meam in vitam ætérnam. Amen.

Holding the paten in his left hand under the chalice, he reverently receives all the Blood together with the particle.

53 After this, he gives communion to the faithful. Taking the paten or ciborium in his left hand, he holds a host between the thumb and index finger of his right hand raised a little above the paten or ciborium and, turned toward the communicants, he says in a clear voice:

Behold the Lamb of God,* behold him who takes away the sins of the world.

Then the communicants add three times, striking their breasts;

Lord, I am not worthy that you should come under my roof.*
Speak but the word and my soul will be healed.

Et, se inclinans, reverenter sumit ambas partes hostiæ: quibus sumptis, deponit patenam super corporale, et erigens se iungit manus, et quiescit aliquantulum in meditatione sanctissimi Sacramenti.

52. Deinde discooperit calicem, genuflectit, colligit fragmenta, si quæ sint, extergit patenam super calicem, interim dicens:

Accipit calicem manu dextera et, eo se signans, dicit:

Et, sinistra supponens patenam calici, reverenter sumit totum Sanguinem cum particula.

53. Quo sumpto, fideles communicat. Accipit itaque patenam vel pyxidem manu sinistra, dextera vero hostiam quam inter pollicem et indicem tenet aliquantulum elevatam super patenam vel pyxidem, et versus ad fideles communicandos clara voce dicit:

Ecce Agnus Dei, ecce qui tollit peccáta mundi.

Mox communicandi subdunt ter, pectus percutientes:

Dómine, non sum dignus, ut intres sub tectum meum, sed tantum dic verbo, et sanábitur ánima mea.

Ordinary of the Mass

Celebrans deinde accedit ad communicandos, et hostiam parum elevatam super patenam vel pyxidem unicuique communicando ostendit, dicens:

Corpus Christi.

Communicandus autem respondet: Amen, et communicatur.

54. Distributione Communionis inchoata, vel, si non sunt communicandi, dum celebrans sumit Sacramentum, cantatur vel recitatur antiphona ad Communionem cum suo psalmo, quam celebrans privatim non legit; secus eam dicit immediate ante post-communionem.

55. Distributione Communionis expleta, celebrans purificat patenam vel pyxidem super calicem. Postea dicit:

Interim porrigit calicem ministro, qui infundit in eo parum vini, quo se purificat: deinde prosequitur:

Abluit et extergit digitos, ac sumit ablutionem: extergit os et calicem, quem, plicato corporali, operit et collocat in altari ut prius: deinde prosequitur Missam.

56. Dicto, post ultimam orationem,

℣. Dóminus vobíscum.

℟. Et cum spírítu tuo,

dicit Ite, missa est, vel, si qua liturgica processio sequatur, Benedicámus Dómino.

℣. Deo grátias.

The celebrant then goes to the communicants and, holding the host a little raised above the paten or ciborium, shows it to each communicant, saying:

The Body of Christ.

The communicant replies: Amen, and receives communion.

54 When the distribution of communion has begun or, if there are no communicants, while the celebrant receives the Sacrament, the antiphon to the communion is chanted or recited together with its psalm; and the celebrant does not read the antiphon privately. Otherwise he says it immediately before the prayer after communion.

55 When the distribution of communion has been completed, the celebrant purifies the paten or ciborium over the chalice. Afterwards he says:

Quod ore sumpsimus, Dómine, pura mente capiámus: et de múnere temporáli fiat nobis remédium sempitérnum.

Meanwhile he holds the chalice out to the minister, who pours into it a small quantity of wine, which the celebrant drinks. Then he continues;

Corpus tuum, Dómine; quod sumpsi, et Sanguis, quem potávi, adhæreat viscéribus meis: et præsta; ut in me non remáneat scélerum mácula quem pura et sancta refecerunt sacraménta: Qui vivis et regnas in sácula sæculórum. Amen.

The celebrant washes and dries his fingers and receives the ablution; he wipes his mouth and the chalice and, having folded the corporal, he covers the chalice and places it on the altar as before. Then he continues the Mass.

56 After the last prayer, when he has said,

℣. The Lord be with you.

℟. And with your spirit,

he says, The Mass is ended. Go in peace, or, if a liturgical procession is to follow, Let us bless the Lord.

℟. Thanks be to God.

Ordinary of the Mass

In Masses for the dead he says:

☩. May they rest in peace.

℟. Amen.

In Missis defunctorum dicit:

☩. Requiéscant in pace.

℟. Amen.

The Mass is end-ed. Go in peace. ℟ Thanks be to God.

Let us bless the Lord. ℟ Thanks be to God.

May they rest in peace. ℟ A-men.

57 Then the celebrant bows before the center of the altar and, placing his joined hands upon it, says in a low voice:

Pláceat tibi, sancta Trínitas, obséquium servitútis meæ; et præsta; ut sacrificium, quod oculis tuæ maiestátis indígnus óbtuli, tibi sit acceptábile, mihíque et ómnibus, pro quibus illud óbtuli, sit, te miseránte, propitiábile. Per Christum Dóminum nostrum. Amen.

58 Then he kisses the altar and, having lifted up his eyes, extending, raising, and joining his hands, he says:

May almighty God bless you,

and, turning toward the people and blessing them, he continues:

the Father, and the Son, ✠ and the Holy Spirit.

℟. Amen.

Then he goes down and, having made the required reverence, he departs.

57. Tunc celebrans inclinat se ante medium altaris, et, manibus iunctis super illud, dicit secreto:

58. Deinde osculatur altare: et elevatis oculis, extendens, elevans et iungens manus, dicit:

Benedícat vos omnípotens Deus, et versus ad populum, benedicens, prosequitur:

Pater, et Fílius, ✠ et Spíritus Sanctus. ℟. Amen.

Deinde descendit et, facta debita reverentia, recedit.

Ordinary of the Mass

59. In Missa pontificali ter benedicatur, ut in Pontificali habetur.

60. In Missis quibus dictum est Benedicámus Dómino vel Requiésant in pace, non datur benedictio. Dicto autem Pláceat, celebrans osculatur altare, descendit et, facta debita reverentia, recedit.

59 In pontifical Mass the threefold blessing is given, as in the Pontifical.

60 In Masses in which Let us bless the Lord or May they rest in peace is said, the blessing is not given. Having said Pláceat, the celebrant kisses the altar, goes down, and, having made the required reverence, departs.

PROPER OF THE SAINTS

The Masses which are given in this proper for individual feasts are celebrated also as votive Masses, with the exception of Masses of particular mysteries of the Lord or of the feasts of the Blessed Virgin Mary for which no special indication is given, and the Masses of Saint Joseph and of Saints Peter and Paul, apostles. In the Masses from the proper, unless it is noted otherwise, after the Epistle the gradual with the following verse or with the tract, or, in the Easter season, the Alleluia with its verse, which may be lacking, are taken from the respective Common. For the votive Masses of martyrs in the Easter season, the Mass Protexisti or the Mass Sancti tui, as the case requires, is celebrated and the proper parts, if any, are said in the Mass.

In the individual prayers the words referring to this day, annual celebration, and the like are omitted where they occur; the words referring to the day of birth or the feast are changed to commemoration or memorial.

Missæ, quæ de singulis festis in hoc Proprio habentur, exceptis tamen Missis de peculiaribus mysteriis Domini aut de festis beatæ Mariæ Virginis pro quibus specialis non habeatur indicatio, necnon Missis de S. Ioseph ac de Ss. Petro et Paulo App., dicuntur etiam ut votivæ; sed in eis, nisi aliter suis locis habeatur, post Epistolam sumitur graduale cum versu sequenti aut cum suo tractu, vel, tempore paschali, Allelúia cum suis versibus, quæ desint, de respectivo Communi. Pro Martyribus autem, tempore paschali, dicitur Missa Protexisti vel Sancti tui, prout casus ferat, et in ea dicuntur partes propriæ, si habeantur. In singulis tamen orationibus omittuntur verba hodiérna die, ánnua et similia, ubicumque habentur, et immutantur voces natális, natalítium, festívitatis in commemorátio, memória. Itemque loco antiphonæ ad Introítum Gaudeámus, dicitur antiphona e respectivo Communi. Extra tempus paschale omittuntur Allelúia, quæ in antiphona ad Introítum forte inveniuntur. Allelúia autem, quod aliquando exstat in antiphonis ad Offertorium et ad Communionem, omittitur tantum a Septuagesima ad Pascha.

Fratres: Corde enim creditur ad iustitiam: ore autem confessio fit ad salutem. Dicit enim Scriptúra: Omnis, qui credit in illum, non confundetur. Non enim est distinctio Iudæi, et Græci: nam idem Dóminus omnium, dives in omnes, qui invocant illum. Omnis enim, quicumque invocaverit nomen Dómini, salvus erit. Quómodo ergo invocábunt, in quem non crediderunt? Aut quómodo credent ei, quem non audierunt? Quómodo autem audient sine prædicante? Quómodo vero prædicábunt, nisi mittántur? sicut scriptum est: Quam speciosi pedes evangelizantium pacem, evangelizantium bona! Sed non omnes obédiunt Evangélio. Isaías enim dicit: Dómine, quis credidit auditui nostro? Ergo fides ex auditu auditus autem per verbum Christi. Sed dico: Numquid non audierunt? Et quidem in omnem terram exívit sonus eorum, et in fines orbis terræ verba eorum.

To me, your friends, O God, are made exceedingly honorable; their principality is exceedingly strengthened. Ps. ibid., 1–2 O Lord, you have probed me and you know me; you know when I sit and when I stand. ℣. Glory be to the Father. To me.

A Reading from the Epistle of blessed
Paul the Apostle to the Romans
Rom. 10, 10–18

Brethren: The faith that is in one's heart brings justice; the profession of faith on his lips leads to salvation. For Scripture says: "No one who believes in him will be disappointed." There is no distinction between Jew and Greek; all have the same Lord, and he gives generously to all who call on him. For "everyone shall be saved who calls on the name of the Lord." But how are they to call upon him if they have not believed in him? And how are they to believe if they have never heard of him? And how are they to hear without someone to preach? And how can men preach unless they be sent to do so? As it is written: "How beautiful upon the mountains are the feet of those who bear the good news." But not all believe the gospel. Isaia says: "Lord, who has believed what we have heard?" Faith, then, comes from hearing, and hearing comes from the preaching about Christ. But, I ask, have they not heard? Certainly they have; for “through all the earth their voice resounds, and to the ends of the world, their message.”

Gradual Ps. 44, 17–18 You shall make them princes through all the land; they shall remember your name, O Lord. ℣. The place of your fathers your sons shall have; therefore shall nations praise you.

Alleluia, alleluia. ℣. The Lord loved Andrew in an odor of sweetness. Alleluia.

according to Matthew
Matth. 4, 18–22

At that time, as Jesus was walking along the sea of Galilee, he watched two brothers, Simon, now known as Peter, and his brother Andrew, casting a net into the sea. They were fishermen. He said to them, “Come and follow me: I will make you go fishing for men.” They immediately abandoned their nets and followed him. He walked along further and caught sight of two other brothers, James, Zebedee’s son, and his brother John. They were in their boat with their father Zebedee, getting their nets ready. He called them, and immediately they abandoned boat and father to follow him.

Lectio Epistolæ beāti Pauli
Apóstoli ad Romános
Rom. 10, 10-18

Fratres: Corde enim créditur ad iustítiam: ore autem conféssio fit ad salútem. Dicit enim Scriptúra: Omnis, qui credit in illum, non confundétur. Non enim est distíctio Iudæi, et Græci: nam idem Dóminus ómnium, dives in omnes, qui invocant illum. Omnis enim, quicúmque invocáverit nomen Dómini, salvus erit. Quómodo ergo invocábunt, in quem non credidérunt? Aut quómodo credent ei, quem non audierunt? Quómodo autem áudient sine prædicánte? Quómodo vero prædicábunt, nisi mittántur? sicut scriptum est: Quam speciósi pedes evangelizántium pacem, evangelizántium bona! Sed non omnes obédiunt Evangélio. Isaías enim dicit: Dómine, quis crédidit audítui nostro? Ergo fides ex audítu, audítus autem per verbum Christi. Sed dico: Numquid non audierunt? Et quidem in omnem terram exívit sonus eórum, et in fines orbis terræ verba eórum.

Graduale Ps. 91, 13 et 14 Iustus ut palma florébit: sicut cedrus Líbani multiplicábitur in domo Dómini. Ps. Ibid. 3 Ad annuntiándum mane misericórdiam tuam, et veritátem tuam per noctem. Allelúia, allelúia. Ps. Iac. 1, 12 Beátus vir, qui suffert tentatiónem: quóniam cum probátus fúerit, accípiet corónam vitæ. Allelúia.

A Reading from the Epistle of blessed
Paul the Apostle to the Romans
Rom. 10, 10-18

Brethren: The faith that is in one's heart brings justice; the profession of faith on his lips leads to salvation. For Scripture says: "No one who believes in him will be disappointed." There is no distinction between Jew and Greek; all have the same Lord, and he gives generously to all who call on him. For "everyone shall be saved who calls on the name of the Lord." But how are they to call upon him if they have not believed in him? And how are they to believe if they have never heard of him? And how are they to hear without someone to preach? And how can men preach unless they be sent to do so? As it is written: "How beautiful upon the mountains are the feet of those who bear the good news." But not all believe the gospel. Isaiah says: "Lord, who has believed what we have heard?" Faith, then, comes from hearing, and hearing comes from the preaching about Christ. But, I ask, have they not heard? Certainly they have; for "through all the earth their voice resounds, and to the ends of the world, their message."

Gradual Ps. 91, 13 and 14 The just man shall flourish like the palm tree, like a cedar of Lebanon shall he grow in the house of the Lord. Ps. Ibid., 3 To proclaim your kindness at dawn, and your faithfulness throughout the night.

Alleluia, alleluia. Ps. James 1, 12 Blessed is the man who endures temptation; for when he has been tried, he will receive the crown of life. Alleluia.

And signs like these will accompany those who have professed their faith: they will use my name to expel demons; they will speak entirely new languages; they will be able to handle serpents; they will even be able to drink deadly poison without harm; and the sick upon whom they lay their hands will recover.”

Brethren: Remember your rulers who proposed to you the word of God. Consider the end of their lives and imitate their faith. Jesus Christ, the same yesterday, today and forever. Do not be carried away by all kinds of strange teachings. It is good to have the heart strengthened by God's favor, not by foods which are useless to those who take them as a norm for living. We have an altar from which those who serve the tent have no authority to eat. The bodies of those animals whose blood is brought into the sanctuary by the high priest to make atonement for sin are burned outside the camp. Therefore Jesus died outside the gate in order to sanctify the people by his own blood. Let us go to him outside the camp bearing the insult which he bore. We do not have a lasting city here;

we are seeking the one which is to come. Through him therefore let us constantly offer to God a sacrifice of praise, that is, the fruit of lips which acknowledge his name. Do not neglect good deeds and generosity; God is pleased by sacrifices of that sort. Have confidence in your rulers and obey them; for they keep watch over you as men who must render an account.

At that time Jesus told his disciples this parable: “A man was going on a journey. He called in his own slaves and handed his property over to them, according to each man’s abilities, giving one five thousand dollars, a second, two thousand, a third, a thousand. Then he went away. Immediately, the man who received the five thousand went and invested it, and made another five thousand. Similarly, the man who received the two thousand, also made another two thousand. But the man who received the thousand, went off, dug a hole in the ground and buried his master’s money. A long time afterwards, the master of those slaves came home and settled accounts with them. Now the man who had received the five thousand stepped forward bringing the additional five thousand. ‘My lord,’ he said, ‘you handed me five thousand dollars. See, I have made five thousand more.’ His

At that time Jesus said to his disciples: “You are the salt of the earth. Suppose salt becomes insipid; how can you restore its tang? Then it is good for nothing but to be thrown out, and trampled underfoot. You are the light of the world. A city on a mountain top cannot be concealed. Men do not light a lamp and then put it under a bushel basket. They set it on a stand where it gives light to all in the house. In the same way, your light must shine before men so that they may see your good deeds and glorify your heavenly Father. Don’t think that I have come to abolish the Law and the Prophets. I have come, not to abolish them, but to bring them to perfection. I assure you of this: until heaven and earth pass away, not the smallest letter, not even the smallest part of a letter, of the Law will be done away with, until it all comes true. Consequently, the man who breaks the least important of these commandments and teaches others to follow his example will be called least in the kingdom of heaven. It is the man who observes them and teaches them who will be called great in the kingdom of heaven.”

Matth. 16, 13-19

At that time, when Jesus came into the neighborhood of Caesarea Philippi, he asked his disciples this question: "Who do people say the Son of Man is?" They replied,

“Some, John the Baptist; others, Elia; still others, Jeremia, or one of the prophets.” “And you,” he said to them, “who do you say I am?” “You are the Messiah,” Simon Peter answered, “the Son of the living God!” Jesus replied, “Happy are you, Simon, son of John! No mere man has disclosed this to you, but my heavenly Father. And I, for my part, declare to you: you are Peter, and on this rock I will build my Church, and the forces of Death’s realm shall not subdue it. I will entrust to you the keys of the kingdom of heaven: whatever you shall declare unlawful upon earth shall be held unlawful in heaven; whatever you shall declare lawful upon earth shall be held lawful in heaven.”

tam, alii autem Eliam, alii vero Ieremiam, aut unum ex prophetis. Dicit illis Iesus: Vos autem quem me esse dicitis? Respondens Simon Petrus, dixit: Tu es Christus, Filius Dei vivi. Respondens autem Iesus, dixit ei: Beatus es, Simon Bar Iona: quia caro et sanguis non revelavit tibi, sed Pater meus, qui in caelis est. Et ego dico tibi, quia tu es Petrus, et super hanc petram aedificabo Ecclesiam meam, et portae inferi non praevalent adversus eam. Et tibi dabo claves regni caelorum. ✠ A Reading from the holy Gospel according to Matthew
Matth. 13, 44-52

At that time Jesus told his disciples this parable: "The kingdom of heaven is like hidden treasure which a man found in a field. He hid it again, and happy with his find, went and sold all he had and bought that field. Or again, the kingdom of heaven is like a merchant's search for fine pearls. When he finally found one really valuable pearl, he went back and auctioned off all he had and bought it. Or again, the kingdom of heaven is like a dragnet that was thrown into the lake and collected all sorts of things. When it was full, they hauled it ashore, and sat down to collect what was worthwhile in tubs. What was useless they threw away. That is how it will be at the end of the world. The angels will go out and separate the evil men from the saints, and hurl them into the fiery furnace where they will wail and gnash their teeth. Have you understood everything I have said?" "Yes," they said to him. Then he told them, "So every scribe who has become a disciple of the kingdom of heaven is like the head of the house who can bring out of his storeroom the new as well as the old."

✠ A Reading from the holy Gospel
according to John
John 20, 24–29

At that time it happened that one of the Twelve, Thomas (this name means “Twin”), was absent when Jesus came. So the other disciples kept telling him: “We have seen the Lord!” But he answered them, “I’ll never believe without first examining the marks of the nails on his hands, and putting my finger right into the mark of the nails, and my hand into his side.” Now, a week later, his disciples were once more in the room; this time Thomas was with them. Even though the doors were locked, Jesus came and stood in front of them. “Peace be with you,” he said. Then he told Thomas, “Take your finger and examine my hands; take your hand and put it into my side; and don’t persist in your disbelief. Become a believer!” Thomas answered with the words, “My Lord and my God!” Jesus told him, “You have believed because you have seen me. Happy those who have not seen but have believed.”

Through all the earth their voice resounds, and to the ends of the world, their message.

Yes, Father—for you have graciously willed it this way. Everything has been handed over to me by my Father. No one knows the Son except the Father. No one knows the Father except the Son—or anyone to whom the Son wishes to reveal him. Come to me, all of you who are wearied from toil and heavily burdened, and I will refresh you. Take my yoke upon your shoulders and receive my instruction, because I am gentle and humble of heart. Thus will you find refreshment for your souls. For this yoke of mine lies easy; this burden of mine is light.”

Dear to God and men,
his memory is held in benediction.
God's honor devolved upon him, and the Lord strengthened him with fearful powers;
God wrought swift miracles at his words and sustained him in the king's presence.
He gave him the Commandments for his people,
and revealed to him his glory.
For his trustworthiness and meekness
God selected him from all mankind;
He permitted him to hear his voice,
and led him into the cloud,
Where, face to face, he gave him the Commandments,
the law of life and understanding.

Diléctus Deo et homínibus, cuius memória in benedictióne est. Símilem illum fecit in glória sanctórum, et magnificávit eum in timóre inimicórum, et in verbis suis monstra placávit. Glorificávit illum in conspéctu regum, et iussit illi coram pópulo suo, et osténdit illi glóriam suam. In fide et lenitáte ipsíus sanctum fecit illum, et elégit eum ex omni carne. Hebr. 10, 32–38

Brethren: Recall the days gone by when, after you had been enlightened, you endured a great contest of suffering. At times you were publicly exposed to insult and trial; at times you associated yourselves with those who were treated in that way. And you even joined in the sufferings of those who were in prison, and joyfully accepted the confiscation of your goods, knowing that you had better and permanent possessions. Therefore, don't cast away your courage; it will have a great reward. You need patience so that you may do God's will and receive what he has promised. For, just "a brief moment, and he who is to come will come and will not delay. My just man will live because of his fidelity."

Matth. 24, 3–13

✠ Sequéntia sancti Evangélii
secúndum Matthæum
Matth. 24, 3–13

At that time, while Jesus was seated on the Mount of Olives, his disciples came up to him privately and said, "Tell us, when will this occur? What will be the sign of your coming and of the end of the world?" In reply, Jesus said to them, "Watch out; let no one mislead you. Many will come, attempting to impersonate me. 'I am the Messiah,' they will claim, and will mislead many. You are going to hear about wars and war-scares; see to it that you do not become frightened. It is bound to happen. Still, this is not yet the end. Nation will rise against nation, one kingdom against another. There will be famines and pestilence and earthquakes in different places. Now all this is the start of the birthpangs. Then they will hand you over to torture and will kill you. Indeed, because of my name, you will be hated by all nations. And then many people will falter, betraying one another and hating one another. Many false prophets will appear and will mislead many. Because of the increase of evil, most men's love will grow cold. Still, it is the man who bears up patiently to the end who will be saved."

In illo témpore: Sedénte Iesu super montem Olivéti, accessérunt ad eum discípuli secréto, dicéntes: Dic nobis, quando hæc erunt? et quod signum advéntus tui, et consummationis sáeculi? Et respóndens Iesus, dixit eis: Vidéte, ne quis vos sedúcat. Multi enim vénient in nómine meo, dicéntes: Ego sum Christus: et multos sedúcent. Auditúri enim estis prælia, et opiniónes præliórum. Vidéte, ne turbémini. Opórtet enim hæc fieri, sed nondum est finis. Con-súrget enim gens in gentem, et regnum in regnum, et erunt pestiléntiæ, et fames, et terræmótus per loca. Hæc autem ómnia, inítia sunt dolórum. Tunc tradent vos in tribulatióne, et occídent vos: et éritis ódio ómnibus géntibus propter nomen meum. Et tunc scandalizabúntur multi, et ínvicem tradent, et ódio habébunt ínvicem. Et multi pseudoprophétæ surgent, et sedúcent multos. Et quóniam abundávit iníquitas, refrigéscet caritas multórum. Hebr. 11, 33-39

Brethren: By faith the saints conquered kingdoms, did what was just, obtained what was promised; they broke the jaws of lions, put out raging fires, escaped the piercing sword; though weak they were made powerful, they became strong in time of war, they turned back foreign invaders. Women received back their dead through resurrection. Others were tortured and did not accept deliverance in order to obtain a better resurrection. Others endured mockery, scourging, even chains and imprisonment. They were stoned, they were tested, they were sawed in two, they were put to death at sword's point, they went about garbed in the skins of sheep or goats, needy, afflicted, tormented. The world was not worthy of them. They used to wander about in deserts and on mountains, and dwell in caves and in holes of the earth. To all these approval was given because of their faith, and they were found in Christ Jesus our Lord.

Alleluia, alleluia.  . Ps. 144, 10-11 Let your faithful ones bless you, O Lord. Let them discourse of the glory of your kingdom. Alleluia.

After Septuagesima, the Alleluia with its following verse is omitted, and there is said:

Tract Ps. 125, 5-6 Those that sow in tears shall reap rejoicing.  . Going, they went and wept, casting their seeds.  . But coming, they shall come with joyfulness, carrying their sheaves.

  A Reading from the holy Gospel
according to Luke
Luke 6, 17-23

At that time, coming down the mountain, Jesus came to a halt on a level stretch with a great number of his disciples, and a large crowd of people from all Judea and Jerusalem and the coast of Tyre and Sidon, who came to hear him and to be cured of their diseases. Those who were troubled with unclean spirits were cured, and all in the crowd were trying to touch him, because power went out from him and cured all. Then raising his eyes to his disciples he said: "Happy are you poor, for yours is the kingdom of God,

Happy are you who are now hungry, for you shall be full.

Happy are you who now weep, for you shall laugh.

Happy will you be when men hate you, when they ostracize you and insult you, and proscribe your name as evil, because of the Son of Man.

On that day rejoice and exult, for your reward will be great in heaven."

Offertory Antiphon
Ps. 31, 11

Be glad in the Lord, and rejoice, you just; exult, all you upright of heart.

A Reading from the Book of Sirach
Eccli. 51, 1-8 and 12

I give you thanks, O God of my father;
I praise you, O God my savior!
I will make known your name, refuge of my life;
you have been my helper against my adversaries.
You have saved me from death,
and kept back my body from the pit,
From the clutches of the nether world you have snatched my feet;
you have delivered me, in your great mercy
From the scourge of a slanderous tongue, and from the lips that went over to falsehood;
From the snare of those who watched for my downfall,
and from the power of those who sought my life;
From many a danger you have saved me,
from flames that hemmed me in on every side;
From the midst of unremitting fire,
from the deep belly of the nether world;
From deceiving lips and painters of lies,
from the unjust king and the arrows of dishonest tongues.
Till I die my soul will praise you, O Lord;
because you rescue those who trust in you,
And you free them from the grasp of the pagan nations,
O Lord, our God.

Gradual Ps. 44, 3 Grace is poured out upon your lips; thus God has blessed you forever. V. Ibid., 5 Because of truth, and meekness, and justice; and may your right hand show you wondrous deeds.
Alleluia, alleluia. V. Matth. 25, 4 and 6 The five wise virgins took oil in their vessels with the lamps; and at midnight a cry arose, "Behold the bridegroom is coming, go forth to meet Christ our Lord." Alleluia.

Jan. 21. St. Agnes

After Septuagesima, the Alleluia with its following verse is omitted, and there is said:

Tract Come, spouse of Christ, receive the crown which the Lord has prepared for you forever: for the love of whom you shed your blood. Ps. 44, 8 and 5 You love justice and hate wickedness; therefore God, your God, has anointed you with the oil of gladness above your fellows. Ps. Ibid., 5 In your splendor and your beauty ride on triumphant, and reign.

✠ A Reading from the holy Gospel according to Matthew Matth. 25, 1-13

At that time Jesus told his disciples this parable: "The kingdom of heaven will be comparable to ten virgins who took their torches and went out to welcome the bridegroom. Now five of them were foolish, and five, sensible. The foolish ones, in taking their torches, carried no oil along; but the sensible ones took flasks of oil, as well as their torches. As the bridegroom took his time, they all began to doze, and fell fast asleep. At midnight, someone shouted, 'Here is the bridegroom! Come out and welcome him.' Then all those virgins woke up, and got their torches ready. The foolish ones said to the sensible ones, 'Give us some of your oil; our torches are going out.' But the sensible ones replied, 'No, there may not be enough for both you and us. You had better go to the dealers and buy yourselves some.' While they went off to buy it, the bridegroom arrived, and the ones who were ready went into the wedding with him. Then the door was barred. Later on, the other virgins came back. 'Lord, lord!' they cried, 'Open the door for us.' But he answered, 'I assure you, I do not know you.' Therefore, keep your eyes open, because you do not know the exact day or hour."

Post Septuagesimam, omissis Alleluia, et versu sequenti, dicitur:

Tractus Veni, sponsa Christi, accipe coronam, quam tibi Dóminus præparávit in ætérnum: pro cuius amóre sánguinem tuum fudísti. Ps. 44, 8 Dilexísti iustítiam, et odísti iniquitátem: proptérea unxit te Deus, Deus tuus, óleo lætítie præ consortibus tuis. Ps. Ibid., 5 Spécie tua, et pulchritúdine tua inténde prospere procéde, et regna.

✠ Sequéntia sancti Evangélii secúndum Matthæum Matth. 25, 1-13

In illo témpore: Dixit Iesus discipulis suis parábolam hanc: Símile erit regnum cælórum decem virgínibus: quæ accipiéntes lámpades suas, exiérunt óbviám sponso et sponsæ. Quinque autem ex eis erant fátuæ, et quinque prudéntes: sed quinque fátuæ, accéptis lámpádibus, non sumpsérunt óleum secum: prudéntes vero accepérunt óleum in vasis suis cum lámpádibus. Moram autem faciénte sponso, dormitavérunt omnes, et dormiérunt. Média autem nocte clamor factus est: Ecce sponsus venit, exíte óbviám ei. Tunc surrexérunt omnes vírgines illæ, et ornavérunt lámpades suas. Fátuæ autem sapiéntibus dixérunt: Date nobis de óleo vestro: quia lámpades nostræ exstinguúntur. Respondérunt prudéntes, dicéntes: Ne forte non suffíciat nobis, et vobis, ite pótius ad vendéntes, et émite vobis. Dum autem irent émere, venit sponsus: et quæ parátæ erant, intravérunt cum eo ad núptias, et clausa est iánua. Novíssime vero véniunt et réliquæ vírgines, dicéntes: Dómine, Dómine, áperi nobis. At ille respóndens, ait: Amen dico vobis, nescio vos. Vigiláte itaque, quia nescítis diem, neque horam.

Léctio Epístolæ beáti Pauli Apóstoli ad Timótheum
1 Tim. 6, 11–16

Beloved: Strive for justice, piety, faithfulness, love, patience and gentleness. Fight a good fight for the faith, take hold of eternal life to which you were called and for which you made the splendid profession of faith before many witnesses. I order you by God who gives life to all, and by Jesus Christ who gave witness by his splendid profession before Pontius Pilate: Keep the commandment spotless and irreproachable until the appearance of our Lord Jesus Christ. In his own time God will bring that about—he who is our blessed and sole Ruler, king of kings and lord of lords, who alone possesses immortality and dwells in unapproachable light, whom no man has ever seen or can see. To him be honor and eternal rule! Amen.

Carissime: Sectáre iustítiam, pietátem, fidem, caritátem, paciéntiam, mansuetúdinem. Certa bonum certámen fidei, apprehénde vitam ætérnam, in qua vocátus es, et conféssus bonam confessiõnem coram multis téstibus. Præcipio tibi coram Deo, qui vivificat ómnia, et Christo Iesu, qui testimónium réddidit sub Póntio Piláto, bonam confessiõnem: ut serves mandátum sine mácula, ir-reprehensibile usque in advéntum Dómini nostri Iesu Christi, quem suis tempóribus osténdet beátus, et solus potens, Rex regum, et Dóminus dominántium: qui solus habet immortalitátem, et lucem inhábitat inaccessibilem: quem nullus hóminum vidit, sed nec vidére potest: cui honor, et impérium sempitérnum. Luke 14, 26–33

At that time Jesus said to the crowds: "If anyone comes to me and does not hate his father and mother, and wife and children, and brothers and sisters, and even his own life, he cannot be my disciple. One who does not carry his cross and follow me cannot be my disciple. If one of you is thinking of building a tower, will he not first sit down and calculate the outlay to see if he has enough to complete the project? For fear that, if he lays the foundations and is not able to finish, all who see it will begin to laugh at him saying: 'That is the man who began to build but could not finish.' Or if a king is about to march on another king to do battle with him, will he not sit down first and consider whether with ten thousand men he can encounter an enemy marching against him twenty thousand strong? If he cannot, he sends a delegation while the enemy is still at a distance, asking for terms of peace. So then, none of you who does not renounce all his possesssions can be my disciple."

Lectio Actuum Apostolorum
Act. 9, 1-22

In diēbus illis: Saulus adhuc spirans minarum, et cædis in discipulos Dómini, accéssit ad principem sacerdotum, et pétiit ab eo epístolas in Damáscum ad synagógas: ut si quos invenísset huius viæ viros, ac mulieres, vinctos perduceret in Ierúsalem. Et cum iter fáceret, cóntigit, ut appropinquáret Damáscó: et súbito circumfúlsit eum lux de cælo. Et cadens in terram, audívit vocem dicéntem sibi: Saule, Saule, quid me perséqueris? Quí dixit: Quis es, Dómine? Et ille: Ego sum Iesus, quem tu perséqueris: durum est tibi contra stímulum calcitráre. Et tremens, ac stupens, dixit: Dómine, quid me vis fácere? Et Dóminus ad eum: Surge, et ingrédere civitátem, et ibi dicétur tibi quid te opórteat fácere. Viri autem illi, qui comitábantur cum eo, stabant stupefacti, audiéntes quidem vocem, néminem autem vidéntes. Surréxit autem Saulus de terra, apertisque óculis nihil vidébat. Ad manus autem illum trahéntes, introduxérunt Damáscum. Et erat ibi tribus diēbus non videns, et non manducávit, neque bibít. Erat autem quidam discipulus Damásci, nómine Ananías: et dixit ad illum in visu Dóminus: Ananía. At ille ait: Ecce ego, Dómine. Et Dóminus ad eum: Surge, et vade in vicum, qui vocátur Rectus: et quære in domo Iudæ Saulum nómine Tarsensem: ecce enim crat. (Et vidit virum, Ananíam nómine, introeúntem, et imponéntem sibi manus, ut visum recípiat.) A Reading from the Acts of the Apostles

Now in those days Saul, still breathing murderous threats against the Lord's disciples, went to the high priest. He asked him for letters to the synagogues in Damascus, empowering him to arrest and bring to Jerusalem anyone he might find, man or woman, living according to the New Way. But as he travelled along and was approaching Damascus, a light from the sky suddenly flashed about him. He fell to the ground and heard a voice saying, "Saul, Saul, why do you persecute me?" He said, "Who are you, sir?" The voice answered, "I am Jesus, whom you are persecuting. Get up and go into the city, and you will be told what you must do." The men who were travelling with him stood there speechless, for they had heard the voice, but could see no one. Saul got up from the ground, and though he opened his eyes, he could not see. They had to take him by the hand and lead him into Damascus. For three days he could not see, and neither ate nor drank.

There was a disciple in Damascus named Ananias, to whom the Lord appeared in a vision, saying, "Ananias." He answered, "Here I am, Lord." The Lord said to him, "Go at once to Straight Street and at the house of Judas ask for a certain Saul of Tarsus. He is there praying." (He saw in a vision a man named Ananias coming to him and laying hands on him that he might recover his sight.) But Ananias protested, "Lord, I have heard from many sources about this man and all the harm he has done to your holy people in Jerusalem. He is here now with authority from the chief priests to arrest all those who call upon your name." The Lord said to him, "You must go! This man is the instrument I have chosen to bring my name to the Gentiles and their kings, and to the people of Israel. I myself shall instruct him how much he will have to suffer for the sake of my name.”

So Ananias went. When he entered the house, he laid his hands on Saul, and said, “Saul, my brother, the Lord Jesus who appeared to you on the road as you came here has sent me that you might recover your sight and be filled with the Holy Spirit.” Immediately something like scales fell from his eyes and he regained his sight. He got up and was baptized, and after taking food, he recovered his strength.

Saul stayed some time with the disciples in Damascus, and soon began to preach about Jesus in the synagogues, declaring that he was the Son of God. Those who heard it were amazed and all kept saying, “Isn’t this the man who caused such havoc in Jerusalem among those who call upon this name? Didn’t he come here purposely to arrest and bring such people before the chief priests?” But Saul grew steadily more powerful and confounded the Jews who lived in Damascus with proofs that this man was the Messiah.

message which you have heard from the beginning: we should love one another, not following the example of Cain who belonged to the Evil One and killed his brother. And why did he kill him?—because his own deeds were wicked, while his brother's were just. No need then, brothers, to be surprised if the world hates you. That we have passed from death to life we know because we love the brothers. The man without love is still in the abode of death. Rather, be afraid of him who can destroy both life and body in Gehenna. A pair of sparrows, you know, sells for only a few cents. Yet not one of them will fall to the ground without your Father's consent. As for you, every hair on your head has been counted. So don't be afraid. You are worth far more than many sparrows. Now every one who acknowledges me before his fellow men I will acknowledge before my heavenly Father."

✠ A Reading from the holy Gospel
according to Matthew
Matth. 13, 44–52

At that time Jesus told his disciples this parable: “The kingdom of heaven is like hidden treasure which a man found in a field. He hid it again, and happy with his find, went and sold all he had and bought that field. Or again, the kingdom of heaven is like a merchant’s search for fine pearls. When he finally found one really valuable pearl, he went back and auctioned off all he had and bought it. Or again, the kingdom of heaven is like a dragnet that was thrown into the lake and collected all sorts of things. When it was full, they hauled it ashore, and sat down to collect what was worthwhile in tubs. What was useless they threw away. That is how it will be at the end of the world. The angels will go out and separate the evil men from the saints and hurl them into the fiery furnace where they will wail and gnash their teeth. Have you understood everything I have said?” “Yes,” they said to him. Then he told them, “So every scribe who has become a disciple of the kingdom of heaven is like the head of the house who can bring out of his storeroom the new as well as the old.”

Offertory Antiphon
Ps. 44, 3

Grace is poured out upon your lips; thus
God has blessed you forever and ever.

Tractus Ps. 44, 11 et 12 Audi, filia, et vide, et inclina aurem tuam: quia concupivit rex spem tuam. ℣. Ibid., 13 et 10 Vultum tuum deprecabuntur omnes divites plebis: filiae regum in honore tuo. ℣. Ibid., 15–16 Adducuntur Regi virgines post eam: proxima eius afferentur tibi. ℣. Afferentur in letitia, et exultatione: adducuntur in templum Regis.

✠ Sequentia sancti Evangelii
secundum Matthaeum
Matth. 13, 44–52

In illo tempore: Dixit Iesus discipulis suis parabolam hanc: Simile est regnum caelorum thesauro abscondito in agro: quem qui invenit homo, abscondit, et pro gaudio illius vadit, et vendit universa, quae habet, et emit agrum illum. Iterum simile est regnum caelorum homini negotiatori, quaerenti bonas margaritas. Inventa autem una pretiosa margarita, abiit, et vendidit omnia, quae habuit, et emit eam. Iterum simile est regnum caelorum sagena missae in mare, et ex omni genere piscium congreganti. Quam, cum impleta esset, educentes, et secus litus sedentes, elegerunt bonos in vasa, malos autem foras miserunt. Sic erit in consummatione saeculi: exhibunt Angeli, et separabunt malos de medio iustorum, et mittent eos in caminum ignis: ibi erit fletus et stridor dentium. Intellexistis haec omnia? Dicunt ei: Etiam. Ait illis: Ideo omnis scribe doctus in regno caelorum similis est homini patrifamilias, qui profert de thesauro suo nova et vetera.

Diffusa est gratia in labiis tuis:
propterea benedixit te Deus in aeternum, et in saeculum saeculi.

Philipp. 4, 4-9

Brethren: Rejoice in the Lord always; I say it again, rejoice! All men should notice how kind you are. The Lord is near. Put all anxiety away from your minds. Present your needs to God in every form of prayer and in petitions full of gratitude. Then will God's own peace, which goes beyond all comprehension, stand guard over your hearts and minds, in Christ Jesus. Finally, my brothers, your thoughts should be wholly directed toward all that is true, whatever deserves respect, everything that is honest, pure, lovely, decent, virtuous, worthy of praise. Live according to what you have learned and accepted from me, what you have heard me saying and have seen me doing. Then will the God of peace be with you.

Prayer

Let us pray.

O Lord, holy Father, almighty and eternal God who created all things out of nothing, at your creative command this liquid was transformed into wax by the industry of the bees. On this day on which you granted the just man Simeon his request, we invoke your most holy name and ask you through the intercession of the blessed ever-virgin Mary—whose feast we reverently observe today—and through the prayers of all your saints, graciously to bless ✠ and sanctify ✠ these candles for the use of men, and for the health of bodies and souls of all on land and on the sea. From your throne of majesty in heaven, hear the voices of your people who desire to hold these lights in their hands to honor you and praise you with song. Be merciful to all who call upon you, all those whom you have redeemed with the precious blood of your Son: who lives and reigns with you forever and ever. ℟. Amen.

Prayer

Let us pray.

O almighty and eternal God, blessed Simeon held your only-begotten Son in his arms today in your holy temple. We humbly beg you to bless, ✠ sanctify, ✠ and kindle these candles with the light of your heavenly blessing. We, your servants, will take them and carry them lighted to pay honor to your name. May the offering of these candles to you, the Lord our God, inflame us with the holy fire of your most sweet love in order that we ourselves may be presented in the holy temple of your glory. Through Christ our Lord. ℟. Amen.

℣. Dóminus vobíscum.
℟. Et cum spírítu tuo.

Ex sequentibus orationibus una tantum dici potest.

Orémus.

Dómine sancte, Pater omnípotens, ætérne Deus, qui ómnia ex níhilo creásti, et iussu tuo per ópera apum, hunc liquórem ad perfectiónem cérei veníre fecísti: et qui hodiérna die petitióne iusti Simeónis implésti: te humíliter deprecámur; ut has candélas ad usus hóminum, et sanitátem córporum et animárum, sive in terra, sive in aquis, per invocatióne tuí sanctíssimi nóminis, et per intercessióne beátæ Mariæ semper Vírginis, cuius hódie festa devóte celebrántur, et per preces ómnium Sanctórum tuórum, bene ✠ dícere, et sancti ✠ ficáre dignéris: et huius plebis tuæ, quæ illas honorífice in mánibus desiderat portáre, teque cantádo laudáre, exáudias voces de cælo sancto tuo, et de sede maiestátis tuæ: et propítius sis ómnibus clamántibus ad te, quos redemísti pretiósó sánguine Fílii tui: Qui tecum vivit et regnat in sæcula sæculórum. ℟. Amen.

Orémus.

Omnípotens sempitérne Deus, qui hodiérna die Unigénitum tuum ulnis sancti Simeónis in templo sancto tuo suscipiéndum præsentásti: tuam súpplices deprecámur cleméntiam; ut has candélas, quas nos fámuli tui, in tui nóminis magnificéntiam suscipiéntes, gestáre cúpimus luce accénsas, bene ✠ dícere, et sancti ✠ ficáre, atque lúmine supérnæ benedictiόνis accéndere dignéris: quatenus eas tibi Dómino Deo nostro offeréndo digni, et sancto igne dulcíssimæ caritátis tuæ succénsi, in templo sancto glóriæ tuæ repræsentári mereámur. Per eúndem Christum Dóminum nostrum. ℟. Amen.

Feb. 2. Purification of the B. V. M.

Prayer

Orémus.

Dómine Iesu Christe, lux vera, quæ illúminas omnem hóminem veniéntem in hunc mundum: effúnde bene ✠ dictionem tuam super hos céreos, et sanctí ✠ fica eos lúmine grátiae tuæ, et concéde propítius; ut, sicut hæc luminária igne visíbili accénsa noctúrnas depéllunt ténebras; ita corda nostra invisíbili igne, id est, Sancti Spíritus splendóre illustráta, ómnium vitiórum cæcitate cáreant: ut, purgáto mentis óculo, ea cernere possímus, quæ tibi sunt plácita, et nostræ salúti útilia quátenus post huius sæculi caliginósa discrímína, ad lucem indeficiéntem pervenire mereámur. Per te, Christe Iesu, Salvátor mundi, qui in Trinitáte perfécta vivis et regnas Deus, in sæcula sæculórum. R. Amen.

Orémus.

Omnípotens sempitérne Deus, qui per Móysen fámulum tuum puríssimum ólei liquórem ad luminária ante conspéctum tuum iúgiter concinnánda præparári iussisti: bene ✠ dictionis tuæ grátiam super hos céreos bénignus infúnde; quátenus sic adminístrent lumen extérius, ut, te donánte, lumen Spíritus tui nostris non desit méntibus intérius. Per Christum Dóminum nostrum. R. Amen.

Orémus.

Dómine Iesu Christe, qui hodiérna die in nostræ carnis substántia inter hómines appárens a paréntibus in templo es præsentátus: quem Simeon venerábilis senex, lúmine Spíritus tui irradiátus, agnóvit, suscepit, et benedíxit: præsta propítius; ut eiúsdem Spíritus Sancti grátia illumináti, atque edócti, te veráciter agnoscámus, et fidéliter diligámus: Qui vivis et regnas in sæcula sæculórum. R. Amen.

Let us pray.

O Lord Jesus Christ, you are the true light that enlightens every man born into this world. Pour out your blessing ✠ upon these candles and sanctify ✠ them with the light of your grace. A visible flame lights these candles to dispel the darkness of night; enlighten our hearts by the invisible fire that is the radiance of the Holy Spirit, and free our souls from the blindness of sin. Purify our minds that they may clearly perceive the things that please you and the things that are beneficial to our salvation. And after the dark dangers of this world are passed, may we come to the never-failing light; through you, Christ Jesus, savior of the world, who live and reign in perfect Trinity, forever and ever. R. Amen.

Prayer

Let us pray.

O almighty and eternal God, through your servant Moses you commanded that the purest oil be prepared to keep the lamps burning continually before you. Pour forth the full measure of your blessings ✠ upon these candles, so that while they provide us with external lights, our minds may also be enlightened by the light of your Spirit. Through Christ our Lord. R. Amen.

Prayer

Let us pray.

O Lord Jesus Christ, who appeared among men in the substance of our flesh, on this day your parents presented you in the temple, and the venerable old Simeon, under the guidance of your Spirit, recognized you, held you in his arms, and blessed you. May the grace of the same Holy Spirit enlighten and instruct us so that we may acknowledge you in truth and faithfully love you: You who live and reign forever and ever. R. Amen.

Feb. 3. Purification of the B. V. M.

After the prayers the celebrant places incense in the thurible. Then he sprinkles the candles with holy water, saying the antiphon Sprinkle me, without chant and without the psalm. Then he incenses the candles three times.

DISTRIBUTION OF CANDLES

Next the senior cleric goes to the altar and the celebrant, without genuflecting, receives a candle from him. Then the celebrant stands in the center before the altar, turns toward the people, and distributes the candles, first to the senior cleric from whom he has received the candle, then to the vested deacon and subdeacon, and to the other clerics in order, one by one, and last of all to the laity. All kneel with the exception of prelates, if any are present.

When the distribution of the candles begins, the choir sings:

Antiphon Luke 2, 32 A light of revelation to the gentiles, and a glory for your people Israel.

*Cantic. ibid., 29–31 Now you dismiss your servant, O Lord,* according to your word, in peace.*

The antiphon is repeated: A light of revelation to the gentiles, and a glory for your people Israel.

*Because my eyes have seen* your salvation.*

The antiphon is repeated: A light of revelation to the gentiles, and a glory for your people Israel.

*Which you have prepared* before the face of all peoples.*

The antiphon is repeated: A light of revelation to the gentiles, and a glory for your people Israel.

The antiphons and canticle are repeated, if necessary, until the end of the distribution, and the conclusion is as follows:

*Glory be to the Father, and to the Son,* and to the Holy Spirit.*

The antiphon is repeated: A light of revelation to the gentiles, and a glory for your people Israel.

Finitis orationibus, celebrans ponit incensum in thuribulum: deinde ter aspergit candelas aqua benedicta, dicendo antiphonam Aspérge me, sine cantu, et sine psalmo: et ter adolet incenso.

Tum dignior ex clero accedit ad altare, et ab eo celebrans accipit candulam, non genuflectens. Postea celebrans stans in medio ante altare, versus ad populum, distribuit candelas, primum digniori, a quo ipse acceperat; deinde diacono et subdiacono paratis, et aliis clericis singulatim per ordinem, ultimo laicis: omnibus genuflectentibus, exceptis Prælati, si adsint. Et cum inceperit distribuere candelas, a choro cantatur:

Antiphona Luc. 2, 32 Lumen ad revelationem gentium: et gloriam plebis tuæ Israël.

*Cantic. ibid., 29–31 Nunc dimittis servum tuum, Dómine,* secundum verbum tuum in pace.*

Et repetitur antiphona: Lumen ad revelationem gentium: et gloriam plebis tuæ Israël.

*Quia viderunt óculi mei * salutáre tuum.*

Et repetitur antiphona: Lumen ad revelationem gentium: et gloriam plebis tuæ Israël.

*Quod parásti * ante fáciem ómnium populórum.*

Et repetitur antiphona: Lumen ad revelationem gentium: et gloriam plebis tuæ Israël.

Quod si non sufficiant, repetantur quousque distributio finiatur; et clauditur cum

*Glória Patri, et Fílio, * et Spirítui Sancto.*

Et repetitur antiphona: Lumen ad revelationem gentium: et gloriam plebis tuæ Israël.

Feb. 2. Purification of the B. V. M.

Sicut erat in principio, et nunc, et semper, * et in sæcula sæculórum. Amen.

Et repetitur antiphona: Lumen ad revelatióem géntium: et glóriam plebis tuæ Israëli.

His expletis, sacerdos dicit:

℣. Dóminus vobíscum.
℟. Et cum spírítu tuo.

Orémus.

Exáudi, quæsumus, Dómine, plebem tuam: et, quæ extrínsecus ánnua tríbuis devotióne venerári, intérius ássequi grátia tuæ luce concéde. Per Christum Dóminum nostrum. ℟. Amen.

Primo celebrans ponit incensum in thuribulum: postea diaconus vertens se ad populum, dicit: Procedámus in pace. Et chorus respondet: In nómine Christi. Amen.

Præcedit thuriferarius cum thuribulo fumigante: deinde subdiaconus paratus, deferens crucem, medius inter duos acolythos cum candelabris accensis: sequitur clerus per ordinem, ultimo celebrans cum diacono a sinistris, omnes cum candelis accensis in manibus: et cantantur antiphonæ sequentes:

Antiphona Adórna thálamum tuum, Sion, et súscipe Regem Christum: ampléctere Maríam, quæ est cæléstis porta: ipsa enim portat Regem glóriæ novi lúminis: subsístit Virgo, addúcens mánibus Fílium ante lucíferum génitum: quem accípiens Símeon in ulnas suas, prædicávit pópulis, Dóminum eum esse vitæ et mortis, et Salvatórem mundi.

Alia ant. Luc. 2, 26, 27 et 28–29 Respónsum accépit Símeon a Spírítu Sancto, non visúrum se mortem,

As it was in the beginning, is now, and ever shall be, * world without end. Amen.

The antiphon is repeated: A light of revelation to the gentiles, and a glory for your people Israel.

After the distribution of candles, the priest says:

℣. The Lord be with you.
℟. And with your spirit.

Prayer

Let us pray.

O Lord, hear the pleas of your people and enlighten us by your grace so that the mysteries we commemorate each year with this solemn ceremony may have meaning in our lives. Through Christ our Lord. ℟. Amen.

PROCESSION

First the celebrant places incense in the thurible, and then the deacon, turning to the people, says: Let us go forth in peace. The choir replies: In the name of Christ. Amen.

The thurifer goes first, carrying the thurible, followed by the vested subdeacon, who carries the cross between two acolytes with lighted candles, then the clergy in order, finally the celebrant with the deacon at his left. All hold lighted candles in their hands.

The following antiphons are sung:

Antiphon. Adorn your bridal chamber, Sion, and welcome Christ the King; embrace Mary, who is the gate of heaven, for she carries the glorious King of the new light. She remains a virgin, bearing in her hands the Son begotten before the daystar. Holding him in his arms, Simeon proclaimed to the peoples, "He is the Lord of life and death and the Savior of the world."

Another Antiphon. Luke 2, 26, 27 and 28–29 It had been revealed to Simeon by the Holy Spirit that he should not see death before he had seen the Christ of the Lord. And when they brought the child into the temple, he received him into his arms and blessed God, saying: "Now you dismiss your servant, O Lord, in peace." ℣. When his parents brought in the child Jesus, to do for him according to the custom of the Law, he received him into his arms.

As the procession enters the church, the following is sung:

℞ They offered for him to the Lord a pair of turtledoves or two young pigeons, * As it is written in the law of the Lord. ℣. After the days of Mary's purification were fulfilled, according to the law of Moses, they took Jesus up to Jerusalem to present him to the Lord. As it is written in the law of the Lord. ℣. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, and to the Holy Spirit. As it is written in the law of the Lord.

MASS

When the procession has been completed, the celebrant and ministers put on the vestments for Mass.

In the Mass which follows the blessing of candles, the prayers to be said at the foot of the altar are omitted, as well as the prayers Aufer a nobis and Orámus te, Dómine. When the priest comes to the altar, he immediately goes up to it and kisses it in the center.

The candles are held during the Gospel and throughout the Canon.

Entrance Antiphon

Ps. 47, 10-11

O God, we ponder your kindness within your temple. As your name, O God, so also your praise reaches to the ends of the earth. Of justice your right hand is full. Ps. ibid., 2 Great is the Lord, and wholly to be praised in the city of our God, his holy mountain. ℣. Glory be to the Father. O God, we ponder.

nisi vidéret Christum Dómini: et cum indúcerent púerum in templum, accépit eum in ulnas suas, et benedíxit Deum, et dixit: Nunc dimíttis servum tuum, Dómine, in pace. ℣. Cum indúcerent púerum Iesum párentes eius, ut fácerent secúndum consuetúdinem legis pro eo, ipse accépit eum in ulnas suas.

Et ingrediendo ecclesiam, cantatur:

℣. Obtulérunt pro eo Dómino par túrturum, aut duos pullos columbárum: * Sicut scriptum est in lege Dómini. ℣. Postquam impléti sunt dies purgatiónis Mariæ, secúndum legem Móysi, tulérunt Iesum in Ierúsalem, ut sísterent eum Dómino. Sicut scriptum est in lege Dómini. ℣. Glória Patri, et Fílio, et Spirítui Sancto. Sicut scriptum est in lege Dómini.

Finita processione, celebrans et ministri accipiunt paramenta pro Missa. In Missa quæ benedictionem candelarum sequitur, omittuntur omnes preces ad gradus altaris dicendæ necnon orationes Aufer a nobis et Orámus te, Dómine. Sacerdos igitur cum ad altare accesserit, statim illud ascendit et osculatur in medio. Candelæ in manibus tenentur ad Evangelium et toto Canone.

Suscépi-mus, Deus, misericórdiam tuam in médio templi tui: secúndum nomen tuum, Deus, ita et laus tua in fines terræ: iustítia plena est dextera tua. Ps. ibid., 2 Magnus Dóminus, et laudábilis nimis: in civitate Dei nostri, in monte sancto eius. ℣. Glória Patri. Suscépi-mus.

Feb. 2. Purification of the B. V. M.

Prayer

Omnípotens sempitérne Deus, maiestátem tuam súplices exorámus: ut, sicut unigénitus Fílius tuus hodiérna die cum nostræ carnis substántia in templo est præsentátus; ita nos fácias purificátis tibi méntibus præsentári.
Per eúndem Dóminum.

Léctio Malachíæ Prophétæ Malach. 3, 1-4

Hæc dicit Dóminus Deus: Ecce ego mitto Angelum meum, et præparábit viam ante fáciem meam. Et statim veniet ad templum suum Dominátor, quem vos quæritis, et Angelus testaménti, quem vos vultis. Ecce venit, dicit Dóminus exercítuum: et quis póterit cogitare diem advéntus eius, et quis stabit ad vidéndum eum?
Ipse enim quasi ignis conflans, et quasi herba fullónum: et sedébit con-flans, et emúndans argéntum, et purgábit filios Levi et colábit eos quasi aurum, et quasi argéntum: et erunt Dómino offeréntes sacrificia in iustítia. Et placébit Dómino sa-crificium Iuda, et Ierúsalem, sicut dies sáculi, et sicut anni antiqui:
dicit Dóminus omnípotens.

Graduale Ps. 47, 10-11 et 9 Suscépi-mus, Deus, misericórdiam tuam in médio templi tui: secúndum nomen tuum, Deus, ita et laus tua in fines terræ. ℣. Sicut audívimus, ita et vídimus in civitáte Dei nostri, in monte sancto eius.
Allelúia, allelúia. ℣. Senex púerum portábat: puer autem senem regébat.
Allelúia.

Post Septuagesimam, omissis Allelúia, et versu sequenti, dicitur:

O almighty and eternal God, we humbly ask that we may be presented to you with purified souls* just as your only-begotten Son was presented this day in the temple after he had taken on the substance of our flesh. Through Jesus Christ.

A Reading from the Prophet Malachia Mal. 3, 1-4

Thus says the Lord God:
Lo, I am sending my messenger to prepare the way before me;
And suddenly there will come to the temple
the Lord whom you seek,
And the messenger of the covenant whom you desire.

Yes, he is coming, says the Lord of hosts.
But who will endure the day of his coming?
And who can stand when he appears?
For he is like the refiner's fire,
or like the fuller's lye.
He will sit refining and purifying silver,
and he will purify the sons of Levi, Refining them like gold or silver that they may offer due sacrifice to the Lord.

Then the sacrifice of Juda and Jerusalem will please the Lord,
As in the days of old, as in years gone by,
says the Lord Almighty.

Gradual Ps. 47, 10-11 and 9 O God, we ponder your kindness within your temple.
As your name, O God, so also your praise reaches to the ends of the earth. ℣. As we have heard, so have we seen, in the city of our God, in his holy mountain.
Alleluia, alleluia. ℣. The old man carried the Child: but the Child governed the old man.
Alleluia.

After Septuagesima, the Alleluia with its following verse is omitted, and there is said:

Feb. 2. Purification of the B. V. M.

Tract Luke 2, 29–32 Now you dismiss your servant, O Lord, according to your word, in peace. ℣. Because my eyes have seen your salvation. ℣. Which you have prepared before the face of all peoples. ℣. A light of revelation to the Gentiles, and a glory for your people Israel.

✠ A Reading from the holy Gospel
according to Luke
Luke 2, 22–32

When the day came for Mary to be purified according to the Law of Moses, they brought Jesus up to Jerusalem to present him to the Lord as it is written in the Law of the Lord: “Every first-born male shall be consecrated to the Lord,” and to offer as their sacrifice the “pair of turtle doves or two young doves” prescribed in the Law of the Lord.
