

Bless- ed are they who hope in the Lord.

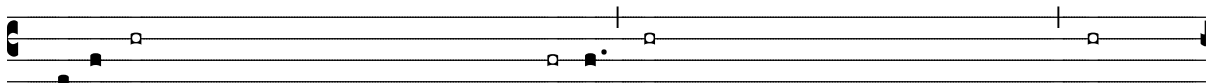

Bless-ed the man who follows not the counsel of the wicked, nor walks in the ways of sin-ners, nor sits in the company of the in-so-lent, but delights in the law of the LORD and meditates on his law day and night.   ℞

He is like a tree planted near running wa-ter, that yields its fruit in due season, and whose leaves nev-er fade. Whatever he does pros-pers.   ℞

Not so the wicked, not so; they are like chaff which the wind drives a-way. For the LORD watches over the way of the just, but the way of the wick-ed va-nish-es.   ℞
